We are in accord with the recommendation of Legat, Santo Domingo, that in view of special circumstances existing in his office, he be permitted to consider files of his office for destruction earlier than do other Legat Offices.

(C) Legat, Santo Domingo, has pointed out that difficulties encountered by [redacted] Embassy offices in disposing of classified material at the beginning of the Dominican revolution in 1965 emphasized the desirability of having his office operate with a minimum amount of such material in view of the possibility of similar unrest in the future. b1

Legat stated that in general one year would appear to be the desirable span for considering closed files for destruction. He said that, in view of the changing political situation, material over a year old is apt to be out of date and of little use. The current mission of the Santo Domingo Office is now different which also makes much of the material over a year old of questionable value. An additional consideration is the fact that all material of importance has been furnished to the Bureau and is readily available if needed.

Legat made the following specific proposals: (1) all criminal, applicant, and security-type cases on individuals be considered for destruction when closed for one year; (2) consideration for destruction of all volumes of the Santo Domingo control file captioned "Dominican Situation" which are over one year old; and (3) no informant files would be considered for destruction under the above one-year program.

Memo D. J. Brennan to W. C. Sullivan
Re: Destruction of Files in Santo Domingo Office

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

We feel that Legat's reasoning is sound and that his proposals will improve the general operating procedures of his office.

It is noted, however, that Santo Domingo is due to be inspected soon and we feel that this matter should be evaluated on the spot by an Inspector.

ACTION:

(1) In connection with any forthcoming inspection of the Santo Domingo Office, the Inspector should evaluate Legat's proposed new file destruction program as set forth above.

(2) Recommendations resulting from Inspector's analysis should be referred to the Training Division for appropriate manual changes if required.

noted for

(3) Attached for approval is a letter to Legat, Santo Domingo, advising him that his proposals are being studied by the Bureau.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

SAN-DESTRUCTION OF FILES

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

It is recommended that consideration be given to one year destruction of the following files:

All criminal, applicant, and security-type cases on individuals when closed for one year.

Destruction of all volumes of the control file (Santo Domingo file 105-1) entitled "Dominican Situation" which are over one year old. This file was predominantly built up during 1965 and largely consists of events connected with the 1965 Revolution which are currently of limited value.

In addition to the obvious advantages of having a limited volume of classified material on hand in the event of an upheaval, such as a Revolution (which might require immediate burning of classified material), the destruction of this material would be of benefit in the current "Cleanout Campaign" called for by SAC letter 66-81 (~~C~~), dated 12/27/66.

Since its inception, the Santo Domingo Office has at times operated with a complement of as many as 14 Agents and a corresponding clerical force and extensive records estimated at approximately 90 cubic feet have been built up. The current complement of the Santo Domingo Office is only three Agents and three clerks, which is another factor pointing up the desirability of operating with minimum reference material since any emergency burning of files would have to be carried out by the current small staff.

No informant files would be destroyed in connection with a one year destruction program, if adopted.

INFORMATION IN TP I IS CLASSIFIED Per Approp. Agency's letr DTD 3-3-83 SP8BTS/cal 8/22-83 2/11/83

In view of the periodic political instability and civil strife which has recurred in the Dominican Republic since the assassination of former Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo, it is recommended for the Bureau's consideration that criminal, applicant and security-type files of the Santo Domingo Office be destroyed when closed for one year. The difficulties experienced by [redacted] Embassy Sections at Santo Domingo in destroying files at the inception of the 1965 Dominican Revolution served as an example of the desirability of maintaining a bare minimum of classified file data, consistent, of course, with file data necessary to operate efficiently and effectively.

In view of the past history of unrest in the DR, it is believed there is a definite need for special destruction arrangements in the Dominican Republic. Although the present fairly substantial degree of stability established by the Balaguer government may continue, this situation could change overnight in the event of some unforeseen upheaval which could be brought about by the assassination of Balaguer or by a coup d'etat.

The Legat Attache believes that a one year destruction program would be safe and would not adversely effect efficiency of operation to any great extent. As experience has shown, the Dominican situation changes rapidly and data which is more than one year old is usually of questionable value. This is particularly true when considering the current mission of intelligence gathering by the Legal Attache's Office at Santo Domingo. In addition, pertinent data concerning the Dominican Situation and concerning prominent Dominican subversives has been reported to the Bureau since our operations were established in the Dominican Republic on 5/21/65, and such data is readily available in Bureau files if needed. In addition, the Dominican Index (DI) provides a ready reference concerning key figures in the subversive groups in the Dominican Republic.

end of the month and the Agent days devoted to the development of informants. SAC Letter 116 dated 10/31/52 sent instructions to the field that these letters would be destroyed when they had served their purpose. The memoranda from Mr. Price to Mr. Rosen listing the payments to regularly paid informants have not been submitted since 1955. The material in these two types of mail is of no use as reference material.

The memoranda on regularly paid informants were administrative type memoranda used to advise Bureau officials of the monthly payments being made. This is no longer necessary. Records of payments are maintained in the Voucher - Statistical Section and in each informant's main file.

The Monthly Progress Reports were administrative working sheets and the informant figures compiled on a master sheet captioned Confidential Informant and Similar Types of Coverage, Bufile 66-2542-3, which was submitted in a monthly memorandum by the Domestic Intelligence Division.

SUBJECT: Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen'l.
RECORDS MAINTAINED BY ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW UNIT

In connection with SAC Letter Number 66-20 dated 12-28-66 concerning destruction of records---Cleanout Campaign, the Administrative Review Unit has conducted a comprehensive review of all records maintained within the unit and at Records Section. On 1-9-67 a suggestion was submitted that copies of House and Senate bills and resolutions of no interest to the Bureau be destroyed at the end of each Congress. This suggestion was adopted and provided a savings of 34 file drawers of space. In addition, during the January 1967 inspection, the Inspector recommended that copies of the Congressional Record and Federal Register be disposed of when they become one year old, which recommendation we are now following.

At the present time, bills and resolutions on which memoranda have been prepared are maintained in the unit for the duration of an additional Congress before being sent to Records Section where retained for an additional two years. Public Laws and private laws of no interest to the Bureau are sent to file at the end of each Congress; those on which memoranda have been prepared are maintained in the unit for the duration of an additional Congress.

It is recommended that the public laws and private laws of no interest to the Bureau be maintained by the unit until these laws are received in bound volumes and then destroyed (approximately February or March following the end of Congress). It is also recommended that the laws, bills and resolutions on which memoranda were prepared be retained in the unit for an additional Congress and then destroyed.

In addition to above, the unit maintains copies of the following publications which were maintained in the unit for the time indicated and then were sent to Records Section where they were retained an additional two years.

Re: Records Maintained by

1. Publications from Civil Service Commission kept for current year and two preceding years.

2. Treasury Department memoranda kept for current and preceding year.

3. U. S. Attorneys Bulletins kept for current and preceding year

4. State Department transmittal letters, kept for current and preceding year.

5. Appropriation hearings kept for present and preceding fiscal year.

In connection with items numbered 1-5, it is recommended that the unit continue its retention policy within the unit for periods indicated above and that material be destroyed at the end of the prescribed time and not sent to Records Section for retention for an additional two years as heretofore. It has been found that this type material is readily available to us through other sources and that there have been few requests for any of this material over two years old.

If above is adopted as policy for the unit, it will be possible for the unit to maintain all its records within the unit and the reference material for the unit which is presently stored in Records Section could be destroyed. If approved, there will be a savings of employees' time and considerable file space.

RECOMMENDATION:

That above be adopted as policy for maintenance and destruction of records of the Administrative Review Unit.

The above file contains numerous copies of Coast Guard name check forms which were prepared by members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union on the west coast. Many were filed on the basis that the union member admitted involuntary contributions to the Harry Bridges defense fund. Some contain only admissions concerning past use of narcotics. This information is of no value and these forms should not be retained. Their destruction will reduce the file by about four sections.

Destruction of Property

The attached serials have been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to these serials causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data, it is proposed that the material be deindexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices. It is noted this material is over twenty-five years old.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above-listed serials to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memo. The memo should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 6309, Identification Building.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memo be referred to the appropriate substantive supervisor for review.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Employees of the Consolidation Unit have proposed that obsolete material contained in captioned file be reviewed for removal from the file and destruction. The file contains material dating back to 1924 and at present there are more than 11,000 serials in file. The file consists of correspondence relating to inquiries concerning Bureau jurisdiction or possible assistance in locating missing persons.

It is noted that missing persons correspondence, which is filed in individual case files, is destroyed three years after the missing persons notice has been canceled. The authority for this destruction is contained in file 66-19087-30. Inasmuch as a regular destruction program is being followed for material maintained in missing persons case files, it appears that a similar procedure should be applied to the general file material. With respect to the general file, material of a policy nature and material of an historical nature would not be marked for destruction. It is not believed that additional Archival authority would be necessary to destroy the general file material inasmuch as such authority was previously secured for the destruction of the missing persons case file material.

RECOMMENDATION:

For referral to the Identification Division.

CLEANOUT CAMPAIGN

Reference is made to Department Memorandum Number 488, Supplement Number 1, dated December 5, 1966.

The following results were realized during this Bureau's Cleanout Campaign:

(a) Records destroyed by authority of disposal schedules	2,575.26 cubic feet
(b) Records transferred to Federal Records Centers	None
(c) Nonrecord material destroyed	804.27 cubic feet

This Bureau has an active program for the destruction of obsolete records on a daily basis. During the period between June 30, 1966, the end of the last biennial report period, and January 15, 1967, the beginning of the Cleanout Campaign, 6,485.30 cubic feet of records were destroyed. The volume of material destroyed during the Cleanout Campaign is accordingly lower than what it would have been had it not been for our continuing program for the destruction of obsolete records.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 100-120818-X144
NATIONAL MARITIME UNION

On 9/7/55 Mr. W. G. Eames in a memorandum to Mr. Nichols suggested that serial X144 be de-indexed because there was nothing apparent in the serial that required its retention. There was nothing on which to make an ident, and the mere fact that an individual was a member of the National Maritime Union did not appear to be of any value at that time. (See 66-3286-674). On 9/14/55 Mr. Baumgardner in a memorandum to Mr. Belmont recommended against the de-indexing. He indicated that although the information in this serial was of no positive value for a security report, there was recorded the membership book and ship assignment of a number of them and that information could be of considerable investigative value in attempting to identify an individual from a name only, as it would give the Bureau a reference to union records and shipping records. (See 66-3286-673).

There are approximately 1,600 names in this serial. It is recommended that this matter be re-evaluated and consideration given to de-indexing this serial at this time. The serial is dated 3/15/41 and is now over twenty-six years old. If the serial could be de-indexed, it would prevent unnecessary listing of this reference for review, plus removing index cards from the Indicies that are of no apparent value.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this serial be referred to the substantive Division for re-evaluation as to the de-indexing of this serial.

CLEANOUT CAMPAIGN

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-3-82 BY SP4 LW/cal

My memo 12-21-66 informed that in Department memo #488, Ernest C. Friesen, Jr., Assistant Attorney General for Administration, advised period 1-15-67 through 2-28-67 had been set for Cleanout Campaign. This was described as concentrated effort over fixed period of time to transfer from office space, or destroy, records not needed in daily business in order to save space and equipment. Such campaigns being conducted at request of President inasmuch as prior campaigns in several agencies resulted in reduction of records with corresponding reduction in space and equipment. Campaigns undoubtedly directed at those agencies not having active records disposition programs.

Friesen stated following statistics in cubic feet would be desired: Records destroyed by authority of disposal schedules; records transferred to Federal Records Centers; and nonrecord material destroyed. He concluded he believed Department had efficient, regular program for disposition of obsolete records; however, he felt much could be achieved in this "one-shot" campaign.

Referenced memo informed that as we have been active in destroying obsolete records, volume which could be destroyed during Cleanout Campaign would not be large. We are required by Federal Records Act of 1950 to report volume of records destroyed on biennial basis -- last report 6-30-66, when we reported 49,870.43 cubic feet as having been destroyed during previous two years.

During Cleanout Campaign following volume of obsolete material was destroyed:

Cleanout Campaign

No records were transferred to Federal Records Centers.

Between 6-30-66, last time we reported volume destroyed, and 1-15-67, beginning of Cleanout Campaign, we destroyed 6,485.30 cubic feet of records throughout field and SOG.

In reporting results of Cleanout Campaign to Department, it is felt we should point out that as result of our program of destroying obsolete records on daily basis, as evidenced by destruction of 6,485.30 cubic feet of records between our last biennial report and beginning of Cleanout Campaign, that results are necessarily lower than what they would have been had we not had an active destruction program.

RECOMMENDATION:

That attached memo to Department be approved.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above listed file to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum and returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231.

RECOMMENDATION:

For referral to the substantive division.

ADDENDUM OF T. J. JENKINS, TRAINING DIVISION

Training Division has no objection to the destruction of the correspondence in referenced matter, provided the listing of agencies in serial 147 is completely indexed.

List indexed under "Statewide Law Enforcement Agencies"

September 16th

Mr. Tolson:

Crime Records can go along with this suggestion, but it appears that the publishing of the item in the Bulletin in 1938 was incidental to the overall project. It appears the project of compiling a list of state enforcement agencies was initiated by the Training Division at that time. Note Mr. Tavel apparently believed it to be a Training Division matter. I feel we should defer to their decision as to the destruction of the files.

Respectfully,

Ben Fulton

for Buchanan

Destruction of Bureau Property-General D. J. Brennan

We are recommending that present procedures for destruction of files in Legat Offices be standardized so that criminal, applicant, and other miscellaneous files may be considered for destruction after they have been closed for one year and that security files may be considered after a three-year period, except in Hong Kong and Santo Domingo where local conditions make it desirable for security files to be reviewed after a shorter period of time.

In order to effect economies wherever possible and bring about more efficient operating procedures, we have completed a survey of all Legat Offices to obtain their comments concerning present destruction procedures and their recommendations for changes where necessary. Under present procedures, all European and Far Eastern Offices, except Hong Kong, consider criminal, applicant, and other miscellaneous files for destruction after one year and security cases after they have been closed three years. Mexico City examines all investigative files with a view to destruction after they have been closed for ten years. Hong Kong examines all categories for destruction after they have been closed for one year. Remaining offices do not operate under special instructions for file destruction and are guided by general provisions of the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

We have re-examined the above procedures in the light of Legats' current comments and recommendations. The majority of our Legats are in favor of being permitted to consider criminal, applicant, and other classifications for destruction after they have been closed one year and security files after a three-year period. They based their recommendations on the fact that such authority would enable them to keep the number of closed volumes within manageable proportions thus resulting in a saving of critically needed space and eliminating the necessity for purchasing additional file cabinets. Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have been advised of your suggestion concerning the disposition of files containing record check information under certain conditions. It has been decided that appropriate field offices will be canvassed for their opinions of your proposal and you will be further advised if a favorable decision is made.

Your interest in seeking ways to improve our records management operations is indeed appreciated.

SUBJECT: CHIEF CLERK'S OPERATIONS DESTRUCTION OF FILES; CIVILIAN - MILITARY RECORD CHECKS
229-68

GEN

At present there are a considerable number of locations throughout the United States where civilian and military records are being serviced and maintained. In addition, numerous Government Agencies maintain records at their Headquarters in Washington, D. C. This would include the Department of State, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Internal Revenue Service, Civil Service Commission; etc. These records are frequently transferred from one location to another, or to the agency headquarters in Washington, D. C. Because of this, Bureau field offices are continually transmitting interoffice communications setting forth negative or transfer type information in an effort to locate a particular record.

The auxiliary office usually receives only sufficient background information to enable a request for a record search by another agency. If a record is not located, and negative or transfer type information is developed, an interoffice communication is submitted, and the office of origin is advised of this fact. When this is accomplished, the case is RUC'd and retained in the Closed Files Section of the auxiliary office until it is destroyed under the 5, 10, or 20 year destruction rule, depending upon the classification.

In addition, frequently the office of origin will advise the auxiliary office to discontinue record check type investigations and these cases are closed administratively in the auxiliary office. Again, these files are retained until destroyed under the 5, 10, or 20 year destruction rule.

Inasmuch as these files retained by the auxiliary office contain only limited background data together with certain negative, transfer or discontinue type information, it is felt that these files, in all classifications, could be destroyed 60 days after the case has been RUC'd. The destruction of these files in this manner would present a very substantial savings in space, manpower, supplies, and equipment. It would appear that this savings would outweigh any known advantages in the retention of this material. Certain administrative procedures would have to be revised to allow for a change in the current format for handling assignment cards, index cards, and file folders, fronts and backs.

Several years ago, the Washington Field Office was given Bureau authority to utilize a special stamp in handling negative, non-pertinent and non-derogatory agency checks in certain type applicant cases. In adopting this system, it was no longer necessary for the Washington Field Office to submit copies of communications to the Bureau containing this type of information. The original Bureau order letter was stamped indicating the particular type of negative, non-derogatory or non-pertinent information and returned to the Bureau. Copies of the Bureau communication and temporary index cards were destroyed 60 days later.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Training Division be authorized to conduct a survey in the Baltimore, Indianapolis, San Antonio, St. Louis and Washington Field Offices, which handle the bulk of the agency check type investigations, to determine the space, manpower, supplies, and equipment that would be saved if files in auxiliary offices containing negative, transfer or discontinue type information, in record check type investigations, could be destroyed in 60 days.

Description of List: Serial 1 of 100-148436 consists of 300 members of Tiroler Volksbund, a German organization, the investigation of which failed to reveal any un-American or pro-Nazi activities.

The attached listing of names has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to this listing causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data, it is proposed that the material be deindexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above-listed file reference to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing on this listing of names. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memo. The memo should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 6309 Identification Building.

Domestic Intelligence Division has no objection to the proposed deindexing of the 1942 list of names of members of the Tiroler Volksbund, since investigation failed to reveal that this was an un-American or pro-Nazi organization. In addition this list is at least twenty-five years old and therefore the names on it have little current significance.

SUBJECT: Anonymous Letter File

The Anonymous Letter File consists of photocopies of extortion, kidnapping letters, threatening letters, scurrilous and abusive letters to public officials and letters involving racial matters. The file is separated into two sections according to the motivation of the writer. Extortion letters written with the profit motive are placed in one section and letters written because of the antagonism of the writer are placed in the other section.

The Anonymous Letter File is reviewed on an annual basis. At the discretion of the individual document examiners, single unidentified letters over five years old are removed from the file during the annual review. The review has been completed and 4905 specimens remain in the file. As a result of the review, 824 specimens were removed from the file. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967, 3612 specimen searches were made in the file and 36 specimens were identified with evidence submitted in other cases.

WAR RELOCATION AUTHORITY NAME SEARCHES

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. The file consists of 6 sections containing 2,189 serials, but over 1,800 serials have already been de-indexed and destroyed.

The majority of the file remaining contains cover letters enclosing the WRA-26 forms which have been destroyed per Archival Authority contained in 100-194487-2186 and 66-19087-13. The file also contains the outgoing replies to these incoming letters listing Bureau's results of the name checks along with the names. However, some of these outgoings have in addition to the names on which there were "No Records", individuals on whom the Bureau did have information and the information on these individuals was sent to the War Relocation Authority.

Since all the WRA-26 forms containing identifying information were destroyed it appears that the cover letters are no longer of any value as well as the outgoings containing the names on which no records were found. It seems that consideration could be given to destroying this type of material but retain the outgoings where information was furnished to the War Relocation Authority. Also retain any material of a historical nature and material with the Director's notations. For additional information regarding the destruction of the WRA-26 forms see 100-194487 serials 2184 and 2185.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit. Very little space would be saved in the General Index Unit because most of the names have already been de-indexed.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above listed file to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum and returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231.

Relet indicates that there may possibly be a misconception on your part with reference to the information set forth in Bulet to Legat, Bern, 4/14/67, and revisions in Section 6. L, 2, of the Foreign Operations Policy Manual, which deal with the matter of the file destruction program of your office.

Bureau instructions were intended to be permissive rather than mandatory, and you should feel free to retain in your office any files which you feel will be of assistance to the operations of your office in the future. On the other hand, keeping in mind that one of the purposes of a file destruction program is to eliminate unnecessary material so that the operations of your office will be streamlined insofar as possible, you should make every effort to review and mark for destruction all material which is eligible for such consideration and for which there is no possible future need. As set forth in paragraph three, Section 6. L, 2, page 13, you should advise the Bureau between August 1 and September 1 that a tickler has been set for considering the destruction of files, that the files are manageable, and that those retained could be destroyed in the event of any foreseeable emergency.

ReBulet to Legat, Bern, 4/14/67, and revisions in Section 6. L, 2, of the Foreign Operation Policy Manual, received in this office on 5/18/67.

The shorter intervals for reviewing closed files for destruction purposes are being implemented. The revision will particularly benefit those foreign offices not located in a country bordering on the United States and those, such as Ottawa, which have an efficient nation-wide local police organization to call upon for badly needed records in an emergency situation.

In this office, where more than 14,000 files have been closed in the last four years, a significant additional burden is being placed on both Agent and clerical personnel to close the gap between schedules previously approved and those now in effect. The Director's letter of May 26, 1967, instructed that the work load of the CCO must be reduced to a manageable level. For these reasons, the work connected with reviewing and destroying files closed since 1957, until the program is current, will be handled on a project basis, UACB.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. There are 94 sections containing over 9,800 serials. It was opened in 1922. Serials 1 and 2 appear to be mail that was brought over from the Justice Department and behind serial 1 there is quite a bit of material, some of which dates back to 1916, that would seem to be of interest only to the organization itself. Serial 3 is the first piece of mail that is addressed to the Director.

The file consists of invitations to the Director to make speeches before groups, requests for Director to write articles for various programs, requests to go on Bureau's mailing list, miscellaneous material regarding fingerprinting of Boy Scouts, requests for pamphlets, correspondence requesting a speaker for a meeting, and the answering replys, memoranda to the Attorney General advising him how many invitations he had received or declined, letters from SAC's enclosing copies of speeches to be made before various groups and letters from SAC's advising that such and such an Agent gave a talk at a certain time and place. The material in this file is similar to material that was placed in other main 94-1 files on organizations. Destruction has already been done in those main files as authorization was obtained. (See 94-1-1666). Since the above organization is still active and correspondence is received currently, the entire file should not be destroyed. However, it is believed that the material that is over ten years old could be destroyed using the same authority as for the other main 94-1 files. There are approximately 7,150 serials that are over 10 years old. Any mail of a historical nature or with the Director's notation would be retained.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index.

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 80 CLASSIFICATION
PUBLIC RELATIONS BY FIELD OFFICES

The above files have been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. There are 39 such files and no mail has been placed in any of them since 1936. These files vary in size depending on the size of the Field Office.

These files contain correspondence from private individuals requesting general information, pamphlets, etc. about the Bureau. The correspondence is similar in nature to correspondence that currently is filed in either 62-0 file or the 94-5 file. Some destruction has already been done in those files and Archival Authority was received for such destruction. (See 66-19087-14, item 6 on second page). Since these files have not been used in over 30 years and we have authority to destroy such mail, it appears that these files are of no value today. Some de-indexing has been done in these files but there are still names that would have to be de-indexed. From a spot check of these files there does not seem to be any material of an administrative or historical nature. However, if there is any, it would be retained.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review several of the above listed files to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. ALIEN APPLICANTS GENERAL

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. The file consists of 791 sections, containing 63,818 serials. Mail has been placed in this file as recently as 1962, however, the vast majority of the material is now well over 20 years old. There are thousands of names that have been indexed in this file.

The file contains the following types of correspondence: letters from the Office of Naval Intelligence submitting lists of names to be checked against the Bureau's indices with usually a cover memorandum to Mr. Clegg advising lists had been received and originals of lists were returned to O. N. I.; telephonic requests from M. I. D. requesting a name check; numerous communications from the then Assistant Attorney General, O. John Rogge, transmitting letters from the Secretary of War concerning certain aliens, copies of which were apparently forwarded to G-2 (originals retained in Bureau files); various types of forms, questionnaires, forms to be submitted to the Secretary of War by companies or corporations requesting permission to employ aliens on government contracts, Loyalty and Character reports from the Office of Provost Marshall, War Department, etc. Reference is made to memorandum from Eames to Mr. Nichols dated 2/18/55 and memorandum from Branigan to Mr. Belmont where it was decided that all the Naval Intelligence (ONI) flimsies could be de-indexed and destroyed. (66-3286 serials 615 and 616.) Material referred to in this memorandum is somewhat similar to the flimsies except in a different form, but still merely a name search request. Since this material is of a Name Check nature, Archival Authority would not be necessary inasmuch as we have that authority for destruction of such. Any material of an administrative or historical nature would be retained.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Denied this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index.

ADDENDUM BY GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION
(6-12-67 GHS:mkw)

Sections one and twenty of file 96-0 (which sections accompanied memorandum from Short to Tavel June 7, 1967, pertaining to this file) were examined, and the following comments are made based on a review of these two sections only.

The file was noted to contain some correspondence from citizens, intraBureau memorandums regarding policy matters, as well as voluminous information of a background nature concerning aliens received from other Government agencies. In addition, there were lists of names with no identifying data, transmittal letters referring to lists which had been returned to the orginator of negative name checks, and information of similar nature.

The General Investigative Division sees no benefit from retaining the matter consisting of background data forms, lists of names recording only negative name checks, memos stating a negative name check had been made, and similar material of this nature. However, it is not believed that correspondence from outside individuals or material regarding policy should be destroyed.

It was also noted that many of the background data forms are stamped "confidential," and it is assumed the Bureau has or can get the necessary authority to destroy such material.

In view of the background data on the forms appearing in this file, such material may be of potential value to other divisions at SOG, and it is therefore believed that the views of the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Special Investigative Division should be obtained.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the above views of General Investigative Division be forwarded to the Files and Communications Division.

ADDENDUM BY SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION
(6-15-67 RHE:jkk)

Sections one and twenty of file 96-0 have been examined and it would appear that there would be no loss to the Bureau to destroy the list of names recording only negative name checks, memoranda stating negative name checks have been made and similar material. Some of the forms containing background information were apparently received in 1941 and although classified "confidential" by the submitting agency, contain no defense information justifying a confidential classification under today's standards.

Since it appears that most of the material in this file consists of material of a name check nature, this Division has no objection to such material being de-indexed and destroyed; however, it is felt, like set forth in the comments of the General Investigative Division, that correspondence from outside individuals and material regarding policy should be carefully evaluated before a decision is made concerning its destruction.

ADDENDUM BY DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION
(8/4/67 BPM:gmh/smd)

A review of the Special Investigative Division and General Investigative Division addenda indicates sections one and twenty of captioned file comprising some 791 sections were reviewed.

In view of the voluminous nature of the 96-0 file, the Domestic Intelligence Division review comprised sections 100, 700, and 789. These sections consist mainly of copies of the results of 1943 and 1944 loyalty and character investigations by the Provost Marshal General's office regarding alien employees or applicants for employment in industrial concerns having defense contracts, or being considered for employment with some component of the armed services.

The Domestic Intelligence Division agrees with the addenda of the Special Investigative Division and the General Investigative Division to the extent that information regarding negative name check type material can be destroyed. Results of loyalty and character investigations by the Provost Marshal General's office should be retained since these contain background material and derogatory data of potential value. Matters regarding Bureau policy and outside correspondence should also be retained.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion regarding the disposition of serials in the double zero files after a particular period of time. You may be interested to know that similar proposals have been considered in the past and not adopted because of the disadvantages involved. It is desirable to retain this material to have past policy regarding each classification readily available.

Although this idea did not receive favorable action, the interest which prompted you to submit it to me is indeed appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. [redacted]

Numerous ideas have been considered regarding the disposition of the double zero files after various periods of time and not adopted. First, the fact is that not everything in double zero files maintained in field is maintained in Bureau files. Second, material in double zero files when manual change involved contain pertinent background material and policy which field would not have benefit of if files destroyed earlier. Third, even though current Bureau policy may be contained in Bureau manuals, on occasion, it is necessary to determine how investigations were handled sometime in past and double zero files make handling of each classification readily available in each field office. These files occupy relatively little space. Training Division recommends current idea not be adopted.

SUGGESTION It is suggested that serials in double zero files in the field be destroyed when they are three years old. The instructions and policies contained in double zero files are in most instances portions of SAC Letters. SAC Letters should be a temporary means of notifying the field of policies and instructions until they are incorporated in either the Manual of Instructions and/or Manual of Rules and Regulations. Serials in RH file 100-00 for example contain instructions and policies concerning Internal Security-G (German), Alien Enemy Control, Denaturalization Proceedings, and other Internal Security and Security Matter instructions issued during the years of World War II. Serials in 67-00 contain instructions issued during World War II regarding recruiting. These are only a few examples of correspondence in 00 files which is obsolete or has been incorporated into the aforementioned two Manuals.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Double zero files for current classifications are to be retained - Section 3, Part 2, Subsection 8, Page 13, Manual of Rules and Regulations, regarding Destruction of Files and Records.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) A savings of file space which could be used for current filing would be effected. In the Richmond Office four letter-size file drawers would be released. Using Richmond as a guide for all field offices (57), approximately 45 five-drawer file cabinets would be released for the storage of current files. Using the current GSA catalog price of a five-drawer letter-size cabinet, $52.80 as a guide, forty-five cabinets of this size would be released at a total cost of $2,376.00.

All instructions concerning policies and administration of offices would be contained in either the Manual of Instructions or the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

Disadvantages of suggestion
None.
It is realized that certain double zero files would have to be reviewed before destruction so that certain policies of a local nature, such as 70-00 - CGR, would be retained.

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 105-54508
HUNGARIAN EMERGENCY REFUGEE PROGRAM

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

Domestic Intelligence Division comments have been requested concerning the destruction of all name check forms which do not contain derogatory information contained in captioned file.

Memorandum of L. E. Short to Mr. Tavel, dated May 15, 1967, in this matter, advised that file 105-54508 captioned "Hungarian Emergency Refugee Program" contains 4,039 serials and all but 62 serials are the "Not Recorded" type name check forms. Short's memo requested that consideration be given to de-indexing and destruction of the serials.

A review of file 105-54508 determined that it was created in January, 1957, in order to maintain statistical data regarding Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) name check form G-135. These forms, which were submitted by INS in connection with the name checks of various refugees admitted to the United States as parolees under the "Hungarian Emergency Refugee Program," contain brief identifying data. [redacted] b3 per CIA In March , 1962, a list of the serials in this file which did not contain derogatory information was prepared. This list was utilized by the File Review Unit to indicate serials which contain only biographical data and allowed a search slip to be marked "ident but no derogatory," thereby eliminating a review of the file. This practice is only utilized when a regular name check is made and does not affect special name checks. The review of file 105-54508 also revealed that no forms have been placed in this file since 1960.

The value of maintaining these old "forms" which contain a minimum of data is negligible. Domestic Intelligence Division interposes no objection to the destruction of such serials which contain no derogatory information for the primary purpose of saving space in the Filing Unit.

RECOMMENDATION:

That approval for destruction be also cleared through other interested divisions prior to placing this plan in effect. Therefore, it should be determined whether the General Investigative Division and Special Investigative Division have any reason which would preclude destruction.

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 105-16424 sub 246 - 2398
VISA APPLICANTS - CHINA

The above listed serial has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. It is dated 10/15/52 and attached to it is a list obtained from the State Department, current at that time, of Chinese Officials in the United States.

A review of this list indicates that all of the names are not those of Officials. There are listed the names of employees such as Maids, Clerks, Secretaries, Messengers, etc. Other than the occupation and address of the employees there is no other identifying information that would be of use in searching procedures. Since this mail is almost fifteen years old, it is recommended that consideration be given to de-indexing this serial but retaining the memorandum with its enclosure. Considerable destruction is being done in the Visa Applicant sub files which ~~were de-indexed years back~~.

De-indexing of this serial would result in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index and a saving of time of anyone searching in the Index.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above listed serial and its enclosure which is attached, to determine if any reason exists which would preclude de-indexing. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum and returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231.

HUNGARIAN EMERGENCY REFUGEE PROGRAM

The above listed file has been called to our attention by personnel of the Consolidation Unit. It consists of 24 sections. This file was opened in January of 1957 and was used for INS name check forms on individual refugees being admitted to the U. S. in parole status. There are 4,039 serials. All but 62 serials are the "Not Recorded" name check forms. These forms contain a name, birthplace, birth date and alien registration number. No forms have been placed in the file since 1960.

The majority of these forms are "no records" and it is felt that since the Program is no longer in existence that consideration could be given to de-indexing and destruction as is currently being done on the INS "Visa" name check forms. Any form with derogatory information and all other mail would be retained.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index. Previous Archival Authority has been received for the destruction of this type of material.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above listed file to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum and returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231.

NOTE: The above manual provision has been rewritten to remove the requirement that the date the files are destroyed be shown on the list retained. SUBJECT: RETENTION OF SPECIAL INQUIRY SUMMARIES
SPECIAL INQUIRY UNIT
EMPLOYEES SECURITY AND SPECIAL INQUIRY SECTION
SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

PURPOSE DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENL

To advise that we are going to immediately institute a purging program and destroy copies of all summaries over ten years old maintained in the Special Inquiry Unit. Thereafter, on a monthly basis we will destroy copies of summaries which become ten years old during that month.

BACKGROUND

Since November, 1952, when President-elect Eisenhower initiated this program, we have, with permission, maintained copies of all Special Inquiry summaries in folders in alphabetical order in the Special Inquiry Unit. There is also a copy of each summary in each main file of the individual involved, as well as the yellow of the summary. The copy in file is a white copy suitable for duplication for dissemination.

These summaries were maintained in the unit for quick reference where time was of the essence and the calling of the main file would have delayed necessary action. We receive calls for copies of these summaries from Bureau officials, other Government agencies, and the White House.

At present we have these summaries broken down into two categories, namely the Eisenhower Administration summaries and the Johnson-Kennedy summaries. For several years now we have kept a running log on the frequency with which we disseminate these summaries. Many of the Eisenhower summaries are now fifteen years old and although we have followed a policy of purging those summaries on persons who are deceased, obviously some of them are deceased and we are not aware of it.

Re: Retention of Special Inquiry Summaries

Further, the running log indicates that for the past few years we have referred to the Eisenhower summaries at a steadily decreasing rate and it is now believed that a purging system should be set up based on the passage of time.

CURRENT PROPOSAL

A purging system will be immediately put into effect to destroy copies of all summaries of Eisenhower appointees which are over ten years old. This means that we can immediately destroy copies of some 2200 summaries prepared between November, 1952, and April, 1957. Each month hereafter we will destroy summaries which become ten years old during that month.

This action is necessary as the old summaries are taking up needed storage space and in the event we receive a request for the summary we can call for the main file on the individual involved and duplicate the summary contained therein.

ACTION

We will immediately destroy all Eisenhower summaries over ten years old maintained in the Special Inquiry Unit and each month thereafter will destroy those summaries becoming ten years old during that month. (THIS AMOUNTS TO DESTRUCTION OF REFERENCE COPIES - ORIGINAL WILL REMAIN ON RECORD)

With the exception of Santo Domingo and Hong Kong, all offices may consider criminal, applicant, Foreign Police Cooperation, and other files for destruction after they have been closed one year. Security-type cases may be so considered after three years. In view of local circumstances, Santo Domingo and Hong Kong may consider all files for destruction after they have been closed for one year. Informant files of the offices should not be destroyed. Files which obviously have reference value or for which there is a possible future need may, of course, be retained indefinitely.

Appropriate manual changes are being prepared and you should be guided by the other general provisions for file destruction set forth in the Foreign Operations Policy Manual.

above provisions have been in effect in some offices for a number of years and the results have been completely satisfactory from the viewpoint of both the Legats and the Bureau. The foregoing periods of time are permissive in that Legats may consider files for destruction after the lapse of the appropriate amount of time but cases which are of obvious importance or future benefit can and should be retained indefinitely.

However, in the case of Hong Kong and Santo Domingo, we have a somewhat unusual situation in that Hong Kong's geographical location and the political situation in the Dominican Republic underscore the desirability of having as little material as possible retained in view of the ever present possibility that those offices could be taken over by hostile elements without our Legats having the opportunity to destroy material on hand. We feel that special arrangements should be made for those two offices. We recommend, therefore, that all Legat Offices except for Hong Kong and Santo Domingo, be permitted to consider for destruction criminal, applicant, and other miscellaneous classifications after they have been closed for one year and security files after three years. In the case of Hong Kong and Santo Domingo, all files should be considered for destruction after they have been closed for one year. Informant files should not be destroyed.

ACTION:

(1) Attached for approval is a letter to all Legats setting forth current procedures to be followed in their offices relative to the destruction of their files.

(2) If approved, appropriate manual changes will be made by the Training Division.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
SUGGESTION MATTER
DUDED: 2/15/83

At present there are a considerable number of locations throughout the United States where civilian and military records are serviced and maintained. These records are frequently transferred from one location to another, or to the agency headquarters in the Washington, D. C., area. Because of this, Bureau field offices are continually transmitting interoffice communications setting forth negative or transfer-type information in an effort to locate a particular record. In addition, at various times auxiliary offices are instructed to discontinue record check-type investigations by either the Bureau, the office of origin, or another auxiliary office, depending upon the circumstances.

There is a suggestion under consideration at the Seat of Government to destroy files in auxiliary offices, in all classifications, which contain only negative, transfer, or discontinue-type information pertaining to record check requests, 60 days subsequent to the date the investigation was referred upon completion to the office of origin.

Auxiliary offices usually receive only sufficient background information to make a logical record request of another agency. If a record is not located, and negative or transfer-type information is developed, an interoffice communication is transmitted, and the office of origin is advised.

When this is accomplished, the case is RUC'd and retained in the auxiliary office until it is destroyed under the 5, 10, or 20-year destruction rule, depending upon the classification. This would also be the procedure when auxiliary offices are advised to discontinue a record check-type investigation.

Offices receiving copies of this communication should conduct a survey for a period of 60 days, beginning 11/1/67, to determine the frequency in which communications are directed to other offices as the result of negative or transfer-type record check requests. Also, take into consideration those instances where you are instructed to discontinue record check-type investigations. In addition, each office should estimate their savings in filing space, including the general indices, if files containing negative, transfer, or discontinue-type information, in record check-type investigations, could be destroyed 60 days after the investigation is RUC'd.

Submit the results of your survey, together with your views and recommendations as to the feasibility of the proposed file destruction procedure, as well as administrative devices necessary to control this procedure, to the Bureau, Attention: Training Division, by 1/15/68.

SUBJECT: REFUGEE RELIEF PROGRAM (RRP) DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

This memo suggests copies of State Department RRP reports in captioned file be considered for deindexing and destruction.

This is a control file pertaining to the Refugee Relief Act of 1953 which expired 12/31/56. It has 131 sections containing an estimated 5,000 copies of above reports. The reports set forth results of investigations conducted abroad concerning applicants for refugee status by other U.S. and foreign agencies. A total of 248,725 such investigations were conducted and reports furnished to the Bureau are some but not all of those containing derogatory criminal or subversive information. Reports furnished to the Bureau pertain to individuals who were most probably never admitted into the U.S. due to the derogatory information developed. Because of this situation, Special Agent in Charge (SAC) Letter 57-31 dated 5/21/57 provided for a check of original records at State Department when needed. It was verified through liaison on 8/4/67 that these records continue to be maintained by State Department.

Since these records are incomplete, since they pertain to individuals who were most probably never admitted to the U.S., and since provision has been made for checks of the original complete records, no need for retention of the RRP reports in captioned file can be foreseen. At least two names (refugee and sponsor) are indexed in each report. No investigation of the sponsors was conducted.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is suggested consideration be given to the destruction and deindexing of the RRP reports. Policy matters and other correspondence should be retained.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that the Manual of Rules and Regulations be amended to permit the disposition of channelizing memoranda following the submission of letterhead memoranda in certain cases when reports are not submitted. Careful consideration is being afforded this proposal and you will be advised if it is adopted.

The interest and initiative you displayed in submitting your idea to me are indeed appreciated.

GENERAL

The purpose of this communication is to recommend a change in the Manual of Rules and Regulations (MRR) to permit the destruction of channelizing memoranda following the submission of Letterhead Memoranda (LHM) in espionage and nationalistic tendency cases, wherein no reports are submitted.

The MRR, Part II, Section 4, Page 2b, provides that significant data developed in non-prosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases should be submitted by LHM.

The MRR, Part II, Section 3, Page 15b, currently reads as follows:

"w. Files and records which are to be destroyed when they have served the purpose for which prepared

(2) Channelizing memoranda in criminal cases and security cases may be destroyed following submission of reports...."

It is suggested that the Bureau also approve the destruction of channelizing memoranda following the submission of LHM's in non-prosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases, and that appropriate changes be made in the MRR.

The above suggestion is believed timely, following the recent approval of the Bureau for WFO and New York to channelize certain surveillance information received from [redacted] symboled informants in Soviet-bloc cases. The adoption of the recommendation should effect a substantial savings in file room space.

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 62-29818
RATING OF JAILS

Ø DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

The above-listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. It was opened in 1933. There are 11 sections consisting of over 1300 serials.

The file consists mostly of memoranda and mimeographed lists from the Director of the Bureau of Prisons listing condemned jails or authorized jails and form letters to the field advising them of this information. In past, information was not sent by SAC letter. Instead, a separate letter was sent to each field office and to each supervisor at the Seat of Government. Section 1, serial 47, is an example of volume of lists and transmittal letters retained. It appears that the last, complete, up-to-date list was received from the Bureau of Prisons in July of 1966. (See serial 1304) These lists were sent over with a cover memorandum. The present policy is just to send the lists themselves without cover letter and they are sent directly to the Mail Room to be sent out to the field offices. Each time a list is sent it supersedes all other lists, thus, making the previous lists obsolete. This material is in effect a "publication" issued by the Department of Justice which is required to retain its copies as record material. As "publications" and cover letters for same are "nonrecord" material, Archival authority is not required for destruction. Any mail of a policy nature or containing the Director's notations would be retained.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the general index.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above file to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. A notation

SUGGESTION

I suggest consideration be given to include Selective Service files, (25 classification) to list of files that may be destroyed when closed five years. Seldom is reference made to a "25" file closed over five years. Chronic Selective Service violators, after entering the Armed Forces, normally become deserters in a very few months and leads to locate career men who desert could be obtained from records of the Armed Forces. Very few files are voluminous but volume of files is great.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

"25" classification files are presently included with those to be retained for ten years. MRR Part II, Sect. 3, 8b.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Saving of file cabinet space which in turn saves floor space. In Philadelphia Division five shelf filing cabinets would be gained. Equivalent savings in file space would be gained in other divisions, in large cities such as Philadelphia. Each cabinet saved would be a $54.15 saving. Conservatively it is estimated one or two thousand dollars in equipment or space would be gained.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen.

SUGGESTION: That the disposition of results of Modus Operandi - Personal Appearance (MO - PA) File searches furnished by the Seat of Government to field offices be made at the discretion of each field office and that these reports be discarded and destroyed in any case where they are not pertinent or do not serve any useful purpose.

CURRENT PRACTICE: SA Senesac states the results of MO - PA searches are serialized in each "possible" case.

ADVANTAGES: The suggester states serializing of MO - PA search reports in cases involving typical bank robbery MO tend to make the files bulky and difficult to review. Appropriate disposition of these reports where they are not pertinent or serve any useful purpose will tend to streamline the file and simplify a review of pertinent subject matter.

DISADVANTAGES: There would be no disadvantages involved after the MO - PA search report has been determined to be irrelevant.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Weeks, New Haven Office, believed this to be an excellent idea. He stated the paper involved is proving to be a real problem.

The Administrative Division advised this does not fall within its responsibilities; therefore, no recommendation was made.

The General Investigative Division noted this file contains information pertaining only to bank robberies and is maintained on automatic data processing equipment. Information contained in the file is furnished by the field upon commission of a new bank robbery and/or upon the identification of a robber in a previously unsolved case. Upon receipt of that information in either instance, it is searched in the MO - PA File against all other bank robberies both solved and unsolved to determine if a robber using a similar modus operandi and having a similar physical description was involved in any other bank robberies. The results of the search are incorporated into MO - PA search reports which are furnished to the office of origin and any other offices which have cases included in the search results. The number of cases included in the search results is limited to ten separate bank robberies. Upon receipt in the field the Bank Robbery Coordinator and/or the case Agent reviews the search results to determine if their bank robbery appears similar to any of the other robberies. If any cases appear similar, the offices exchange available information to resolve the question. The search results are incorporated into the substantive bank robbery file. This division felt the idea to destroy all search reports after a determination has been made that the results are negative has merit; however, various interested offices receive the results and it would appear to be feasible to maintain them until closing of the bank robbery case. In the event one office communicates with another office in connection with a particular bank robbery included in the search results, the receiving office would likely refer to the MO - PA search report.

By Executives Conference memorandum dated 11/30/67, it was recommended and approved that this program be continued for another six months after which a further recommendation would be made to retain or discontinue the program. The majority of the Conference favored destruction of the search reports having negative results after the closing of the bank robbery case and this was also approved.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) Due to this action, it is recommended the attached letter of appreciation be forwarded the suggester. He was thanked by prior letter.

(2) That the attached Letter to All Special Agents in Charge be approved to notify the field of the adopted procedure.

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 80-57
PUBLIC RELATIONS - WASHINGTON POST

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. The file has 1 section containing 196 serials and a Sub A section. It was opened in January of 1933 and no mail has been placed in it since July, 1936.

The file was apparently opened to file correspondence regarding Bureau personnel and their activities for possible publication in the Washington Post's Government Column, "The Federal Diary." These letters were sent once a week, mostly to a Mr. Morgan Baker. The information is of no value today since it is over 30 years old. In all probability a large number of the employees mentioned in these letters are no longer employed in the Bureau or have retired or died. There are also memoranda where a representative from the paper called to inquire if there were any interesting items about personnel activities they could use. The Sub A file contains the Columns from the paper, the last one being dated 1/24/38. Archival Authority has been received for destruction of similar type material. (See 66-19087-14, Item 3). Any material that it would be necessary to retain could be changed over to the current file on the Washington Post, 94-8-6.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above listed file to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum and returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231.

SYNOPSIS

Mrs. [redacted] has proposed auxiliary offices be permitted to destroy their files and index cards relating thereto on an annual basis when one year old in the following applicant-type classifications: 1, 67, 73, 77, 116, 118, 120, 121, 123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 151, 161, and 163. In these cases when the Bureau is listed as office of origin, the office initiating the investigation would assume office of origin and retain the file. All other offices handling leads would destroy file and index cards.

Administrative Division opposed adoption as not being practical with regard to Bureau applicants and noted this information is relatively current and beneficial to field offices not only when an individual seeks reinstatement but for use in other classifications within Bureau's jurisdiction. This division advised there appeared to be no reason for keeping for three years files containing applicant correspondence of no significant value which have been closed administratively with no correspondence to the Bureau and felt this material could be destroyed after it becomes two years old.

ORIGINAL FILED IN

Special Investigative Division opposed adoption since we conduct numerous reinvestigations of persons formerly investigated for governmental positions and it is necessary for each auxiliary office to review the original investigative report before bringing the investigation up to date. The cost for preparing copies of reports, mailing, clerical handling, and final storing would more than offset any saving in space.

Training Division, although having no objection to such destruction for National Academy Applicant files with no derogatory data, feels present provisions should be retained and a change is not warranted due to the views expressed by the interested divisions and the exceptions which would be necessary to accommodate the different variations mentioned by divisions involved at the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted. On approval, no further action is necessary with regard to the suggester as she has been thanked by prior letter.

DETAILS

SUGGESTION: That auxiliary offices be permitted to destroy their files and index cards relating thereto on an annual basis when one year old in the following applicant-type classifications: 1, 67, 73, 77, 116, 118, 120, 121, 123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 151, 161, and 163. In applicant-type cases where the Bureau is listed as office of origin, the office initiating the investigation would assume office of origin and retain the file. All other offices handling leads would destroy file and index cards.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13a, regarding files and records which may be destroyed when ten years old provides for this action regarding Bureau applicant files and index cards relating thereto unless closed administratively with no correspondence to Bureau. In the latter instance, they may be destroyed after three years old. No mention of other applicant cases is made; therefore, they are retained for 20 years.

ADVANTAGES: Space to be saved in the closed files section.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Santoiana, Tampa, stated he felt this idea had a great deal of merit. Tampa Office is about seven years old and its closed file section is now getting to the point where they have to start thinking about expansion or purging. Purging would be more economical, and if the office expands, it would be necessary to start thinking about additional space for the expansion of closed files at some time in the not too distant future. Proposed procedure would provide more filing space in the closed files section and delay expansion of closed files section and result in a financial saving.

Administrative Division felt Bureau applicant investigative files should be maintained for ten years as at present. This information is relatively current and beneficial to field offices not only when an individual seeks reinstatement but for use in other classifications within Bureau's jurisdiction. To have the office initiating the investigation assume status of office of origin in Bureau applicant cases is not practical because in many instances an office initiating the investigation has very little active investigation to conduct and does not receive copies of reports from auxiliary offices. This is particularly true in cases where an applicant is attending an institution of higher learning out of his home state, such as college and business schools, when the majority of the investigation is conducted by an auxiliary office. Since policy at the SOG is that Bureau applicant correspondence found to be of no significant value is destroyed at the end of a two-year period, there appears to be no reason why this could not also be done in the field, thus reducing the period from three to two years. This division recommended consideration be given to reducing this destruction period from three to two years and that no change be made in the current instructions regarding Bureau applicant investigations and that they be retained for a ten-year period.

The Special Investigative Division opposed adoption for the following reasons. It stated the Bureau conducts numerous reinvestigations of persons formerly investigated for governmental positions, and it is necessary for each auxiliary field office to review the original investigative report before bringing the investigation up to date; name checks at the field level would be useless in the categories affected by the suggestion; and the dollar value in space saved would be offset by the cost of making copies of investigative reports for the field. This division set forth comprehensive details concerning each category mentioned above. The Bureau is called upon to conduct between 600 and 700 reinvestigation and supplemental inquiries of persons formerly investigated by the Bureau for the Atomic Energy Commission each year. The Department of Justice continuously requests up-to-date investigations of Assistant United States Attorneys who are being considered for United States Attorneys and United States Attorneys who are being considered for Federal judgeships. At the present time, there is a pending departmental applicant investigation that is being brought up to date from 1946. This division is about to begin on a program of reinvestigating White House personnel. This is a recurring program and every three years we can expect to receive between 2500 and 3500 investigations to bring up to date. Each office participating in the reinvestigation must know the results of its prior inquiries in order to conduct intelligent continuation of the original inquiries. If the suggestion were approved, prior investigative reports would have to be reproduced at the Bureau for the participating auxiliary offices and delay the handling time by an estimated three to five days. This could be a source of embarassment to the Bureau when it became noticed by the agencies for whom we conduct these investigations.

Regarding name checks at the field office level, this division advised information contained in their files on the 20 applicant categories under consideration is useful as it pertains to identifying data and derogatory information which has proved helpful in conducting other FBI investigations as well as of service to those agencies within the Executive Branch of the Government for whom we conduct name checks at the field level. For example, the Civil Service Commission checks the names of relatives and references in their applicant-type investigations only at the field office level; therefore, if these files and index cards are destroyed, the field office involved would have to give a "no record" reply. This could be a serious handicap to the Government's employment program because we have discovered numerous security risks, homosexuals, and other objectionable people. During the next twelve months, we will receive between 1800 and 2000 requests for up-to-date investigations. If idea were approved, this would require reproducing approximately 10,000 copies. The cost of reproducing, mailing, clerical handling, and final storing would appear to more than offset any savings that might develop from the additional space which would be made available by destroying the files in question. The Special Investigative Division, therefore, opposed adoption.

The National Academy Desk, Training Division, posed no objection to the idea unless derogatory information was found regarding an individual. This would make another exception to the rule. Training Division would like to point out a similar idea was considered in November, 1966, to destroy annually all referred upon completion nonsecurity files over ten years old except those of Identification Order subjects. A field survey was made and the majority of offices solicited felt that it was doubtful whether the space to be saved would offset employee time necessary to handle the work involved.

OUTSTANDING IDENTIFICATION ORDERS

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. There are 10 sections containing 603 serials. It was opened in 1929 and no mail has been placed in it since 1958.

The file consists of letters from the Director to the Mechanical Section requesting them to print revised lists; letters from Post Offices and Police Departments around the Country regarding these lists and the replies thereto; letters from Field Offices enclosing letters from Postmasters requesting lists; letters from Field Offices requesting information regarding certain O.I.O.'s; memoranda for Division Six transmitting lists for whom Fugitive Index cards were made, etc.

This type of mail is no longer sent to file. Lists for the Mechanical Section are now sent by routing slip. Letters currently received are sent directly to the Mechanical Section, handled by them and are not returned to the Records Branch. Since this type of mail is no longer filed, it is proposed that it be destroyed. All of the mail except the last three serials is more than ten years old. Some of the names on the lists were indexed. Archival Authority has been received for destruction of similar type material. (See 66-19037-14, Item 6). Any material of an administrative nature, with the Director's notations, or mail of an historical nature would be retained.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index.

It is requested that the substantive supervisor review the above listed file to determine if any reason exists which would preclude destruction. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum and returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231.

ADDENDUM BY SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION:
11/21/67

A review has been made of file 66-2555 and some of the related files, particularly 66-2271. From the review, it appears that 66-2555 initially was established to contain lists of fugitives furnished to the Identification Division on a regular basis. Such lists have not been prepared for a number of years. Those in file serve no useful purpose, and their destruction is recommended. It is also recommended that other lists of wanted persons referred to which are no longer sent to file also be destroyed. In this connection, it is recommended that the file, as such, be killed, as recent mail filed, such as the "List of Outstanding Identification Orders, Wanted Flyers, and Check Circulars" serials most recently filed, more properly could be filed in 66-2271, where other similar lists are filed. In making the file review, it was noted that these specific lists, which subsequently are printed, serve no particular useful purpose, once printed. It is suggested that when time permits, consideration be given to the possible purging of lists of this type, except possibly the most recent, from file 66-2271.

Suggest auxiliary offices destroy their files and index cards relating thereto on annual basis when 1 year old in the following applicant type classifications: 1, 67, 73, 77, 116, 118, 120, 121,123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 151, 161 and 163s.

In applicant type cases where Bureau is listed as office of origin, the Division initiating the investigation would assume office of origin and retain the file. All other offices handling leads would destroy file and index cards.

RECOMMENDATIONS AND COMMENTS OF DIVISION HEAD

I feel that this suggestion has a great deal of merit and is worthy of favorable consideration. The Tampa Office is about seven years old and our closed file section is now getting to the point where we have to start thinking about expansion or purging. Purging would be more economical, and if we are to expand, it would be necessary for us to start thinking about additional space for the expansion of closed files at some time in the not too distant future. This same problem undoubtedly exists in other offices.

It is recommended that the Bureau act favorably on the suggestion in that permitting offices to destroy the files and index cards indicated in the suggestion would provide more filing space in the closed files section and delay expansion of closed file section and also result in a financial savings.

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 94-1 sub 152
INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CHIEFS OF POLICE

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. There are 167 sections containing over 9,700 serials. It was opened in 1919.

The file consists of requests for the Director to make speeches at the I.A.C.P. Conventions and the replies thereto, requests for copies of the Director's speeches when he spoke at the Conventions, requests made by the Director for copies of the Convention proceedings to send to individuals who had requested them from the Bureau, requests for report on the Identification Division after it was established, numerous letters sending out the Bulletins of the I.A.C.P. to various individuals, also photographs taken at the Conventions that were sent to individuals, letters from Field Offices sending in clippings regarding the Conventions, copies of the official publication of the Association, letters from the Director to various individuals who were elected to various offices in the Association congratulating them, letters requesting to be placed on Bureau's mailing list and replies thereto, 132 letters dated in 1934 sent to various individuals who visited the Bureau during a convention here in 1934, (see section 15), 41 letters dated in 1946 to various individuals advising them how happy the Director was to see them at the Convention in Miami and enclosing photographs taken there, (see section 100). Also other similar types of correspondence. The material in this file is similar to material that was placed in other 94-1 main files on organizations. We have Archival Authority to destroy this type of correspondence. (66-3286-443, item #6)

Since the above organization is still active and correspondence is received currently, the entire file should not be destroyed. However, it is believed that the material as set out above that is over 20 years old could be destroyed. There are approximately 6,400 serials that are over 20 years old. Any mail of an historical nature or with the Director's notation would be retained.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE b6 b7C
SUGGESTION 90-68 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted] INSPECTION DIVISION

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

SUGGESTION: SAC Letter 54-18, dated 4/6/54, instructed Washington Field Office and 23 coastal offices (now 25 offices) to set up administrative files in which to file data relating to stop notices placed with the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) where any affirmative action is desired. No provision has been made for the destruction of material in this file when it becomes outdated; therefore, in order to recover considerable filing space in these offices, suggests that correspondence relating to stop notices which have been canceled or expired be destroyed since this material serves no suitable purpose unless the stop is outstanding. Suggester notes that INS cancels stop notices at the expiration of five years unless they are renewed.

CURRENT PRACTICE: SA [redacted] states all correspondence relating to stop notices is maintained indefinitely with no consideration being given to those canceled or which have expired.

ADVANTAGES: A considerable amount of filing space would be realized by the destruction of such nonpertinent communications. b6 b7C

DISADVANTAGES: The suggester feels there would be no disadvantages involved inasmuch as a record of canceled or expired stops will be permanently maintained in the substantive file of the office of origin, as well as any auxiliary office which may have opened a separate file relative to other inquiries in the case.

OBSERVATIONS: Inspection Division stated this idea appears to have merit and should be considered for adoption.

Files and Communications Division had no objection to the implementation of this idea. Inasmuch as considerable employee time could possibly be involved in selecting the material for destruction, this division believed the views of some of the larger field divisions should be obtained.

Domestic Intelligence Division concurred with the suggester's observations and recommended the suggestion be adopted.

General Investigative Division stated, since the correspondence in question is no longer pertinent, relating as it does to canceled or expired stops, and the information relating to a particular subject would appear in the substantive file, it recommended the material be destroyed as proposed.

Special Investigative Division believed there was merit in this idea and there were no disadvantages known to this division.

Training Division has ascertained that once a form, FD-315 was initiated for use in placing stop notices directly with INS rather than forwarding such leads to WFO for handling with INS, some of our offices discontinued use of such a control file and place the correspondence in the case file. When a stop has been canceled, a notation to this effect is placed on the original in the case file. It appears this action is adequate and, due to the saving in filing space to be achieved, the idea should be adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter of appreciation forwarded to the suggester. He was thanked by prior letter.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Manuals Desk, Training Division, to take appropriate action.

SUBJECT: PROCLI - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 82-68 SUBMITTED BY
SA R. G. FLETCHER, JR.
SAN FRANCISCO OFFICE

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

SUGGESTION: When field has prior notification of identity of plant having classified contracts, it be authorized to destroy DD Form 254 immediately upon receipt rather than at the expiration of the normal five-year period for destruction.

CURRENT PRACTICE: SA Fletcher states DD Form 254 is furnished field in accordance with SAC Letter 60-44 and furnishes the field identity of plants to which classified contracts are awarded. These forms are destroyed after the normal five-year period in accordance with the Manual of Rules and Regulations dealing with the destruction of material under the 135 (Plant Informants) classification.

ADVANTAGES: The suggester points out that, while it is necessary for the field to be advised of the identities of new plants where classified contracts are awarded, many of the DD 254 forms pertain to plants where the Security Officer has already been developed and there has been no necessity to utilize the information in these forms for the past five years. He estimates the filing of these forms comprises approximately 30 feet of open shelving, and in one specific instance the 135 file on Lockheed Aircraft Corporation has had 1,000 serials filed in it in the past five years. If this idea is adopted and the supervisor were allowed to destroy the DD 254 in those instances where he is already aware of the plant and the Security Officer has been developed, it would save the clerical time of serializing these voluminous serials and the space for filing them for the five-year period until they can be destroyed in accordance with existing instructions on the destruction of serials.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Bates, San Francisco, felt this idea had definite merit and re recommended approval.

a classified contract has been awarded, is the only copy that the FBI receives. No record of these contracts is maintained at the Seat of Government; the only record available is in the field. Its purpose is to notify the FBI of the identify of the agency interested in a particular plant contact, the name and address of the cognizant security office, a determination as to whether the contract involves restricted data, and a general description of the type of work to be done under the contract. Based on this information we disseminate any pertinent information to that agency. If the DD 254 were destroyed and a question raised later as to why the FBI did not disseminate information to a particular agency, we would be unable to determine if we received proper and timely notice via a DD 254. The space to be saved by the suggested procedure would be outweighed by the potential loss of needed information.

In view of the above, Domestic Intelligence Division opposed adoption of the idea. Training Division concurs. It is noted that a somewhat similar suggestion, -- to strip Plant Informant Files after three years, was made in connection with the Bureau's Records Management Program. This was not adopted in view of the already existing authority to purge the material after five years.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted. On approval, no further action is necessary; receipt of the idea was acknowledged previously.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL SUGGESTION MATTER

ReBulet 10/27/67 and reWFOlet 1/15/68 under same caption.

Following your comments and recommendations in referenced letter, authority is granted your office to extend the use of the unnumbered-case system to cases in the 42 classification. You may destroy the files in that classification 60 days after they are referred on completion provided you are an auxiliary office and the only investigation involved was of the record check-type request to another agency which involved only negative, transfer, or discontinue-type information. If, subsequently, it becomes apparent that it would be practical to extend this procedure to other classifications, you should submit appropriate recommendations.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 229-68 SUBMITTED BY MR [redacted] TRAINING DIVISION

SUGGESTION: That auxiliary offices be permitted to destroy files in all classifications which contain only negative, transfer, or discontinue-type information pertaining to record-type requests, 60 days subsequent to the date the investigation was referred upon completion (RUC'd) to the office of origin.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: An auxiliary office usually receives only sufficient background to enable it to request a record check by another agency. If no record is located, and/or negative or transfer-type information is developed an interoffice communication is sent and the office of origin advised that the case has been RUC'd. The case is retained in the files of the auxiliary office until destruction is permissible which will be after five, ten or twenty years depending upon the classification.

ADVANTAGES: Suggester believed such files could be safely destroyed without detriment in auxiliary offices 60 days after being RUC'd since they contain only limited background data and no positive results.

OBSERVATIONS: With appropriate approval, opinions were solicited from five offices which handle the bulk of agency check investigations. A two-month survey was conducted with the following results. St. Louis, Baltimore, and Indianapolis offices were opposed to adoption of idea because they felt the relatively low volume of checks of the type in question would not warrant the administrative controls involved. It is noted, however, that the St. Louis Office canvassed its personnel at Federal Records Center (FRC) and National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) whereas the procedure in question would in fact mainly affect the work of the Chief Clerk's Office and would apply only incidentally to personnel making the checks.

San Antonio and Washington Field Office furnished favorable comment. San Antonio, although its own benefits from the suggestion would be relatively small, felt that idea would save considerable time and space in larger offices. Washington Field advised the suggested procedure could have been used for 272 cases during the two-month period, all but 6 of which were in the 42 (Deserter) classification. They stated that, with Bureau approval, they have already been using an unnumbered-case system, which is quite similar to the procedure proposed, but only for applicant matters. If the suggestion were adopted and they were permitted to dispose of files in other classifications after 60 days under the conditions prescribed by the suggestion, they would save an estimated $1,244.93 per year in material, labor, and space. However, since an average of 133 out of 136 cases per month during the survey was in the 42 classification, they recommended the suggestion be adopted solely for this classification although they would remain alert for the possibility of using it in connection with other classifications and submit appropriate recommendations.

The Training Division discussed the matter with the Inspection Division which felt that, in view of the results of the survey, permission should be granted for Washington Field Office to use the suggested procedure for cases in the 42 classification but the approval should not be extended to any other offices at this time because of the relatively inconsequential benefits to their operations.

Training Division agrees with the views of the Inspection Division. Washington Field Office has experience in the use of such a procedure from its unnumbered-case system for handling applicant cases. Use of the suggested procedure for only Deserter cases will reduce anticipated first-year savings to $1,217.47 and based on this figure, the suggester could be granted an incentive award of $65 which is in line with the accepted scale for such awards.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted, modified to the extent that it will apply only to the 42-classification cases in Washington Field Office.

(2) That the suggester be granted an incentive award of $65 to be handled by the Commendation, Supervisory Approval, and Special Action Unit, Administrative Division, in lieu of further acknowledgment. Receipt of the idea was acknowledged previously.

Reurlet dated March 13, 1968, under the same caption, requesting authorization to extend the unnumbered case system to all cases in the "42" classification where only agency checks are involved.

Approval is granted to extend the system in the manner you described in relet. Your alertness in recognizing the need for streamlining and economy is appreciated. Continue to scrutinize procedures in other classifications and to submit appropriate recommendations where it is felt they are amenable to use of the unnumbered case system.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL

Approval of a prior suggestion (Bufile 66-3286-1020) authorized Washington Field Office (WFO) to use the unnumbered-case system with respect to cases in the 42 classification (Deserter). It was allowed to destroy the files in that classification 60 days after the case was referred upon completion (RUC'd) provided the only investigation involved was of the record check-type request to another agency which developed only negative, transfer, or discontinuance-type information.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 5-12-81 BY 6183 VLP

By way of explanation, the unnumbered case system (or PSQ system as it is euphemistically called) enables the case to be opened, assigned, and supervised at one desk without the necessity of preparing file folders, numbering and filing the information, unless information other than record check-type is developed on which event normal procedures are followed. The serials are retained in the one location for a sufficient period to insure availability until all action in the case is completed and are then destroyed. The procedure eliminates a great amount of handling and filing with no loss of control or information since record check investigations are such that, after 60 days, if the case were reopened, it would still be necessary to recheck records since, in that interval, information could easily have been received by agencies previously checked to make it presumptuous to rely on results of the previous check.

WFO was instructed to place the procedure into effect and, if it subsequently became apparent that it would be practical to extend this procedure, to submit appropriate recommendations. It has advised it is extremely enthusiastic about the results of the application of the PSQ system to the 42 classification cases and now wishes to extend it to all deserter cases which require only record checks. A survey conducted in the office disclosed it handles yearly about 7,000 deserter cases which require only record checks. The agency check-type of deserter case in which WFO is an auxiliary office constitutes about 90% of the caseload in this classification. Where routine leads have to be set out for other offices as a result of the agency checks, the WFO communication will bear a stamp: "WFO file will be destroyed in 60 days." This procedure has functioned successfully for a long time in connection with applicant matters which have been handled by the PSQ system in WFO for many years.

WFO estimates that this extension of the approved procedure will more than quadruple the benefits of the system which, heretofore, involved only about 1,632 cases a year and will save at least one clerical employee as well as achieve a significant reduction in file space.

Training Division has discussed the matter with both Inspection and Special Investigative Divisions and all agree the proposed extension is logical and, based on WFO's experience in the use of the unnumbered case system, will work without detriment. Since WFO planned to start the extended procedure on 3/22/68, unless advised to the contrary, it is felt it should be instructed to do so immediately so as to have the advantage of the procedure as early as possible, it being ascertained that WFO receives about 150 such cases a day.

RECOMMENDATION: That attached letter be directed to WFO authorizing it to place extended procedure into effect immediately.

SUBJECT: CLOSED FILES - DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS OF 1-A EXHIBITS

The Tampa Division has requested that consideration be given to the destruction of closed 1-A serials which contain copies of documents obtained from other government agencies and independent institutions in those matters where an investigation determined that no violation existed or the United States Attorney declined prosecution. Tampa advised that over a period of time, a substantial savings in space could be realized if copies of these documents could be purged at the time closed files are pulled on tickler for supervisory review.

Under current rules and regulations, these documents are purged at the time of the file destruction depending upon the rule governing each classification.

Special Investigative,

The Domestic Intelligence, General Investigative, and Inspection Divisions and Washington Field Office furnished the following comments concerning the destruction of this material.

The Domestic Intelligence Division recommended that copies of documents obtained from other government agencies and independent institutions not be destroyed in security and espionage cases, and that the current destruction rules be continued.

The General Investigative Division was opposed to the destruction of such exhibits inasmuch as they felt this may result in the premature destruction of documents which may be of assistance if the United States Attorney reconsidered his prosecutive opinion or if additional information or allegations were received which might have an effect on prior investigations. They recommended, therefore, that the present destruction rules be continued.

The Special Investigative Division recommended that copies of such material could well be destroyed in those instances where the original records are maintained on permanent file by the contributing [illegible] where all investigative and prosecutive action has been completed, and no valid reason existed to retain such material.

The Inspection Division agreed that copies of documents obtained from other agencies or institutions, where copies could again be obtained from these sources, could be destroyed upon supervisory review after the case was closed. The Inspection Division did not feel that the proposed change should have any effect on security cases, evidentiary material or in those instances where items or documents were obtained from individuals.

The Washington Field Office has had vast experience in the handling of documents obtained from other government agencies. They stated that it was their experience that some agencies are reluctant to furnish additional copies and these agencies will not in any manner expedite requests for additional documents. Washington Field Office stated that government agencies maintained a record as to the identity of other agencies to whom information was previously furnished. Washington Field Office recommended that current destruction procedures be continued.

OBSERVATIONS:

The New Agents, Language and Stenographic Training Unit concurs with the views of the General Investigative Division and the Washington Field Office and feels that copies of documents obtained from other government agencies or independent institutions should not be destroyed. This Unit feels that private industry, like the Bureau, is continuously streamlining their records control and the time period for the retention of original records may be of such short tenure that the original records might not be available if copies are needed in the future. In addition, governmental records are continuously being transferred from one location to another and the expense and manpower that would be utilized to locate records in the future would offset any savings in space.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter be directed to the Tampa Division advising them that their request is not being approved and that they should continue destroying copies of documents maintained as 1-A exhibits in accordance with the present rules and regulations.

Forw FD-338

SUGGESTION: That the Manual of Rules and Regulations be amended to provide for the destruction of channelizing memoranda following the submission of letterhead memoranda (LHM) in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases wherein no reports are submitted.

CURRENT PRACTICE: SA [redacted] states the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 4, page 2b, provides that significant data developed in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases should be submitted by LHM. In Part II, Section 3, page 15b, it states that "Files and records which are to be destroyed when they have served the purpose for which prepared (2) Channelizing memoranda in criminal cases and security cases may be destroyed following submission of reports...."

ADVANTAGES: The adoption of this proposal should effect a substantial saving of file room space in field offices.

OBSERVATIONS: The Domestic Intelligence Division advised it would appear that since channelizing memoranda may be destroyed when such data has been incorporated into a report then similarly it should be permissible to destroy channelizing memoranda when the information from such memoranda has been incorporated in an LHM in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases. This division felt this to be a practical idea which would effect a saving in file room space.

X-110 REC-40 66-3256-1025

Training Division agrees this is a worthwhile proposal since the material involved will still be available in the LHM and in the original communication on which the channelizing memoranda were based so no need exists to retain the channelizing memoranda. Due to the saving of space to be realized from this idea, it is felt the suggester should be commended for alertness in this instance.

PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF

As you know, abstracts are prepared concerning all recorded mail placed in Bureau files. Two copies of the abstracts are prepared, one copy is filed numerically by file number in the Numbering Unit and the other is filed by source in the Service Unit. In the Numbering Unit, we have reached the point where space for the filing of these abstracts is becoming rapidly critical making it necessary that immediate steps be taken to alleviate this space shortage in order to file the current abstracts being prepared.

We have considered all possible alternatives to secure space and have reached the following conclusions:

(1) No space is available in the Numbering Unit, the immediate vicinity, or elsewhere in the Division where we might possibly relocate some of these abstracts.

(2) Microfilming of the abstracts is not considered desirable. A number of years ago we microfilmed some of the Service Unit abstracts. These abstracts are difficult to microfilm because of their small size (3 by 5 inches) and paper texture and are difficult to review after being filmed. These disadvantages outweigh any possible space-saving benefits.

(3) We have considered the possibility of destroying the numerical abstracts relating to those files which have been previously microfilmed. As you are aware, we have authority to microfilm and are microfilming criminal files over 10 years old in view of the relative inactivity of these files. To determine the activity of the abstracts relating to these files, we have conducted a survey for a month concerning the use made of the abstracts. During this survey, 1926 requests were received for a review of the abstracts and only 24 or 1.2% concerned files presently on microfilm. Based on this survey, it is concluded these abstracts could be destroyed with no material effect on our day-to-day operations; and it is the opinion of our supervisory personnel that consideration should be given to this alternative.

We conducted a further survey to determine the space which would be saved by the destruction of these abstracts. This survey reflects we would realize a savings of approximately 1557 abstract drawers or 35 cabinets. This represents a substantial savings of space and equipment and would take care of our future needs for several years. We do not intend to recommend disposal of the source abstracts at this time, hence, these would still be readily available for any possible use in connection with the files which have been microfilmed. If the destruction of these abstracts is approved by the Bureau, archival authority for their destruction will not be necessary since the abstracts are auxiliary records and the original material to which they relate (the Bureau mail) is still being permanently retained.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Branch be authorized to destroy the numerical abstracts relating to files presently on microfilm in order to alleviate a space shortage in the Numbering Unit which is rapidly becoming critical.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that Form FD-338 be amended so that it might be used for the disposition of certain channelizing memoranda. As a matter of possible interest to you, a similar proposal was under consideration at the time yours was received; therefore, they will be evaluated at the same time.

The interest and initiative which prompted you to give me the benefit of your observations on this matter are indeed appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

A similar procedure was proposed by SA [redacted] Atlanta Office, on 2/1/68 with regard to Klan matters. Since conferences with field supervisors have been scheduled for 2/29/68, 3/1/68; 3/4/68 and 3/5/68, at SOG regarding Black Nationalist and Racial Informants, it was recommended and approved that action be held in abeyance pending observations obtained during these conferences. A deadline of 3/8/68 has been set for this proposal; therefore, it is believed the current one should be considered along with the first idea so the same deadline should apply.

Referred to the Domestic Intelligence, General and Special Investigative, and Inspection Divisions for views and recommendations.

SUGGESTION

FD-338 should be amended to provide for the destruction of channelizing memoranda in criminal and security cases, information from which was not used in reports because such information was not pertinent, of no value or was duplicated by other memoranda.

The first paragraph of the form should be amended to read as follows: "In connection with the destruction of channelizing memoranda, the information contained on the serials listed below was incorporated in a report dated . Where the serial is accompanied by the original informant report number, such information was not used in the report because of duplication or it was of no value for use in the report."

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Section 3, Paragraph 8w(2)(a). Currently all channelizing memoranda not used in the preparation of a report for whatever reason must be retained.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Advantages in the destruction of channelizing memoranda not used in the preparation of a report consist primarily in the saving of file space. It can be seen that if certain channelizing memoranda are valueless for inclusion in a report, retention of such memoranda is illogical.

No estimate of annual savings can be made since it is unknown to the writer how many such memoranda are retained. However, it is known that in the Charlotte Office many channelizing memoranda re Klan matters must be retained under the present regulations, this retention being primarily the result of duplication of information emanating from a number of sources and information not suitable for inclusion in a report.

Disadvantages of suggestion

None.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

SUGGESTION: That Form FD-338 (Intraoffice Memorandum re Destruction of Channelizing Memoranda after Inclusion in Reports) be amended to provide for the destruction of channelizing memoranda when the information was not incorporated in reports because it was not pertinent, was duplicated by other memoranda, or of no value for use in the report. To this end a statement should be added to the introductory paragraph on the form advising that where the serial listed on the form is accompanied by the original informant report number, such information was not used in the report because of duplication or was of no value for use in the report. A column should also be added to the form headed: "Original Informant Source Number."

PRESENT PROCEDURE: All channelizing memoranda not used in the preparation of a report for any reason must be retained.

ADVANTAGES: The suggester states the principal advantage would be the saving in filing space. He stated it was evident that, if certain channelizing memoranda were of no value for inclusion in a report, it would be illogical to retain them in the file.

EX-110 REC-40 66-3286-1026

OBSERVATIONS: Special Investigative Division recommended against adoption of the suggestion because it would arbitrarily strip the field file of information concerning the subject. While information from informants may be repetitious, it is also corroborative and therefore of value even though not included in reports. This suggestion would require the review of many different files in the event of a file review on a given subject at some future date which practice the channelizing memoranda were designed to overcome.

Memo Casper to Mohr
Re: DESTRUCTION OF CHANNELIZING MEMORANDA
SUGGESTION 587-68 SUBMITTED BY SA [redacted] CHARLOTTE

General Investigative Division advised that the recording in channelizing memoranda of information obtained from informants would basically concern the Informant Desks in the Domestic Intelligence and Special Investigative Divisions. It felt, however, that it is the responsibility of the agent preparing the memorandum and the Supervisor approving it to insure that information which is patently nebulous and valueless to the Bureau's investigative and disseminative responsibilities is not incorporated in Bureau records in the first place.

Inspection Division advised it had no objection to the suggestion. It noted the proposal was one considered at the recent Black Nationalist and Racial Informant conferences held at the Seat of Government, 2/29/68, and 3/1/68, and 3/4 and 5/68, by the Domestic Intelligence Division with supervisors from various field offices.

Domestic Intelligence Division advised the aforementioned conferences considered the suggestion and recommended it be adopted in security cases only (which include racial cases), noting that Form FD-338 is not normally used in criminal cases. They felt that if channelizing memoranda are valueless for inclusion in a report, retention of such memoranda is pointless. Domestic Intelligence Division, therefore, recommended that FD-388 be amended as proposed by suggester with the exception that the phraseology to be added should read: "Where the serial is accompanied by the file and serial number of the original informant report, the information was not used because it was of no value to the report." This would obviate the necessity of the additional column headed: "Original Informant Source Number," which would be redundant in view of the above-mentioned statement.

Training Division has no objection to the idea as amended by Domestic Intelligence Division based on the recommendation of the conferences. While it is true that information is not valueless merely because it is repetitive since, as General Investigative Division stated, it also is corroborative, nevertheless, there are instances, such as when several informants report a subject's mere attendance at various meetings when nothing of a seditious or violent nature was broached, where it would be akin to killing a gnat with a sledgehammer to have several sources attest to his mere attendance. Granted that if the information eventually proves to have some prosecutive value, co corroboration is most desirable, especially if some sources cannot be used, the suggested procedure still would permit access to the information in the informant's file.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be approved as modified by Domestic Intelligence Division and the attached letter of appreciation be sent to the suggester. Receipt of the idea was acknowledged previously.

(2) On approval, that this memorandum authorize Forms Management Desk, Training Division, to take the necessary action when the form is next printed.

(3) Also on approval, this memorandum will authorize Domestic Intelligence Division to issue necessary instructions.

In October, 1967, a survey was conducted in a representative number of field offices to determine the savings that could be realized through the destruction of certain files and serials in auxiliary offices which related to military record check-type investigations. As a result of this survey, the Washington Field Office (WFO) stated that a substantial savings in manpower, supplies and space would be accomplished through the destruction of files in the 42 classification (Deserter - Fugitive) after they have been referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC). Approval was granted to WFO to place in effect the 60-day destruction of cases relating to military record check-type investigations, where WFO was the auxiliary office. Subsequent to this survey, a similar system was instituted in the St. Louis Division, whereby the results of negative, transfer and discontinue record check-type investigations were destroyed during a period of 60 to 120 days after this data was furnished to the office of origin. Again, substantial savings in manpower, supplies and space was realized.

In addition, the Indianapolis and Miami Divisions have been permitted to immediately consolidate cases when opened in certain classifications pertaining to record check-type investigations. When these cases are RUC'd copies of serials are then destroyed. This procedure has caused a considerable savings in supplies, space and manpower, since it eliminated the necessity for clerical employees to consolidate and destroy extra copies of serials six months after the case was RUC'd.

Due to the continuing increase in the case load throughout the field, and the critical space situation which exists in many of our field offices, this Unit feels that consideration should be given to the 90-day destruction of files in auxiliary offices which relate to record check-type investigations only, at the Departments of Motor Vehicles and local Selective Service Headquarters. The information obtained from these record reviews will continue to be furnished to the office of origin for incorporation into their investigative reports. It is felt that the savings in manpower, supplies and space would offset any known advantages in the retention of this material by auxiliary offices.

Memorandum S. Tullai to Mr. Casper
Re: Chief Clerk's Operations
Destruction of Files - General

This Unit feels that the immediate consolidation and 90-day destruction in auxiliary offices of record check-type investigations at Departments of Motor Vehicles and local Selective Service Headquarters would result in the following savings.

1. Savings of file fronts, backs and folders.

2. Savings of clerical time to prepare above.

3. Savings of clerical time in moving and filing closed individual files.

4. Savings in clerical time in not having to consolidate files after closed six months.

5. Savings of filing space in the maintenance of these types of cases.

Certain administrative procedures would have to be revised to allow for the immediate consolidation and destruction for these type cases.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Training Division be authorized to conduct a survey in a representative number of field offices to determine the space, manpower and supplies that would be saved if files in auxiliary offices relating to agency check-type cases at Departments of Motor Vehicles and local Selective Service Headquarters could be destroyed 90 days after they have been RUC'd.

(2) That the attached letter be directed to Albany, Cincinnati, Detroit, Philadelphia, Sacramento, San Antonio, and Springfield Divisions.

SUBJECT: DE-INDEXING OF KNIGHTS OF KU KLUX KLAN

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

Description of List:

Serial consists of approximately 1600 names of Ku Klux Klan members at Buffalo, New York, during the years of 1923 and 1924.

The above listing of names has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to this listing causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data it is proposed that the material be de-indexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices.

Previous authority had been granted per file 157-5-13X1 to de-index similar names in the 44 classification when no identifying data was given on Ku Klux Klan members up through the year 1930.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above listed file reference to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing on this listing of names. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum. The memorandum should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 6309 Identification Building.

Training Division recommends this idea be adopted with slight modifications. This procedure appears to be feasible and it is extremely rare that we would reopen the investigation of a man for the National Academy more than three years after the initial investigation. Both the office of origin and SOG have complete files on these individuals should any information later be needed. It is believed these files could be destroyed after three years in those instances when the office is not office of origin, file contains only correspondence which has been forwarded to the office of origin and there is no derogatory information in the file. The index cards pertaining to these files should also be destroyed at the same time by these auxiliary offices. On approval, this letter will serve as the authority for the Manuals Desk, Training Division, to take appropriate action.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that National Academy Applicant investigations be destroyed after three years provided:

2. File contains only correspondence forwarded to office of origin.
3. NA Graduate resided within office territory and file contains no investigation or derogatory information.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate)

There are a number of National Academy Applicant files reflecting coverage of one or more leads, reporting to the office of origin that no derogatory information was developed. There are also files which reflect that a NA Graduate resided temporarily within a division while in the military service.
Since all pertinent information in these files is available in the Office of Origin file, it is suggested that they be destroyed by the auxiliary offices.

(a) The Agent, at the time he dictates the report (or the LHM in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases,) is to prepare a memorandum (form FD-338) listing the channelizing memoranda to be destroyed by serial or serial scope and requesting the chief clerk's office to destroy. List channelizing memoranda to be destroyed because they are of no value to the report or LHM by file and serial number. This memorandum should indicate that pertinent information contained in the serials to be destroyed was incorporated in the report (or the LHM), or in security cases was not included because the information was of no value to the report or LHM.

SUBJECT: MAINTENANCE OF CANCELLED SECURITY INDEX CARDS AT QUANTICO

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS GENERALLY

Under ~~Vital Records Program~~ a duplicate set of the master Security Index cards is maintained at the Quantico relocation site. Additions, cancellations and changes of the Security Index are made on a continuing basis to keep the Index in a current status. Under our current procedures, when a Security Index card is changed, the old card is then destroyed; when an individual is removed from the Security Index, the card is cancelled and is retained at the Bureau for a period of 3 years filed alphabetically by year. The cards at Quantico have been maintained on an indefinite basis. We now have 25,000 cancelled Security Index cards stored at Quantico. These cards are retained to serve as a ready list of individuals who do not meet the criteria for the Security Index at this time; however, because of previous activities, they could represent a potential danger to the internal security of the U. S. in time of an emergency.

In line with our continuing analysis to streamline our procedures, it is recommended that the cancelled Security Index cards over 5 years old maintained at Quantico be destroyed and hereafter be maintained for the period of 5 years filed alphabetically by year.

OBSERVATIONS:

The destruction of these cancelled cards will release 4 file drawers of vitally needed storage space. During this 5-year period if a subject's activities would warrant, he would be placed back on the Security Index or Reserve Index. It is believed that this period of time is sufficient to determine if an individual's activities would warrant reconsideration for inclusion on the Security Index. This will serve as a backup for a ready list of individuals who could be potentially dangerous in time of emergency.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1) That the cancelled Security Index cards over 5 years old maintained at Quantico be destroyed and hereafter be maintained for a period of 5 years filed alphabetically by year.

2) If approved, this memorandum be forwarded to SAC, Quantico for appropriate handling.

Dear Mrs. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that we standardize the procedure for accounting for the disposition of all Bureau files. As a matter of possible interest to you, this matter was considered at the recent conferences for Chief Clerks and it was the consensus that the present procedures should be retained.

Although your idea was not adopted in this instance, I appreciated having the benefit of your observations.

Sincerely yours,

Matter was considered at Chief Clerks' conferences held recently at Seat of Government and it was consensus that present procedures should be retained. Present method is well-established and workable and should not be changed just to achieve uniformity. In addition, confusion could be caused by fact that during changeover two methods would necessarily be in effect to account for such destruction.

SUGGESTION

That a record of all files destroyed in accordance with prescribed regulations be maintained at beginning of respective classifications. Such a record could be broken down into separate lists for files destroyed when 20 years old and those (in some classifications) destroyed when 10 years or 5 years old and could show reason for destruction.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Record of files destroyed when 20 years old maintained on list at beginning of classification. Record of files destroyed when 10 years old or 5 years old maintained on file fronts kept in numerical order. MRR II-3-13,13a.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

All records pertaining to destruction would be uniformly maintained in same location and this would facilitate determination as to whether or not specific file destroyed and simplify maintenance of records concerning destruction. Necessity for person performing destruction to remember several different regulations regarding how to record the destruction would be eliminated if all destruction uniformly recorded in same manner. Some small amount of space would be saved by not retaining file fronts. No saving of money. Small amount of space would be saved and possibly some time.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
BUDED 9/9/68

There is a proposal under consideration at the Seat of Government for the immediate consolidation and 90-day destruction of files in auxiliary offices which relate to record checks only, at Departments of Motor Vehicles and/or local Selective Service Headquarters. Auxiliary offices usually receive only sufficient background information to make logical record check requests of these agencies. When the data is obtained, this information is then furnished to the office of origin, the case referred upon completion to office of origin, and retained in the auxiliary office until it is destroyed under the present five-, ten- or twenty-year destruction rule, depending upon the classification.

Offices receiving copies of this communication should conduct a one-month survey beginning August 1, 1968, to determine the frequency in which communications are received requesting record checks at Departments of Motor Vehicles and/or local Selective Service Headquarters. In addition, each office should estimate savings in file space, including the general indices, supplies and manpower, if these type-files could be destroyed 90 days after the investigation is referred upon completion to office of origin.

Submit the results of your survey, together with your views and recommendations as to the feasibility of the proposed file destruction procedures, as well as administrative devices necessary to control this procedure, to the Bureau, attention Training Division, by September 9, 1968.

SUBJECT: CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS - ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By letter dated 5-7-68, captioned as above, the Bureau requested each field office to make a detailed survey of its conviction picture as of 6-1-68 and to advise the Bureau by letter at the close of business 6-14-68, the following information:

(1) The number of convictions sent to the Bureau during the period June 1 through June 14, 1968.

(2) The number of convictions the office anticipated that would be submitted from June 15 through June 30, 1968.

(3) The number of subjects who had been found guilty or had pleaded guilty and were awaiting sentence. The tabulation in this category was not included in those set forth in item number two.

This communication was to be submitted to the Bureau without fail and was to be directed to the attention of the General Investigative Division, room 5732.

All offices responded to this letter. This survey was completed, and it was determined that there was a total of approximately 1,782 convictions in the above category.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

REHABILITATION PROGRAM
RECORDS BRANCH

DESCRIPTION OF FILE: 94-1 sub 135
DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION (D. A. R.)

The above listed file has been called to our attention by the Consolidation Unit. There are 30 sections containing over 1,900 serials. This file was opened in 1933. It consists of requests for Director to make speeches before Chapters and conventions of the D. A. R.; requests for speakers from Bureau, letters from SAC's advising of requests received to make speeches, copies of their speeches, letters of thanks for speeches; requests for Director to submit articles for D. A. R. magazine and requests for copies of Director's speeches. The material in this file is similar to material that was placed in other main 94-1 files on organizations. Destruction has already been done in those main files as authorization was obtained. (See 94-1-1666). Since above organization is still active and correspondence is received currently, the entire file should not be destroyed. It is believed the material more than ten years old could be destroyed, using the same authority as for the other main 94-1 files. There are approximately 1,637 serials that are over 10 years old. Any mail of historical value or with Director's notation would be retained. This file was discussed with Inspector Suttler who feels all speeches and articles by Director in these files should be retained. Serial 633 is an example in point.

Destruction of this mail would result in saving space in the Filing Unit and in eliminating unnecessary cards from the General Index. It is requested that this memo be sent to Crime Research Section for approval then returned to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 7231 for appropriate action.

RECOMMENDATION:

For referral to the Crime Research Section.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL;
ELIMINATION OF DUPLICATE MATERIAL
BUDED NOVEMBER 8, 1968

In view of the serious shortage of filing space in many of the field divisions, certain possibilities are being explored at the Seat of Government to curtail the expansion of filing space, and to eliminate the retention of duplicate material which is of no further value.

Two proposals which would result in a savings of filing space, equipment, and manpower are:

1. Place into effect the destruction of duplicate copies of serials (stripping), and a file consolidation program, immediately after applicant and criminal files are closed or referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC'd). Under current regulations, these files are "stripped" and consolidated six months after they are closed or RUC'd. The proposed system would effect an immediate savings in file space and permit the disposal of duplicate copies of serials at a time when the files are being worked on, and eliminate the necessity of clerical personnel returning to the filing area to perform these functions six months after file was closed or RUC'd.

2. Institute a program to destroy zero files in non-security classifications, and index cards relating thereto, when these files are five years old. Under present regulations the vast majority of zero files in non-security classifications are destroyed when they are twenty years old.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS (BUREAU) - GEN'L

By memorandum dated 9/23/68, this Unit was authorized to explore possibilities of streamlining our present file retention procedures throughout the field. A discussion was held recently with SAC J. T. Neagle, Indianapolis, who was present at Seat of Government, for a two-day conference, concerning certain possibilities of eliminating the retention of duplicate file material in auxiliary offices. During this discussion, SAC Neagle stated that there is currently a serious shortage of space for the storage of closed files in the Indianapolis Division. He said that although he had not previously favored the adoption of the "unnumbered case system" as proposed by the Training Division in October, 1967, in the handling of files in the 42 classification (Deserter), that he now desired to give this system further consideration due to the increase in the number of cases in the 42 classification received in the Indianapolis Division.

The "unnumbered case system" relates to record check-type investigations and enables cases to be opened, assigned, and supervised without the necessity of preparing permanent index cards, file fronts, backs and folders, and numbering and filing the information, unless information other than that of a record check-type is developed, in which event normal procedures are followed. The communications are retained in one location for a specified period until all action is completed and are then destroyed. This system eliminates a great amount of handling and filing with no loss of control since record check investigations, if reopened, will have to be rechecked to determine if the records contain additional information received during the intervening period.

DISTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

By separate memoranda, this Unit has requested and received permission to conduct field surveys in the past, in an attempt to streamline the destruction procedures of files relating to record check-type investigations in auxiliary offices. As a result of surveys by the Training Division, abbreviated destruction procedures have been instituted in several field divisions, which have brought about a substantial savings in manpower, space, supplies, and equipment.

In addition, this Unit feels that further inroads can be made to eliminate the retention of certain filing material in auxiliary offices which would preclude the necessity of purchasing or acquisitioning additional shelves and file cabinets for field-wide use. The total number of investigative matters received throughout the field has increased from 636,371 for fiscal year 1963, to 820,830 for fiscal year 1968, and it is anticipated that 830,000 total investigative matters will be received during fiscal year 1969. Unless some streamlining procedures are placed into effect to curtail the filing of duplicate material in auxiliary offices, this Unit feels that in the near future there will be a critical situation regarding space and filing equipment in many of our field divisions due to the ever-growing caseload.

current regulations, these files are "stripped" and consolidated six months after they are closed or RUC'd. However, Washington Field Office (WFO) has been excepted from this rule and immediately "strips" and consolidates closed and RUC criminal and applicant files because of the space situation in that office. A discussion was held with the Chief Clerk of WFO and it was determined there were no known disadvantages in this system.

2. Research possibilities to reduce or eliminate the retention of duplicate closed or RUC file material in auxiliary offices after a specified time.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the New Agents, Language, and Stenographic Training Unit be authorized to fully explore certain possibilities of streamlining our present file retention procedures, including field surveys and discussions with officials of other divisions, consistent with good records management.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

SUGGESTION: That "see" reference index cards prepared during the early and middle 1940s on confidential informant symbol numbers be destroyed. During the period in question, it was the practice to prepare an index card on the informant symbol number when a communication such as an investigative report indicated that an informant had furnished information. For example, a card was prepared on [redacted] when information appeared in an investigative report such as the following: "Confidential informant [redacted] furnished the following list of telephone calls for January, 1946, from the above number." The practice of indexing informant symbol numbers under these circumstances was discontinued many years ago.

ADVANTAGES: There is an accumulation of approximately six index cabinets containing cards of this type which were prepared before the system was discontinued. These cards are completely extraneous to the operation of the Bureau's indices inasmuch as there is no occasion to search the index on the basis of these old informant symbol numbers.

OBSERVATIONS: The Streamlining Committee, Files and Communications Division, and supervisory personnel favor adoption of this idea.

Domestic Intelligence Division stated the Security Informant and Special Records Unit, Internal Security Section, concurred with the suggestion that the reference index cards as mentioned be destroyed. Information in the cards is of no current value and, if needed in a particular case involving prosecution or administrative hearing, would be readily available from field office handling the reporting informant or source.

Special Investigative Division interposed no objection to the destruction of these cards since Records Branch has stated the idea does not relate in any way to index cards in the indices which are main subject cards (either by symbol or name) on informants and the main cards would not be destroyed.

Based on the comments of the interested divisions as noted above, the Training Division believes the suggestion should be approved due to the space to be retrieved from this project.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letters of appreciation forwarded to the suggesters. They have been thanked by prior letters.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Files and Communications Division to take the proposed action of disposing of these "see" index cards.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
ELIMINATION OF DUPLICATE MATERIAL
BUDED NOVEMBER 8, 1968

66-3286-1031

Re Bureau letter to Chicago dated 10/17/68.

1. DESTRUCTION OF DUPLICATE COPIES OF SERIALS UPON CLOSING OR RUC'ING IN APPLICANT AND CRIMINAL MATTERS

This proposal has been considered thoroughly. It is felt that this proposal has some very definite weaknesses. Among them are:

When cases are reopened such action would necessitate describing all serials charged out as there would be but one serial in such a stripped file. This could cause considerable work as many times files are reopened within a short period after being closed or RUC'd. This could be a serious problem in offices having a large number of resident agencies. When such stripped files are reopened and serials sent to the resident agencies pertinent files would be valueless. No information would be available to headquarter supervisors.

It does not appear that any time would be saved in the proposed consolidation process. It would require additional time for the person posting to remove the duplicate serials. If the supervisors were to exercise the prerogative to request files not be stripped on a selective basis if it appeared that matter was likely to be reopened, or for some other legitimate reason, this would entail additional work by the desk and extra caution by the individual posting such correspondence.

It does not appear that any appreciable time would be saved by the suggested system. Consolidating files six months after being closed and/or RUC'd on an assembly line basis as done presently makes for an orderly process for combining such files in multi-volumes and an orderly review for any stray charge outs, etc. 66-3286-1031

CONCLUSION:

That Part 1 of referenced proposal not be adopted as any immediate saving of space would be more than offset by the time lost in describing serials and the fact that reopened files would be stripped and of no value to supervisors, particularly in those instances in which reopened matters had been assigned to resident agencies. The immediate destruction of serials upon the closing or RUC'ing of files would make for a rather haphazard process as contrasted to the assembly line destruction procedure under the six month rule.

2. DESTROY ZERO FILES AND INDEX CARDS IN NON-SECURITY CLASSIFICATIONS WHEN FIVE YEARS OLD.

This proposal has merit. However, it is felt it would be better to extend this to ten years. Under the proposed immediate elimination of duplicate material upon closing or RUC'ing, it is estimated that the proposed suggestion might make available 6 cu. ft. of file space, over a six-month span. This figures out to 1 cu. ft. per month. A survey of zero files indicated that under the suggested five year destruction plan, an estimated 7 cu. ft. of space would be saved.

The above covers estimated savings in space and filing equipment. However, it does not appear that any savings in manpower would result from either suggestion. This is true as set forth under "CONCLUSION" under Part 1 of this communication.

Insofar as zero files are concerned additional manpower would be needed to remove pertinent index cards. A projection at El Paso indicated that a bare minimum of 15,000 cards would have to be removed from the indices if zero files were destroyed when they became five years old.

CONCLUSION:

That the destruction of duplicate copies of correspondence in closed or RUC'd cases immediately upon closing or RUC'ing be left to the various divisions on a permissive basis. Perhaps it might be beneficial to some divisions to consolidate immediately whereas others would prefer to handle under the present 6 month rule.

The destruction of zero files has merit. However, it is felt that 10 years appears to be a more realistic period.

STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION
432-69 "Destruction of Bureau Property" General

Miss [redacted] has suggested through the Streamlining Committee the deindexing and destruction of correspondence contained in File 87-1 with subfiles 1 through 7. These files contain correspondence from individuals and companies requesting the Bureau to place a stop in the National Stolen Property Index (NSPI); for example, File 87-1, sub 2, contains correspondence which requested stops in the Stolen Property Index on office machines while File 87-1, sub 7, contains material requesting stops on stolen securities. The material in these files dates back to the 1930's and is no longer pertinent insofar as the Bureau's file system is concerned. The NSPI is no longer being utilized for all practical purposes, having been replaced by the National Crime Information Center (NCIC), Crime Records Division.

Streamlining Committee members and supervisory personnel of the Records Branch favor adoption of this proposal. It is believed that all correspondence, with the exception of that relating to firearms, contained in the above-mentioned files can be destroyed if it is more than five years old. It is noted that, as a general rule, NCIC procedures call for eliminating items from the index four years after being placed into the system. Adoption of this proposal will provide a cabinet of filing space for other material, will eliminate some unnecessary cards from the general index, and eliminate approximately 9,300 pieces of outdated and unnecessary correspondence.

SYNOPSIS:

The Name Check Section of the General Investigative Division has noted during file reviews numerous references to 140-0 file. In many instances it turns out to be "SI" (same information) since a majority of serials consist of a Xerox copy of CSC request on which CSC has been referred to data previously furnished. The reference, therefore, is a duplicate since data previously disseminated has already been indexed. The Name Check Section does not keep copies of any such forms on name checks they handle and feels that a saving could be accomplished by eliminating the filing of these forms, by eliminating indexing, saving file space, and manpower.

Considerable study has been given the problem by the ES & SIS and the Files and Communications Division. The filing of these forms has been in effect since 1947 and has served as a device which allows the approving supervisor to evaluate action being taken. This could still be done but no copies would be in file to allow fixing responsibility. These forms have been valuable in identifying fugitives, suspects in criminal matters and missing security subjects. These same benefits would accrue if we kept copies of all forms requesting name checks, amounting to more than 3,000,000 a year. The question to be resolved is whether or not the expense of copying, indexing and filing these forms makes their maintenance desirable.

The Files and Communications Division advises a project could be instituted culling out, deindexing, and destroying these forms with no additional cost involved.

ACTION:

The ES & SIS believes the Files and Communications Division can undertake as a project the removal of forms from the 140-0 file and move them to the main case file where there is one, and copies of future forms will be designated for the main case file where one exists. The ES & SIS has no objection to Files and Communications Division culling out copies of these forms, deindexing and destroying them provided the project is started with the oldest date on file. Within a period of 6 months by maintaining examples and closely following this project a determination could be made as to whether the maintenance of Xerox copies and indexing of them should be discontinued.

Memorandum to Mr. [redacted]
RE: FILING AND INDEXING OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION (CSC) FORMS - EMPLOYEES SECURITY AND SPECIAL INQUIRY SECTION (ES & SIS) - SUGGESTION

DETAILS:

The Name Check Section of the General Investigative Division has advised that during file reviews they receive numerous references to the 140-0 file. They state that in many instances it turns out to be "SI" (same information) inasmuch as a majority of the serials in the 140-0 file consist of a Xerox of a CSC request on which has been typed a referral note referring CSC to data previously furnished. This 140-0 reference is, therefore, a duplicate inasmuch as any data previously disseminated, such as reports, letterhead memoranda, etc., has already been indexed.

The 140-0 files consist of in excess of 1600 sections. The Name Check Section did a spot check of 3 of these sections covering the period from September 5, 1968, through October 15, 1968. They found that approximately 150 Xerox copies of CSC forms were contained in these 3 sections with notations indicating that most simply referred CSC back to data previously furnished that agency.

The Name Check Section does not keep copies of any such forms on name checks that they handle. They merely note the original dissemination referring CSC or any other agency to the data previously furnished.

The Name Check Section feels that a tremendous saving could be accomplished by eliminating the filing of "referral" forms in the 140-0 file. They state the saving would result from conservation of filing space and the indexing and filing of each of these forms.

Considerable study has been given to this problem by the ES & SIS and by the Files and Communications Division. The policy of filing copies of CSC forms even though they merely refer CSC back to previous information furnished to them has been in effect since 1947. As a matter of fact, for the first 10 years or until September, 1958, even forms returned marked "no record" were kept. It has served as a device which allows the approving supervisor to evaluate action being taken. It is granted that supervision could still be maintained of forms beingreturned merely referring CSC to reports previously furnished, but no copies would be in file to allow fixing of responsibility at a later date.

RE: FILING AND INDEXING OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION (CSC) FORMS - EMPLOYEES SECURITY AND SPECIAL INQUIRY SECTION (ES & SIS) - SUGGESTION

With regard to the forms handled by the ES & SIS we are faced with a potential request for investigation from CSC or the interested agency. Without maintaining a copy of the form it would be necessary to go back to CSC and request another copy so that we would have necessary information to order the investigation. The other alternative would be to work out with CSC an arrangement whereby they would furnish us with another form whenever they request an investigation.

In the ES & SIS it has been found that by maintaining copies of these forms they are valuable to other Divisions since they have on occasion furnished information leading to the apprehension of fugitives, suspects in criminal matters, and missing security subjects. Here again, it is acknowledged that to keep copies of these forms for this reason would mean that the same benefits would accrue if we kept copies of all forms received requesting name checks. This would amount to more than 3,000,000 forms per year, and the question to be resolved is whether or not the expense of copying, indexing and filing these forms makes their maintenance desirable.

In the ES & SIS each form handled is processed by "Voucher-Stat" and becomes a part of the Bureau's quarterly Stat report in connection with this program. It is conceded that the same thing could be accomplished by following the practice utilized in the Name Check Section of sending to Voucher-Stat each day the number of replies to CSC broken down as follows:

(1) Subversive derogatory data sent
(2) Nonsubversive derogatory data sent
(3) Nonderogatory data sent

This system, however, would not be as accurate as the system currently utilized.

The Files and Communications Division has reviewed the comments of the Name Check Section and has advised that a project could be instituted relating to forms where CSC has been referred to previous information only, culling them out, deindexing them, and destroying them. They state this project could be handled over a long period of time with no additional cost involved. The Files and Communications Division, who has the responsibility of obtaining any outside authority necessary to destroy these forms, states that no outside authority would be necessary since they all consist of Xerox copies of forms rather than the original form received from CSC.

RE: FILING AND INDEXING OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION (CSC) FORMS - EMPLOYEES SECURITY AND SPECIAL INQUIRY SECTION (ES & SIS) - SUGGESTION

It is to be noted that there are main case files in connection with many of the forms currently filed in the 140-0 file. ~~The ES & SIS feels that if the Files and Communications Division can undertake as a project the~~ removal of the forms from the 140-0 file and moving them to the main case file that this would be helpful. Likewise, it is believed that the ES & SIS should designate future copies of forms for the main case file where one exists.

Despite the value that these copies of forms have proven to be in the past, the ES & SIS has no objection to a project being instituted by the Files and Communications Division of culling out copies of forms where CSC has been referred to previous information furnished or deindexing and destroying them provided the project is started with the oldest date on file. In this way the ES & SIS could watch the progress of this project carefully and over a period of time it could be determined whether the project should be extended to more current forms. Within a period of 6 months by maintaining examples and closely following this project a determination should be able to be made regarding whether or not the maintenance of Xerox copies of these forms and the indexing of them should be discontinued altogether.

Whereas no savings are being claimed in connection with this suggestion inasmuch as it is a joint effort on the part of the ES & SIS, Name Check Section and Files and Communications Division to further streamline the work in connection with these forms, it is believed that in the long run tremendous savings will be accomplished by eliminating the filing of copies of "referral" forms in the 140-0 file. To mention some of the more major savings, there would be a conservation of filing space, a saving by not having to index the forms and a saving by not having to file the forms. There would also be a saving by not having to Xerox the forms.

A savings in manpower would also be realized also. For example, in handling over 3,000,000 name checks per year, the Name Check Section gets many references on search slips to these 140-0 files. As a consequence the 140-0 files are constantly on the move. When the employee finally receives the 140-0 file, he generally finds that he has already reviewed the material to which this form refers him. This is because the names on the form have already been indexed elsewhere and the names on the copies of the forms in the 140-0 file have received duplicate indexing.

All of the above savings and advantages can be realized on a long-range project basis by the Files and Communications Division and they state by so handling no additional costs would be involved.

Destruction of Bureau Property

Training Document 62, "Tactics for Handling Mob Violence," was printed and distributed to the field in March 1962. The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend that it be recalled.

This document was recently reviewed to bring it up to date. However, the many changes in equipment, techniques and methods of controlling mobs would necessitate rewriting the document. As most of this information has already been distributed to the field in later publications, this would be a duplication. The following are some of these later publications:

"Prevention and Control of Mobs and Riots," published February 23, 1965 and revised April 3, 1967.
Techniques and Use of the Police Baton," published September 1967.

Also, there were six bulletins concerning riot control, tear gas and the police baton, published in 1968.

Attached is a field slip, which will be Iteked and distributed to the field, subsequent to the approval of this memorandum.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that the Manual of Rules and Regulations be amended to include the following statement:

"Zero files may be destroyed in accordance with regulations governing the destruction of substantive files of a given classification."

Destruction of Bureau Records

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) WFO presently follows the above practice. However, Manual of Rules and Regulations makes specific provisions for destruction of zero file in 25 classification only without further mention of destruction procedure to be followed in other classifications.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

To clarify questions which arise, by spelling out specifically, that zero files in all classifications may be destroyed in accordance with regulations governing the destruction of substantive files in a given classification. This would eliminate any doubt that might exist concerning destruction of zero files and would insure that all space is made available at earliest possible date.

VIEWS OF THE INSPECTION DIVISION RE: SUGGESTION 584-69

ADDENDUM OF THE INSPECTION DIVISION J. L. MATTSON:wmj 2/25/69

Inspection Division concurs with purpose to be served in suggestion submitted by Washington Field Office and recommends its adoption.

VIEWS OF THE SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION RE: SUGGESTION 584-69

ADDENDUM: SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION LAW:lda 2/26/69

Assistant Chief Clerk, WFO, has suggested that the Manual of Rules and Regulations be amended to include zero files in those which may be destroyed in accordance with regulations governing the destruction of substantive files of a given classification. Generally, present regulations provide for the destruction of files and records except cases having important ramifications in the field after they become 20 years old. Certain categories provide for less time; for example, Selective Service, Deserter and some unknown subject cases ~~which~~ may now be destroyed after five years. Double zero (policy) files have been an exception, and no provision has been included for zero files presumably due to the fact this material normally has not been made a part of the Bureau's central files at SOG as is true of investigative files.

Recognizing that zero files contain little information that would be of permanent value and since a savings of filing space would result the Special Investigative Division recommends with regard to classifications supervised in this Division that necessary steps be taken to include such files in those which may be destroyed in accordance with the regulations governing the destruction of substantive files.

VIEWS OF THE GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION RE: SUGGESTION 584-69

ADDENDUM GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION 2-25-69 JDP:ph

There is no reason why the zero files cannot be destroyed on the same basis as the substantive files in any given classification, and the General Investigative Division has no objection to this suggestion being adopted.

Comments of Records Branch have been requested on captioned suggestion.

Manual of Rules and Regulations provides that all field office files, which would include Zero Files, may be destroyed after they are 20 years old. Earlier destruction is specifically authorized for certain files. Certain types of files in Classification 25 including Zero Files may be destroyed when 5 years old; accordingly specific provisions for Zero Files in 25 Classification is necessary.

It would appear that unless earlier destruction is authorized for particular Zero Files no specific reference to their destruction is necessary.

SUGGESTION: The Manual of Rules and Regulations be amended to include the following statement:

"Zero files may be destroyed in accordance with regulations governing the destruction of substantive files of a given classification."

CURRENT PRACTICE: The suggester states provision is made for the destruction of zero files in the 25 (Selective Service) classification only without further mention of destruction procedure to be followed in other classifications. (In Field Offices

ADVANTAGES: Mr. [redacted] feels this will clarify procedures by spelling out specifically that zero files in all classifications may be destroyed in accordance with the regulations governing the destruction of substantive files in a given classification. It would eliminate any doubt and also free additional filing space.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division noted the Manual of Rules and Regulations provides that all field office files, which would include zero files, may be destroyed after they are 20 years old. Earlier destruction is specifically authorized for certain files. Certain types of files in classification 25 including zero files may be destroyed when 5 years old; accordingly, specific provisions for zero files in the 25 classification are necessary. It would appear that unless earlier destruction is authorized for particular zero files no specific reference to their destruction is necessary.

General Investigative, Special Investigative and Inspection Divisions concurred in the suggestion that zero files could be included in the same destruction periods as set forth for the various classifications.

Training Division also agrees. Although not specified in the Manual, zero files may be destroyed together with substantive files in accordance with the particular classification destruction rule. The 20-year period would not apply to any classifications wherein exceptions have been made such as the 26 and 42 classifications.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted to set forth a positive statement to the effect that zero files in each classification may be destroyed at the period when such substantive files may be destroyed and the attached letter of appreciation forwarded to the suggester. He has been thanked by prior letter.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Manuals Desk, Training Division, to make the appropriate manual revisions.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
66-~~3206~~ 3286 General

Description of List: Enclosure to 100-4326-391 dated 11/15/44 consists of a listing of approximately 5000 individuals and organizations appearing in cable, postal and telephone messages sent or received by Vicente Lombardo Toledano, President of the Confederation of Latin American Workers (CTAL), or in which his name appeared. Vicente Lombardo Toledano is now deceased.

The above described listing of names and organizations received from the Office of Censorship has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to this listing causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to the index it is proposed that the material be deindexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices. It should be noted that pertinent information regarding a select number of the individuals and organizations in the index appears in digests of traffic received from the Office of Censorship, and this information will remain indexed. See 100-4326-404 attached.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above described enclosure to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing on this listing of names. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum. The memorandum should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 6309-IB.

SUBJECT: SUPERVISION - BANK ROBBERY
SUGGESTION 632-69 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] b6 b7C
PHILADELPHIA OFFICE

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

SUGGESTION: That auxiliary offices be authorized to destroy all copies of voluminous reports in unknown subject (unsub) bank robbery (BR) files over two years of age. These reports, usually the initial one, are distributed to all offices, offices covering states adjacent to where the BR occurred, or to numerous offices to cover "one-shot" leads. Within a two-year period, usually less, the file remains in a Referred Upon Completion (RUC) status in the auxiliary office and is never referred to again. Yet, under present rules, this material must be retained for 20 years.

CURRENT PRACTICE: The suggester quotes the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3D, item 8a, "Files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become 20 years old."

ADVANTAGES: The initial saving in the Philadelphia Office alone would be 3 square feet @ $5.56 per square foot or $16.68 or 21 cubic feet of file space (one shelf filing unit 3 feet by one foot by seven feet). In office equipped with shelf files, these voluminous reports can easily be spotted for destruction according to Mr. [redacted]

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division stated that from its standpoint there would appear to be no reason why copies of these reports could not be destroyed by auxiliary offices throughout the field. We have Archival authority to destroy all files in field offices and 20-year limitation has been imposed by Bureau; however, a number of exceptions have been made to this destruction period where circumstances warranted such action. This division recommended views of the General Investigative Division, which supervises BR investigations, be obtained. b6 b7C

General Investigative Division noted that the suggester specifically cited instances of such reports being furnished "for information" only. There are two existing instructions which generally cover this topic and, therefore, it is doubtful that there are a great number of these reports in auxiliary offices throughout the field.

SUGGESTION

SAC Letter 69-20 dated 3/25/69 terminated the Plant Informant Program and instructed that cards contained in the Plant Informant Index be destroyed.

It is suggested that existing Plant Informant files (classification 135) also be destroyed.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Closed 135 files are retained by field office upon completion of required investigation, necessitating their maintenance in closed file section.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

BUREAU RECORDS - GENL

Destruction of all 135 files would result in instant availability of considerable file space in each office, freeing such space for filing of other pending and/or closed files. Depending on office involved, such additional space would thereafter be available in rotors, cabinets or shelving.

Identity of current plant informants at each plant together with background developed concerning them would be lost.

Suggestion 632-69 Submitted by

Philadelphia Office.

Manual of Rules and Regulations states "Information copies must be justified in every instance and the practice of sending such copies must be held to an absolute minimum." In unsub BR cases there is no need for auxiliary offices to have a copy of the initial report in most instances. Specific leads can better be set out by letter or airtel. In this regard, Manual states "Leads may be set out by letter when reports are lengthy, the offices have no real need for the reports, and paper, reading time, and filing space can be saved." It appears that if existing instructions were followed no problem would exist; however, to the extent that auxiliary offices do have voluminous unsub BR reports unnecessarily taking up shelf space, this division could see no objection to destroying them on the basis proposed.

Inspection Division opposed adoption pointing out that there are many exceptions which could be made to our regulations for orderly destruction of files in order to accommodate particular offices or situations. Philadelphia, in this case, would save only 3 square feet of filing space. This is one of our larger offices and any savings in other offices of average size would be much smaller. If current rules are followed, auxiliary offices would not be receiving voluminous reports in these cases. Inspection Division regularly follows offices on these regulations with particular reference to dissemination of BR reports.

Training Division agrees with the Inspection Division. The Manual also states "If explanation is not set out or if receiving office has no interest in subject matter, the copy should be returned to sending office by routing slip." This rule pertains to "information copies." The small amount of space to be saved would not be sufficient to offset time involved in handling this procedure.

RECOMMENDATION: That the idea not be adopted. On approval, that the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact. He has been thanked by prior letter.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

There are approximately 25 copies of the Daily World submitted by Airtel every week. Recording of mail could be eliminated, also indexing of the words "Daily World". This would result in a considerable amount of time saved in Classifying and Recording Units. Classifying would put the complete file number on the mail and forward directly to the Checking Unit, thus by-passing Numbering and Recording. Not recording the mail would save typing abstracts for at least 20 to 25 abstracts a month and also the typing of cards for the name of the publication indexed could be eliminated.

newspaper have been sent in by Airtel with subject as LONGVIEW PUBLISHING CO., INC. (Bufile - 105-173525). These Airtels are blocked to Int. Security Section and forwarded to Division 5. When Airtel is returned to the Classifying Unit, the full number is placed on the mail, then forwarded thru Records for additional processing.

RECOMMENDATIONS AND COMMENTS OF DIVISION HEAD:

Daily World replaced the "Worker." Bureau letter 5-13-68 instructed New York Office to send five copies of each issue to Bureau. This has been done by Airtel five days a week since then. Fourteen sections of file has been opened since instructions issued. Review of file reveals one copy is sent to Records Administration Office in Department, one is filed in Publications file, two copies are retained in Domestic Intelligence Division, and one copy is filed in file 105-173525 as enclosure to transmittal Airtel.

Filing of copy of Daily World in 105-173525 appears unnecessary as copy being retained in Publications Unit is available for review when needed. It is accordingly recommended that practice of filing one copy in 105-173525 be discontinued and that Internal Security Section of Domestic Intelligence Division instruct New York Office to submit copies in future by routing slip for attention of that section. As airtels in file are in effect merely transmittal forms and copy of Daily Worker is a duplicate of one filed in Publications file, it is further recommended that these airtels and copies of Daily World contained in 105-173525 be destroyed.

Although Mrs. [redacted] did not suggest that we no longer file copy of newspaper in 105-173525, she did suggest that these newspapers be submitted by routing slip rather than airtel, and it is recommended that she be advised that her suggestion to this effect is being adopted.

As this case is supervised by Domestic Intelligence Division, it is recommended that comments of that division be secured.

Description of List:

Enclosure to 100-7801-1597 re Associated Klans of America consists of a list of approximately 1700 names of Ku Klux Klan members in Fairmont, W. Va. in 1923. This list was submitted by the Pittsburgh Office 2/4/53.

The above listing of names has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work who advise that there is frequent reference to this listing. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data it is proposed that the material be de-indexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices.

Previous authority was granted per 100-7801-4561 to de-index names of Ku Klux Klan members at Buffalo, N.Y. during the years of 1923 and 1924. Although identifying information appears on list filed as enclosure to 100-7801-1597, it is assumed that most individuals listed are either deceased or quite elderly. DESTRUCTION OF CHANNELIZING MEMORANDA
BUDED 5/12/69

EX-114

Reference suggestion submitted by Mrs. [redacted] on Form FD-252 dated 5/1/69.

Mrs. [redacted] has suggested the addition of the statement "...only in those cases in which reports are not prepared and disseminated in order to conceal identity of informant..." to Part II, Section 3, item 3D, 8, m (2) of the Manual of Rules and Regulations. The item cited instructs that among the files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual basis are channelizing memoranda consisting of copies of security informants' and racial informants' statements designated for their 100 classification and 157 classification case files respectively. When this is to be done, Form FD-338a (Interoffice Memorandum re Destruction of Channelizing Memoranda under One-year Rule) must be prepared and placed in the file listing each item destroyed and the location of the original information.

The purpose of the suggested action is not clear inasmuch as channelizing memoranda in security cases may now be destroyed following submission of a report or letterhead memorandum incorporating their information or if they were not included therein because of no pertinent value to the report or letterhead memorandum (Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, item 3D, w (2) on page 15b). They may also be destroyed after one year old under the circumstances cited in the preceding paragraph whether a report is written or not.

Re: Destruction of Channelizing Memoranda
Suggestion Matter
Buded 5/12/69

Since the present regulations in effect provide for the destruction of channelizing memoranda both with and without reports, it appears the suggested phraseology is superfluous; therefore, the Tampa Office is requested to submit further clarifying comments in order that the suggestion may be properly evaluated. Your reply should be submitted to the attention of the Suggestion Desk, Training Division, to reach the Bureau by close of business, May 12, 1969.

NOTE: It has been suggested that Manual of Rules and Regulations be revised to add phraseology cited in initial paragraph of letter to SAC, Tampa. Tampa is being requested to clarify need for such revision inasmuch as present manual provisions as described in foregoing letter apparently cover the situation. Matter was discussed with Washington Field Office which, too, is unable to figure out what suggester has in mind.

No formal acknowledgement being made of suggestion pending receipt of reply from Tampa Office.

Dear Miss [redacted]

Thank you very much for the suggestion regarding a method for handling certain cover letters and memoranda used in a particular program and the disposition of this material which is already in file. This proposal is being evaluated by the interested divisions and you will be advised of the final action in this matter.

I appreciate the initiative and interest which prompted you to submit this idea to me.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: Suggests field office letters and SOG memoranda which transmit revisions for Buplans documents and memoranda regarding semiannual physical check of records at Quantico not be permanently retained in Bureau files. They should be filed with the "Plain" as a cover page and destroyed upon receipt of next revision. Memoranda transmitting revisions to Quantico for vital records prepositioned there should be retained by submitting desk and destroyed each six months. Memoranda regarding physical check of records at Quantico should be retained by Buplans Desk and destroyed at end of six months. Also, suggests Bureau files be purged of routine correspondence. Routine correspondence to be considered for destruction are attached.

SUGGESTION It is suggested that field office letters and Seat of Government (SOG) memoranda which transmit revisions for Buplans documents and memoranda regarding semiannual physical check of records at Quantico not be permanently retained in Bureau files. Field letters and SOG memoranda transmitting amended pages for field office and SOG Defense Plans should be filed with the Plan as a cover page and destroyed upon receipt of the next revision. Memoranda transmitting revisions to Quantico for vital records prepositioned there should be retained by submitting desk and destroyed each 6 months. Memoranda regarding physical check of records at Quantico should be retained by Buplans Desk and destroyed at end of 6 months. It is also suggested that Bureau files be purged of this routine correspondence. Samples of the kind of correspondence to be considered for destruction are attached.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Field office letters and SOG memoranda transmitting copies of revised pages for Defense Plans are filed as "Not Recorded" serials. Revised pages are detached (continued)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) These field office letters and SOG memoranda contain no Bureau policy. Field office letters and SOG memoranda transmitting Buplans revisions have no value beyond the receipt of subsequent revision. Memoranda transmitting revisions to Quantico for vital records prepositioned there serve no purpose following the physical check of these records which is done semiannually by representatives of each Section having material stored there. Suggested procedure would eliminate processing of this mail by the Records Branch and the filing of correspondence that has no future value. Legal Attaches, field offices, and SOG Divisions each submit an average of 8 revisions to their Defense Plans annually. This is a total of 504 items of (continued) from cover letters, inserted in proper place in the Defense Plans (Section 2 of Bufile 66-17380, sub file for each Division and field office) and the old pages are destroyed. The cover letter or memorandum is filed in open section of this file. Memoranda transmitting revisions to Quantico for vital records prepositioned there for emergency use are "Recorded" and filed in Bufile 66-17381. Memoranda regarding physical check of records at Quantico are noted in Buplans Unit where an administrative tickler is maintained to assure compliance by DID Sections and forwarded to Records Branch for filing.

correspondence. Based on cost of processing "Not Recorded" mail at 58¢ per item this would be a saving of $292.32 annually. It is estimated that 125 memoranda relating to vital records at Quantico are prepared annually by the 7 Sections of the Domestic Intelligence Division and 5 other Divisions having records prepositioned there. The cost of processing "Recorded" mail is $1.45 per item. Suggested procedure would mean a saving of $181.25 annually.

Bureau file 66-17380 now has 50 sections and 66-17381 has 39 sections. Both files are maintained in the Special File Room where space is extremely limited. Purging these files of this routine type memoranda would greatly reduce the bulk of these two files, thus releasing this space for filing of more important correspondence.

ADDENDUM: DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION, 4/29/69, JFF:mef

This suggestor recommends that previously filed cover or transmittal letters for the Defense Plans from the field and Seat of Government (SOG) Divisions be destroyed when the current letter is received. In addition the recommendation includes the retention by the substantive desk of transmittal memoranda for Vital records maintained at Quantico, Virginia, for emergency use. This retention is to be for a period of six months and then these transmittal letters and memoranda are to be destroyed. These Vital records include the Protection of Strategic Air Command and Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Bases of the Air Force (PROSAB) material, PRODIP (Program for taking into Protective Custody the Diplomatic... Personnel of Enemy Nations), and security informant cards identifying and giving background of those on whom the card has been made.

Under the present system each of these transmittal letters submitted by the field or memoranda submitted by SOG is permanently retained. Once the change is made in Buplans it is superfluous to keep more than the last cover letter with which the changed pages were sent to the Bureau, since the cover letter includes merely the page numbers of the pages being substituted for previous pages. This also applies to the PROSAB and PRODIP cover letters. Also every six months the informant cards at the SOG are compared with those maintained at Quantico and therefore the retention of the cover letter in this instance is unnecessary.

Since there is a large volume of these transmittal letters, filing of them is space consuming, and therefore Division Five recommends that these letters and memoranda be destroyed when the succeeding letter is received. In view of the fact that other divisions have an interest in these suggestions, it is recommended that their views be obtained.

Description of List: 62-64178-411 is a photostat of lists of personnel as of 12-31-44, including the secretarial staff, of the [redacted] In addition there are listed 22 consular shipping security officers located in various cities throughout the country.

The attached listing of more than 800 names has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work who advise that there is frequent reference to this material. It is noted that this material is similar to that originally filed as enclosure to 62-64178-331X which was deindexed and destroyed per authority contained in 62-64178-612X. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data it is proposed that enclosure to 62-64178-411 be deindexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices, and then destroyed.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above listed file reference to determine if any reason exists for retention of this enclosure. Pertinent serials mentioned in the preceding paragraph are attached. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum. The memorandum should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 6309-IB.

SUBJECT: BUPLANS
SUGGESTION 802-69 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted]
DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

b7C

SUGGESTION: That field office letters and Seat of Government (SOG) memoranda which transmit revisions for Buplans documents and memoranda regarding semiannual physical check of records at Quantico not be permanently retained in Bureau files. Field letters and SOG memoranda transmitting amended pages for their Defense Plans should be filed with the Plan as a cover page and destroyed upon receipt of the next revision. Memoranda transmitting revisions to Quantico for vital records prepositioned there should be retained by submitting desk and destroyed each six months. Memoranda regarding physical check of records at Quantico should be retained by Buplans Desk and destroyed at end of six months. Also, suggests Bureau files be purged of this routine correspondence. Samples of the type of correspondence being referred to by suggester are attached to background material.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Miss [redacted] states field office letters and SOG memoranda transmitting copies of revised pages for Defense Plans are filed as "Not Recorded" serials. Revised pages are detached from cover letters, inserted in proper place in the Defense Plans (Section 2 of Bufile 66-17380, subfile for each division and field office) and old pages are destroyed. The cover letter or memorandum is filed in open section of this file. Memoranda transmitting revisions to Quantico for vital records prepositioned there for emergency use are "Recorded" and filed in Bufile 66-17381. Memoranda regarding physical check of records at Quantico are noted in Buplans Unit where an administrative tickler is maintained to insure compliance by sections of the Domestic Intelligence Division and then forwarded to Records Branch for filing. Completed Bufile 66-17380, 123 refs de-indexed. 133½ inches of mail destroyed 11-14-69 SE

ADVANTAGES: The suggester feels the transmittal letters contain no Bureau policy and have no value other than to record receipt of subsequent revisions. Transmittal memoranda to Quantico serve no purpose following the physical check of those records which is done semiannually by representatives of each section having material stored there. Proposed procedure would eliminate processing this mail by the Records Branch and filing correspondence that has no future value. Legal Attaches, field offices, and SOG divisions each submit an average of eight revisions to their Defense Plans annually. This is a total of 504 items of correspondence. Based on cost of processing "Not Recorded" mail at 58¢ per item this would save $292.32 annually. Based on an estimated 125 memoranda relating to vital records at Quantico which are prepared annually by seven sections of the Domestic Intelligence Division and five other divisions having records maintained there and "Recorded" at $1.45 per item, a saving of $181.25 would be realized annually making a total saving of $473.57. Bufile 66-17380 has 50 sections and 66-17381 has 39 sections. Both files are maintained in the Special File Room where space is extremely limited. Bulk of these two files would be greatly decreased by the purging of this material.

OBSERVATIONS: Domestic Intelligence Division recommended these letters and memoranda be destroyed when the succeeding letter is received since they serve no good purpose.

Quantico advised idea would have little impact on its work.

Identification Division is responsible for maintenance of microfilmed fingerprint cards of Bureau personnel and fingerprint cards on Security Index subjects at Quantico and periodically these are updated and memoranda prepared setting forth this action but this is for information of the Buplans Desk and proposed procedure would have no effect on this division. If adopted, it would place procedure into effect.

All other divisions, including Files and Communications, felt the idea had merit and recommended adoption.

Based on an estimated annual saving of $473.57, the suggester would be entitled to an incentive award of $25. This is in line with the current scale for such awards.

SUBJECT: RECEIPT SYSTEM FOR DISSEMINATED DOCUMENTS TO OTHER AGENCIES
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

As reported by the Inspector, we are recommending that we be authorized to destroy receipts, received by Liaison for disseminated documents, after they are three years old.

In accordance with the Director's instructions, the Liaison Section initiated a signed receipt system in November, 1964, whereby an individual receipt is secured for each document disseminated by Liaison. We now have approximately 90,000 such receipts [illegible]. During the current Inspection of the Domestic Intelligence Division, the Inspector observed that an additional filing cabinet will shortly be required for the maintenance of these receipts and suggested that a determination be made as to the necessity for their retention, noting that consideration might be given to destroying them on a periodic basis, such as every three years.

General Services Administration (GSA) Regulation 3, Appendix B, with respect to "Classified Information Accounting and Control Records," notes that document receipts covering the receipt and issue of classified documents may be disposed of after two years. We believe an adequate measure of security would be attained by retaining the receipts for three years.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF EXTRA COPIES OF LETTERHEAD MEMORANDA AND REPORTS

O DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS +

Manual for Bureau Supervisors, item 27, page 12c authorizes supervisors to destroy surplus copies of reports, letters, memoranda, etc., prior to sending original document to file in order to eliminate unnecessary filing of copies of documents for which no further need exists.

While above authority exists, Records Branch continues to receive a considerable number of extra copies of letterhead memoranda and reports for filing of which dissemination has already been made. These extra copies take up valuable filing space.

Recent four-day survey revealed that 688 extra copies of letterhead memoranda and reports involving 3,718 pages were received for filing.

It is believed that in order to save critical filing space, that our Checkers, who approve mail for filing by insuring all routing has been properly initialed, should be given authority to destroy extra copies of letterhead memoranda and reports which are received for filing. We would, of course, retain extra copies if a supervisor indicated extra copies should be retained. We already have authority to destroy extra copies of letters, memoranda, airtels, teletypes, etc.

By projecting results of four-day survey to an annual basis, it is estimated that we could save approximately 100 file drawers presenting 16 1/2, 6-drawer file cabinets per year.

Archival authority is not necessary for destruction of copies of this type.

SUBJECT: CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS - ACCOMPLISHMENTS
Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen

PURPOSE:

To recommend the destruction of numerous airtels and letters submitted by the field setting forth progress on conviction statistics. These communications are purely administrative in nature and no useful purpose would be served by placing them in file.

BACKGROUND:

By letter dated 4/25/69 and Bureau teletype 6/13/69, to all offices, and Bureau telephone calls at various times during June to continental offices the field was instructed to submit detailed information concerning convictions being obtained. This action was taken in order that we would be in a position to closely evaluate our conviction accomplishments for Fiscal Year, 1969. The year has now closed and it appears there is no useful purpose in retaining these communications. They consist of estimates of convictions to be submitted before the close of Fiscal Year, 1969, by each field office and one group of these communications deals with information submitted by each field office indicating that all convictions had been submitted by airtel or teletype.

This matter has been coordinated with the Records Section, Files and Communication Division.

ACTION RECOMMENDED:

If approved it is recommended that airtels and letters of the type described above be destroyed and this memorandum placed on record.

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION MATERIAL STORED ON SEVENTH FLOOR IDENTIFICATION BUILDING

Annually, the material stored at the Identification Building is checked and recommendations made as to the disposition of older material. The current check has been made and the following is proposed:

1. Administrative Reports: We have been retaining the field monthly administrative reports for three fiscal years. It is suggested that those for the fiscal year 1965 (July 1964 through June 1965) be removed and destroyed.

2. Copies of Procurement Bids: These are the Bureau's file copy. These are routine procurements, mostly for auto storage and repair contracts. The disposal period is six years for transactions of $2,500 and more, and three years for those under $2,500, after final payment. Since the records are not broken down into dollar categories for filing purposes, we follow the practice of holding all items longer than necessary -- about ten years. It is suggested that those copies for the fiscal year 1956 (July 1955 through June 1956) be destroyed at this time.

3. Bills of Lading: The disposal period is ten years. We have a listing of shipments received in the stockroom for the calendar year 1956 as well as memo copies of bills of lading for the same period. It is suggested that these 1956 records be removed and destroyed.

This Unit does not feel that files in classification 121 should be destroyed prior to the existing 20 year destruction rule. These files are used for reference purposes, particulary in those cases where an individual is being reinvestigated under the Security of Government Employees classification. However, we feel that comments should be obtained from the Special Investigative Division before sending a reply to Los Angeles.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF CLOSED FILES - LOS ANGELES DIVISION

PROPERTY - GENERAL

The Los Angeles Division has suggested that all files in Classification 121, Loyalty of Government Employees, be destroyed. Los Angeles advised that Classification 121 was discontinued in May, 1953, when Classification 140, Security of Government Employees, was instituted, and the destruction of these files would result in a savings of 15 filing shelves in the Los Angeles Division.

The Training Division feels that any savings of filing space which would be accomplished through the destruction of files in Classification 121, would only prove to be false economy. These files are used for reference purposes, particularly in cases where an individual is being reinvestigated under Classification 140, Security of Government Employees, and it is necessary to bring the current investigation up to date.

The Special Investigative Division felt that no exception should be made with regard to the destruction of files in Classification 121. They stated that these files are often referred to in initiating investigations under the current Security of Government Employees program, and the destruction of files in Classification 121 would result in the necessity of duplicating many reports.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the suggestion by the Los Angeles Division to destroy files in Classification 121 not be approved.

SUBJECT: ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT OF COPIES OF DIRECTOR'S SPEECH DELIVERED AT THE BOY SCOUT CELEBRATION DAY, COURT OF PEACE, WORLD'S FAIR, NEW YORK, JUNE 29, 1939 MEN OF TOMORROW

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
FILE 94-1-208

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS — GENERAL

Bureau file 94-1-208, captioned "Boy Scouts of America," consists of one hundred sections and contains correspondence pertaining to Boy Scouts of America. One section of this file consists of acknowledgments of receipt of copies of Director's speech which was delivered at Boy Scout Celebration Day, Court of Peace, World's Fair, New York, on 6-29-39. None of the correspondence in this section of the file is indexed or serialized and correspondence is dated in July, 1939. Inasmuch as these letters of acknowledgment serve no useful purpose and since space is badly needed in Records Branch, it is proposed that this section of file be considered for destruction. Archival authority is not necessary for destruction of administrative-type material of this nature.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to Crime Records Division and that consideration be given to destruction of above-described material.

Dear Miss [redacted]

Thank you for the suggestion regarding the disposition of zero files in all classifications when they become three years old. After evaluation, it has been decided that one rule could not apply in all instances and that exceptions to the rule would further complicate this matter.

The interest which led you to submit your idea to me is indeed appreciated.

It is felt material in the zero files in certain classifications should be retained for a longer period than three years; therefore, exceptions to the rule would be necessary and this would not be desirable. For your information, there is no objection to opening two files, one for known subjects and one for unknown subjects, in heavy volume classifications or those having different destruction periods to facilitate the purging of these files.

material maintained in zero files pertaining to Theft of Government Property, Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property, Administrative Inquiries, etc. should be retained since this material may be needed at a later date. If idea adopted for some classifications and not for the entire group, exceptions would cause same problem suggester is attempting to do away with by current proposal. The 62 classification, Administrative Inquiries, contains all miscellaneous material in field regarding complaints, mental complainants, etc. This information is needed for following on these individuals since all field has to rely on is what has been done in past concerning a given individual. Virtually all material in field zero files will not be duplicated at SOG. For these reasons, Training Division recommends idea not be adopted.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that zero files of all classifications be destroyed when three years old.

(Zero files contain non-specific information or complaints not requiring investigation.)

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

EXP. PROC. SEP 22 1969

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

MRR II, 3, 13a states zero files may be destroyed in accordance with regulations governing the destruction of substantive files of a given classification.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

This non-specific material or complaints not requiring investigation has little, if any, value after three years. At present, it is retained for various lengths of time up to 20 years.

The advantages include recovered shelf or cabinet space; purging of related index cards; savings in file review time. In addition, there would be a savings in file destruction time in that at present old unsub zero material must be separated from subject zero material as it is eligible for destruction in several instances at at earlier time (e.g., 26, 52, etc.)

SUGGESTION

Recommends all "See" references in security classifications dated prior to 1941 be destroyed as having no value to present security investigations.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

"See" references in security classifications are maintained in General Bureau Indices indefinitely or until consolidated.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Adoption of suggestion would reduce the number of cards in the indices, saving space, and lower the number of references under a common name that a Bureau Supervisor must review, saving time. It would appear that any individual whose name was recorded in the indices prior to 1941 and who subsequently became of real security interest would have had a case file opened on him or be subject of a memorandum. In such cases, indices should have been purged. If a case not opened or memo prepared, it would appear that a reference 28 years old or older would be of little value in the event the individual now develops as a security threat. Annual savings in space and time cannot be accurately estimated but would be considerable.

Disadvantages of suggestion

ADDENDUM - DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION - 10/8/69 - LEB:bbr:

Suggester recommends all "see" references in security classifications dated prior to 1941 be purged. Suggester notes references 28 years old or older have little value to present security investigations and their purging would save space in Bureau indices and save supervisory time in reducing number of references to be reviewed.

Prior to June, 1941, indices cards were not dated. In June, 1941, the practice of dating cards was initiated. An indices check for subversive references will produce both dated and undated references. Thus, in the case of undated references, the material is 28 years old or older. Insofar as present security inquiries by this Division are concerned, it would appear that security information at least 28 years old is of little value. It may be seen, however, in applicant-type matters that such references, particularly when accompanied by some identifying data, could be of some value.

Adoption of suggestion would not only save space in General Bureau Indices and save reviewing time of supervisory Agent personnel, but would also save clerical time in not searching and listing references of little value.

It is recommended, therefore, that in security classifications, all indices cards which are not dated should be purged from the indices either when they are observed on a day-to-day basis and/or at the time of the biannual purging of indices. Further, in view of the fact that Divisions 3, 4 and 9 will be affected by the suggestion, it is recommended that comments of these Divisions be solicited.

SUBJECT: Destruction of Bureau Property - Blaylock
MANHATTAN ENGINEERING DISTRICT FILES

Captioned files were reviewed in connection with the disposal of bulky exhibits which serve no further useful purpose in order to reclaim badly needed space. These files consist of original correspondence, copy of FBI report (original FBI reports are on file in substantive case files) and copies of reports from other intelligence agencies and miscellaneous copies of correspondence. The names of subjects of each of the various files are indexed. The substantive Bureau supervisor has reviewed these files and has advised a portion of them serve no useful purpose and may be destroyed. The remaining portion of these files maintained as bulky exhibits are believed to be of some possible future use in answering possible inquiries concerning atomic energy subversion.

As a matter of background, the Manhattan Engineering District Files (MED) were delivered to the San Francisco Office in June, 1947, by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), Berkeley, California. They are contained in 45 boxes on the bulky exhibit ramp in Filing Unit. They are intelligence files on individuals and organizations associated with the development of the atomic bomb. San Francisco Office, after receipt, transferred the files to the Bureau for safe keeping.

In an effort to determine whether the files could be destroyed, Mr. Ralph G. Mayer, Division of Security, AEC, Washington, was contacted to determine if that agency had any latent interest in the MED files. Mr. Mayer personally examined a representative number and advised the only files in which his agency would have any interest were those on J. R. Oppenheimer and Frank Oppenheimer. Mr. Mayer worked on the MED project and was quite familiar with these records and, in fact, authored many reports contained in these files. He observed that the original of many intelligence reports and other miscellaneous correspondence were retained by the respective agencies and only copies are contained in our MED files. After consulting with officials of AEC, he advised the agency interposed no objection to the destruction of this material except for the Oppenheimer files cited above.

Re: Manhattan Engineering District Files

Archival authority is required for destruction of original communications contained in these files. However, the small volume of original communications in MED files does not appear to justify the seeking of Archival authority for destruction purposes. It appears the bulk of these files can be reduced by destroying only copies of the original file material. Since no objections have been voiced for the destruction of copy material, same will be destroyed and original documents and correspondence will continue to be retained as bulky exhibits. The destruction will not affect the indexing of subjects of these files.

INDEX CARDS
SUGGESTION 198-70 SUBMITTED BY
SA LAWRENCE McWILLIAMS, DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION

SYNOPSIS

SA McWilliams proposed that all "see" references in security classifications dated prior to 1941 be destroyed as having no value to present security investigations. He felt this would reduce the number of cards in the indices, save space and lower the number of references under a common name that a supervisor must review. He reasoned that any individual whose name was indexed prior to 1941, and who subsequently became of real security interest, would have had a case file opened on him or would have been the subject of a memorandum. In such cases the indices should have been purged since the information would have been incorporated in the case file or the memorandum. If it were not considered important enough to open a case or prepare a memorandum, he felt a 28 year old reference would have little value should the individual now develop into a security threat.

Administrative Division had no objection to the suggestion. Crime Records Division had no objection provided the "see" reference to be destroyed did not contain information reflecting adversely on an individual's character, mental stability or relationship with the Bureau and data indicating a person to be a security risk or civil rights activist. Files and Communications Division, while completely in accord with any effort to remove from our records any information no longer useful, pointed out that once the cards and the information they represent were destroyed it could never be recalled. The division felt the suggestion oversimplified the matter and left several questions to be answered. General Investigative and Special Investigative Division were opposed to adoption although the latter felt interested divisions could run a trial for six months keeping examples of where information from "see" references prior to 1941 was utilized to determine if they should be kept.

DETAILS

SUGGESTION: That all "see" references in security classifications dated prior to 1941 be destroyed as having no value to present security investigations.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: "See" references in security classifications are maintained in Bureau's general indices indefinitely or until consolidated.

ADVANTAGES: Suggester felt adoption of his proposal would reduce the number of cards in the indices, save space and lower the number of references under a common name that a Bureau Supervisor must review thus saving time. He stated it would appear that any individual whose name was recorded in the indices prior to 1941 and who subsequently became of real security interest would have had a case file opened on him or be the subject of a memorandum. In such cases, the indices should have been purged. If a case was not opened or a memorandum prepared, it would appear that a reference dating back 28 years or more would be of little value if the individual now develops as a security threat.

OBSERVATIONS: Domestic Intelligence Division commented that, prior to June, 1941, indices cards were not dated. In June, 1941, the practice of dating index cards was initiated. An indices check for subversive references will produce both dated and undated references; therefore, in the latter instances these references are at least 28 years old. Insofar as present security inquiries by Domestic Intelligence Division are concerned, it would appear that security information at least 28 years old is of little value. It is possible, however, that such references, particularly when accompanied by some identifying data, could be of some value in applicant-type matters. Although the division favored adoption of the proposal, it recommended that the comments of Administrative, Files and Communications, and Special Investigative Divisions be solicited.

Administrative Division advised it had no objection to the suggestion.

Crime Records Division stated it had no objection to the suggestion as long as the "see" references are not destroyed on an individual's character, mental stability or relationship with the Bureau and data indicating a person to be a security risk or civil rights activist.

Memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr re: Index Cards
Suggestion 198-70
SA Lawrence McWilliams, Domestic Intelligence Division

Files and Communications Division advised it obviously would favor any suggestion which would remove from the record holding any information no longer useful. It stated the scope of the suggestion is very wide and the actual number of index cards involved is not really known; however, to help put the suggestion in proper perspective, it pointed out the following facts and assumptions.

In June, 1941, there were about 7,500,000 cards in the index. It is assumed that about 15% of these cards were "main" cards and the rest (85% or 6,375,000) were "see" cards. It would seem safe to further assume that at least 50% of these cards were on criminal rather than security matters, leaving a net total of 3,187,000 cards. Through the years an extensive program of purging the index on a selective basis has been carried on. To date, more than 6,000,000 cards have been purged. It seems safe to assume that the vast majority of those purged were the oldest cards in the index. It is also safe to assume that the older cards which were not purged were those determined to be of possible value. The division felt, on the basis of the active program of purging which has been in progress over the years, that the actual number of security-type "see" cards prior to 1941 may be much smaller than anyone would expect. Needless to say, practically every division in the Bureau could be concerned with the suggestion. These cards and the information they represent once destroyed can never be recalled. That information would, then, not be available for security investigations, for criminal-type leads, for background in applicant cases or for any other use.

This division stated that, if the suggestion were to be adopted, certain questions need answering: (1) In purging the "see" cards, would we purge cards or persons, organizations, places, things? (2) Would the purge include "see" cards representing information in general files, policy files, etc.? (3) What, actually, are the security classifications which would be subject to purge? (4) If the suggestion is desirable for security classifications, why not criminal or all classifications? If these questions are answered and it is decided the information on the "see" cards is, in fact, useless, Records Branch would welcome the opportunity to devise a program to destroy them.

General Investigative Division opposed the suggestion on the grounds that to eliminate these cards would mean such information would be irretrievably lost. Material prior to 1941 could be extremely pertinent as it pertains to individuals now in middle-age brackets and it is not felt this material should be completely destroyed. The Bureau has, by Presidential direction been designated as the repository for security information and we receive about 2,000,000 name checks a year from other agencies in the Executive Branch and they should be entitled to receive all identifiable pertinent information on individuals about whom they are checking regardless of the age of the material. While it is recognized that removal of the index cards would save space, it was not felt this saving would offset the disadvantage of losing this information for future use.

Special Investigative Division offered similar objections to the proposal. It pointed out that, while it is possible some of the information covered by "see" references prior to 1941 is no longer of interest to the Bureau, there is also a good possibility of embarrassment in discharging such of our responsibilities as those under Executive Order 10450 (Federal Employee Security Program) and in the handling of name checks and investigations involving such important cases as Presidential appointees. If these cards were destroyed, any check of FBI files made by Civil Service Commission as part of the National Agency check might not be as complete as at present. For these reasons, the division did not feel these "see" references should be destroyed at this time. As an alternative, interested divisions might consider keeping, on a trial basis, examples where information was used from "see" cards dated prior to 1941 to determine their value.

Training Division, in view of the fact that some divisions feel there is a definite reason to retain these "see" references, recommends that the suggestion not be adopted.

SUBJECT: REPAIR AND DISPOSAL OF RECORDS

Damaged and deteriorated reports, letters and correspondence maintained in the Files and Communications Division are presently repaired by use of the lamination process. Due to the age and extensive use of our files, a considerable amount of repair work is necessary. In laminating the material, pages are placed between 2 sheets of acetate; then between 2 sheets of tissue paper; then between 2 asbestos sheets, and then placed in the oven of the laminating machine for 45 seconds to bond the acetate sheets together thus enclosing the damaged material. The lamination process of repairing Bureau materials is a slow and costly process from the standpoint of expenditure of man-hours. This method of repair makes it difficult to keep pace with the restoration needs of the Bureau.

It is proposed that Xerox, an electrostatic copier, be used for repair purposes in lieu of the lamination process. Upon producing a true Xerox copy, the original material would be destroyed and the copy would be placed as a permanent record in the file. Lamination would continue to be utilized to repair records of a particular historical nature and those having an evidentiary value. The Xerox process of duplicating our records would vastly increase the repair rate when compared to the lamination process. It is conservatively estimated that production, utilizing Xerox, would increase ten times over that of the lamination process. Therefore, it would enable the Bureau to maintain its records in the proper manner from the standpoint of restoration and repair with considerably less man-power.

Inasmuch as the Xerox method of reproducing records will involve the destruction of the original duplicated material, Archival approval must be obtained.

DEC 31 66-3286-1016

Mr. Meyer Fishbein, Director, Records Appraisal Division, Archives, advised that his agency would interpose no objection to the utilization of the Xerox method of reproducing damaged and deteriorated documents. He advised however, it would be necessary to obtain

Memorandum J. W. Marshall to Mr. Tavel
Re: Repair and Disposal of Records

Congressional approval for the destruction of the original records of which true electrostatic copies had been made. Attached are a proposed letter to Mr. Leo M. Pellerzi, Assistant Attorney General for Administration, and Standard Form 115 (Request for Authority to Dispose of Records) which will be forwarded to the Department of Justice to seek Congressional authority for destruction of Bureau records in this manner. This is the normal procedure for securing legal authority to dispose of any Bureau record material. All such requests are coordinated in the Department and submitted by them to Archives who in turn submits them routinely to a Congressional Government Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers pursuant to the Records Disposal Act of 1943, a copy of which is attached.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That approval be granted for the utilization of Xerox, an electrostatic copier, for duplicating damaged and deteriorated Bureau records in lieu of the lamination process.

2. If approval is granted, that the enclosed memorandum to the Department of Justice and Standard Form 115 (Request for Authority to Dispose of Records) be sent to the Department of Justice in order to obtain approval of GSA and Congress for the destruction of original records duplicated by the electrostatic copier method.

Regulations governing procedures.

SEC. 2. The National Archives Council shall promulgate regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, establishing (1) procedures for the compiling and submitting to the Archivist of the United States of lists and schedules of records proposed for disposal, (2) procedures for the disposal of records authorized for disposal, and (3) standards for the reproduction of records by photographic or microphotographic processes with a view to the disposal of the original records. Such regulations, when approved by the President, shall be binding on all agencies of the United States Government.

Submission of lists and schedules to Archivist.

SEC. 3. The head of each agency of the United States Government shall submit to the Archivist of the United States, in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act (1) lists of any records in the custody of the agency that have been photographed or microphotographed in accordance with the said regulations and that, as a consequence thereof, do not appear to have sufficient value to warrant their further preservation by the Government; (2) lists of any other records in the custody of the agency that are not needed by it in the transaction of its current business and that do not appear to have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the Government; and (3) schedules proposing the disposal after the lapse of specified periods of time of records of a specified form or character that either have accumulated in the custody of the agency or that may accumulate therein at any time after the submission of such schedules and that apparently will not after the lapse of the period specified have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation by the Government.

Submission of lists and schedules to Congress.

SEC. 4. The Archivist shall submit to Congress, at such times as he shall deem expedient, the lists or schedules submitted to him in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or parts of such lists or schedules, and lists or schedules of any records in his legal custody, insofar as it shall appear to him that the records listed in such lists or schedules do not, or will not after the lapse of the period specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the United States Government: Provided, That the Archivist shall not submit to Congress lists or schedules of records of any existing agency of the Government in his legal custody without first having obtained the written consent of the head of such agency.

Consent of existing agency.

Examination and report by joint Congressional committee.

SEC. 5. Whenever the Archivist shall submit lists or schedules to Congress, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer of the Senate to appoint two Senators who, with the members of the Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers of the House of Representatives, shall constitute a joint committee to which all such lists or schedules shall be referred, and the joint committee shall examine such lists or schedules and submit to the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively, a report of such examination and its recommendations.

Disposal of unnecessary records.

SEC. 6. If the joint committee reports that any of the records listed in a list or schedule referred to it do not, or will not after the lapse of the period specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their continued preservation by the Government, the Archivist shall notify the head of the agency by which the list or schedule was submitted of the action of the joint committee and the head of such agency shall cause such records to be disposed of in accordance with regulations promulgated as provided in section 2 of this Act.

records of the United States Government shall be alienated or destroyed except in accordance with the provisions of the Act. It further requires the Administrator of General Services to establish procedures to be followed by Federal agencies in compiling and submitting lists and schedules of records proposed for disposal.

§ 101-11.406-2 Submission of disposal requests.

Requests for authorization to dispose of records shall be initiated by Federal agencies by submitting records disposal lists or schedules to the National Archives and Records Service on Standard Forms 115 and 115a, Continuation Sheet, as revised (§§ 101-11.4902 through 101-11.4904). Standard Form 115 may be used for submitting either a list or schedule, by checking either A or B, respectively, under entry 6. Authority contained in an approved list is limited to records already in existence and should be used only when records of the types described are no longer accumulating. A schedule gives continuing authorization, and will be used in all cases where the types of records described in the request will continue to accumulate.

§ 101-11.406-3 Certification.

The signing of Standard Form 115 by a properly authorized agency representative shall constitute certification that the records described do not have, or will not have after the expiration of the retention period indicated, sufficient administrative, legal, or fiscal value to the agency itself to warrant further retention. Appraisal by the National Archives and Records Service will be limited to review for possible value to other agencies of the Government, and for research or historical value.

§ 101-11.406-4 General Accounting Office clearance.

Each Federal agency shall obtain the approval of the Comptroller General of the United States, as required by section 9 of the Records Disposal Act (44 U.S.C. 374), for the disposal of certain classes of records relating to claims and demands by or against the Government or to accounts in which the Government is concerned. Such approval shall be obtained either prior to or concurrently with the submission of the disposal request to the National Archives and Records Service.

§ 101-11.406-5 Approval of requests for disposal authority.

After review by the National Archives and Records Service, the request, with the Archivist's recommendation, is transmitted to the Congress as required by the Records Disposal Act. If the Joint Committee on Disposition of Executive Papers makes a favorable report on the request, the Archivist shall notify the agency thereof by returning one copy of completed Standard Form 115. This constitutes the disposal authorization, which is mandatory. (For extension of retention periods or withdrawal of disposal authority, see §§ 101-11.406-7, 101-11.406-8.) Such authorized disposal shall be accomplished as prescribed in § 101-11.408.

§ 101-11.406-6 Mutilation and destruction of records.

(a) Sections 505(b) and 506(f) of the Federal Records Act of 1950 (44 U.S.C. 395(b), 396(f)) impose upon the Administrator of General Services and the heads of Federal agencies responsibilities for preventing the unlawful removal, defacing, alteration, or destruction of records.

(b) The penalties for the willful and unlawful destruction, damage, or alienation of Federal records are contained in the U.S. Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 2071).

(c) Private files are not governed by these provisions.

§ 101-11.406-7 Extension of retention periods.

Pursuant to section 505(f) of the Federal Records Act of 1950 (44 U.S.C. 395(f)), in cases of emergency or when it is in the interest of economy, the head of a Federal agency may retain records authorized by Congress for disposal after the specified retention period. When records are so retained, a copy of the directive directing such retention shall be furnished to the Administrator and such records shall be disposed of as soon as is administratively practicable.

Re Seattle letter dated 9/23/68 and Bureau letter dated 10/28/68,

Referenced letters concerned correspondence regarding the installation of a new all transistorized "intercom" installed in the Seattle Office.

Prior to the installation of the "intercom" at the Seattle Office, an Executone which consisted of the master station and seven staff stations was used. From available records this system was installed in approximately 1951 and according to FD222, Non Expendable Inventory Record Card, the original price for this equipment was $1500. It is believed this $1500 price included all necessary wiring and installation charges. At the time a new system was being considered, contact was made with various concerns to determine if a trade-in would be allowable and none of those individuals contacted would make any offer for the existing system.

It is therefore requested of the Bureau that permission be given to the Seattle Division to dispose of the master station as well as the staff stations locally.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF CRIMINAL AND APPLICANT FILES IN FIELD OFFICES WHERE SUCH OFFICES ARE AUXILIARY OFFICES

More and more frequently we are receiving suggestions from the field on cutting down the amount of time before files, particularly in auxiliary offices, can be destroyed.

As you know, we have been wrestling with this problem for many years and have from time to time changed certain classifications for the time of destruction. All of these time limits are set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations. I think it would be well if we had Tom Keane do a survey and study of all criminal and applicant classifications to determine if we can speed up the destruction of files in auxiliary offices in these classifications where there are no major case problems or cases of widespread interest.

If you approve, the Suggestions Unit can advise on suggestions received that we are making a study of this at the present time and the field will be advised appropriately.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Tom Keane be authorized to make such a study thereafter discussing the possibilities with you and any recommendations he feels should be made.

SUBJECT: MICROFILMING OF NATIONAL ARMY FILE

During the last annual inspection of the Identification Division, the Inspector recommended a survey of activity in the files of the Old Armed Forces Section to determine whether it was sufficient to warrant assignment of four fingerprint searchers. Although the number of daily searches justified the assignments made, an in-depth study also was made of justification and productivity of the types of searches generated in the files of this section. As a result, streamlining has been effected and the four employees have been reassigned to the Special Desk in the Technical Section. In addition, it is being recommended that the National Army File located in the Old Armed Forces Section be microfilmed and the fingerprints contained therein destroyed.

BACKGROUND OF NATIONAL ARMY FILE

The file was transferred from the Army to the FBI in 1939. It contains the fingerprints of approximately 4,250,000 individuals fingerprinted by the Army in connection with military service during the period from 1906 through World War I. The fingerprints are recorded on odd-size forms precluding their being assimilated into our regular civil files. Consequently, they were never classified and are filed alphabetically by name. Therefore, it is not possible to search the file except by name. The normal activity of this file includes checking the names appearing on fingerprint cards of deceased persons whose age would indicate that the person was old enough to have served in the Armed Forces prior to or during World War I, or in cases where the individual's age is unknown. The purpose of this procedure is to move fingerprints of deceased persons to the deceased file. During the three-month period November, 1969, through January, 1970, a total of 2,614 searches of this type were conducted in this file and only 18 identifications made. Other activities in the file are searches conducted in connection with establishing Veterans rights - pensions and burials. Requests for this type of information emanate from the Veterans Administration, the Department of Defense and local law enforcement agencies. During the same three-month period, 656 searches of this type were requested and of these 292 were found to have served in the Army. Since only 18 out of 2,614 deceased persons routinely checked through these files had prior military service, the practice of checking such cases solely to "clear" the file of deceased prints has been discontinued. In the future the only searches that will be conducted are those specifically requested in connection with establishing Veterans' rights (approximately ten per day). As a result of this action, the four searchers assigned to the Old Armed Forces Section have been reassigned to the Special Desk in the Technical Section.

MICROFILMING

Since 1957, Ident has been microfilming certain fingerprint records. We have just concluded microfilming the master fingerprint cards of individuals who have been deceased ten years or more. The cameras used for that project are now available. The fingerprints in the National Army File are housed in 150 four-drawer cabinets occupying approximately 700 square feet of floor space in the basement of the Identification Division. While this space is the least desirable in the building, it can be used for less active files. Additional space will soon be needed for the Assembly Section and this space would be suitable for Assembly Section files. Since the fingerprints are filed alphabetically it will not be necessary to use trained fingerprint employees for this project and it can be handled by nontechnical employees.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the limited activity in the National Army File, it is recommended that the fingerprints in this file be microfilmed and destroyed. It is noted that in the event it is necessary to reproduce a set of fingerprints on microfilm, this can be readily accomplished.

SUBJECT: HANDLING OF MISSING PERSON CORRESPONDENCE
POSTING SECTION
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 EW/CA Barnum

Destruction of Property - Gen.

PURPOSE

To recommend adoption of a standard procedure for handling missing person correspondence involving cases where no fingerprint record located and no missing person notice placed in Ident files as request falls into one or more of categories of exceptions to the regulations for placing notices.

PRESENT PROCEDURE

We have been following the procedure of returning this correspondence to the original source, however, it has been suggested and we heartily agree that the returning of this mail can appear heartless and possibly offensive to the original correspondent. Persons who write these letters are usually parents, spouses, or close relatives who are obviously upset emotionally by the disappearance of their loved ones. They are very appreciative of a reply from the Director and the returning of the original correspondence could possibly upset the psychological good done by the Director's letter.

SUGGESTED PROCEDURE

That in all instances, in the absence of a specific request that it be returned, the incoming letter and copy of the reply be destroyed after 90 days.

We have discussed this with the Files and Communications Division and they concur that authority for such destruction of correspondence is covered in General Record Schedule number 14 of the General Services Administration, National Archives, and the Federal Property Management Regulations. This schedule provides in part that correspondence requesting information and copies of replies thereto, involving no administrative action, policy decisions or research may be destroyed after 3 months.

#1144-110

b7C

Miss [redacted] assigned to the General Index Unit has suggested through the division's Streamlining Committee that Main and See Cards on unknown subject cases involving Sabotage or Attempted Sabotage of airplanes through year 1959 be purged from the index, and the corresponding case files destroyed. Employee estimates approximately 10,000 cards, the majority of which are Main Cards, can be destroyed if this suggestion is adopted. Files and the proposed index cards to be destroyed are those in which the subject has not been identified; the statute of limitations has expired, and cases are at least ten years old.

The current practice is to maintain indefinitely all Main Cards and See Cards of unknown subject cases involving Sabotage and Attempted Sabotage of aircraft. The name of the manufacturer of the airplane in many instances is indexed as a See reference. Employee feels that the destruction of these cards together with corresponding case files, would provide for the recovery of badly needed space in the indices and files since the index cards and files no longer serve any useful purpose. She pointed out that a similar procedure is followed on a yearly basis in destroying index cards and files on unknown subject cases involving Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles in the 26 classification which are over ten years old. (See Archival Authority to Dispose of Records attached.)

REC-32 66-3286-1049

Personnel of the General Index Unit and members of the Streamlining Committee favor adoption of this suggestion as same would provide for the recovery of valuable space and the removal of index cards and corresponding case files which no longer serve any useful purpose. It is further noted that the destruction of the indices cards would make the investigative files

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that files in the 40 classification (Passport and Visa Matters) be destroyed. The files in the 40 classification occupy well over 70 5-drawer cabinets consisting of over 86,000 files. Approximately 70,000 files consisting of Department of State check sheet, application Form GH and BC and in some instances Interdepartmental Visa Review Committee minutes containing no derogatory information, could be destroyed. Names of certain visa applicant sponsors were de-indexed commening in May of 1962 and the index cards pertaining to these sponsors were destroyed. A previous suggestion was submitted on 7-11-63 recommending the destruction of approximately 50,000 files and 50,000 index cards in the 40 classification. This suggestion was disapproved inasmuch as it was felt information contained in these files was of material background value in certain security matters. A survey of the 86,000 files

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Files are retained in Filing Unit and occupy badly needed space. Main card on applicant is filed in General Index and abstracts are filed in Numbering Unit and Service Unit.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Approximately 70 5-drawer file cabinets would be gained if the files in the 40 classification containing no degoratory information were destroyed. If the files are destroyed, approximately 70,000 index cards relating to these files could likewise be destroyed. Further, if files were destroyed, references would not be listed on search slips requiring subsequent review in the File Review Unit.

A survey in the File Review Unit, wherein references are listed on search slips for review purposes, revealed that a very insignificant number of references in the 40 classification were listed. The only individual indexed in these files is the applicant.

Recommendations and Comments of Division Head:

The Files and Communications Division favors the adoption of employee's suggestion to destroy files in the 40 classification (Passport and Visa Matters), particularly since the utilization of these files is very minimal; otherwise serve no useful purpose and occupy badly needed filing space. At the present time, expansion rate of our records holdings of 37 6-drawer cabinets per month (444 per year), makes it imperative that a critical evaluation be made concerning the destruction of those files in the 40 classification which contain no derogatory information. National Archives will be requested to furnish approval for the destruction of these files if this suggestion is adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. For referral to the Training Division, attention Suggestion Desk, for appropriate consideration.

Conduct a survey of classifications on enclosed list and submit observations to Bureau, attention Training Division, by May 25, 1970, on following:

(1) Savings in space, by classification, by linear feet, if five-year-old files are destroyed in cases where you are neither office of origin nor office of prosecution.

(2) Annual savings in space and equipment if proposal adopted.

(3) Type and quantity of equipment now on order, or anticipated in near future, which proposal will eliminate.

(4) Anticipated advantages or disadvantages.

(5) Recommendations for insuring destruction after ten or twenty years of index cards retained for reference purposes on files destroyed under proposal.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS IN AUXILIARY OFFICES

By separate memoranda, the Training Division was authorized to conduct a survey and study of all criminal and applicant classifications to determine if we can streamline the destruction of files in auxiliary offices where there are no major case problems or cases of widespread interest. Files in the offices of origin and offices of prosecution would be retained under existing regulations.

The majority of the files in nonsecurity classifications are presently retained for a period of 20 years in both the offices of origin and auxiliary offices. In order to develop a workable solution to the problem of reducing our records volume in the field, without impairing the efficiency of our operations, the Training Division feels that consideration should be given to a five-year destruction program in certain nonsecurity classifications in auxiliary offices. Index cards would be retained under current regulations for reference purposes if needed after files have been destroyed. Any original FD-302s, signed statements, or other evidentiary material would be forwarded to the office of origin at the time of file destruction.

In order to accomplish the proposed five-year destruction program, it would be necessary for a careful review of each file by the Special Agent Supervisor when pulled on tickler after the case had been referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC). If the supervisor was of the opinion that the file would be of no value after five years, he would stamp the last serial with instructions to destroy five years from the RUC posting date, and affix his initials for authorization purposes.

The Chief Clerk's Office (CCO), in reviewing files for destruction, would destroy those files bearing the stamp on the most recent serial. In those instances where communications were received subsequent to the RUC date, and no destruction stamp appeared thereon, it would be necessary for the CCO to bring these files to the attention of the Agent supervisor for final determination. identity of the offices of origin would be listed on the file fronts which are retained under existing regulations. In this manner, a cross reference could be made between the index card and the file front in the event the office of origin had to be contacted for reference purposes after the file had been destroyed.

The Training Division feels that by streamlining our present file destruction program in auxiliary offices, there would be a very substantial savings of filing space, which is critical in many of our field divisions. There would also be a savings in filing equipment and a reduction in the need for additional equipment.

In order to determine the feasibility of the proposed file destruction program as set forth above, authorization is requested to obtain a cross section of opinions by conducting a survey in a representative number of field offices in each grouping.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter and enclosure be forwarded to selected field divisions as indicated.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS -General
SUGGESTION 746-70 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted]
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION: That files in the 40 classification (Passport and Visa Matters) be destroyed. Files in this category occupy well over 70 five-drawer cabinets consisting of over 86,000 files, approximately 70,000 of which consist of Department of State check sheet, application Form GH and BC and in some instances Interdepartmental Visa Review Committee minutes containing no derogatory information. It is believed these could be destroyed. Names of certain visa applicant sponsors were removed from the indices commencing in May, 1962, and these cards were destroyed. On July 11, 1963, it was recommended that approximately 50,000 files and index cards in the 40 classification be destroyed but this was not approved at that time since it was felt these files contained material which would be of value in security matters. A survey of the 86,000 files in March 1970, reveals that 33 of these files were charged out. A survey in the File Review Unit, wherein references are listed on search slips for review purposes, revealed that a very insignificant number of references in this classification were listed. The only individual indexed in these files is the applicant.

CURRENT PRACTICE: The suggester states files are retained in the Filing Unit, main cards on the applicants are filed in the General Index, and abstracts are filed in the Numbering Unit and Service Unit.

ADVANTAGES: : The space which would be gained if files in the 40 classification which contain no derogatory information were destroyed. If approved, approximately 70,000 index cards relating to these files could likewise be destroyed. Further, references would not be listed on search slips requiring subsequent review in the File Review Unit.

Re: Destruction of Bureau Records
Suggestion 746-70 Submitted by

Files and Communications Division

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division favored adoption particularly since the use of these files is very minimal; otherwise serve no useful purpose; and, they occupy badly needed filing space. At the present time, expansion rate of our records of 37 six-drawer cabinets per month (444 per year), makes it imperative that a critical evaluation be made concerning the destruction of those files in the 40 classification which contain no derogatory information. A request will be made of the National Archives to approve this action if the idea is adopted.

Domestic Intelligence, General and Special Investigative Divisions recommended approval of this idea provided the material is not of a derogatory nature and Bureau has not conducted an investigation in a given case. The information contained in these files; that is, Department of State check sheets, application forms in some instances, Interdepartmental Visa Review Committee minutes are available at the U. S. Department of State or the Immigration and Naturalization Service and, as such, if need exists to obtain this information, it can be obtained through a review of the above agencies' files.

Due to these observations, Training Division feels the Files and Communications Division should be given approval to submit an appropriate recommendation through the Department of Justice to Archives for the destruction of these files.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That authority be granted the Files and Communications Division to take appropriate action to obtain permission for the destruction of this material when it is not of a derogatory nature and Bureau has not conducted an investigation in a given case.

SUGGESTION 744-70 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted] b6 b7C
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION: That all "main" and "see" index cards on unknown subject cases involving sabotage or attempted sabotage of airplanes (98 and 149 classifications) through year 1959 be purged from the indices and the corresponding case files destroyed. It is estimated there are approximately 10,000 cards, the majority of which are "main" cards, which could be disposed of if this idea is approved.

CURRENT PRACTICE: This material is maintained indefinitely at the present time. The name of the manufacturer of the airplane is indexed in many instances as a "see" reference.

ADVANTAGES: The destruction of the cards and the corresponding files would provide for the recovery of badly needed space in the indices and files since these items no longer serve any useful purpose. The suggester points out that a similar procedure is followed on a yearly basis in destroying index cards and files on unknown subject cases involving Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles (26 classification) which are over ten years old.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division favored adoption of the idea but pointed out that Archival authority for this destruction would be needed and, if approved, it would take the necessary action.

Domestic Intelligence Division was of the opinion the idea has merit and should be approved particularly in view of the urgent need to make available additional filing space.

Files and Communications Division

General Investigative Division advised these are cases where the subject has not been identified, the Statute of Limitations has expired and they are at least ten years old. This action is already being taken with respect to the 26 classification and would result in a considerable saving of space. This Division had no objection to the proposed action and recommended adoption.

Due to these observations, the Training Division feels the Files and Communications Division should be given approval to submit an appropriate recommendation through the Department of Justice to Archives for the destruction of this material.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the authority be granted the Files and Communications Division to take appropriate action to obtain permission for the destruction of this material when the subject has not been identified, the Statute of Limitations has expired and the material is ten years old.

(2) On approval, that further action with regard to the suggester be held in abeyance pending the results of this request. She has been thanked by prior letter. It should be noted it may take at least six months to obtain approval regarding this matter.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS IN AUXILIARY OFFICES

SYNOPSIS

Current rules and regulations permit auxiliary offices to destroy files in violations of Theft from Interstate Shipment, Selective Service, Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle, Deserter, Theft of Government Property, Crime on Government Reservation, and Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property, when certain provisions are met. In order to alleviate critical space situations in most field offices, and to provide for a more uniform program, a proposed five-year file destruction program in auxiliary offices was submitted to 19 field offices representative of each grouping. These offices were requested to furnish anticipated savings in space and equipment, as well as any disadvantages, in the event the proposed program was adopted. Eighteen of the 19 offices which were surveyed, advised there would be an immediate total saving of 6,859 linear feet of filing space, or an average of 381 linear feet per office. This saving is equivalent to 18 seven-shelf filing units per office. The major disadvantage was the clerical manpower required to accomplish the program, principally in the forwarding of FD-302s (interview report form) and evidentiary material to offices of origin when the files are destroyed. Based on the results of the survey, and in working with the Inspection Division, it would appear that clerical manpower time could be substantially reduced by retaining FD-302s and evidentiary material in the office where the file was destroyed, and by retaining index cards and file fronts with the identity of the office of origin thereon for reference purposes, if needed. The Training Division feels that existing file destruction regulations could be incorporated with the proposed program without impairing our investigative operations. The proposed destruction program would be in compliance with regulations of the National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration.

Memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr
Re: Destruction of Files and Records
in Auxiliary Offices

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That files in 62 nonsecurity classifications (see attached list) be destroyed in auxiliary offices when five years old, unless the office is the office of prosecution, or the office feels it necessary to retain the file. The responsibility for the destruction of files would rest with Agent supervisory personnel.

(2) That Classification 91, Bank Robbery Matters, be included in the proposed list of files to be destroyed when five years old.

(3) That file fronts with the identity of the office of origin noted thereon be retained for reference purposes.
WHEN FILES ARE DESTROYED

(4) That index cards, original FD-302s, signed statements, and evidentiary material be retained in auxiliary offices when files are destroyed.
FORM

Memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr
Re: Destruction of Files and Records
in Auxiliary Offices

DETAILS

The Manual of Rules and Regulations currently permits auxiliary offices to destroy files in Classification 26, Interstate Transportation of Motor Vehicle or Aircraft, when ten years old unless the files relate to: 1- cases of an important nature; cases having many ramifications; or 3- cases where the office is the office of prosecution. Signed statements are forwarded to the office of origin at the time the files are destroyed.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations also permits auxiliary offices to destroy files in the following classifications when five years old, unless they relate to cases of an important nature or to cases having many ramifications:

Classification 25, Selective Service Act:

1 - Zero files and the index cards relating thereto.

2 - Files in which investigation disclosed delinquency was not willful including files in which the U. S. Attorney has ruled registration fictitious, and the index cards relating thereto.

3 - Files in which the office is not the office of prosecution, and the index cards relating thereto.

Classification 42, Deserter, and the index cards relating thereto:

1 - File does not pertain to a deserter who has been involved in some other criminal activity or activity where the Bureau would be obligated to disseminate information to another agency.

2 - Stops are not outstanding.

Unknown subject files in Classification 15, Theft from Interstate Shipment; Classification 26, Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle or Aircraft; Classification 52, Theft of Government Property Matters; Classification 70, Crime on Government Reservation Matters; and Classification 87, Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property:

1 - Stops are not outstanding.

2 - A capital offense is not involved.

3 - The file contains no information of an intelligence type, useful on a continuing basis.

4 - The file contains no signed statements obtained from witnesses.

The majority of files in other nonsecurity classifications are retained for 20 years, in both the offices of origin and auxiliary offices.

In order to develop a workable solution to the problem of reducing our records volume in the field, without impairing the efficiency of our investigative operations, the Training Division feels that consideration should be given to a five-year uniform destruction program in 61 nonsecurity classifications (see attached list) in auxiliary offices. Under the proposed destruction program, index cards would be retained under existing regulations for reference purposes after the files had been destroyed. Initially it was felt that the original FD-302s, signed statements, and evidentiary material should be forwarded to the office of origin at the time of the file destruction.

In order to accomplish the five-year destruction program, it would be necessary for a careful review of each file by the Agent supervisor when pulled on tickler, after the case had been referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC). If the supervisor was of the opinion that the file would be of no value after five years, he would stamp the last serial with instructions to destroy five years from the RUC posting date, and affix his initials for authorization purposes.

The Chief Clerk's Office (CCO), in reviewing files for destruction, would destroy those files bearing the stamp on the most recent serial. In those instances where communications were received subsequent to the RUC date, and no destruction stamp appeared thereon, it would be necessary for the CCO to bring these files to the attention of the Agent supervisor for final determination. The identity of the offices of origin would be listed on the file fronts, which are retained under existing regulations. In this manner, a cross reference could be made between the index card and the file front in the event the office of origin had to be contacted for reference purposes after the file had been destroyed.

Memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr
Re: Destruction of Files and Records
in Auxiliary Offices

To determine the feasibility of the proposed file destruction program as set forth above, a survey was conducted in 19 field offices from all groupings. These offices were requested to study the proposal and furnish data concerning the saving in space and equipment, anticipated advantages and disadvantages to the proposal, recommendations for insuring that index cards would be destroyed at the proper time, and comments that would further streamline the file destruction program.

An analysis of the data furnished by the 19 field offices revealed that the major advantage to the proposal would be the substantial saving in space and equipment. Eighteen of the 19 offices which were surveyed stated that there would be a total saving of 6,859 linear feet, or an average of 381 linear feet per office, if the proposal was adopted. This saving is the equivalent of 18 seven-shelf open filing units per office. Although each office did not specify the annual saving thereafter, several offices indicated there would be a considerable saving in space each year, and that the proposal would eliminate the need to request additional filing equipment in the foreseeable future.

The majority of those offices surveyed thought the major disadvantage would be the clerical time required to implement the program, which could offset the savings in space and equipment. The most time consuming factor would be the need to forward original FD-302s, signed statements, and evidentiary material to the offices of origin when files are destroyed, and the time required to file this material in the proper files once received in the offices of origin.

In addition to the manpower aspect, these offices furnished the following disadvantages to the proposed file destruction program:

1 - Additional time would be required to insert destruction notations on index cards.

2 - In some instances, due to the lack of identifying information on the index cards, it would virtually be impossible to determine if name check references were identical with subjects or references in files destroyed

3 - The stamping and initialing of the top serial in file would place an additional burden on the Special Agent Supervisor.

4 - By having the Special Agent Supervisor review each file on tickler for destruction purposes, there would be a delay in the return of files to the Chief Clerk's Office, which would result in an increase in loose serials in folders, and an increase in the amount of unmatched new mail.

5 - The additional time and cost required to correspond with the offices of origin for reference material, if needed, subsequent to the destruction of files.

6 - The additional costs, in some instances, to send original FD-302s, signed statements, and evidence by Registered Mail.

7 - The time required to "break down" consolidated volumes to destroy files of no further value, and the time required to reconstruct the consolidated volumes to retain files of a continuing value.

8 - The additional time that would be required to implement a sound, uniform destruction program to insure that index cards were destroyed in 10 or 20 years after the files had been destroyed.

The results of the survey were discussed with the Inspection Division, who suggested that the disadvantages to the proposal, which were submitted by the field, could be substantially reduced by the following means:

1 - Retain original FD-302s, signed statements, and evidentiary material in the auxiliary offices where the files are destroyed. This would eliminate the need for clerical personnel to forward this material to the offices of origin, and also the necessity to file this material in proper files once received in the offices of origin.

2 - That no file destruction notations be placed on index cards in auxiliary offices. The indices cards could be destroyed as encountered in 20 years.

3 - That the necessity of contacting the office of origin in name check references would be infrequent inasmuch as there is little indexing in these types of cases in auxiliary offices, and auxiliary offices rarely get pertinent positive name checks in these classifications.

4 - That Classification 91, Bank Robbery Matters, be included on the list of files to be destroyed in five years.

The Training Division concurs with the suggestions of the Inspection Division, and feels that a sound, uniform file destruction program could be implemented in auxiliary offices, without impairing our investigative operations, as follows:

1 - That files in 62 nonsecurity classifications (see attached list; Bank Robbery Matters included) be destroyed in auxiliary offices when five years old unless the office is office of prosecution, or the office feels it necessary to retain the file. The responsibility for the destruction of files would rest with Agent supervisory personnel.

2 - That index cards be retained for 20 years, and then destroyed as encountered.

3 - That original FD-302s, signed statements, and evidentiary material be retained in the auxiliary offices where the files are destroyed.

4.- That file fronts be retained, with the identity of the office of origin inserted thereon, for reference purposes.

The Files and Communications Division advised that the proposed file destruction program would be in compliance with existing regulations of the National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration.

SUGGESTION: That files in UFAP matters (88 classification) be destroyed in auxiliary offices one year or three years at most after auxiliary office has been advised of apprehension, process dismissed, or death of subject which is done in most instances through the cancellation of the Identification Order (IO). In addition, proposes consideration be given to having office of origin (OO) advise offices which have files on subject of the apprehension, etc., of subjects where IOs have not been issued so that these files could also be destroyed within the period set out above. Files in office of apprehension and OO to be retained under the present 20-year rule. From a review of several UFAP files in Philadelphia when it has been an auxiliary office, [redacted] there has been no activity whatsoever once the UFAP subject has been apprehended by some other division yet file must be retained for 20 years.

CURRENT PRACTICE: UFAP files must be retained for 20 years before destruction according to regulations at present time.

ADVANTAGES: The suggester states he estimates a saving of one-third of valuable filing space in the closed files section in this office with considerable amounts in all other field offices. Philadelphia has 147 lineal feet of shelf filing used by closed UFAP files. He estimates this would be reduced to 98 lineal feet if the idea is approved.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Jamieson, Philadelphia, stated the idea is practical and he recommended it be given favorable consideration. Special Investigative Division noted present rules for destruction of general criminal files, including UFAP cases in auxiliary offices, is after 20 years. The Selective Service and Deserter files in auxiliary offices may be destroyed after five years. Due to the likelihood of a fugitive felon again becoming involved in criminal activity, this Division felt destroying such files as proposed could well create more cost in interoffice communications and file reconstruction than would be saved by the space involved. If approved, it would still be necessary to retain index cards in auxiliary offices. This, of course, could well lead to a very high rate of instances wherein a request would need to be made of other offices when the same name is searched in the field office indices. It would also appear the same idea for earlier destruction of files could as well be applied to other classifications. This Division recommended against adoption of the suggestion as submitted but recommended that auxiliary offices be authorized to destroy UFAP files 10 years after a case is concluded.

Training Division wishes to point out that, while this idea was being considered by the interested divisions, a memorandum from Mr. Jenkins to Mr. Casper, dated 4/9/70, captioned, "Destruction of Criminal and Applicant Files in Field Offices Where Such Offices are Auxiliary Offices," was written and approved. This memorandum recommended that Mr. [redacted] Chief Clerk's Desk, make a survey and study of all criminal and applicant classifications to determine if the destruction of these files in auxiliary offices could be speeded up due to space problems, etc., in our field offices. Due to this action, Training Division feels final action on the current idea should be held in abeyance awaiting the results of this survey. It is proposed that a six-month deadline be set for the receipt of these observations and recommendations.

b7C

Let's see where we are in about 3 mos. Jan.

RECOMMENDATION:

That final action with regard to the current suggestion be held in abeyance pending receipt of the results of the survey being conducted by the Chief Clerk's Desk, Training Division. He has been thanked by prior letter.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

Destruction Of Bureau Records

Part II, Section 3D, Item 8b, page 13a, should be amended to read as follows:

b. Zero files may be destroyed in accordance with regulations governing the destruction of substantive files of a given classification in the office of origin.

Part II, Section 3D, Item 8c-(1), page 13a, should be deleted.

Part II, Section 3D, Item 8d, page 13a, should be amended to read as follows:

d. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old if certain conditions are met. The conditions are set out after the classification. Files representing cases of an important nature or cases having many ramifications should not be destroyed merely because they are five years old. Agent supervisory personnel are responsible for authorizing the destruction of files. If there is any doubt, consult the Bureau. Show reason for destruction on the file fronts, including consolidated volumes, beneath the file number(s) (see example in item c above).

Part II, Section 3D, Item 8d, page 13a, should be amended by adding the following new material as Item (4):

(4) Classifications 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 15, 17, 18, 26, 27, 28, 29, 31, 36, 39, 40, 43, 44, 45, 47, 49, 50, 51, 52, 54, 56, 58, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 78, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 93, 103, 114, 115, 119, 125, 139, 141, 142, 146, 148, 149, 152, 153, 154, 160, 164, 167, 178

GENERAL SUGGESTION 744-70 SUBMITTED

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4 [illegible]

Employee submitted suggestion that unknown subject case files, index cards and abstracts in the 98 (Sabotage) and 149 (Destruction of Aircraft or Motor Vehicle) classification, over ten years old be destroyed. It is estimated that approximately 10,000 index cards and a like number of abstracts together with fifteen 6-drawer cabinets of files can be purged. Suggestion was approved based upon memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr, 5-20-70, with the provision that permission be obtained from Archives for destruction of this material.

On 8-5-70, Mr. John W. Adler, Acting Assistant Attorney General for Administration, advised that the Archivist of the United States had approved the disposal of these records in accordance with the provisions of public law 91-287. Case files, index cards and abstracts over ten years old in which the subject was not identified, can now be destroyed in the 98 and 149 classifications.

A survey reveals that fifteen 6-drawer, letter size file cabinets can be reclaimed upon destruction of case file material in the approved classifications. These cabinets cost $83 each and therefore this suggestion represents a savings to the Government of $1245. Also 18 index card drawers can be reclaimed and therefore represent an additional savings of $192 for a total of $1437. In view of the amount of savings involved and since Miss [redacted] alertness and keen interest were responsible for the submission of this suggestion, it is felt she should receive a cash award commensurate with the amount of savings involved.

ADDENDUM OF THE TRAINING DIVISION, ML:das, 8/28/70

While Archival approval has been granted for the destruction of the material mentioned in the foregoing memorandum when it is over ten years old, the matter of the disposition of such material in numerous classifications when five years have elapsed was discussed on 8/26/70 at the Executives Conference. It was decided that Assistant Director Felt, Inspection Divison, should look into this matter. Since this would have a bearing on the savings involved, it is felt this idea should be held in abeyance pending the results of the above-mentioned action.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That final action regarding this suggestion be held in abeyance pending Mr. Felt's findings in this matter. The suggester has been thanked by prior letter.

(2) On approval, the Suggestion Desk, Training Division, should be advised of the final decision made regarding the disposition of such material.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS
SUGGESTION 746-70 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] FILES b6
AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION b7C

Employee submitted suggestion that files in the 40 classification (Passport and Visa Matters), which occupy over 70 five-drawer cabinets consisting of over 86,000 files, be destroyed together with abstracts and index cards relating thereto. Suggestion was approved based upon J. J. Casper memorandum to Mr. Mohr dated 5-14-70 with the provisions that permission be obtained from Archives for destruction of this material.

On 8-5-70, Mr. John W. Adler, Acting Assistant Attorney General for Administration advised that the Archivist of the United States had approved the disposal of these records in accordance with the provisions of public law 91-287. Files, index cards and abstracts over ten years old containing no derogatory information and concerning which no investigation was conducted by the Bureau, can now be destroyed in the 40 classification pursuant to Archival approval.

A survey reveals that 70 five-drawer letter-size file cabinets can be reclaimed upon destruction of the material authorized in the 40 classification. These cabinets cost $59 each and, therefore, represent a savings to the Government of $4,130 inasmuch as this badly needed space can be reclaimed for filing purposes, thereby eliminating the necessity of purchasing this number of new cabinets to meet the needs of the Files and Communications Division. In view of the substantial amount of savings involved, and since Mr. [redacted] resourcefulness, keen interest and observation were responsible for originating this suggestion, it is felt that he should receive an incentive award commensurate with the savings involved. b6 b7C

Since approval has now been granted for the disposition of the material as outlined in the foregoing memorandum, the Training Division agrees that the saving to be realized from this procedure warrants recognition for the suggester. Based on the estimated annual saving of $4,130, Mr. [redacted] could be granted an incentive award of $260. This is in line with the current scale for such awards.

SUBJECT: Alien Applicants General (96-0) ~~X~~ Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen'l

Loyalty and character investigations

By memo 6-7-67, from L. E. Short to Mr. Tavel, it was recommended that captioned file consisting of 791 Sections and 63,818 serials be deindexed and that deindexed serials be destroyed. Majority of serials were name check-type requests. General Investigative, Special Investigative and Domestic Intelligence Divisions approved deindexing and destruction of serials although Domestic Intelligence Division pointed out that results of loyalty and character investigations by Provost Marshal General's Office contained in file should be retained as they contained background material and derogatory data of potential value.

We have deindexed and destroyed approved material in this file and find that approximately 30,000 copies of investigations made by Provost Marshal General's Office remain in file. It is estimated that there are 50-60 thousand index cards on these reports.

Memo from Paul F. Kriethe, Jr., to Mr. Cunningham, dated 8-28-42, reveals that Kriethe contacted Provost Marshal General's Office to determine why copies of reports of investigations of aliens employed in National Defense Plants during World War II were being furnished to Bureau. Provost Marshal General's Office stated they had been forwarded as they thought Bureau desired information for its files. Attached to this memo is routing slip advising Kriethe that "KRAMER (R. P.) says we should take everything we can get." By letter dated 11-23-42, to Military Intelligence Service, War Department, Bureau requested that arrangements be made for Bureau to receive copies of all investigative reports of this nature rather than only those which were furnished to the military intelligence services.

Deindexing and Destruction

Review of these reports reveals that approximately 85% contain conclusion by military that there was no reason to question loyalty of individual.

As we merely filed these copies for information purposes we can safely deindex those which do not contain derogatory information. As copies of reports are "Records" as defined by Federal Records Act of 1950, Archival authority will be necessary for destruction of deindexed copies.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That deindexing of copies of reports, which do not contain derogatory information, be approved.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

By letter dated 8-18-70, Mr. Nathan D. Dick, Acting Director of Security, Office of the Secretary, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, advised they have some FBI investigative reports previously disseminated to them for which they have no continuing need. Mr. Dick inquired concerning proper disposition of these reports. He also inquired, if they dispose of these reports and at some future date need reports in an individual case, would Bureau furnish them copies.

We have received numerous similar requests from other agencies concerning disposition of FBI reports and have interposed no objection to destruction of Bureau material providing it is destroyed in accordance with provisions contained in Executive Order 10501 as amended, which requires that destruction be by burning or an equally complete method of destruction. It is felt we should take same position in this instance and should also advise Health, Education, and Welfare that, if they need copies of reports in individual cases at a later date, they should submit an appropriate request to the Bureau. There is attached hereto an appropriate letter to Mr. Dick setting forth above information.

RECOMMENDATION:

That attached letter be approved and forwarded.

SUBJECT: PRISONER OF WAR FILE
IDENTIFICATION MATTER
Destruction of Bureau Records General

The Identification Division has maintained the prisoner of war fingerprint file since its inception during World War II. The file contains the fingerprint cards of approximately 358,000 German, Italian and Japanese prisoners of war who were subsequently repatriated. The fingerprint cards are housed in 37 file cabinets and the corresponding index cards in five cabinets. This is an inactive file and serves no useful purpose. It is noted that a limited number of prisoners escaped from custody while in the United States and those cases were investigated by the FBI. The fingerprints of these prisoners were removed from the prisoner of war file following their escape and placed in our regular files where they are still maintained and are not considered part of the prisoner of war file.

In view of the inactive nature of this file which represents persons no longer in the United States and the need for space in the Identification Building, it is felt that this file should now be destroyed.

Instructions in Manual of Rules and Regulations regarding destruction of index cards when they are over five years old be changed to include not only numbers, but such stolen items as clothing, jewelry, tires, whisky, etc. (any items particularly in 15 and 87 Unsub cases). The present rules regarding any stops placed would still remain in effect.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-4-82 BY SP4CLW Cal

In connection with our Records Management Program, a continuous review of Bulky Exhibits is being made for disposal purposes in order that Bulky Exhibits material which no longer has any useful or historical value can be destroyed. In addition, we presently maintain 32 cabinets of enclosures which relate to non-subversive microfilmed case files over ten years old in the Filing Unit of the Files and Communications Division.

Special Agent [redacted], Files and Communications Division, has suggested that consideration be given to the disposal of these 32 cabinets of enclosures inasmuch as they relate to non-subversive case files, all of which files have been microfilmed. He points out that the statute of limitations has expired in each case and that without exception these enclosures contain non-pertinent material such as photographs, negatives, photostats and in some instances rough draft work sheets relating to Laboratory examinations performed. All information contained in the related case files, including the original Laboratory reports, has already been placed on microfilm and therefore these enclosures have ceased to have any historical, investigative and intelligence value. The destruction of this material will provide for the recovery of additional badly needed space. Archival authority for the disposal of these items will not be necessary inasmuch as these enclosures do not contain original records. Special Agent [redacted] further advised that a 90 day survey reveals that no requests were received for the review of subject matter in these enclosures, and very limited indexing was performed when these enclosures were prepared. He suggests that consideration be given to the disposal of this material and that related index cards likewise be destroyed in order to provide for the recovery of space needed for expansion purposes in the Records Branch. b6 b7C

The Files and Communications Division agrees with SA [redacted] observations and suggestion and recommends the destruction of this material. b6 b7C

INSTRUCTIONS

General Instructions: Use Standard Forms 115 and 115a, obtainable from Supply Centers of the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, to obtain authority to dispose of records. Submit four copies, all of which should be signed and dated, to the National Archives and Records Service. Indicate the number of pages involved in the disposal request under entry 6. Copy 4 of the standard form will be returned to the agency as notification that Congress has authorized disposal of the items marked "approved."

Specific Instructions:

Entries 1, 2, and 3 should show what agency has custody of the records that are identified on the form, and should contain the name of the department or independent agency, and its major and minor subdivisions.

Entries 4 and 5 should help identify and locate the person to whom inquiries regarding the records should be directed.

Entry 6 should show what kind of authorization is requested. Only one of two kinds of authorizations may be requested on a particular form.

Box A should be marked if immediate disposal is to be made of past accumulations of records, and the completed form thus marked is a list.

Box B should be marked if records that have accumulated or will continue to accumulate are to be disposed of at some definite future time or periodically at stated intervals, or if disposal is to be made of microphotographed records after it has been ascertained that the microfilm copies were made in accordance with the standards prescribed in GSA Regulations 3–IV–105; and the completed form thus marked is a schedule.

Entry 7 should contain the numbers of the items of records identified on the form in sequence, i. e., 1, 2, 3, 4, etc.

Entry 8 should show what records are proposed for disposal.

Center headings should indicate what office's records are involved if all records described on the form are not those of the same office or if they are records created by another office or agency.

An identification should be provided of the types of records involved if they are other than textual records, for example, if they are photographic records, sound recordings, or cartographic records.

An itemization and accurate identification should be provided of the series of records that are proposed for disposal. Each series should comprise the largest practical grouping of separately organized and logically related materials that can be treated as a single unit for purposes of disposal. Component parts of a series may be listed separately if numbered consecutively as 1a, 1b, etc., under the general series entry.

A statement should be provided showing when the records were produced or when disposal is to be made of the records, thus:

If Box A under entry 6 was marked, the inclusive dates during which the records were produced should be stated.

If Box B under entry 6 was marked, the period of retention should be stated. The retention period may be expressed in terms of years, months, etc., or in terms of future actions or events. A future action or event that is to determine the retention period must be objective and definite. If disposal of the records is contingent upon their being microfilmed, the retention period should read: "Until ascertained that microphotographic copies have been made in accordance with GSA Regulations 3–IV–105 and are adequate substitutes for the paper records."

Entry 9 should show what samples of records were submitted for each item, or with what job number such samples were previously submitted. Samples of types of records other than textual and cartographic records should not be submitted.

Entry 10 should be left blank.

Dear Mrs. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that a form which you designed be approved for use in recording data in connection with the disposition of certain files. Consideration has been afforded this proposal and it has been decided a form is not needed for this purpose since the desired information as set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations may be entered on the file front of the consolidated volume.

The interest which led you to submit your idea to me is indeed appreciated.

When files are consolidated, the fronts are not retained according to present instructions. The only front which will be needed is the one to be used on the consolidated volume. When files are destroyed under the circumstances as mentioned in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13b, the reason for destruction is placed on the file fronts or on the consolidated volume front cover with file numbers and offices of origin. There is no need under this latest rule to retain file fronts in each instance as mentioned by the suggester.

NOTE: In connection with destruction of files, suggests attached form be used for recording office file number as well as other data which might be pertinent in the event it was necessary to contact Bureau or office of origin for background information regarding an individual whose file has been purged.

This has been discussed with the Chief Clerk's Desk and there is no good reason for adopting a new form for this purpose. Files numbers of files being purged along with office of origin may be listed on front or back of file front of consolidated volume. This is necessary for reference purposes in auxiliary offices since no notation is being placed on index cards regarding this information. These cards are to be maintained for 20 years and then destroyed as encountered. Training Division recommends idea not be approved.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate)

1) A numerical sequence of files destroyed would be readily available in connection with the destruction of index cards as encountered. Unless date file destroyed is indicated, it will be impossible to determine date index cards to be destroyed accurately.

2) It would not be necessary to transfer file numbers of those destroyed under the five-year rule when preparing the numerical list of files destroyed which is maintained at the beginning of each classification under the twenty-year old rule.

EMPLOYEE SUGGESTION [redacted] 9/8/70

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts):

Part II, Section 3, page 13, 8 a. "Files and records in field divisions may be destroyed after they become twenty years old...Keep at beginning each classification list of files destroyed. Do not retain file fronts."

Part II, Section 3, page 13 a, c - "Show reason for destruction on file front of consolidated volume beneath the file numbers."

Part II, Section 3, page 13b, particularly (4) - "Classifications 4, 6, 7.....167, 178." ....."Retain file fronts and show identity of office of origin thereon for reference purposes." This applies to files to be destroyed when five years old if certain conditions are met.

Advantages

3) In consolidated volumes where it is not necessary to retain file fronts, there is no great problem encountered in complying with instructions re destruction of files. However, the classifications listed in paragraph three above, file fronts were destroyed at the time files were consolidated, and it is necessary to prepare new file fronts to record data re office of origin for reference purposes. Since office of origin is to be recorded, its file number and Bureau file number might be helpful and time saving should it be necessary to obtain background data re subjects of matters where files destroyed.

4) It would appear that in consolidating files in classifications mentioned in paragraph three above, it would be necessary to retain file covers in each instance. File covers take up space, which is usually needed in closed files section, and the same information could be recorded on proposed form at time file destroyed. The date file destroyed would be an indication for reason for destruction since all classifications would fall in the five-year category other than the 67 classification and those files destroyed when 20 years old.

It is not possible to estimate annual savings of suggestion.

The Director September 18, 1970

The Executives Conference

CONSERVATION OF FILING SPACE

On September 18, 1970, the Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Beaver, Bishop, Callahan, Casper, Felt, Gale, Rosen, Sizoo (for Brennan), Tavel, Walters, and White (for Conrad) considered two proposals to conserve filing space at Seat of Government.

First proposal was for destruction of Seat of Government files, index cards, and abstracts after five years in unknown subject routine criminal cases except for kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, major cases, or retention specifically directed by supervisor. We have no current procedure to purge such files; however, after ten years they can be put on microfilm as personnel is available.

Survey conducted by Files and Communications Division reflects present rate of file expansion will completely exhaust capacity by January 1, 1972. If proposed destruction after five years is approved, date of reaching maximum file storage capacity would be extended to approximately January, 1973. The Conference was unanimous in favor of this proposal. If you approve, archival approval and coordinated destruction guidelines would be handled by Files and Communications Division.

Second proposal is to relieve field of responsibility of submitting reports to Bureau in routine unknown subject criminal type cases. This question was originally raised by Mr. Tolson, who recommended and the Director approved study and evaluation by Inspection Division.

EX-111 REC-47 64-3286-1062

Mr. Felt recommended adoption. He pointed out Manual of Rules and Regulations currently provides that in certain routine high-volume criminal categories such as Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle, Theft of Government Property, Crime on Government Reservations, et cetera, reports need not be submitted to Bureau for 90 days after receipt except in cases in which the loss amounts to $50,000 or more or unless some special reason exists such as major case, unusual public interest, or any other factor making it obvious Bureau should be advised. New proposal would give field option of not submitting reports to Bureau in routine unknown subject cases regardless of length of time case has been pending. Felt emphasized existing guidelines would be applied to insure Bureau would be advised when necessary.

10 OCT 16 1970

Mr. Tavel pointed out not only is it question of file space but clerical personnel have to file this material in the first place as well as destroy it after five years.

Mr. Rosen objects to the recommendation since it would be an additional step in the decentralization of control of cases at the Seat of Government (SOG) which produce the bulk of the Bureau's convictions. The requirement that a report be sent to Bureau after investigation has been pending 90 days gives some degree of control on the field at SOG to assure (1) unnecessary cases are not being worked in the field which should be closed; and (2) all cases including those involving unknown subjects are being given investigtive attention commensurate with the situation and in accordance with approved administrative procedures. Under the 90-day provision, the volume of reports in these specified categories has been reduced. However, if the 90-day rule is not applied to unknown subject cases there will be no SOG control to insure these cases are receiving adequate and appropriate investigative attention. Mr. Rosen strongly recommends there be no change in the current policy involving these categories that produce the bulk of the Bureau's convictions.

Mr. Felt advised there would be no significant dilution of supervision at Bureau or decentralization of control. On the contrary it would permit more attention to cases with prosecutive potential. Conviction potential of unknown subject cases within proposed guidelines is practically nil. Furthermore, this matter would be very closely checked into during inspections to insure unnecessary cases not being worked and all being given investigative attention. This would be little extra work for Inspectors current rules require copy of every memorandum closing any case on authority of SAC must be placed in control file for review during inspection. Unknown subject cases closed administratively after 90 days would be handled same way. Proposal is simple and logical extension of what we are already doing under the 90-day rule with resultant savings in personnel as well as filing space.

With exception of Mr. Rosen, all were in favor of adoption. If you approve, instruction to field will be handled by General Investigative Division.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

DESTRUCTION OF FILES, INDEX CARDS AND ABSTRACTS IN UNKNOWN SUBJECT THEFT FROM INTERSTATE SHIPMENT CASES AFTER TEN YEARS

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Sullivan, Mohr, Bishop, Brennan, Callahan, Conrad, Felt, Gale, Rosen, Tavel, McDaniel for Walters, Beaver, Soyars and Casper considered a suggestion of destroying files, index cards and abstracts in all unknown subject cases in the Theft From Interstate Shipment classification at the Seat of Government which have been open ten years or more.

It was explained that the suggester, a clerical employee formerly in the Files and Communications Division, pointed out there were 73 drawers of files in this category in the Records Division and he estimated that about one half of each drawer was made up of unknown subject cases. He estimated that purging of these files would provide additional filing space representing approximately 5,000 unknown subject cases. Space would also be gained in the Bureau indices by purging approximately 10,000 related index cards, as well as destroying abstracts in the Numbering and Service Units of the Files and Communications Division. He also suggested that in unknown subject cases in this classification on microfilm that they likewise be deindexed. He estimated that the space recovered in the Filing, Numbering, Service and General Index Units would be saved and expense for the purchasing of six additional filing cabinets would be saved.

EX-101

The Files and Communications Division favored the adoption of the suggestion pointing out that the Bureau and Archival authority had been obtained for destruction of unknown subject case material in Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle cases and Sabotage of Aircraft and Destruction of Aircraft and Motor Vehicle cases after they had been retained for the ten-year period. Similarly, Archival authority for destruction of this material would have to be obtained according to law.

The General Investigative and Inspection Divisions relative to this suggestion recommended that since the Statute of Limitations is five years, there was no need to maintain this material for more than five years and they recommended initially that this material be destroyed after it was maintained at the Seat of Government five years.

The General Investigative Division has since the receipt of this initial suggestion submitted two additional suggestions recommending that unknown subject cases in the Crime on Government Reservation and Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property statutes also be destroyed in five years.

Mr. Casper recommended that in all general crime-type cases with an unknown subject character we destroy the files, index cards and abstracts after the case is five years old except in Kidnaping, Extortion, Bank Robbery, Major Cases and those cases where specific authorization for retention is recommended by supervising official.

Mr. Tolson raised the question as to why the Bureau receives this material in these cases in the first instance. It was explained that in many instances, under the 90-day reporting rule, cases opened in the field under these categories are never sent to the Bureau, in that, they are closed upon the authority of the Special Agent in Charge. Those cases that remain open more than 90 days are submitted to the Bureau and reviewed by clerical reviewers and in some instances by Agent Supervisors in order to tie in an unknown subject case in one area with an unknown subject case in another area by similarity and modus operandi, etc.

Mr. Rosen objected to the broad application of the destruction of this material to all major crime cases with the exceptions noted until he had time for further study.

Mr. Mohr recommended that Mr. Felt look into the need for the Bureau being supplied with information in these unknown subject cases and also the possibility of applying the destruction of files, index cards and abstracts to unknown subject cases in all of the general crime categories with the exceptions previously noted. Mr. Tolson and the Conference concurred with this recommendation.

Executives Conference Memorandum to The Director
Re: Destruction of Files, Index Cards and Abstracts in Unknown Subject Theft From Interstate Shipment Cases after Ten Years

With the Director's approval, Assistant Director Felt will determine the need for the Bureau being furnished with mail in these unknown subject general crime cases and, secondly, will determine the feasibility of destroying the mail, index cards and abstracts in all general crimes classifications with the exceptions noted in the memorandum after they have been maintained at the Seat of Government for five years.

For the Conference

SUBJECT: CONSERVATION OF FILING SPACE SUGGESTION MATTER

b7C

Reference is made to the attached copy of an Executives Conference memorandum, regarding the disposition of Seat of Government files, index cards, and abstracts after five years in unknown subject routine criminal cases except for kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, major cases, or when retention is specifically directed by supervisor. The action recommended was the result of a survey made by the Inspection Division based on a former Executives Conference 8/26/70 wherein this matter was discussed by Mr. Casper due to suggestion 98-71 (submitted by [redacted], formerly of Files and Communications Division now assigned to Training Division) that files and related material in Theft from Interstate Shipment cases be destroyed after ten years. Views from interested divisions in this instance recommended the retention period of only five years.

Several months prior to the receipt of above idea, suggestion 744-70 from Miss [redacted] Files and Communications Division, had been received and processing was just being completed due to time needed to obtain Archival approval when the current matter was discussed at Executives Conference and approval was granted to hold action in abeyance pending the results of the survey. Her idea concerned the destruction of material in Sabotage and Destruction of Aircraft matters after ten years and a saving based on the ten-year time limit had been computed.

In addition, suggestion 112-71 made by SA John F. Hanlon, Jr., and suggestion 113-71 made by SA Donald T. Perrine, General Investigative Division, were received late in afternoon of day before this matter was to be discussed at the first-mentioned Executives Conference. These suggestions concerned disposition of files and related material in unknown subject cases regarding Crime on Government Reservation and Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property classifications, respectively. Approval was given to hold these two in abeyance pending the results of the survey also.

While Bureau has approved the destruction of such material in the majority of unknown subject routine criminal cases, Archival approval will not be received for some time. It is felt final action should not be taken until this approval has been received.

RECOMMENDATION: That action regarding the four suggestions mentioned above be held in abeyance pending the receipt of Archival approval for the proposed destruction of files and related material after five years. Each suggester's idea has been adknowledged by prior letter.

TO : The Director

DATE: September 18, 1970

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: CONSERVATION OF FILING SPACE

On September 18, 1970, the Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Beaver, Bishop, Callahan, Casper, Felt, Gale, Rosen, Sizoo (for Brennan), Tavel, Walters, and White (for Conrad) considered two proposals to conserve filing space at Seat of Government.

First proposal was for destruction of Seat of Government files, index cards, and abstracts after five years in unknown subject routine criminal cases except for kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, major cases, or retention specifically directed by supervisor. We have no current procedure to purge such files; however, after ten years they can be put on microfilm as personnel is available.

Survey conducted by Files and Communications Division reflects present rate of file expansion will completely exhaust capacity by January 1, 1972. If proposed destruction after five years is approved, date of reaching maximum file storage capacity would be extended to approximately January, 1973. The Conference was unanimous in favor of this proposal. If you approve, archival approval and coordinated destruction guidelines would be handled by Files and Communications Division.

Second proposal is to relieve field of responsibility of submitting reports to Bureau in routine unknown subject criminal type cases. This question was originally raised by Mr. Tolson, who recommended and the Director approved study and evaluation by Inspection Division.

Mr. Felt recommended adoption. He pointed out Manual of Rules and Regulations currently provides that in certain routine high-volume criminal categories such as Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle, Theft of Government Property, Crime on Government Reservations, et cetera, reports need not be submitted to Bureau for 90 days after receipt except in cases in which the loss amounts to $50,000 or more or unless some special reason exists such as major case, unusual public interest, or any other factor making it obvious Bureau should be advised. New proposal would give field option of not submitting reports to Bureau in routine unknown subject cases regardless of length of time case has been pending. Felt emphasized existing guidelines would be applied to insure Bureau would be advised when necessary.

Mr. Tavel pointed out not only is it question of file space but clerical personnel have to file this material in the first place as well as destroy it after five years.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS IN FIELD OFFICES

The Records Disposal Committee has made a review and tabulation of each non-subversive classification for purpose of determining the authorization to dispose of Bureau record material in the field offices. The authorized disposition of record material is set forth for each classification in the attached schedule.

This schedule has been prepared for utilization as a ready-reference in our Records Disposal Program.

Destruction of Bureau Records

BULKY EXHIBITS
SUGGESTION 299-71 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted] b6 b7C
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SYNOPSIS

Suggests consideration be given to the disposal of 32 cabinets of enclosures which relate to nonsubversive microfilmed case files over ten years old. The statute of limitations has expired in each case and the enclosures contain material such as photographs, negatives, photostats and in some instances rough draft work sheets relating to Laboratory examinations performed. Since all information contained in the case files has been microfilmed, these enclosures have ceased to have any historical, investigative value. Archival authority is not required for this action since the enclosures do not contain original records. Further, suggests that any index cards pertaining to these enclosures be destroyed. This will provide for additional badly needed space in the Records Branch.

Files and Communications Division recommended approval. Laboratory Division agreed with the understanding that no major cases would be involved in the destruction.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted with the one exception as noted above and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester. His idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Files and Communications Division to take appropriate action.

DETAILS

SUGGESTION: In connection with the Records Management Program, a continuous review of bulky exhibits is made for disposal purposes in order that this material which is no longer useful or has any historical value can be destroyed. At present, there are 32 cabinets of enclosures which relate to nonsubversive microfilmed case files over ten years old in the Filing Unit of Files and Communications Division.

Suggests consideration be given to disposing of these 32 cabinets of enclosures inasmuch as they relate to nonsubversive files all of which have been placed on microfilm. The statute of limitations has expired in each case and without exception these enclosures contain nonpertinent material such as photographs, negatives, photostats and in some instances rough draft work sheets relating to Laboratory examinations performed. All of the information contained in the related case files, including the original Laboratory reports, has already been microfilmed and, therefore, these enclosures have ceased to have any historical, investigative and intelligence value. The destruction of this material will provide for the recovery of valuable needed space. Archival authority for the disposal of these items will not be necessary since these enclosures do not contain original records. A 90-day survey revealed that no requests were received for the review of subject matter in these enclosures and very limited indexing was performed when they were prepared. It is also proposed that the index cards pertaining to this material likewise be destroyed in order to provide for the recovery of space needed for expansion purposes in the Records Branch.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division agreed with the idea and recommended the destruction of this material. Laboratory Division did not oppose this action but stated it should be taken with the understanding that no major cases are involved in the destruction.

Since these divisions have no objection with the one exception mentioned by the Laboratory Division, Training Division agrees idea should be approved.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Your suggestion has been received that a form which you designed be approved for use in connection with the disposition of certain files under the five-year rule. As a matter of possible interest to you, similar proposals have been considered in the past and not adopted. It was decided a form was not needed for this purpose since the desired information as set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations may be entered on the file front of the consolidated volume.

I appreciate the interest and thoughtfulness which prompted you to submit your idea to me.

When files are destroyed under this rule the reason for destruction is placed on file fronts or on the consolidated volume front cover, front or back, with file numbers and offices of origin. This is necessary for reference purposes in auxiliary offices since no notation is being placed on index cards regarding this information. These cards are to be maintained for 20 years and then destroyed as encountered. Training Division recommends current idea not be approved.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that the attached form be adopted to recording certain information such as date file destroyed, office file number, Office of Origin and Office of Origin file number, title of case if 00 file number unknown, date file placed in RUC status, serial numbers of 302's and evidentiary material to be retained, space for supervisory personnel to initial when approving destruction of file as well as space for clerical employee to initial when destroying file. This form is necessary because all files that are five years old have been stripped and consolidated and do not have individual file fronts on which to record necessary information regarding 00 and 00 file number. The Supervisor could use this form to record the file number of files he wishes destroyed, (continued)

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

MRR, PART II, Section 3, Page 13 b, lists certain criminal classifications that may be destroyed when five years old if (Cont'd)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Form would make it possible to record certain necessary information as well as a record of supervisory approval of destruction. Recording the date file placed in an RUC status would make it possible to destroy form and any material retained when file RUC'D 20 years. Retaining page one of a communication containing a complete title will make it possible to purge index cards when file is 20 years old.

CONSOLIDATION AND PURGE OF CIVIL FINGERPRINT FILE
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Our civil fingerprint file serves as a repository for the fingerprints of United States Government employees, military personnel, aliens and those taken in connection with national defense positions and for personal identification. This file now contains more than 137,000,000 fingerprint cards and many are duplicates as a result of multiple fingerprinting in above categories. We propose to utilize the 274 employees requested in our 1972 fiscal year budget to consolidate and purge this file in the following manner:

(1) Destroy the fingerprints of individuals taken in connection with civilian national defense work during World War II. These non-Federal prints were submitted initially to determine whether or not the individuals had arrest records. This purpose has been served. The only justification for further retention of these prints would be in establishing identity in unknown deceased, amnesia victims or missing person cases. Such activity is practically nonexistent.

(2) Destroy the fingerprint cards of all individuals 75 years of age and older that were submitted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Civil Service Commission, and the Department of Defense.

(3) Consolidate the remaining fingerprint cards in file from the above agencies of individuals less than 75 years of age, keeping one set of fingerprints and destroying the duplicates. A record will be maintained of those destroyed, thereby preserving a history of prints submitted by United States Government agencies. It should be noted that the fingerprints of persons submitted by these agencies for illegal activities and those identified with an arrest record in our files are not involved in these proposals.

Honorable Melvin R. Laird
The Secretary of Defense
Washington, D. C. 20301

Dear Mr. Laird: Destruction of Property

Our civil fingerprint file now contains more than 137,000,000 fingerprint cards including some 44,000,000 sets of fingerprints submitted in connection with military service. There is duplication in the military submissions as a result of multiple enlistments and further duplication exists when former military personnel are fingerprinted in other civil matters, such as in connection with civilian employment with the United States Government. We are considering the following two proposals designed to enhance the searching efficiency of the civil fingerprint file and make available badly needed space for expansion purposes.

(1) Purge and destroy the fingerprints of individuals 75 years of age and older from this file.

(2) In instances where this file contains more than one set of fingerprints of individuals less than 75 years of age, that one set be retained and all duplicates destroyed.

In connection with proposal number two, we would always select the military fingerprint card for retention, thereby preserving a record of military prints submitted to us until the individual reaches the age of 75. Also we would retain a record of the duplicate military prints destroyed by means of entries on our index cards.

Your comments and concurrence with above proposals would be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover

SUBJECT: RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

The records holdings of the Bureau are increasing at a rate of approximately 400 six-drawer cabinets per year or 4800 linear feet per year. Our investigative and administrative files are presently maintained in 7693 cabinets which will provide for expansion through 1971. Additional space is not available for expansion purposes in our present location. It has therefore become imperative that steps be taken to further review and analyze our records holdings.

A records disposal committee consisting of three highly experienced and thoroughly knowledgeable employees of Records Branch has been formed for the purpose of performing research and analysis to identify records and material which no longer serve any useful or meaningful purpose from an intelligence, investigative, historical or source data basis. Procedures to be followed, involve reviewing a representative number of cases in each classification and pinpointing files or categories of files and material which can be recommended for destruction pursuant to Bureau and Archival approval. Additionally, excess copies, obsolete enclosure material, and exhibits will be identified and purging recommended where appropriate.

Findings of the committee will be submitted in appropriate memorandum form.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Filed

SUBJECT: CONSERVATION OF FILING SPACE
SUGGESTION MATTER

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated 10/8/70 referring to an Executives Conference memorandum dated 9/18/70 regarding the disposition of SOG files, index cards, and abstracts after five years in unknown subject routine criminal cases except for kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, major cases, or when retention is specifically directed by supervisor. The action recommended was the results of a survey made by the Inspection Division based on a former Executives Conference 8/26/70 wherein this matter was discussed by Mr. Casper due to a suggestion (98-71) submitted by [redacted] that files and related material in Theft from Interstate Shipment cases be destroyed after ten years. Prior to the receipt of this idea Miss [redacted] Files and Communications Division, had proposed the same action be taken with material in Sabotage and Destruction of Aircraft matters and Archival approval had just been received for this action when the matter was discussed at Executives Conference. Two suggestions, 112-71 by SA John F. Hanlon, Jr. and 113-71 by SA Donald T. Perrine, General Investigative Division were received late in afternoon of day before this matter was to be discussed at the first-mentioned Executives Conference. These ideas concerned the disposition of files and related material in unknown subject cases regarding Crime on Government Reservation and Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property classifications, respectively. Bureau approved the destruction of such material in the majority of unknown subject routine criminal cases and Archival approval has now been received for such destruction. In addition, the Inspection Division recommended and approval was granted for field not to submit reports to SOG in routine unknown subject cases regardless of length of time case has been pending. Unknown subject cases closed administratively after 90 days would be handled in same way.

Due to the modifications involved in the four suggestions and the extension of system to include most of the other criminal classifications, in addition to reports not being submitted in these cases, Training Division feels the four suggesters should be commended for these proposals since it would be virtually impossible to compile and grant any awards in an equitable manner.

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION MATERIAL STORED ON SEVENTH FLOOR IDENTIFICATION BUILDING

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

Annually, the material stored at the Identification Building is checked and recommendations made as to the disposition of older material. The current check has been made and the following is proposed:

1. Administrative Reports: We have been retaining the field monthly administrative reports for three fiscal years. It is suggested that those for the fiscal years 1966 and 1967 (July 1965 through June 1967) be removed and destroyed.

2. Copies of Procurement Bids: These are the Bureau's file copy. These are routine procurements, mostly for auto storage and repair contracts. The disposal period is six years for transactions of $2,500 and more, and three years for those under $2,500, after final payment. Since the records are not broken down into dollar categories for filing purposes, we follow the practice of holding all items longer than necessary -- about 8 years. It is suggested that those copies for the fiscal years 1957 - 1960 (July 1956 through June 1962) be destroyed at this time.

3. Bills of Lading: The disposal period is ten years. It is suggested we remove and destroy listing of shipments received in the stockroom for the calendar years 1957 through 1960 as well as memo copies of bills of lading for the same period.

FROM : J. J. Casper

SUBJECT: ~~DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS~~ GENERAL DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

During calendar year 1970, file destruction rules were streamlined in auxiliary offices to the extent that 62 non-security classifications could be destroyed five years after the cases were referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC). Prior to the approval of this destruction rule, 18 field offices were surveyed to determine the immediate savings in filing space and equipment in the event such a destruction procedure was placed into effect. The results of this survey disclosed an estimated immediate savings of 381 linear feet per office, which is equivalent to 18 seven-shelf filing units per office. An additional savings would be realized on an annual basis as this material becomes five years old.

Since the adoption of the above file destruction rules, the Inspection Division has closely followed the implementation of this rule throughout the field. The Inspection Division has enforced this rule to such an extent that there has been a curtailment of requests for additional space and equipment for the storage of closed files.

The Training and Inspection Divisions have studied existing file and serial retention rules in the field, and feel the following procedures could be placed into effect consistent with good records management: Retain only cover and/or synopsis page(s) of investigative reports in security matters in auxiliary offices, five years subsequent to the date cases were RUC'd. The remaining portions of the reports would be destroyed. Good judgment should be exercised in the destruction of this material, and reports representing cases of an important nature or cases which are considered to be of some value to the auxiliary office should not be destroyed merely because they are five years old. The responsibility for the destruction of this material would rest with the Agent supervisory personnel. Index cards would be retained under existing 20-year rule. In the event name checks made reference to destroyed material, the office of origin could be contacted and copies of reports or pages therefrom could be duplicated and furnished to the requesting office. A form could be designed to facilitate the transmission of this material.

50 AMR 13 1971

Declassified by SP2 RUS on 8-20-82 by SP2 RUS

Memorandum from J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr
Re: Destruction of Files and Records

To illustrate the potential of the proposed destruction rule, an on-the-spot analysis was made during the current Chicago Inspection and a partial survey disclosed that where Chicago was the auxiliary office in security organization matters, material representing approximately 50 to 60 file cabinet drawers could be destroyed if the proposed destruction rule was placed into effect.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division, General Investigative Division, Special Investigative Division, and Files and Communications Division for views and comments.

See D.I.D. addendum

ADDENDUM BY DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION GTT:pjc 3/4/71

Attached memorandum recommends that in security cases in auxiliary offices where cases have been referred upon completion to the office of origin, five or more years previously only cover and/or synopsis pages need be retained. This would not apply to cases of important nature or those deemed to be of some value to the auxiliary offices.

COMMENTS OF DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION:

This Division sees no objection to the attached recommendation. The procedure outlined above has been followed in 62 nonsecurity classifications and found to effect substantial savings of space without injuring investigative operations. Domestic Intelligence Division feels that the extention of this procedure to security cases would not seriously affect operations of this Division.

chr

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have been advised of the suggestion which you made while assigned to the Files and Communications Division regarding the disposition of certain material in connection with Theft from Interstate Shipment cases. This proposal is being evaluated and you will be advised of the final decision in this matter.

The interest and initiative which led you to give me the benefit of your thoughts on this matter are indeed appreciated.

COMMENTS OF GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION OLD:mlp 3/2/71

The General Investigative Division has not experienced any problems in criminal investigations resulting from the destruction of the 62 different classifications of non-security matters which are five years old by auxiliary offices which have referred such cases upon completion to office of origin, and, therefore, the General Investigative Division would not expect that destruction by auxiliary offices of security files which are five years old would create problems. The General Investigative Division has no objection to the adoption of this suggestion.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

#498-M1

Employee, while assigned to Filing Unit, suggested through the Files and Communications Division Streamlining Committee that the Bureau consider purging mail, index cards and abstracts on all unknown subject cases in the 15 Classification (Theft From Interstate Shipment), which have been open ten years or more. He noted there are 73 drawers of files in the TFIS category which have been opened ten years or more. He stated that spot checking indicated that about half of each drawer was made up of unknown subject cases. He estimated that purging these files would provide additional filing space representing approximately 5,000 unknown subject cases. Space would also be gained in the Bureau's indices by purging approximately 10,000 related index cards as well as destroying abstracts in the Numbering and Service Units. He further suggested that of the 34,000 cases in this classification on microfilm, that the unknown subject cases likewise be deindexed. He pointed out the files, abstracts and index cards are being retained even though the probability of their being used is nil. He noted the advantages of this suggestion would provide for the recovery of badly needed filing space in the Filing, Numbering, Service and General Index Units and would save the Bureau the expense of purchasing about six additional cabinets.

Officials of the Files and Communications Division and members of the Streamlining Committee favor adoption of this suggestion as same will provide for the recovery of valuable space as well as the removal of index cards, abstracts and corresponding case files which no longer serve any useful purpose.

Streamlining Committee Suggestion

Bureau and Archival authority have already been obtained for the destruction of unknown subject cases in Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle Cases and unknown subject Sabotage of Aircraft and Destruction of Aircraft or Motor Vehicle cases. A survey of unknown subject TFIS matters reveals that approximately 5,000 cases, equal to six 6-drawer cabinets, can be destroyed if this suggestion is adopted. The adoption of this suggestion however, will require Archival authority for the destruction of abstracts, index cards and investigative files.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. For referral to the Training Division, Attention Suggestion Desk.

2. That a copy of this suggestion be furnished the General Investigative Division for its recommendations, observations and comments.

3. That a copy of this suggestion be furnished the Inspection Division for its recommendations, observations and comments.

4. That if this suggestion is approved, the Files and Communications Division submit to National Archives through the Department of Justice, appropriate recommendations seeking approval for the destruction of aforementioned records.

SUGGESTION That the Manual of Rules & Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 13b, Sub. 4(a) be revised to provide for the rention of one (1) page of one (1) document (instead of file fronts) from files being destroyed when five (5) years old in those classifications enumerated in said Manual of Rules & Regulations, as previously referenced, dependent upon established limitations as to office of origin, office of prosecution, etc. This could be the 1st page of a report, airtel, teletype, letter, etc. In fact, it could be any correspondence indicating the office of origin and would be renumbered as serial #1 since it would be the only remaining page. It is further suggested that the revision provide that the saved correspondence have stamped thereon "DESTROYED" as a flag that only a single page remains of what was once a complete file. Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Retain file fronts and show identity of office of origin thereon for reference purposes. (Manual of Rules & Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 13b, Sub. 4(e).

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate)

Closed files must be consolidated each six (6) months per instructions in the Manual of Rules & Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 11b, Sub. 5b. See also MR&R, Part II, Section 3, Page 11b, Sub. 5d. Therefore, there are no file fronts upon which to record the office of origin for reference purposes. Some uniform system needs to be devised for the purpose of recording the office of origin for files in specific classifications slated for destruction under the five (5) year rule. This is true as the index cards are not to be destroyed until encountered when they reach the twenty (20) year mark. The office of origin could be recorded in the log maintained re destroyed files by classification. There are undoubtedly numerous other ways in which this could be

NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS
SUGGESTION 352-71 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] MEXICO CITY OFFICE

Reference is made to my memorandum to you with the above caption dated 12/9/70 wherein the suggestion was discussed with respect to authorizing the destruction of newspaper clippings in foreign offices when they are no longer needed to conserve space and keep volume of files within manageable levels. If needed at a later time, clipping could be obtained from the morgue of the newspaper involved. It was recommended and approved that the views of three other foreign offices be obtained regarding this matter.

These views have now been received. Bonn, Paris and Rome advised they have encountered no problem in this respect. Clippings which contain substantive information regarding case files are mounted, serialized into file, searched and indexed where appropriate. In certain foreign political and intelligence matters, once the information has been assimilated and included in a subsequent communication, these clippings are not filed but are used as work papers and destroyed when no longer of value. In general due to varying conditions with regard to clippings, it was believed the matter of which should be retained and which could be destroyed should be left to the discretion of supervisory personnel. The Inspection Division advises it feels this is the best way to handle this matter and that current rules are sufficiently broad to permit such a procedure without making any additional regulations in this regard. Training Division agrees.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact. His idea was acknowledged by prior letter.

SUBJECT: DESERTERS-SUPERVISION

GEN

Department of Army forwards Part 2 portion of DA Form 3545 to inform Bureau of return of military personnel to military control. Other branches of military services use discontinue letter. It is being recommended that only those communications on individuals who are identifiable as deserter fugitives be filed.

Deserter Unit, Special Invesitgative Division, searches each name to determine if pending case exists. If no pending case is located, communication is stamped "NRDI" (No Record, Deserter Index). It is then sent to NCIC and Identification Division. Appropriate searches are made by each to determine whether name of individual is listed. It is then sent to Records Branch to be filed. These communications are filed "not recorded" (no abstract prepared) in 42-0. Processing them is a problem for Records Branch as communications must be classified twice. After being initially classified communication is sent to General Index Unit. General Index employee searches name and if there is no 42 main file, communication is returned to Classifying Unit so that "subject" symbol can be changed to "cross reference" symbol. Communication is then sent to Numbering Unit for serializing and to Recording Unit for preparation of index card.

It is conservatively estimated that we are filing "NRDI" communications at rate of 75 per day or 19,500 annually. Searches in Deserter Index, NCIC, and Identification Division, should determine whether we have any interest in individual. If no record is found by any of these sections, communication should be destroyed and not filed. We are in effect filing negative information and the index cards only clutter up our index and make name searches more difficult.

The current rules are consistent with their intent. When files are consolidated, the fronts are not retained with the exception of the one which goes on the consolidated volume. When files are destroyed under the circumstances as mentioned in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13b, the reason for destruction is placed on the file fronts or on the consolidated volume front cover and the file numbers should be listed followed by the office of origin. This is necessary for reference purposes in auxiliary offices since no notation is being placed on index cards regarding this information. The use of one serial is not warranted for this purpose.

Further, suggests the revision provide that saved correspondence have stamped thereon "DESTROYED" as a flag that only a single page remains of what was once a complete file.

El Paso is evidently not interpreting this rule as it was intended. While files are consolidated after six months and file fronts are destroyed, there naturally would only be front of consolidated volume on which to place disposition of destroyed files with office of origin. Training Division recommends no further action regarding this matter.

SUGGESTION

Manual of ~~Instructions~~ RULES AND REGULATION, Part II, Section 3, Page 13c, identifies files and records which may be destroyed if more than three years old if certain conditions are met. The New York Office prepares a semi-annual report on the CP USA, a copy of which is sent to each office. Copies of these reports occupy approximately 12 linear feet of file space in each office. It is suggested that copies of these reports be destroyed after three years, if the office has no specific need to retain them longer.

GENERAL

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Semi-annual reports, which are 75 to 100 pages in length, are prepared by New York Office on national CP activities pursuant to SAC letter 70-33, dated 6/16/70. Prior to that time, quarterly reports were submitted.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

From a review of these reports, it appears the major purpose they serve is to provide recipient office with current picture of national CP activities. Pertinent local CP activities are reported by respective offices and consequently necessary indexing is handled in the district CP file rather than the national CP file. In offices having substantial CP activity, such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, it is conceivably worthwhile for historical purposes to retain these national CP reports for an extended period of time. (see attached)

Except for these few offices, it appears any value from these reports would be derived within three years and consequently these reports could be destroyed after three years with no loss of investigative assistance. The overall savings in file space would be approximately 650 linear feet - this is equivalent space for the closed files of a small office.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS — GENL
SUGGESTION 881-71 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted]

b7C

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13c, identifies files and records which may be destroyed if more than three years old if certain conditions are met. The New York Office prepares a semiannual report on the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), a copy of which is sent to each field office. Copies of these reports occupy approximately 12 linear feet of file space in each office. Suggests that copies of these reports be destroyed after three years, if the auxiliary office has no specific need to retain them longer.

These semiannual reports, which are 75 to 100 pages in length, are prepared by New York Office on national CP activities pursuant to SAC Letter 70-33 dated 6/16/70. Prior to that time, quarterly reports were submitted.

The suggester notes that from a review of these reports, it appears the major purpose they serve is to provide recipient office with current picture of national CP activities. Pertinent local CP activities are reported by respective offices and consequently necessary indexing is handled in the district CP file rather than the national CP file. In offices having substantial CP activity, such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, it is conceivably worthwhile for historical purposes to retain these national CP reports for an extended period of time. Except for these few offices, it appears any value from the reports would be derived within three years and consequently they could be destroyed after this period of time with no loss of investigative assistance. The overall saving in filing space would be approximately 650 linear feet - this is equivalent space for the closed files of a small office.

Domestic Intelligence Division had no objection to the idea and recommended approval. Since this Division feels the proposal has merit, Training Division can see no reason to object to this procedure.

(CHICAGO FILE 61-119)

In connection with Chicago's continuing program of destruction of files, the following is being set forth for Bureau consideration.

As the Bureau is aware, a Chicago panel source has been subscribing to the "Vilnis," pro-Soviet and communist Lithuanian language newspaper since January, 1954, and source has furnished these newspapers which have been placed in bulky exhibits for possible testimony if and when the need arose.

By mylet to Bureau 3/13/57, under "Vilnis" capt[ion], Chicago requested Bureau authorization to destroy copies of "Vilnis" over three years old since they were causing a storage problem. Bulet to Chicago 3/26/57, under same caption, Bureau gave authorization to destroy copies over three years old providing these newspapers were available at a public library. Chicago determined the newspapers were not available at a public library. Chicago has continued to maintain these exhibits as instructed by the Bureau. To date, these newspapers presently occupy 84 envelopes in bulky exhibits room taking up extensive space.

Since the inception of this program there has not been one occasion of need for source to testify to the subscription of this newspaper. It is further pointed out that the leaders of "Vilnis" are now in advanced years and there does not appear that prosecution would be brought against them under any existing federal statutes.

It is the opinion of the Chicago Office that retention of copies of the last three years of "Vilnis" would be sufficient and there is no apparent need to retain older copies of the "Vilnis". Chicago feels use of older issues in foreseeable future seems extremely remote.

Chicago requests Bureau authority to destroy old copies of "Vilnis" over three years old.

SUBJECT: PURGING OF PUBLICATIONS
RECORDS BRANCH
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION
Destruction of Bureau Property General

Memorandum Mr. Cotter to Mr. Brennan dated 6/11/71 (attached) submitted results of survey by Domestic Intelligence Division (DID) and recommendation for purging the files of old copies of publications which have been retained for intelligence purposes. The Director requested my recommendation.

I personally examined these publications, which now occupy over 200 five-drawer, legal size, file cabinets in the Identification Building. I also reviewed the list of those publications recommended for purging. I concur in DID's proposals. Much of the material is of questionable value at this time; also, the Library of Congress has much of the material. DID proposed retaining items of real historical value and any material which has been indexed. This will only amount to a few cabinets.

DID proposed saving the "Daily Worker" issues subsequent to 1950. The Library of Congress has bound copies of this newspaper so I feel we should retain only the last ten years. This will save 7 additional cabinets. DID concurs.

DID proposed retaining all copies of "Political Affairs." If we saved only 10 years, 1 additional file cabinet would be saved. DID concurs.

All in all, we will save approximately 180 cabinets of badly needed space in the Identification Building (1000 square feet). This is a very logical and desirable step to take.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That Files and Communications Division be authorized to proceed with purging proposed by DID.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Reference memorandum J. W. Marshall to Mr. Tavel 3/17/71 requesting Domestic Intelligence Division to critically review our current publications holdings with a view to reducing publications retained to those actually needed. This memorandum pointed out that over 200 5-drawer cabinets are currently tied up housing publications.

As time has permitted during the past several months, the Publications File has been thoroughly reviewed by knowledgeable personnel of Domestic Intelligence Division. It was determined that a number of cutbacks can be made to conserve file space. For example, a number of the publications now maintained consists of foreign-language material which has not even been translated and is not used in any way. A good deal of this was collected during World War II, much of it of German origin. In addition, we can eliminate a number of other publications which have no current value to the Bureau nor any foreseeable use, such as union periodicals, political journals, and propaganda material issued by foreign countries. In a number of instances we can retain recent issues (last 12 months) of publications which could be of reference value but eliminate outdated issues. This would apply to periodicals which are useful to our supervisory staff in staying abreast of current developments in the new left, racial or nationality fields but which have little or no permanent value, such as the "AFL-CIO News," or "Dissent." In the event back issues of these periodicals are ever required, they could most likely be secured either through the Library of Congress or the publishers.

Publications which have real historic value, such as early Communist Party material published in the U.S. during the early 1920s or before will be kept as well any material which is indexed (a very negligible fraction). Special mention should be made of the "Daily Worker" published by the Communist Party, USA, from 1924 to 1968. We have copies of all issues of this publication; however, they are not bound but instead are individually folded and filed separately in exhibit envelopes. Examination revealed that the older copies of this publication are in very bad shape and are frequently torn and badly frayed. The Library of Congress has a full set of these issues in bound form, and, in fact, when the Bureau has needed this publication for prosecutive purposes we have obtained certified copies from the Library of Congress. Accordingly, we do not believe it necessary to retain all of the older issues of this publication, but we will only keep those subsequent to 1950.

Inquiry of appropriate officials of the Library of Congress has disclosed that they are interested in receiving any publications the Bureau disposes of through the Exchange and Gift Division of the Library of Congress. This unit will review our publications and keep those of use.

ACTION: see serial 1076

The Records Branch is being separately furnished a detailed compilation of publications maintained in the Publications File with appropriate notations as to whether they should be retained or disposed of. Arrangements will be made to turn over to the Library of Congress those publications which are no longer of value to the Bureau.

RECORDS BRANCH, FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

0 Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Publications, consisting of newspapers, magazines, periodicals, pamphlets, booklets, books and other material are presently maintained in the Files and Communications Division for utilization as source and reference material, particularly by the Domestic Intelligence Division. Results of a survey presently being conducted indicates a substantial number of these publications is seldom utilized and therefore the attached compilation was made for the purpose of facilitating a review being performed by the Domestic Intelligence Division in an effort to purge those items which no longer possess any intelligence, historical or reference value. This material presently occupies 214 five-drawer legal size cabinets. It is necessary that a critical and thorough analysis and evaluation be made at this time in order to reduce our publications' holdings to a minimum commensurate with the needs of the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

see serial 1076

That the attached compilation of publications as presently maintained in the Files and Communications Division be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for appropriate analysis and review.

SUBJECT: PURGING OF PUBLICATIONS
RECORDS BRANCH
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

Destruction of Bureau Records - [illegible]

Referenced memorandum of W. M. Felt to Mr. Tolson 6-16-71 which advised that publications recommended for purging be examined by Mr. Felt and he concurred with Domestic Intelligence Division (DID) proposals that those publications so indicated be turned over to the Library of Congress, and that the remaining publications be retained in accordance with specific annotations appearing on the compilation of publications. Mr. Felt recommended that Files and Communications Division be authorized to proceed with the purging proposed by DID; that back copies of the "Daily Worker" be retained for ten years only; that back copies of "Political Affairs" be retained for ten years only; and that all extra copies of any retained publications be destroyed. These recommendations were approved by the Director.

Accordingly, on 6-28-71, Mr. Nathan Einhorn, Chief, Exchange and Gift Division, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., advised his agency was willing to accept delivery of publications being disposed of by the Bureau. He pointed out that he had no available means or the manpower at this time to arrange for the transfer of this material and, therefore, requested that delivery be made in four shipments, spaced about two weeks apart to allow for handling and processing by his office. He explained that sufficient space is not presently available to accommodate cabinets; therefore, it will be necessary for the publications to be placed in boxes.

He stated that any proposed schedule for delivery would be acceptable so long as the deliveries are spaced to allow for handling of the material. He advised that delivery arrangements should be made through Mr. [redacted] (extension 5310), Receiving and Routing Section, Library of Congress. He noted the material should be delivered to the truck receiving platform, street level, Library of Congress Annex, with at least a few hours' advance notification given to Mr. [redacted] He pointed out that Mr. [redacted] could explain the exact location and point of delivery. Mr. Einhorn concluded that it would be most acceptable to his agency if delivery of the boxed publications is completed within ninety days.

Transfer of publications approved in referenced memorandum will be effected through arrangements presently being made by the Administrative Division with the material being boxed by Files and Communications Division employees and other assistance being rendered by employees of this division where necessary. This transfer of publications will result in approximately 180 five-drawer filing cabinets being reclaimed for future use. This space is badly needed to provide for expansion purposes.

SUGGESTION 929-71 SUBMITTED BY [redacted] b6 b7C

WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE

Suggests the current procedure at WFO whereby results of negative record checks are handled by the "no number" system and the order letter to the Bureau is stamped with the results be extended to those cases where the results are set out in report form. Further, suggests this system be extended to include the reporting of credit and police checks on applicants and relatives when all results are negative but submission of results in report form is required. Proposes these files be destroyed after 60 to 120 days in accordance with the present practice of handling "no number" cases.

When a negative agency check is reported before the deadline, a stamp form is currently used which provides the Bureau with the necessary information to be included in the report of another office for dissemination to the interested agency. After the deadline when the investigative material developed to date has been disseminated to the interested agencies, WFO is required to prepare its negative checks in a form suitable for dissemination. In most cases in which credit and police agencies are checked, communications suitable for dissemination are prepared. In these instances, file numbers are assigned and files maintained under the regular destruction procedures.

This proposed procedure would provide a savings in preparation of file records and in the handling and storage of closed files. The record check unit of WFO applicant squads has been preparing an average of 10 reports a day in category. This system complies with the Bureau's expressed desire to extend s systems as stated in Bulet 1/24/68 captioned "Destruction of Bureau Property." It also would provide for the destruction of preexisting numbered files containing only negative record checks in Training Schools and FBI NA Applicants (1) and Departmental Applicant (77) classifications as approved by the Bureau 10/21/68.

This handling will in no way decrease accountability since the identity of the persons making the checks will be set out in the details of the report.

Inspection Division felt the system should be extended as proposed and Special Investigative Division had no objection to its adoption provided there is no change in submission of results of such record checks to the Bureau in form suitable for dissemination. Due to these observations, it is felt the idea should be approved for use by WFO.

SUBJECT: MEDBURG
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

PURPOSE: To advise you of the results of our efforts to identify Xerox Models 660 and 2400 machines used to copy stolen Media documents and request permission to destroy the copies obtained from suspect machines that did not show identifiable characteristic marks.

FACTS: During the investigation of the Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency burglary, examination of surfaced Xerox copies of stolen FBI documents revealed that specific markings were noted on some of the copies. It was determined that a Xerox Model 660 left a specific mark as did a Xerox Model 2400 machine and extensive efforts have been made to locate these two suspect machines. As of this date over 4,500 Xerox samples have been obtained and examined by the FBI Laboratory with negative results. These samples are currently being stored in the FBI Laboratory and no longer serve any useful purpose. Destruction of these samples would save space. The various field offices will maintain records as to the identities of Xerox machines examined.

ACTION: If approved, the FBI Laboratory will be advised to destroy the previously examined Xerox samples. This request was coordinated with SAC Roy K. Moore at Philadelphia and he has no objection to the destruction of these samples.

Reference my memorandum dated 7-1-71, advising that Library of Congress was willing to accept delivery of Bureau publications which no longer possess any historical, investigative or research value, and that arrangements have been made for delivery of these items.

On 9-13-71, final delivery of 98 boxes of publications was made to the Receiving and Routing Section of the Library of Congress. A previous delivery of 220 boxes of publications was made 7-27-71 for a total of 318 boxes. A total number of 186 five-drawer, legal size cabinets were reclaimed representing recovery of approximately one thousand square feet of badly needed space in the Records Branch in the Identification Building.

SUGGESTION

That file copies of name check requests now in Bureau file 62-5 (Name Checks) received prior to February, 1964, from [redacted] on which there was no record (NR), no identifiable information (NI) or no pertinent information (NP) be removed from file and destroyed after being deindexed, provided no derogatory information was submitted on the request received from [redacted]. These [redacted] name check requests are usually in letter form furnishing name, birth, b7D residence and other identifying data (samples on page 3). (62-5-17156 is sample of type to be retained because of derogatory information.)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate) Adoption of this suggestion would reclaim valuable filing space by eliminating numerous index cards in General Index Unit and considerably reduce the volume of file material in Bufile 62-5 in the Filing Unit of Files and Communications Division. There are 238 sections of Bufile 62-5 dated prior to February, 1964, to be reviewed. As an example, section 223 contains 45 serials of [redacted] name check requests (list of sample serials attached) of type covered by this suggestion and each request contains at least one name with seven of these requests having 25 names each. Adoption of this suggestion would also eliminate some file reviews and file locates.

requester. No copy is kept in Bufiles in the absence of any possible interest to Bureau. This practice with respect to [redacted] name check requests has been in effect since February, 1964. Suggestion involves [redacted] name check requests b7D submitted prior to February, 1964, when a duplicate copy (original) of such NR, NI or NP requests was filed and indexed in Bufile 62-5. The net effect of practice then was to make a record of the fact that the Bureau had no record, thus adding names to indices and serials to files that are of no benefit to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATIONS AND COMMENTS OF DIVISION HEAD

Favorable. This suggestion has merit and adoption is recommended. A similar purge of White House name check requests of this type was suggested by SA George H. Scatterday, 12-23-69, and approved by memorandum J. J. Casper to Mr. Mohr dated 1-9-70 (62-5-35303 and 62-5-35487). The views of General Investigative Division should be obtained concerning Miss [redacted] suggestion.

SUBJECT: NAME CHECKS
SUGGESTION 88-72 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted]
FILES & COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION CONFIDENTIAL b7D

Destruction of Bureau Property - Item

SUGGESTION: That file copies of name check requests now in Bureau file 62-5 (Name Checks) received prior to February, 1964, from [redacted] on which there was no record, no identifiable information or no pertinent information be removed from file and destroyed after being deindexed, provided no derogatory information was submitted on the request received from [redacted] These requests are usually in letter form furnishing name, birth, residence and other identifying data.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Present practice by Name Check Section, General Investigative Division, regarding these types of checks is to appropriately stamp the request and return to the requester. No copy is kept in our files in absence of any possible interest to Bureau. This practice has been in effect since 1964. This idea involves requests submitted prior to that time when a duplicate copy (original) of such requests was filed and indexed in Bufile 62-5. This "no record" material added names to indices and serials to file that are of no benefit to Bureau.

ADVANTAGES: Suggester advises we would reclaim valuable filing space by eliminating numerous index cards in General Index and volume of material in file. There are 238 sections of Bufile 62-5 dated prior to February, 1964, to be reviewed. As an example, section 223 contains 45 serials of [redacted] name check requests of this type and each one contains at least one name with seven of these requests having 25 names. Approval of this idea would also eliminate some file reviews and file locates.

DISADVANTAGES: None, except cost and employee time required to purge this material from file and cards from index.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division recommended approval of this proposal.

It is similar to other ideas made and adopted in the past and no disadvantages are apparent. This Division recommended adoption.

Training Division has no objection to such action.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising her of this fact. The idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Files and Communications Division to place the idea into effect.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS-DESERTER INQUIRIES

Recently it was approved (42-00-1528) that we discontinue filing notifications from armed forces advising of return of military personnel to military control unless individual had been subject of a deserter investigation, or had been listed as deserter in NCIC or Identification Division records. It was also approved that such material already in file be deindexed and destroyed. In connection with handling latter project, it has been observed that there are numerous communications from field requesting to be advised only if individual is wanted as a deserter-fugitive. Typical communication is one where field advised that mother of a girl believed boy her daughter was dating was a deserter. If individual was not listed in deserter index and if inquiry at appropriate branch of military revealed he had not been declared a deserter, communication was filed in Deserter-General, 42-0. An index card was prepared on individual's name. Various offices also have sent in list of names of possible deserters. These names were also indexed even though determination made individual was not a deserter.

It is estimated there are large number of names in 42-0 which have been indexed in this fashion, which have no contemporary value, and which can be purged while handling afore-mentioned project. Recent inquiries of this type should however, be temporarily retained as individual could have been absent without leave but not yet declared a deserter. Military could, after he has been absent in excess of 30 days, submit request for investigation to locate him. This field inquiry would contain information as to his recent whereabouts and it is felt inquiries should not be purged unless they are over six months old so that information would be available in event request received to locate him as a deserter. As these inquiries are in effect, "no

SUBJECT: PROPOSED STREAMLINING IN PREPARATION AND RETENTION OF BUREAU MATERIAL

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Reference is made to memorandum Casper to Mohr dated 6/24/71, captioned as above, setting forth the following five proposals regarding preparation and retention of Bureau material: (1) Mandatory destruction of channelizing memoranda following submission of reports or letterhead memorandum or when information is of no further value; (2) That only two copies of lengthy channelizing memorandum be prepared reporting material of interest to other offices allowing for additional copies to be prepared at the discretion of the receiving offices; (3) In view of modern duplicating equipment available throughout the field, that only one copy of investigative reports be prepared for the office of origin and/or auxiliary offices in the absence of a specific need for more; (4) That leads be set out by letter or airtel, particularly in major cases, rather than report if the complete report is not needed; (5) Include classifications relating to gambling categories to the new destruction rule which permits auxiliary offices to retain only cover and/or synopsis page(s) of investigative reports in security matters, five years subsequent to the date the cases were referred upon completion to the office of origin.

The suggestions proposed in referenced memorandum regarding the preparation and retention of Bureau material have considerable merit and would result in the saving of space. The General Investigative Division has no objection to those proposals, however, it is suggested that the option set forth in suggestion number four be stressed. To repeat, suggestion number four is "That leads be set out by letter or airtel, particularly in major cases, rather than report if the complete report is not needed" (emphasis added). It is felt that in many cases, the identity of which may be left to the reporting office, the lead covering office should have the

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

SYNOPSIS

There is a critical need for additional space and filing equipment in many of our field offices. The Inspection and Training Divisions have concentrated efforts to relieve this undesirable space situation and feel that further constructive streamlining of existing record retention rules could be accomplished as follows: 1) Mandatory destruction of channelizing memoranda following submission of reports or letterhead memorandum or when information is of no further value; 2) That only two copies of lengthy channelizing memorandum be prepared reporting material of interest to other offices allowing for additional copies to be prepared at the discretion of the receiving offices; 3) In view of modern duplicating equipment available throughout the field, that only one copy of investigative reports be prepared for the office of origin and/or auxiliary offices in the absence of a specific need for more; 4) That leads be set out by letter or airtel, particularly in major cases, rather than report if the complete report is not needed; 5) Include classifications relating to gambling categories to the new destruction rule which permits auxiliary offices to retain only cover and/or synopsis page(s) of investigative reports in security matters, five years subsequent to the date the cases were referred upon completion to the office of origin.

The Inspection Division has conducted in-depth studies and on-the-spot analysis and feel that the above proposals would have practical application throughout the field consistent with good records management. After analyzing these findings, the Training Division concurs.

Memorandum Casper to Mohr Re: Proposed Streamlining in Preparation and Retention of Bureau Material

DETAILS

In July, 1970, a file destruction program was implemented to allow auxiliary offices to destroy files in 62 nonsecurity classifications five years subsequent to the date cases were referred upon completion to office of origin, providing material was of no further value and was not evidentiary in nature. The Inspection Division has closely followed this destruction program. A very substantial savings in space and filing equipment has been accomplished throughout the field, with no adverse effects on sound field office administration.

There is a critical need for additional space and filing equipment in many of our field offices. The Inspection and Training Divisions have carefully analyzed existing retention rules, many of which were formulated prior to the advent of modern duplicating equipment which is now available throughout the field, and it is believed our current reporting requirements can be revised requiring fewer copies prepared benefiting the offices. The Inspection and Training Divisions have concentrated efforts to relieve this undesirable space situation and feel that constructive streamlining of existing record retention rules could be accomplished without impairing our investigative operations, as follows:

1. Make it mandatory that channelizing memoranda be destroyed following submission of reports or letterhead memorandum (LHM) or when information is of no value to the report or LHM. Current regulations instruct that channelizing memoranda in criminal cases and security cases may be destroyed following submission of reports or LHMs in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases. Channelizing memorandum in security cases may also be destroyed when they have not been included in a report or LHM because the information is of no value to the report or LHM.

2. That only one or two copies of lengthy channelizing memoranda be prepared reporting material of interest to other offices, and clearly indicate next to name of the receiving office the page containing information pertinent to that office and note on the cover page that distribution of material to the field office files is left to the discretion of the receiving office. Presently, copies of memoranda are usually prepared for each subject mentioned therein.

Frequently, individuals named merely attend a meeting and play no important role, and are merely identified in the lengthy channelizing memorandum. In addition to the preparation of a lengthy channelizing memorandum in such instances it is believed advantageous for the reporting office to attach a one page memorandum listing the names of all individuals who were merely in attendance and had no important function. This would greatly facilitate the handling of such information by the auxiliary office and drastically reduce unnecessary material to be filed.

3. In view of the modern duplicating equipment available throughout the field, that only one copy of investigative reports be prepared for the office of origin and/or auxiliary offices in the absence of a specific need for more. If leads are set out, adequate copies should be prepared. Under current regulations in the majority of our classifications, at least two copies of pending reports are prepared for the office of origin and the auxiliary offices regardless of their need. Classifications 62, 66 and 100 (individuals) require that three copies of reports be prepared for the office of origin and in most instances only one copy is needed. During the recent New York Inspection, the Inspection Division presented this proposal to the security supervisors of the New York Office and they unanimously agreed that it would be advantageous to reduce the preparation of reports to one copy in security matters in the absence of a specific need for additional copies.

4. That leads be set out by letter or airtel rather than report if the complete report is not essential. Frequently in major cases, lengthy reports are prepared and sent to many offices with general leads such as a request to contact all sources, to conduct credit and criminal checks, etc., when a brief letter would suffice. A study by the Inspection Division revealed that two copies of a 1-inch report to all offices is 10 feet of material to be stored, or the equivalent of one full five-drawer cabinet of material. Frequently reports are much thicker than 1 inch.

5. Include classifications relating to gambling categories to the new destruction rule which permits auxiliary offices to retain only cover and/or synopsis page(s) of investigative reports in security matters, five years subsequent to the date cases were RUC'd. The remaining portions of the reports are destroyed. Good judgment should be used in the destruction of this material, and reports representing cases of an important nature or cases which are considered to be of some value to the auxiliary office would not be destroyed merely because they are five years old, and index cards are retained under the existing 20-year rule for reference purposes.

The Inspection Division has conducted in-depth studies and on-the-spot analysis during recent field office inspections and felt that the above proposals would have practical application throughout the field consistent with good records management. After analyzing these findings, Training Division concurs.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records FILES AND RECORDS General
#649-71

Reference is made to memorandum Mr. Casper to Mr. Mohr, February 26, 1971. It is noted this communication advises of a file destruction survey with reference to 62 non-security type classifications which resulted in a file destruction rule permitting auxiliary offices to destroy all but the Synopsis of reports in cases five years or more old. The index cards are not destroyed and as a consequence, should there be any future need for the information destroyed, same can be promptly obtained from the office of origin.

The 62 non-security classifications surveyed did not include any of the gambling or criminal intelligence categories. It would appear that additional savings may be accomplished in applying the same file destruction rule to the gambling categories. It is therefore suggested that a survey be conducted by the Training and Inspection Divisions in a number of offices and the views obtained of appropriate field personnel looking toward the possible adoption of this same rule with respect to the following categories supervised by the Criminal Intelligence and Organized Crime Section of the Special Investigative Division:

92 - Anti-Racketeering (Criminal Intelligence)
143 - Interstate Transportation of Gambling Devices

SUBJECT: ~~X~~ DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS GENERAL

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

During calendar year 1970, file destruction rules were streamlined in auxiliary offices to the extent that 62 non-security classifications could be destroyed five years after the cases were referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC). Prior to the approval of this destruction rule, 18 field offices were surveyed to determine the immediate savings in filing space and equipment in the event such a destruction procedure was placed into effect. The results of this survey disclosed an estimated immediate savings of 381 linear feet per office, which is equivalent to 18 seven-shelf filing units per office. An additional savings would be realized on an annual basis as this material becomes five years old.

Since the adoption of the above file destruction rules, the Inspection Division has closely followed the implementation of this rule throughout the field. The Inspection Division has enforced this rule to such an extent that there has been a curtailment of requests for additional space and equipment for the storage of closed files.

The Training and Inspection Divisions have studied existing file and serial retention rules in the field, and feel the following procedures could be placed into effect consistent with good records management: Retain only cover and/or synopsis page(s) of investigative reports in security matters in auxiliary offices, five years subsequent to the date cases were RUC'd. The remaining portions of the reports would be destroyed. Good judgment should be exercised in the destruction of this material, and reports representing cases of an important nature or cases which are considered to be of some value to the auxiliary office should not be destroyed merely because they are five years old. The responsibility for the destruction of this material would rest with the Agent supervisory personnel. Index cards would be retained under existing 20-year rule. In the event name checks made reference to destroyed material, the office of origin could be contacted and copies of reports or pages therefrom could be duplicated and furnished to the requesting office. A form could be designed to facilitate the transmission of this material.

ADDENDUM BY DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION GTT:pjc 3/4/71

Attached memorandum recommends that in security cases in auxiliary offices where cases have been referred upon completion to the office of origin, five or more years previously only cover and/or synopsis pages need be retained. This would not apply to cases of important nature or those deemed to be of some value to the auxiliary offices.

COMMENTS OF DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION:

This Division sees no objection to the attached recommendation. The procedure outlined above has been followed in 62 nonsecurity classifications and found to effect substantial savings of space without injuring investigative operations. Domestic Intelligence Division feels that the extention of this procedure to security cases would not seriously affect operations of this Division.

Re: Destruction of Files and Records

To illustrate the potential of the proposed destruction rule, an on-the-spot analysis was made during the current Chicago Inspection and a partial survey disclosed that where Chicago was the auxiliary office in security organization matters, material representing approximately 50 to 60 file cabinet drawers could be destroyed if the proposed destruction rule was placed into effect.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division, General Investigative Division, Special Investigative Division, and Files and Communications Division for views and comments.

(Suggestion 225-72 dated 10/7/71)

NOTE: Suggests all files in Deserter and Selective Service cases be destroyed when one year old even if subject located in Canada. Foreign Policy Manual provides for destruction after one year if "future activity" cannot be reasonably anticipated. Future activity can reasonably be anticipated in all of above matters; however, space limitations make it mandatory to seek relief.

Referred to Domestic Intelligence and Special Investigative Divisions for views and recommendations.

SUGGESTION

That all files in the 42 and 25 classifications be destroyed when one year old even if subject located in Canada. Foreign Policy Manual provides for destruction after one year if "future activity" cannot be reasonably anticipated." Future activity can reasonably be expected in all of the above matters;however, space limitation makes it mandatory to seek relief.

SPI Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Files maintained indefinitely as future activity can reasonably be expected in each case where subject located in Canada (Foreign Policy Manual, VI L, Page 13).

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Ottawa Office now has four full drawers in both 42 and 25 classifications and number of referrals to Ottawa continues unabated. Above recommendation would eliminate an estimated six file drawers which are badly needed.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-20-82 BY SP4 EW/cal

Disadvantages of suggestion

Office of Origin, when making supplemental request, would have to furnish Ottawa a summary of background information for handling new request. Thisis generally done at present time anyway.

(The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is adopted within two years after submission.)

SUPERVISION - DESERTERS
SUGGESTION 225-72 SUBMITTED BY
LEGAT MOSS LEE INNES, OTTAWA OFFICE

SUGGESTION: That all files in Deserter (42) and Selective Service (25) classifications be destroyed when one year old even if subject located in Canada. Foreign Policy Manual provides for destruction after one year if "future activity cannot be reasonably anticipated." Future activity can reasonably be expected in all of the above matters; however, space limitation makes it mandatory to seek relief.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Files are maintained indefinitely as future activity can reasonably be expected in each case where subject located in Canada.

ADVANTAGES: Ottawa Office now has four full drawers in both 42 and 25 classifications and the number of referrals to Ottawa continues unabated. Approval of this idea would eliminate an estimated six file drawers which are badly needed.

DISADVANTAGES: Legat Innes states the office of origin, when making supplemental request, would have to furnish Ottawa a summary of background information for handling the new request. This is generally done at the present time anyway.

OBSERVATIONS: Domestic Intelligence Division had no objection to approval since Ottawa has a severe space problem.

Special Investigative Division pointed out that under the present procedures no actual leads are set forth in Deserter and Selective Service matters for Ottawa, however, information relating to the possible presence of a fugitive in these classifications in Canada is furnished by letterhead memorandum (LHM) for information. In view of this procedure, this Division recommended the idea be approved. As noted, any supplemental information furnished Ottawa after the files have been destroyed would necessarily include repetition of background information. It was recommended that Part I, page 50b, of the FBI Handbook for Special Agents be amended to show destruction of these files after one year if the idea is adopted.

Due to the above views, Training Division has no objection to approval of this procedure for the Ottawa Office. It is noted the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 4, pages 14 and 34 will also need revision.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact. The idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

2. On approval, this memorandum will serve as authority for the Manuals Desk, Training Division, to take appropriate action.

PURPOSE:

To recommend disposal of Xerox copies of fingerprint cards representing arrests during 1971 May Day Demonstrations.

DETAILS:

Memorandum L. M. Walters to Mr. Mohr dated 9/3/71, captioned as above, advised that original fingerprint cards of 8943 individuals arrested by the Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) during the 1971 May Day Demonstrations have been returned to the MPD after federal court order nullified use of same except for verification of identity. Identification Division furnished Domestic Intelligence Division sampling of Xerox copies for intelligence assessment and final disposition.

Since the arrests represented by those fingerprint cards or the information contained thereon cannot be utilized in disseminative communications, they cease to have any useful intelligence value. To maintain these records would necessitate an unnecessary expenditure of clerical and valuable file space. Additionally, since the disclosure of this information would be a violation of a federal court order, the potential for embarrassment to the Bureau outweighs any known value that could result from its maintenance.

The MPD has indicated that in cases where final dispositions are made, it would return fingerprint cards to our Identification Division for incorporation in the regular criminal file. WFO is following the MPD to insure that this is being done.

Re: MAY DAY DEMONSTRATIONS, 1971

In the end, the Bureau will receive information regarding many of the arrests resulting from the 1971 May Day Demonstrations. Such information will have intelligence value and will be able to be reported to interested agencies.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since it is not feasible from an intelligence standpoint to retain these Xerox copies of fingerprint cards, it is recommended that the 8943 cards of individuals arrested during the 1971 May Day Demonstrations be disposed of by the Identification Division.

BACKGROUND:

SA [redacted] has suggested that old sections of the "FBI Notes" main file be purged and that only those serials judged to be of value for reference purposes be saved.

b6

OBSERVATION:

The adoption of this suggestion could result in a savings of filing space through the elimination of material which has no value for reference purposes. At the present time there is no purging of this material, some of which is 35 years old.

The Crime Records Division Streamlining Committee feels this suggestion has merit and should be adopted.

SUBJECT: DISPOSAL OF ENCLOSURES FOR NONSUBVERSIVE MICROFILMED CASE FILES OVER TEN YEARS OLD

Reference J.J. Casper memorandum to Mr. Mohr, 11-9-70, captioned Bulky Exhibits advised that the disposal of enclosures relating to nonsubversive microfilmed case files over ten years old was approved.

Material contained in these enclosures consisting of photographs, negatives, photostats, rough draft work sheets relating to laboratory examination, etc., were reviewed and those items no longer possessing any investigative, administrative, intelligence or historical value were destroyed as availability of personnel permitted. This project has now been completed, resulting in the recovery of 26 legal size, 5-drawer file cabinets of badly needed space. The foregoing is being submitted for record purposes.

RECOMMENDATION:

Captioned committee was temporarily disbanded on 11-20-70 inasmuch as a substantial backlog of record material approved for destruction was on hand. We have made substantial progress in recent months in our rehabilitation work and now feel it is an opportune time to reconvene the committee for a period of time to further review and identify record material suitable for destruction.

Two employees will be assigned to continue the systematic review of our records holdings by classification and appropriate memoranda will be submitted on a timely basis setting forth their suggestions for official consideration.

SUBJECT: STATE DEPARTMENT DESTRUCTION OF FBI REPORTS

Bureau Records - Gen.

By the attached letter 10/22/71, State asks for authorization to destroy, after review, some of the reports and memoranda disseminated to it by FBI.

Mr. G. Marvin Gentile, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Security, Department of State, and former Bureau Agent, who has been most cooperative with us, advises that a survey team has recommended that some of the material disseminated to State by FBI could, after review by the interested State officials, be destroyed rather than permanently retained in State's files. It is stipulated that proper records of destruction of such reports would be made and maintained, but it is pointed out that it might become necessary, in some instances, to ask the Bureau for another copy of the report at sometime in the future. Gentile has advised orally that every effort will be made by State to avoid destruction of reports for which a future need can be anticipated and further assures that in the event it appears an undue number of requests for replacement are occurring, the procedure will be revised.

The proposed procedure appears reasonable. A number of the reports and memoranda we furnish State pertain to matters of current interest only, such as demonstrations, threats and the like, and there is little or no reason to believe that they would be of future interest and warrant permanent retention. We believe that we should at least permit State to adopt its proposal on a trial basis with the proviso that it be abandoned if it appears we are

This has been cleared with the Files and Communications Division who advised that there is no objection to the procedure and that, in fact, it is preferable to having the items returned to us by State.

GENERAL DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF 197 FILES IN THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION MATTERS BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Records Disposal Committee suggested that 197 files in the 17 classification (Veterans Administration Matters) which contain only a Miami to Tampa letter dated 5/30/60 (copy attached) be destroyed, together with 393 main cards on subjects in these files. All of these files contain only the aforementioned memorandum which is contained in control file 17-23934, captioned "Business University of Tampa" and all of these names are indexed in that file. These files serve no useful purpose and occupy badly needed space. Archival approval is not necessary since copy material will be destroyed.

General Investigative Division interposes no objection to the destruction of these files. Files and Communications Division concurs with the recommendation of the Records Disposal Committee that the 197 files containing the described memorandum as well as the related index cards be destroyed.

The variance between the school attendance and VA records is as follows:

NET HOURS OF ABSENCE:

Not Recorded on School Records But Reported to VA	1,642.5
Recorded on School Records, not Reported to VA	795.5
Net Variance	847.0

It was determined that the variances were caused by:

1. Absence was to be recorded on the Monthly Master Roll by the number of hours absent. In numerous instances, absence was recorded on the master rolls by the number of classes missed rather than hours absent. In the preparation of the monthly certification, there appears to be a failure to convert the number of classes missed to the actual hours of absence, which resulted in a greater amount of absence reported to the Veterans Administration than appears on the school records.

2 2. Of the total enrollment, a small number of students attended on a three-quarter time basis. The hours of absence reported to the Veterans Administration do not agree with the hours of absence recorded on the Monthly Master Rolls. No determination could be made as to the reasons for this difference.

3. Apparent errors in addition and transposition accounted for a minor amount of the total difference.

The following is a listing of the students, reflecting the net variance between the school and VA records for each student:

On March 25, 1960, Assistant United States Attorney advised Special Agents and J. HOWARD CARLSON that he was informed by the Internal Revenue Service that no income tax returns were located for for the calendar years 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958. Mr. stated he desired that of the Columbus Drive Facility, be interviewed for his explanation as to why there was a difference between the school attendance records and the VA records for certain students who attended under a three-quarter time schedule, since was the person who submitted to the VA. FBI NATIONAL ACADEMY (FBINA)
SUGGESTION 344-72 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] CHARLOTTE OFFICE

b6
b7C

SUGGESTION: That the Manual of Rules and Regulations be changed to permit the destruction of files on NA graduates when deceased even though the files are not 20 years old.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13c, states that classification 1 (FBINA) files may be destroyed if 3 years old if they are training files or NA applicant files provided office is not office of origin. NA graduate files are to be retained 20 years if office is origin.

mz

ADVANTAGES: The suggester feels this would save filing space as some NA graduates are deceased but files are now retained in office or origin for 20 years.

OBSERVATIONS: A survey has been made of seven field offices (Birmingham, Chicago Cleveland, Columbia, New York, Louisville, and Richmond). These offices were unanimous in recommending the idea be approved.

Training Division has no objection to such a practice and it is believed files in this category now in each office should be destroyed on a project basis and that in the future they should be disposed of upon notification of the death of a graduate. It should be noted that as of November, 1971, there were only 772 deceased graduates; however, with the anticipated enlargement of the FBI Academy which will permit larger classes, it can be assumed that such files will inevitably increase in number.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact. The idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that the Manual of Rules and Regulations be changed to allow the destruction of files on National Academy graduates when deceased, even though the files are not 20 years old.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GEN.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

MRR, Part II, Section 3, page 13 C states that Classification 1 files may be destroyed if 3 years old if they are training files or National Academy applicant files provided office is not office of origin. National ~~Academy graduate files are to be retained 20 years if origin.~~

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

This would be a savings of filing space as some National Academy graduates are deceased and files are now retained until last correspondence in file is 20 years old.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS IN THE CHARLES A. LINDBERGH, JR. KIDNAPPING CASE
BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Records Disposal Committee has suggested that newspaper clippings, maintained in the Sub A section of file 7-1 (Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.-Kidnapping) which do not contain any indexing or handwritten notations by the Director or other officials, be destroyed. This file consists of 82 sections and occupies badly needed space in the Records Branch. It is estimated that at least 78 sections of this file can be destroyed in accordance with the above criterion. Archival authority is not necessary inasmuch as this is public source material.

Files and Communications Division recommends that this material be destroyed since it no longer possesses sufficient value to merit retention. It is further recommended that this matter be referred to the General Investigative Division for its views.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this suggestion be furnished to the General Investigative Division for its views and recommendations.

ADDENDUM - GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION 12-15-71 RJG:jyl:

The newspaper clippings concerning the Lindbergh kidnaping are, for the most part, 40 years old. The Files and Communications Division has recommended that those sections of the file which do not contain indexing or handwritten notations by the Director or other officials be destroyed. It has been estimated at least 78 sections of the file can be destroyed.

This Division concurs that those sections of the file containing newspaper clippings falling within the above criteria be destroyed.

STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION

428-72
Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Employee suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that files in the 25 classification (Selective Service Act) over 10 years old be placed on microfilm. As an alternate she proposed that files be scoped and onion skin paper be used instead of file backs to be used for files which have been destroyed. She noted that out of 432,888 cases, 344,422 have been destroyed. The remaining 88,466 occupy 110 six-drawer cabinets. It is noted that Selective Service files relating to World War I and prior thereto have been microfilmed and destroyed, however, since the 25 classification is in the subversive category further microfilming has not been performed in this classification since files must be listed on name check requests.

The Streamlining Committee carefully considered this suggestion and recommended that a survey be made to determine current usage of these files, in order that a determination can be made as to whether files in the 25 classification over 10 years old are no longer listed a sufficeint amount of time in name searching to preclude microfilming. Therefore, a survey is being made by Records Branch for a period of 90 days to determine the amount of activity in this classification, after which appropriate recommendations will be made.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this suggestion be referred to the Suggestion Desk in order that employee can be advised that her suggestion is under consideration and she will be advised at a later date as to ~~this~~ its position.

PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS REGARDING INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF STRIKE BREAKERS, KIDNAPPING AND EXTORTION BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Records Disposal Committee has suggested that consideration be given to the disposal of the following material which no longer possesses any investigative, intelligence, historical or reference value.

Completed 5/5/72 Belmont Mohr 6 cds. 17" mail destroyed

1. Sub A file of 6-0 concerns Interstate Transportation of Strike Breakers-General. This file consists of 57 sections containing only newspaper clippings during period 1936 through 1942. None of this material is indexed and therefore no longer serves any useful purpose.

4 23 cds. 17" mail destroyed

2. Sub A file of 7-2 concerns Kidnapping. This file consists of 28 sections containing only newspaper clippings from 1934-1941 which are not indexed and therefore no longer serve any useful purpose.

10 cds. 17" mail destroyed

3. Sub A file of 9-0 relates to Extortion. This file is composed of 12 sections containing only newspaper clippings. Sections 1 through 11 covers the period 1942 through 1957. Only a portion of Section 11 contains any indexing. The first 10 sections of these newspaper clippings no longer have any reference value and therefore do not merit retention.

BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

It is noted that the newspaper clippings contained in the above four categories are public source material; occupy badly needed space in the Records Branch and do not require archival authority for destruction.

Files and Communications Division recommends this material be destroyed and recommends that views of the General Investigative Division be obtained.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this suggestion be furnished to the General Investigative Division for its views and recommendations.

ADDENDUM - GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION 12-15-71 RJG:jyl:

This Division agrees that the 57 sections containing newspaper clippings concerning Interstate Transportation of Strike Breakers be destroyed. None of this material is indexed and it is at least 30 years old.

We also concur that the 28 sections containing unindexed newspaper clippings from 1934 to 1941 concerning Kidnaping matters be destroyed.

We agree that the 11 sections covering the period 1942 to 1957 relating to Extortion cases which contain only newspaper clippings be destroyed.

This Division does not handle Narcotics - General; therefore, is making no recommendation concerning the destruction of newspaper clippings in this classification.

STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION

429-72

Employee has suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that references in 100-178262 and 100-17826-3 (Interdepartmental Visa Control Committee) which do not contain derogatory information; notations by the Director, or concern policy matter be deindexed and destroyed. This file contains copies of individual memoranda prepared by the State Department on individual applicants seeking admission to the United States. Both subject and sponsor are indexed. Original minutes of committee meetings are on file with the State Department and copies are in possession of Immigration and Naturalization Service. The two files consists of 24 sections and contain no mail after 1948.

REFERENCES

100-17826-2

The Streamlining Committee has carefully considered this suggestion and recommends that it be adopted for the following reasons: 1. References are presently eliminated on loyalty check reviews. 2. References are frequently listed for review on name check requests because of the numerous names indexed and limited information available on these individuals. 3. Original correspondence is on file with the State Department. 4. Material of a similar nature in the 40 classification (Passport and Visa Matters) was recently approved by Bureau and Archives for destruction. It is noted references containing derogatory information of a pertinent nature will be retained. Since the destruction of this material will result in the recovery of badly needed space and since material is no longer of sufficient value to merit retention and will reduce file reviews on name check requests, it is felt same should be approved for destruction. However, opinions and recommendations of the Domestic Intelligence Division should also be obtained.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Reference is made to your suggestion regarding a method for the destruction of certain material. Consideration has been afforded this proposal and it has been decided that present regulations in this regard are preferred because of certain disadvantages which would be involved in the system mentioned by you.

Although favorable action was not taken in this instance, I appreciated having the benefit of your thoughts on this matter.

SUBJECT: DEFENSE PLANS
VITAL RECORDS MAINTAINED AT RELOCATION SITE
Destruction of Property - Gen

In view of the repeal of the Emergency Detention Act, the following records which are maintained at Quantico should be destroyed:

1) Copy of the Detpro Survey for each field office. This was the plan of each office for apprehending the old Security Index subjects during an emergency. The original of each is still maintained in Bureau files.

2) SAC letters concerning Detpro. This is a small folder of about a dozen letters. The originals are still maintained in Bureau files.

3) Master Search Warrant cards. These are 5 x 8 cards relative to each premise to be searched had the Emergency Detention Act been invoked. The original forms from which these cards were prepared are still maintained in Bureau files.

RECOMMENDATION:

On approval, SAC, Quantico, should destroy above-mentioned records.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 441-72 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted] LEGAT BEIRUT

SUGGESTION: That FBI Intelligence Calendar of Major Events, FBI Summary of Extremist Activities, and FBI Current Intelligence Analysis (CINAL), be destroyed on a 90-day rather than a one-year basis as is currently done.

PRESENT PROCEDURE: Foreign Operations Policy Manual, Section 6, Page 14, instructs that all Legat Offices, except Hong Kong and Mexico City, may destroy criminal, applicant and other files when closed one year. Security-type cases when closed three years. Hong Kong may destroy all of the above mentioned after one year, Mexico City after five years.

ADVANTAGES: Suggester states earlier destruction period would conserve filing space and there would also be less material to burn in event of emergency evacuation.

OBSERVATIONS: Domestic Intelligence Division concurred with destruction of these three items by Legats on a 90-day basis and would also extend permission for the field to destroy one of them, FBI Calendar of Major Events, on the same basis. They felt, however, the field should retain the other two documents since they cover matters of interest to field in meeting Bureau's responsibilities in internal security and furnish excellent research and source material for field offices personnel. The division recommended that these latter two, FBI Summary of Extremist Activities, and CINALs should become part of permanent records in the field.

Training Division agrees with 90-day destruction period for these three items in Legat Offices since it feels they should have served their purpose, as far as any interest abroad is concerned, within that span. With respect to Domestic Intelligence Division's recommendation that field offices may destroy FBI Calendar of Major Events on a 90-day basis and that the other two items, FBI Summary of Extremist Activities and CINALs be retained, it is noted, however, that CINALS may now be destroyed "on an annual basis when three years old if no value" per Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, item D, 8, i, (14) on page 14, and it is felt this should be left as it now stands for the field and that the FBI Summary of Extremist Activities could logically be placed under this schedule. With respect to the FBI Calendar of Major Events, Training Division agrees the 90-day retention period should be sufficient for the field.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That suggestion as it pertains to Legat Offices be adopted and the suggester be so advised in attached letter. Receipt of idea was acknowledged previously.

2. That the field destruction period regarding the three publications in question be approved as set forth in last paragraph above.

3. On approval the memorandum will authorize Domestic Intelligence Division to make necessary manual changes.

STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION
42-72

Employee has suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that correlation summaries be prepared on well-known deceased individuals on whose names over 500 index cards appear in the indices. Employee cited examples, such as Benjamin Davis, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, William Z. Foster, and others on whom well over one thousand cards exists.

Preparation of correlation summaries will facilitate destruction of voluminous index cards, thereby recovering space in the index as well as reducing the amount of time required to search names of prominent individuals who are deceased. The Streamlining Committee, after careful consideration of this suggestion, feels that it has sufficient merit for adoption in view of the potential recovery of filing space in the index, and the reduction of searching time on names in this category.

500-72

Mr. [redacted] suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that enclosures to cases in the 87 classification (Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property) which have been closed over 5 years be destroyed, except for enclosures which contain original evidence, those which relate to cases under appeal, cases of notoriety, cases which were subject of Bureau articles or publications, and any other material the Laboratory may specify for retention. Presently, enclosures are sent individually to the General Investigative Division and the Laboratory Division, together with the applicable files for review by Agents who make a decision to retain or destroy them. Approximately 95 percent of the enclosures handled to date have been returned marked for destruction, except for the occasional retention of laboratory worksheets and or photo copies of evidence, which are made a part of the substantive case file.

The Streamlining Committee carefully considered this suggestion and recommended that it be adopted as considerable time can be saved in the preparation and routing of files and enclosures by the Files and Communications Division, and in the review of these records by the Laboratory and General Investigative Divisions. Also, badly needed filing space will be recovered by destroying those enclosures which no longer have sufficient value to merit retention. Archival authority is not required as original documents will not be involved.

1) All photographic negatives

2) Laboratory examiners' worksheets (and associated work notes) bearing Laboratory numbers with the prefix "PC" or "E" or "G" or "C."

These items may be removed and placed in the administrative file by the Files and Communications Division. STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION
514-72

Employee has suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that Serial 5 of file 65-48824 which concerns A List of Registrants For German Military Service - Alien Enemy Control - G be deindexed and destroyed. This serial consists of approximately 6,000 names of male German aliens of military age who registered at the German Consulate in New York City subsequent to the outbreak of war in 1939. The list, which was submitted by the New York Office, gives the name of the individual, his address at the time of registration, together with his date of birth. Miss [redacted] noted that previous authority was granted in memorandum Short to Nease dated 9/3/58 (Bu file 66-3286-796) to destroy the alien enemy control index of aliens who were taken into custody during World War II. b6 b7C

The Streamlining Committee carefully considered this suggestion and recommends it be adopted inasmuch as Serial 5 of file 65-48824 does not contain any derogatory information relative to the individuals listed therein and the fact that these individuals were compelled by the German government to register for the German military service during a period of war time does not in itself reflect in a derogatory manner upon these individuals. The deindexing of these names will result in the recovery of filing space and will eliminate these names being listed on name check searches.

ADDENDUM: DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION JNO:mbl 2/7/72

Attached suggestion proposes that Serial 5 of file 65-48824, which concerns A List of Registrants for German Military Service-Alien Enemy Control-G be deindexed and destroyed. This serial consists of approximately 6,000 names of male German aliens of military age who registered at the German Consulate in New York City subsequent to the outbreak of war in 1939.

COMMENTS OF DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION:

It is pointed out in the attached suggestion that Serial 5 of file 65-48824 does not contain any derogatory information, and that previous authority was granted to destroy the alien enemy control index of aliens who were taken into custody during World War II. In view of this, the Domestic Intelligence Division agrees to the adoption of the attached suggestion.

Dear Miss [redacted]

Reference is made to your suggestion regarding the microfilming and disposition of certain files in one of our investigative classifications. The ninety-day survey concerning this proposal has now been completed and it has been decided it should not be adopted because of the frequency with which these files are being used at the present time.

Although favorable action was not taken in this instance, I appreciate the interest which led you to submit your idea to me.

SUGGESTION 429-72 SUBMITTED BY

Destruction of Bureau Records

SUGGESTION: That references in 100-17826-Sub-2 and 100-17826-Sub-3 (Interdepartmental Visa Control Committee) which do not contain derogatory information, notations by the Director or concern policy matter be deindexed and destroyed. This file contains copies of individual memoranda prepared by State Department on individual applicants seeking admission to the U. S. Subjects and sponsors are indexed. Original minutes of committee meetings are on file with the State Department and copies are in possession of Immigration and Naturalization Service. The two files consist of 24 sections and contain no mail after 1948.

ADVANTAGES: These references are presently eliminated on loyalty check reviews; references are frequently listed for review on name check requests because of the numerous names indexed and limited information available on these individuals; original correspondence is on file with State Department; and, material of a similar nature in the 40 classification (Passport and Visa Matters) was recently approved by Bureau and Archives for destruction. Since the destruction of this material will result in the recovery of badly needed space and since material is no longer of sufficient value to merit retention and will reduce file reviews on name checks, Files and Communications Division recommended idea be approved.

REC plm 66-3286-1090

OBSERVATIONS: Domestic Intelligence Division stated that provided references containing derogatory information of a pertinent nature are retained it agreed to approval of the idea.

FEB 15 1972

Due to these views, Training Division agrees this action would be desirable.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising her of this fact. The idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

NOTE Continued:

Matter has been discussed with Special Investigative Division which opposed suggestion. They stated these files contained intelligence-type information which has continuing or potential value. They noted that need for space was an important consideration; however, we have recently relaxed our retention requirements in the three classifications in question to the extent that we permit destruction of these cases, but not the index cards, after five years provided: Office is not office of origin or prosecution, file is of no further value, stops are not outstanding, and provided FD-302s, signed statements and evidentiary material are retained. It is felt this is as far as we should go.

In view of the foregoing comments Training Division recommends suggestion not be adopted.

SUGGESTION

That Field Offices be allowed after five years to destroy those files and index cards in the criminal intelligence category (92, 162, & 166) wherein investigation of the subject has shown he is not involved in criminal activity or associated with the criminal element.

Files may be destroyed in these classifications only after 20 years.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Provide immediate space in the closed files section of Field Office. The 162 and 166 classifications were first began in 1961, thus under present instructions it will not be possible to destroy files in either of these classifications for approximately ten more years.

Since many of this type cases are opened to identify an individual and his activities and these reflect no criminal activity, this suggestion should provide much space that could not be used otherwise for the next ten years.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF MATERIAL CONTAINED IN GENERAL ACTIVITIES - COMMUNIST PARTY (61-7559 Sub-A) BY RECORDS BRANCH DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Records Disposal Committee suggested that material contained in 61-7559 Sub-A, General Activities - Communist Party, consisting of 118 sections and housed in eight cabinet drawers, be destroyed. This material consists of newspaper clippings and is public source material. It contains limited indexing, possesses no apparent current value of a historical, intelligence, investigative and research nature. Therefore, since this file is not currently being used and in view of the fact that we have General Records Schedule approval for destruction of public source material eliminating the necessity to obtain archival authority, this material should be considered for destruction. The disposal of this material will result in the recovery of 8 letter-size cabinet drawers of valuable cabinet space.

The views and recommendations of the Domestic Intelligence Division should be obtained.

#588-42 Destruction of Bureau Property - Enclosure

Employee suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that enclosures behind file 100-338584 entitled "El Siglo" be destroyed as this is a Spanish newspaper and pertinent information contained therein is set forth in the applicable cover letter in file. She also pointed out that the last issue was submitted by letter dated 10/10/47 and these enclosures occupy approximately two file cabinet drawers.

The Streamlining Committee carefully considered this suggestion, noting that a review of this public source material failed to indicate that it possesses investigative, intelligence, historical, or research value. Also, the material does not appear to contain sufficient value to merit retention. The Committee agrees that this extraneous material should be removed from the files in order that valuable space can be recovered. Inasmuch as this classification is supervised by the Domestic Intelligence a copy of this suggestion is being routed to that division for its opinion and recommendation.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That this suggestion be referred to the Training Division, attention Suggestion Desk.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 588-72 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted] FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

Miss [redacted] has suggested that enclosures behind file 100-338584 entitled "El Siglo" be destroyed. This is a Spanish newspaper and pertinent information contained therein is set forth in the applicable cover letter in file. She also pointed out that the last issue was submitted by letter dated 10/10/47 and the enclosures in question occupy about two file drawers.

Files and Communications Division's Streamlining Committee favor adoption provided Domestic Intelligence Division agreed.

Domestic Intelligence Division advised that the material in question apparently had no investigative, intelligence, historical or research value; therefore, it had no objection to its destruction.

Archival authority will be necessary for destruction of all material, except for the first three items listed which constitutes public source material. This material is no longer used; is obsolete and the disposal of it will result in recovery of 4 six-drawer cabinets of valuable filing space. Inasmuch as this material may be of interest to the Domestic Intelligence and General Investigative Divisions, their views are being obtained.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That material tabulated in this memorandum be destroyed as it no longer possesses sufficient value to merit retention.

STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION
494-72

Employee suggested through the Division Streamlining Committee that the Sub A section of file 62-101413, Senate Committee to Censure Senator Joseph McCarthy, consisting of sixteen sections of newspaper clippings, be de-indexed and destroyed. Approximately 20 names of individuals who wrote letters to Editors of newspapers are indexed. This is public source material over ten years old which occupies badly needed filing space and no longer possesses sufficient value to merit retention.

The Streamlining Committee carefully considered this suggestion and determined that the Sub A sections of files 62-96332 (Joseph R. McCarthy) and 94-37708 (Joseph R. McCarthy-Information Concerning) contain similar public source material which should be included in this suggestion for destruction. It is noted the news clippings are dated from approximately June, 1954 to June, 1955 and McCarthy died 5-2-57. This material is available through the Library of Congress and does not require archival approval for destruction. The Streamlining Committee recommends adoption of this suggestion.

ADDENDUM: DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION, 1/28/72, LAC:bcw/car CAR

This suggestion pertains to the de-indexing and destruction at Bureau of public source material (which is over 15 years old) currently maintained in Sub A sections of three Bureau files relating to deceased Senator Joseph R. McCarthy. The material in the main consists of several sections of newspaper clippings which are readily available through Library of Congress. Relatively little indexing has been accomplished with regard to this material.

There appears to be no logical or plausible reason for the continued retention of this bulky material which is available through another source, if needed. Suggestion also has merit in providing additional needed filing space. Domestic Intelligence Division therefore recommends that suggestion be adopted.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 514-72 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted] b6 b7C
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION: That serial 5 of file 65-48824 which concerns A List of Registrants For German Military Service - Alien Enemy Control - G be deindexed and destroyed. This serial consists of approximately 6,000 names of male German aliens of military age who registered at the German Consulate in New York City subsequent to the outbreak of war in 1939. The list, which was submitted by the New York Office, gives the name of the individual, his address at the time of registration, together with his date of birth. It should be noted that previous authority was granted in memorandum Short to Nease dated 9/3/58 (BUfile 66-3286-796) to destroy the alien enemy control index of aliens who were taken into custody during World War II.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division recommended adoption since this serial does not contain any derogatory information relative to the individuals listed therein and the fact that these individuals were compelled by the German government to register for the German military service during a period of war time does not in itself reflect in a derogatory manner upon these individuals. This will result in a recovery of filing space and will eliminate these names being listed on name check searches.

Domestic Intelligence Division agreed to the proposed action since there is no derogatory information contained in this serial regarding the individuals involved.

EX-115 REC 25 66-3286-1098

Due to the above views, Training Division has no objection to the proposed action. Since this list was not prepared as a result of Bureau investigation and is not an original copy, Archival authority will not be necessary before destroying this material.

MAR 21 1972

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising her of this fact. The idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF MATERIAL CONTAINED IN NON-SUBVERSIVE SUB-0 AND SUB-A FILES OVER FIVE YEARS OLD BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

O'CRADDEN (7269)

The Files and Communications Division recommends that material in the Non-Subversive Sub-0 and Sub-A files over five years old which does not concern policy, and in which no prosecution was undertaken be destroyed, together with related index cards, inasmuch as it does not possess sufficient investigative, intelligence, historical or reference value to merit retention. The material contained in these files consists of miscellaneous correspondence from the public, allegations of violations, referral to other agencies, public source material, requests for information, anonymous communications and other miscellaneous material in which the statute of limitations has expired.

REC 25 66-3286-1099

The Identification, Special Investigative, General Investigative and Laboratory Divisions concur with the above recommendation with the following exceptions: General Investigative Division recommends retention of 149-0, 149-0-A (Destruction of Aircraft and Motor Vehicles) and 164-0 (Crime Aboard Aircraft) be retained as these are relatively new violations and conceivably may possess some value for future reference. The Laboratory Division feels that material in 95-0 (Laboratory cases other than Bureau) and 145-0 (Interstate Transportation of Obscene Matter) should be retained as it may possess some current or future value.

MAR 21 1972

RECOMMENDATION:

That nonderogatory and nonsubversive data contained in certain Sub-0 and Sub-A files over five years old be destroyed, with authority being limited to those classifications set forth in the attached memorandum and approved by the substantive divisions, after Archival authority is obtained.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF MATERIAL CONTAINED IN NON-SUBVERSIVE SUB-0 AND SUB-A FILES OVER 5 YEARS OLD BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Records Disposal Committee suggested that material contained in the Non-Subversive Sub-0 and Sub-A files over five years old, that does not contain any derogatory information and in which no prosecution was undertaken, be destroyed together with the applicable index cards. The Non-Subversive Sub-0 and Sub-A files (a list which is attached) consist of miscellaneous correspondence from the public, allegations of violations, referrals to other agencies, public source material, requests for information, suggestions from the public for solution of cases, anonymous communications and other miscellaneous material. This material has ceased to have any investigative, historical, intelligence or reference value and the statute of limitations has expired on all possible criminal violations over five years old. The material, in the attached tabulation, presently occupies badly needed space equivalent to 30 six-drawer file cabinets. Inasmuch as it has ceased to have sufficient value to merit retention, the Files and Communications Division recommends that it be destroyed. Appropriate archival authority will be obtained if this proposal is approved.

The views and recommendations of the Identification Division, General Investigative Division, Special Investigative Division and Laboratory Division should be obtained.

This Division feels that any communication setting forth Bureau policy should be retained. We also feel that the material in 149-0 and 149-0-A (Destruction of Aircraft and Motor Vehicles) should be retained. Also the material in 164-0 (Crime Aboard Aircraft) should be retained. These are relatively new violations and it is conceivable that the material in these files would have a bearing on current investigations.

With the exception of the items set forth above, this Division concurs with Recommendation (1).

ADDENDUM LABORATORY DIVISION: DMC 1/20/72

This Division feels that the material in 95-0 (Laboratory cases, other than Bureau) and 145-0 (Interstate Transportation of Obscene Matter) should be retained. SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 598-72 SUBMITTED BY MISS [redacted] OKLAHOMA CITY OFFICE

b6
b7C

SUGGESTION: Suggests destroying La Cosa Nostra Membership Index Cards on deceased members with only the Bureau keeping such cards and, when notified by Bureau, stamp the cards in the main indices with "Deceased" and keep these in file.

ADVANTAGES: A saving in filing space. Suggester states Oklahoma City has about eight inches of space being used by the members of this organization who are now deceased.

OBSERVATIONS: Special Investigative Division had no objection to this idea that field offices be given permission to destroy La Cosa Nostra (LCN) Membership Index Cards pertaining to deceased subjects. Because some of the larger offices, having more extensive LCN activities, may wish to keep their copies of the Membership Index Cards for corroboration of informant data etc., it was felt that the destruction of these cards should be made optional, rather than mandatory. A measurement of the "Deceased" section of the Index maintained at SOG indicates that it occupies approximately three inches of one drawer after duplicate cards have been destroyed. Therefore, it would appear that space is not a major issue if an office feels that the retention of its cards would be a substantial investigative aid. In the event this idea is approved, this Division will direct a communication to all field offices, advising them that one or both cards may be destroyed on deceased LCN subjects as desired.

Training Division has ascertained that field offices are sent two cards for each subject on the La Cosa Nostra Membership Index. This is a separate index from the general indices in field offices. There will still be a main card in the general indices for these subjects. If approved, when the communication is prepared for forwarding to all offices, they should be advised if they follow the procedure of destroying the LCN index cards they should mark the main card in the general indices "Deceased" and retain it until the file is destroyed. This will aid in searching procedures in the field.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS
Destruction of Bureau Records - Sen

Recently the following change was made in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3D, Item 6b, Page 11c:

6. Destruction of copies of serials
   b. In auxiliary offices, retain only cover and/or synopsis pages of investigative reports in the following classifications five years subsequent to the date cases are referred upon completion to the office of origin. Good judgment should be exercised in the destruction of this material, and reports representing cases of an important nature or cases which are considered to be of some value to the auxiliary office should not be destroyed merely because they are five years old. Retain index cards for twenty years for reference purposes.

   Classifications:

2	61	90	102	109	112	121	143	157	166	172
3	65	100	105	110	113	134	144	162	168	179
14	92	101	108	111	117	140	155	165	170

This memorandum is concerned with only two classifications: 121 (Loyalty of Government Employees) and 140 (Security of Government Employees).

In both of these classifications the Bureau is office of origin and the only remaining complete copy of the reports in these classifications will be at the Bureau. Although this is a situation where it is conceivable we can operate, it is felt this will place an undue burden on the Bureau in handling of these cases. Many of these cases are concerned with involved security matters with the individuals concerned entering and leaving employment in the Executive Branch of the Government over a period of years necessitating the reopening of these cases. Several of these cases currently involve Administrative Index subjects which are reopened on a periodical basis to report additional pertinent information. Some involve civil court action and some of these cases in the recent past have been the subject of newspaper publicity and congressional inquiry.

Part II, Section 3D, Item 8d, Page 13b of the Manual of Rules and Regulations dealing with the destruction of files and records in the field over five years old does not include the 121 and 140 classifications and specifically exempts the office of origin in the field in the classifications named in Item 8d (4) on that page.

Recognizing the critical need for additional space and filing equipment in many of the field offices, in the 121 and 140 classifications offices such as St. Louis, Alexandria, and Baltimore currently have the authority to destroy their files after a stated period when the file only contains the results of such record checks as Central Intelligence Agency and the Naval Investigative Service.

ACTION:

It is requested that consideration be given to revising page 11c of the Manual of Rules and Regulations (referred to above) to delete the classifications 121 and 140.

This memorandum should be routed to the Training Division.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF ENCLOSURES TO FILES IN THE 95 CLASSIFICATION, LABORATORY CASES, BY THE INSPECTION DIVISION

Reference McCoy to Waikart memo, 3/16/72, requesting views of the Laboratory regarding a proposal for the destruction of enclosures in 95 cases in a manner similar to a procedure previously adopted for the destruction of enclosures in 87 cases.

The 95 classification is assigned to matters requiring examinations in the Laboratory in other than Bureau cases. The vast majority of these examinations is performed for local and state law enforcement agencies. Unlike the 87 classification, 95 cases cover a myriad of violations and the statute of limitations for each violation will vary from one jurisdiction to another, depending upon the nature of the crime and local applicable statutes.

In addition to the uncertainty of the need for retention of enclosures generated by the above-described situation, unlike files in 87 cases which generally reflect the status of a case, correspondence in a 95 classification will not ordinarily convey this information. It can be anticipated that in most instances inquiry of the contributor or the field may be necessary to determine the current status of a particular investigation.

In view of the above, it is felt that enclosures in 95 cases should continue to be forwarded to the Laboratory for review by the appropriate examiner to make a determination regarding the advisability for destroying or retaining the enclosure.

RECOMMENDATION: That current procedures governing the destruction of enclosures in 95 cases be maintained.

As explained in referenced airtel, two copies of each LCN Membership Index card (containing a photograph and pertinent background data) are sent to all offices for use in conducting organized crime investigations. Under present procedures, when someone listed in the index dies a notification to this effect is forwarded by the Bureau, and his cards are then marked "Deceased" and moved to a section of the index reserved for such individuals.

In the interest of saving space, these instructions are currently being amended to provide that offices not needing these "Deceased" cards may now destroy them at the option of the Special Agent in Charge. Offices which find them of assistance in their continuing investigations may continue to mark and keep one copy in the "Deceased" section as provided for in referenced airtel.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF ENCLOSURES TO FILES IN THE 95 CLASSIFICATION, LABORATORY CASES, BY THE INSPECTION DIVISION

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY = Stamp

During the recent inspection of the Files and Communications Division the Inspection Division noted that a suggestion was submitted through the Streamlining Committee relative to destruction of enclosures to cases in the 87 classification(Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property), which eliminated extensive handling and routing of these bulkies and resulted in more expeditious recovery of badly needed filing space. The guidelines approved by the Laboratory were: 1. That all original evidence would be retained. 2. Cases must have been closed over five years. 3. Enclosures to cases on appeal be retained. 4. Enclosures to cases subject of Bureau publications be retained. 5. All photographic negatives be retained. 6. Laboratory examiners' work sheets and associated work notes bearing Laboratory numbers with the prefix "PC" or "E" or "G" or "C" be retained. A survey revealed that enclosures reviewed to date pursuant to these guidelines has resulted in approximately 90 percent of the enclosures being destroyed.

The Inspection Division suggested that consideration be given to establishing similar guidelines in the 95 classification(Laboratory Cases) to facilitate the destruction of enclosures which number approximately 10,500, in order to realize the prompt recovery of valuable filing space, and to reduce the routing and handling of these items in order to obtain approval for destruction. The enclosures in this classification contain photographs of materials examined by the Laboratory such as murder weapons, burglary tools, and etc. Also, enclosures contain newspapers, rags, items with blood stains, wrapping from packages, a very limited amount of handwriting samples, photostatic copies of checks and credit cards and other miscellaneous items relating to examinations of evidence in other than Bureau cases.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF FORM LETTERS DIRECTED TO EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS IN FUGITIVE CASES PRIOR TO 1940
BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

Destruction of Bureau Property—Need

The Records Disposal Committee has suggested that form letters contained in the 47(Impersonation), 87 (Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property), and 91 (Bank Robbery) classifications be destroyed, as they no longer possess historical, research, intelligence, or investigative value.

A detailed survey of files in the three classifications cited above disclosed that form letters were directed to the editors and publishers of magazines and newspapers for the purpose of publicizing badly wanted fugitives in order to secure the assistance of the public in the apprehension of these individuals. The form letters are dated during the years 1937 and 1938; are obsolete, and do not contain any value to merit retention. The editor's names were indexed in some cases and will be deindexed if this proposal is approved, as these references serve no useful purpose. The disposal of this material will eliminate further listing of these file numbers on current name searches and will result in the purge of index cards from the indices, as well as the recovery of approximately one drawer of badly needed filing space. The Files and Communications Division therefore recommends the destruction of this material, a tabulation of which is attached. Archival authority will not be necessary inasmuch as these are form type letters which upon destruction will not adversely affect the integrity of the files.

SUBJECT: INSTALLATION OF PAPER SHREDDER CIVIL FILE
WILLSTE BUILDING

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

As you recall, on 1-25-72, we completed the move of our Civil File (fingerprints and name index) to the Willste Building, 7915 Eastern Avenue, Silver Spring, Maryland.

With Bureau approval, the fingerprints of persons in the National Defense portion of the Civil Files are being purged and destroyed. At present, these cards are transported to a District of Columbia incinerator for destruction. There is a fee for this service.

The Identification Division possesses a mechanical paper shredder which is ideally suited for the destruction of purged fingerprint cards. This device has been moved to the Willste Building; however, its installation and use will require the expenditure of approximately $229 for necessary wiring per estimate furnished by the Rock Creek Office of General Services Administration. At our present rate of purging, the use of the shredder would obviate any trips to the city incinerator.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DISPOSAL OF PUBLIC SOURCE MATERIAL CONTAINED IN THE 61 CLASSIFICATION BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

A survey of the record holdings in the 61 classification reveals numerous sections of Sub A mail with very limited and in some instances no indexing. This material no longer serves any useful purpose and does not contain sufficient investigative, intelligence, research and historical value to merit retention. Following is a tabulation of the files, subject of files, number of sections and date of newspaper clippings. This material appears to possess no current value relative to the Bureau's operation.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DISPOSAL OF "THE CURRENT DIGEST OF THE SOVIET PRESS" OVER TEN YEARS OLD

A review of publications presently being maintained in the Filing Unit, Records Branch, Files and Communications Division, reveals that "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press" publications dated from 1/49 through the current date are being maintained in three file cabinets. Four copies of the publication were received weekly through 1957. Since 1958 only one copy has been maintained. Some of the publications contain numerous indexed names whereas some do not contain any indexing. Inasmuch as this material presently occupies badly needed filing space and since the material over ten years old does not appear to possess sufficient intelligence, research, or investigative value to merit retention the Files and Communications Division proposes that all issues of "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press" over ten years old be destroyed and deindexed.

The views and recommendations of the Domestic Intelligence Division should be obtained.

Domestic Intelligence Division agrees that all issues of "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press" prior to the death of Stalin in 1953, can be de-indexed and destroyed. Furthermore, all issues between 1953 and 1962 which have not been indexed can be destroyed.

However, "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press" has definite intelligence and research value and any items which have been indexed covering the developments in the USSR since the death of Stalin should be maintained in Bureau files.

SUBJECT: RETENTION OF SPECIAL INQUIRY SUMMARIES
SPECIAL INQUIRY UNIT
EMPLOYEES SECURITY AND SPECIAL INQUIRY SECTION
SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

O DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

File in 161-00

PURPOSE

To propose that our present policy of destroying copies of all summaries over ten years old maintained in the Special Inquiry Unit be changed so that summaries over five years old can be destroyed.

BACKGROUND

Since November, 1952, when the Special Inquiry program was initiated, we have, with permission, maintained copies of all Special Inquiry summaries in folders in alphabetical order in the Special Inquiry Unit. There is also a copy of each summary in each main file of the individual involved, as well as the yellow of the summary. The copy in file is a white copy suitable for duplication for dissemination.

These summaries are maintained in the Unit for quick reference where time is of the essence and the calling of the main file might delay necessary action. We receive calls for copies of these summaries from Bureau officials, other Government agencies, and The White House.

EX-109 REC-88 66-3286-1107

In May, 1967, it was recommended and approved that we institute a purging program and destroy copies of all summaries over ten years old maintained in the Special Inquiry Unit. We maintain a running log in the unit on the frequency with which we disseminate these summaries. The log indicates that for the past few years we have referred to the older summaries at a steadily decreasing rate and it is now believed that the purging period can be shortened to five years. In the event we receive a request for older summaries, we can always call for the main file for the individual involved and duplicate the summary maintained therein.

ACTION

If approved, we will immediately destroy all copies of summaries over five years old maintained in the Special Inquiry Unit, and each month thereafter will destroy those summaries becoming five years old during that month. As pointed out, this amounts to the destruction of reference copies only, and the originals will remain on record in the individual main files.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE MATERIAL IN THE 54 CLASSIFICATION (CUSTOMS LAWS AND SMUGGLING) BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE, FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

The Records Disposal Committee suggested that obsolete record material contained in the 54 classification (Customs Laws and Smuggling) over ten years old be destroyed inasmuch as this material no longer possesses sufficient historical, investigative, research, or intelligence value to merit retention.

There are 1,491 files in this classification, with 1,485 files being over ten years old. A detailed survey of these files revealed that, in 695 files, no investigation was conducted by the Bureau, or investigations failed to identify the subject, or no indexing is present. This classification presently occupies three- and one-half filing cabinets. The files relate to Customs Laws and Smuggling violations and miscellaneous criminal and security matters. All cases concerning security matters will be retained. The majority of the 695 files mentioned above contain only one or two serials and do not contain any information or data of a pertinent nature. The Files and Communications Division, therefore, recommends destruction of those cases in which no investigation was conducted, or in which investigations failed to identify the subject, or where there is no indexing. This action will result in the recovery of approximately two file cabinets of space. Any necessary Archival approval for the destruction of this material will be obtained.

JUL 27 1972

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the obsolete record material in the 54 classification (Customs Laws and Smuggling) be destroyed in accordance with the guidelines set forth above.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DISPOSAL OF MISCELLANEOUS PROPAGANDA ITEMS AND PUBLICATIONS IN THE 61 CLASSIFICATION, RECORDS BRANCH, FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION, BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE

Miscellaneous propaganda items and publications are presently contained in approximately 630 files in the 61 classification maintained in the Filing Unit of the Records Branch, Files and Communications Division, which do not appear to possess sufficient investigative, administrative, research or intelligence value to merit further retention. A tabulation has been made showing the file number, title of propaganda material or publication and the time span of the items maintained in file. Approximately one thousand index cards can likewise be destroyed if this material is approved for disposal. The bulk of the material in these files is over 20 years old. The majority of the files consist of one serial, a sample of which is also attached together with the propaganda item or publication. Some of the publications are in foreign languages and have not been translated. Some of the files contain correspondence from the public regarding a publication or submitting propaganda items. A limited number of the voluminous files are currently active, such as "The Daily Worker", "The Nation", "The Crusader", "Atlantis", "New Leader", "The Fiery Cross", and "The Fifth Column". Inasmuch as "The Daily Worker" and "The Nation", together with others, are available for review on microfilm at the Library of Congress, it does not appear necessary to retain these items for a period in excess of ten years. The very limited number of files containing investigative reports will be retained except for the publication or propaganda items which will be destroyed.

It is proposed that this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for review and that any items which the Domestic Intelligence Division feels should be retained be appropriately noted. Archival authority does not appear necessary relative to the destruction of this material inasmuch as only public source material, together with transmittal letters, will be destroyed.

Memorandum O'Connell to Marshall
Re: PROPOSED DISPOSAL OF MISCELLANEOUS PROPAGANDA ITEMS AND PUBLICATIONS IN THE 61 CLASSIFICATION, RECORDS BRANCH, FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That this memorandum be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for review and that appropriate notations be made in those instances where any publication or propaganda items should be retained.

(2) That the index cards for all items approved for destruction be purged from the General Index.

ADDENDUM: DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISION 7/24/72 WRW:ebc abc

Domestic Intelligence Division has no objection to proposed disposition of these items. It is suggested, however, that with regard to the publications Library of Congress be afforded the opportunity to take them or dispose of them dependent on its needs. This will not only enable Library of Congress to improve its collection of some of these materials but also be of advantage to the Bureau should there be a subsequent need to refer to such documents.

SUBJECT: NATIONAL STOLEN PROPERTY FILE

Destruction of Bureau Records - Sec.

The only part of the National Stolen Property File remaining is that pertaining to Securities. No entries have been made in this file since March 1967. All entries after that date have been entered in N.C.I.C. Current N.C.I.C. regulations state that unrecovered Securities will be retained for the balance of the year entered, plus four. This time has elapsed for the index cards we have retained and accordingly they will be destroyed. The tick-o-meter count on these cards is 63,418.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF FILE 64-32001 SUB 1, UNITED STATES COMMUNICATIONS INTELLIGENCE COORDINATING COMMITTEE - PERSONNEL, BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

File Number 64-32001 Sub 1 entitled "United States Communications Intelligence Coordinating Committee - Personnel" occupies three filing cabinets of badly needed space. The material in this file consists of Personnel Security Questionnaires (PSQ) on thousands of individuals and letters which contain lists of names for indexing purposes. These PSQs and letters were submitted by the Departments of Army, Navy and Air Force for the purpose of having names of individuals, who were cleared for special intelligence work, indexed in the Bureau's indices.

This program was discontinued by these agencies 9/7/67, inasmuch as it proved to be unproductive and served no useful purpose. All of the names contained in the aforementioned file have been deindexed. Also, three bulky enclosures to this file, which contain lists of names which were never indexed, should be destroyed. Archival authority is not necessary for the destruction of this material, inasmuch as the Bureau has standing authority to destroy material of a name check nature. Copies of the memorandums authorizing discontinuance of this program are attached. The Files and Communications Division recommends the destruction of this file. The views and recommendations of the Domestic Intelligence Division should be obtained.

ORIGINAL FILED IN

APR 17 1972

RECORDS

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the aforementioned material, submitted by the Army, Navy and Air Force, contained in file number 64-32001 Sub 1 be destroyed in order to reclaim three cabinets of badly needed filing space, inasmuch as this material no longer possesses sufficient value to merit retention.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED REVIEW AND DISPOSAL OF TAPE RECORDINGS AND PHONOGRAPH RECORDS FOR SOUND REPRODUCTION, MAINTAINED IN THE FILING UNIT OF THE RECORDS BRANCH FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE

The Filing Unit in the Records Branch of the Files and Communications Division presently maintains 64 miscellaneous items of tape recordings and phonograph records for sound reproduction. A tabulation of these items is attached. Most of these items do not appear to have sufficient historical, investigative, intelligence and administrative value to merit retention. Many of the recordings have been transcribed and placed in the substantive case files. However, a thorough search of indices and abstracts fails to indicate that any action was taken to transcribe or use the material for which a file number could not be found.

It is proposed that the attached tabulation of items be reviewed and that annotations be placed thereon by the respective divisions, indicating which items should be retained or destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this matter be referred to Training Division, Domestic Intelligence Division, General Investigative Division and Crime Records Division and that appropriate notations be made by each division as to the disposition which should be made of pertinent recording material maintained in the Filing Unit of the Records Branch.

(Suggestion 74-73 dated 7/28/72)

NOTE: Suggests destruction of all files after five years in Unknown Subject (Unsub) cases in all criminal classifications since statute of limitations has run and retention of such files serves no practical or evidentiary purpose. All auxiliary office files, both Unsub and subject cases, in all criminal categories should also be destroyed after five years.

Suggestion is being acknowledged since additional consideration is necessary by the Office of Legal Counsel.

SUGGESTION

Destruction of all files after five years in Unknown Subject cases in all criminal classifications since statute of limitations has run and retention of such files serves no practical or evidentiary purpose. All auxiliary office files, both Unsub and subject cases, in all criminal categories also should be destroyed after five years.

0 DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GEN'L

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Files and records are destroyed when five years of age in certain conditions. Part II Section 3, Rules and Regulations, d(3) Unsub Subject 15, 26, 52, 70 and 87.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

With accumulation of files, office space is at a premium. With destruction of such files following expiration of statute of limitations, the monetary cost per square foot for storage would be reduced and clerical personnel handling such files could be assigned other duties. It is estimated that field-wide the Bureau could realize savings in the thousands of dollars annually.

To save clerical time, Part II, Section 3, Item 5d3, Page 11b, should be deleted:

(3) To facilitate destruction when five years old, the unknown subject files in the 15, 26, 52, 70, and 87 classifications may be recorded on the left side of the file cover. If a case is reopened and the subject is identified, this file number must be removed from the consolidated file cover.

NOTE: Based on Suggestion 906-72 submitted by [redacted] Oklahoma City Office. In view of recent streamlining of five year destruction rules in auxiliary offices relating to classifications 15, 26, 52, 70, and 87, it is now necessary to review entire consolidated volume for destruction purposes. In view of the above, the listing of file numbers in unknown subject cases in the above classifications on front of consolidated file cover would no longer facilitate destruction.

Dear Miss [redacted]

The suggestions submitted by you have been received that a particular item in the Manual of Rules and Regulations be deleted and that certain photographs be retained for a particular purpose. I am pleased to advise you the first proposal is being adopted and steps will be taken to place it into effect. It has been decided the disadvantages involved in the second idea militate against approval.

The interest which led you to submit your observations to me on these matters is indeed appreciated.

and the subject is identified, this file number must be removed from the consolidated file cover." Suggester states all files in a consolidated section must now be reviewed in these categories for destruction under the five-year rule, so it would appear to be a waste of clerical time to list the unknown subject file numbers as stated above.

Chief Clerk's Desk, Training Division, agrees noting that, in view of new five-year destruction rules covering all files in the classifications mentioned, it would appear these numbers would no longer be necessary to facilitate file destruction and there would be a saving of clerical time if this practice were eliminated. On approval, this letter will serve as authority for Chief Clerk's Desk to make necessary manual revisions.

Suggestion 907-72 recommends, when destroying files under the five-year rule, photographs be placed in separate containers rather than destroying them. Photographs would be used by Agents when needing look-alike photographs to display to witnesses during course of investigations.

While General Investigative Division concurs with idea, Chief Clerk's Desk pointed out vast majority of files can be destroyed only in auxiliary offices under five-year destruction rule. It would not appear these photographs would be pertinent for use as proposed in auxiliary offices to institute a suspect photograph repository. In addition, procedure would require maintenance of a special indices or addition of a notation on existing index cards that photographs were retained. Training Division recommends this idea not be approved.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF MISCELLANEOUS FILES IN THE 65 (ESPIONAGE) CLASSIFICATION BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

A survey was made of cases in the 65 (Espionage) classification for the purpose of identifying and isolating files containing miscellaneous information concerning alleged wartime espionage activity which no longer possesses sufficient historical, investigative, intelligence or reference value to merit retention. It is proposed that files in the above category in which investigation was predicated upon rumor, nebulous complaints and non-specific allegations, be destroyed. All of the files proposed for destruction are over 25 years old; include an abundance of old German files; have been extensively de-indexed and consist primarily of initial correspondence or preliminary investigative reports all of which fail to possess any current value in the Bureau's operations. No prosecutive action occurred in any of these cases and many of the files were opened merely for record purposes. The proposed destruction of these files would include material in the 65-0 general file, 65-0 Sub A files and files containing very early Japanese alien activities, which were concluded in the 1920's. All of the files proposed for destruction will in no way hinder or adversely affect the Bureau's operations or responsibility as an investigative organization including the performance of name checks pursuant to requests received from other government agencies.

All files containing derogatory information, including major cases as well as files pertaining to diplomatic establishments and personalities and files pertaining to relationships between countries will be retained. Additionally, all files in which the subject is identified that contain elements of an espionage violation will be retained. It is conservatively estimated that 35 six-drawer cabinets of filing space will be reclaimed and approximately 25,000 main index cards can be destroyed in the General Index. (It is noted that material in this classification over 25 years old amounts to 136 six-drawer cabinets.) A cross section of files indicative of the type cases which fall into the category for destruction has been tabulated and is attached. Archival authority will be required since destruction will involve original records. Request for Archival authorization will be submitted separately.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Reference is made to your suggestion regarding the disposition of certain files in field offices after five years. After evaluation, it has been decided this proposal should not be approved because of the exceptions which would be necessary and the fact that the information contained in this material may be of value in later cases.

I appreciate the interest you displayed in giving me the benefit of your thoughts on this matter.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 74-73 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted] b6 b7C
WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE

SUGGESTION: It is recommended all files be destroyed after five years in unknown subject (Unsub) cases pertaining to all criminal classifications since the statute of limitations has run and retention of such files serves no practical or evidentiary purpose. All auxiliary office files, both Unsub and known subject cases, in all criminal categories should also be destroyed after five years.

CURRENT PRACTICE: The suggester notes that files and records are destroyed when five years of age under certain conditions as set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, d(3) and in Unsub cases in Theft from Interstate Shipment; Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicle or Aircraft; Theft, Embezzlement, Robbery, Illegal Possession of, or Destruction of Government Property; Crime on Government Reservation; and, Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property cases.

ADVANTAGES: Suggester notes that office space is at a premium and with the destruction of such files following expiration of statute of limitations, the monetary cost per square foot for storage would be reduced and clerical personnel handling such files could be assigned other duties. He feels that on a field-wide basis the Bureau could realize savings in the thousands of dollars annually.

OBSERVATIONS: General Investigative felt these cases could be destroyed after five years provided; (1) stops are not outstanding; (2) a major or capital offense is not involved; and (3) the files contain no signed statements. Exceptions to this would be kidnapping, extortion, bank robbery, crime aboard aircraft, and destruction of aircraft or motor vehicle cases which should not be included. Also, other important cases or those which have many ramifications should not be destroyed simply because they are five years old. It was felt that the rules as set forth on page 13b, Part II, Section 3, d(4), of Manual of Rules and Regulations, sufficiently covers those classifications relating to auxiliary offices.

AUG 22 1972

ST-106

Special Investigative Division opposed adoption pointing out that our present rule should be flexible enough to allow for the destruction of files after the expiration of five years from closing. There are some classifications, such as extortion, kidnapping and bank robbery wherein the rule should not apply. This idea would narrow the gap in destruction in many instances and might, therefore, involve the destruction of some files prematurely.

Chief Clerk's Desk, Training Division, and Inspection Division agreed that under existing regulations criminal files in auxiliary offices can be destroyed when five years old providing: (1) office is not office of origin of office of prosecution; (2) file is of no further value; (3) stops are not outstanding; and, (4) original FD-302s, signed statements and evidentiary material in office is retained when file is destroyed. The file fronts are retained and show identity of office of origin thereon for reference purposes. The index cards are retained for twenty years and then destroyed as encountered. It was felt the mandatory destruction of criminal files in auxiliary offices when five years old would not be consistent with good records management. Some of these files contain background and intelligence information which is still beneficial to auxiliary offices. This would be particularly true if the auxiliary office was a neighbor of the office of origin. Furthermore, in certain capital offenses there would be appellant and prosecutive interest subsequent to the five-year limitation period. These Divisions felt unsub files and index cards relating thereto could be destroyed after five years under same provisions as set forth above for the destruction of classifications mentioned by the suggester. The portion of the idea relating to known subject criminal files should not be approved.

Office of Legal Counsel opposed adoption noting that Unsub cases could be solved by the solution of later cases. Information in the first case would not be prosecutable but could be used for sentencing purposes in the later case. Due to these views and fact of exceptions as noted by other divisions, Training Division feels our current regulations should not be amended.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF INDEX CARDS IN LEGAL ATTACHE OFFICES
SUGGESTION 876-72 SUBMITTED BY
ASSISTANT LEGAL ATTACHE [redacted]
MEXICO CITY OFFICE

By suggestion form dated 6/6/72, the above-named Agent proposed the Foreign Operations Policy Manual (FOPM), Section 6, L, 2, paragraph 2, be amended to permit destruction of index cards, as encountered, when they pertain to destroyed files for which no Bureau file number is available in the Legat office. This destruction would be performed in the normal course of business in connection with the periodic review of indices for other purposes.

The advantage stated was the reduction of the volume of index cards to manageable proportions, retaining only those with current value, and the easier destruction of records in case of an emergency. There would eventually also be a saving of searching time if the volume of cards were reduced.

One disadvantage listed was if there is no Bureau file number available, index cards would be destroyed and the searcher would be unable to determine if the office previously had a file on the subject.

This idea was acknowledged by letter to the suggester dated 6/21/72 and approval was granted for the Domestic Intelligence Division to make a survey of all Legat offices regarding this matter. The results of this survey have now been received by the Training Division. Eighteen of the nineteen offices opposed adoption. They noted that any great saving in space would be negligible as compared to the disadvantages involved. The retention of index cards even though they pertain to destroyed files is a vital link in the chain of the administrative and investigative operations. There are numerous occasions when U. S. and foreign sources request a name check. If the file has been destroyed, there is at least an index card which contains the Legat file number, a full name, important biographic data and sometimes the character of the case. By knowing that an office had a file, it can be guided accordingly with the agency requesting the check. If a case is of sufficient importance to open, it was felt a three- by five-inch index card reference to it should be retained. The indices serve a very useful purpose and their utility would be diminished if the idea were implemented.

SUGGESTION

I would like to suggest that a review be made of the publications maintained in the Numerical Section in Room 6315, Identification Building, for the purpose of disposing of those publications which no longer possess sufficient value to merit retention. This material is contained in 30 cabinets. A similar project was handled with the publications maintained in the Alphabetical Section and this resulted in 186 file cabinets being reclaimed when these publications were given to the Library of Congress. It is felt that at least 50% of the space occupied by the numerical publications can be reclaimed.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Current practice is to retain all numerical publications received by the Bureau.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

The advantage of this suggestion would be to reclaim badly needed filing space in the publications section of the Filing Unit.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Disadvantages of suggestion

None. If the publications which no longer have any value were given to the Library of Congress these would be available on a need basis for future use. b6 b7C

(The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is adopted within two years after submission.)

SUGGESTION That the Foreign Operations Policy Manual (FOPM), Section 6, L, 2, Paragraph 2, be amended to permit destruction of index cards, as encountered, when they pertain to destroyed files for which no BuFile available. Work to be performed in normal course of business in connection with periodic review of indices for other purposes.

"Destruction of Bureau Property Gen.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Cited FOPM paragraph states, "Index cards for files destroyed should be retained, thereby affording a future file reference for any necessary Bureau indices check." In larger foreign offices, this permits needless accumulation of thousands of cards (See Page 2)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Reduction of volume of index cards to manageable proportions, retaining only those with current value (nearly 300 rows currently on hand with urgent need for additional cabinets), facilitate destruction of records in case of emergency; time saved in searching if volume of cards reduced, and time saved in attempting to locate information in files no longer available. Estimated cost of two new cabinets currently needed is $400, plus at least one additional cabinet annually in the future at $200 each.

Disadvantages of suggestion If no Bufile number available, cards would be destroyed and searcher would be unable to state that office previously had file on a particular subject. Offset by advantages listed and fact that knowledge of previous existence of file has limited value when the file itself has been destroyed.

SUBJECT: CIVIL FILES PURGE AND DESTRUCTION PROJECT

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

As you know, we have been utilizing available personnel whenever feasible month-in and month-out to accomplish the earlier phases of the civil files destruction program since 7/1/70. In fiscal year 1972 we destroyed 11.8 million fingerprint cards and 11.7 million related index cards. During this same period, and in the months since 7/1/72, as personnel were available from the priority processing operations of our day-to-day responsibilities, we were able to pull from the cabinets and set aside a large block of fingerprint cards representing World War II national defense prints. The first two phases of our purge project (all persons age 75 and over and all old national defense prints) could be accomplished with low-level, untrained personnel because simple criteria were involved in determining fingerprint cards to be abstracted. We were attacking the total project in terms of getting the most cards out of file in the first two easier phases before attacking the more difficult phase of the project wherein we will be consolidating duplicates and insuring that the duplicates match before destruction of the extra copies. 66-3286-1176

ST-112 REC-70 66-3286-1176

As you know from your recent inspection at the Willste Building, these cards are stacked on cabinets all over the building and not only are unsightly but interfere with regular work processes. We have not heretofore completed the destruction program pertaining to them because we have not had available personnel to identify and remove the name index cards applicable to the fingerprint cards removed from cabinets. The total represented in these stacks of fingerprint cards awaiting completion of the process to destroy them is 31,772,553.

20 OCT 16 1972

In accordance with review and analysis of this matter with you and in view of our experience to date, a more efficient approach is being taken to the total project; namely, we have removed and destroyed the accumulation of the 31.7 million fingerprint cards. We will be able to identify the appropriate index cards in the name indices applicable to the fingerprint cards destroyed at a later time when we are going methodically through all of the civil indices to segregate those applicable to the third phase of matching duplicates and destroying all duplicates but the one Federal print. This third phase will have to be initiated in the indices rather than working first from fingerprint cards in order to identify those which appear to be duplicates and then going to the fingerprint cabinet to pull the related fingerprint cards, confirming that they are in fact duplicates. Thus, while making this systematic review of the indices we will at the same time be able to quickly and readily identify those index cards applicable to the National Defense prints and to persons age 75 and over already destroyed and pull them for destruction at the same time. In the past, we have found such a procedure to be practicable.

SUBJECT: NAME CHECK REQUESTS
SUGGESTION 113-73 SUBMITTED BY
MISS [redacted]
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION: (1) That name check requests for State Department on crew members on foreign ships on which there is no record (NR), no identifiable information (NI) or no pertinent (NP) or derogatory information, no longer be indexed and filed or that they be filed unindexed and destroyed after a period of one year.

(2) That such State Department requests now indexed and filed be purged and destroyed if over one year old.

(3) That the name of the ship be placed on record and if there is an incident we could always go back and index the crew members if necessary.

CURRENT PRACTICE: The suggester states the general rule regarding name checks for the State Department which result in NR, NI or NP is to appropriately stamp the form and return a copy to the requester. The current practice is to file and index a copy of such NR, NI, or NP requests into various Bureau files. The net effect is that we are only making a record of the fact we have no record, thus adding names to our indices and serials to our files which appear to be of no benefit to the Bureau. In many instances because of the short duration these crewmen are in the U. S., the ship has come and gone before we have these lists placed on record.

ADVANTAGES: These procedures would effect savings in eliminating cost of indexing and filing these negative name checks in the future. This together with the purging of such requests now on record would not only save indexing and filing space but would also save time of review clerks in the File Review Unit and of locate clerks in the Filing Unit of the Files and Communications Division.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division felt the idea had merit. It was noted the exact number of files maintained on Soviet and Soviet Bloc countries' ships cannot be readily ascertained from the index, however, the files are easily identified during file reviews on State Department name checks of this nature. As an example of space involved in current procedure, file 97-1655 has 25 sections in which 3,482 names are indexed and file 105-117759 has five sections in which 664 names are indexed. There are several more similar files which are known to exist.

Memorandum T. J. Jenkins to Mr. Felt
Re: Name Check Requests
Suggestion 113-73 Submitted By
Miss [redacted]
Files and Communications Division

b6
b7C

The forms submitted by State Department on crew members are filed as serial references in the main file on the individual ships of which the person is a crew member. These forms contain no derogatory or subversive information so no useful purpose is being served by accumulating this material as a permanent record in Bureau's files. This Division recommended the idea be approved to the extent that these name check requests no longer be indexed and filed and that files, together with applicable index cards, be purged relative to name check request forms containing no derogatory information.

Domestic Intelligence Division believed this was a worthwhile proposal in that it would save clerical time and record space. Since the manifests of these foreign ships are filed and the names of the ships are indexed, there appears to be no reason to index the entire crew list. This Division recommended adoption.

Due to these views, Training Division agrees the idea should be approved.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising her of this fact.

E.M.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Files and Communications Division to place the proposed procedure into effect.

The purpose of this letter is to ask for a statement of your views on the following two questions:

1. Must the FBI, in order to destroy the material described below as the Final Memorandum, obtain prior authority from the Archivist of the United States, or, in the alternative, may we destroy the Final Memorandum without the Archivist's knowledge or permission.

2. In any event, may we have the permission of the Attorney General, in whose custody all of our information resides, to destroy the Final Memorandum.

Beginning about two decades ago, the FBI initiated a practice of unofficially obtaining public source information about nonincumbent candidates for the offices of United States Senator, United States Representative, and Governor. The purpose of obtaining this information was to enable Director Hoover and principal employees of the FBI to be better informed on the person under consideration should he be elected to the post for which he was campaigning and thus become an official with whom the FBI might necessarily deal on official matters. For example, should the person under consideration be elected to the post of United States Senator and should the information concerning him in the possession of the FBI be completely or substantially favorable, Mr. Hoover might write him a letter of congratulations immediately upon learning of his election to office.

UNRECORDED COPY FILED IN

The information was gathered unofficially, not in response to statute or regulation of any kind. After nonincumbent candidates had been chosen in the primary election, FBI field offices and Special Agents in those offices were directed by FBI Headquarters routing slip to submit such information as came to their attention while going about their prescribed duties. The information might be that found in a local newspaper, or any rumor or knowledge current in the community, or any fact learned from experience had by the Special Agent with the candidate in some way or other, as where the candidate became acquainted with the Special Agent while the former served as a defense attorney for the accused in an FBI criminal case. No investigative file was opened and no official investigation was made. The only information submitted by the Special Agent to the field office was that which is commonly labeled public source information. A Special Agent who had no information on the candidate made no report at all.

When the field office had collected the information available on each nonincumbent candidate in its office territory - the public source information informally reported by the Agents - it had what amounted to a short biography of the candidate. How long or how short the biography was varied from case to case, depending upon the age of the candidate, his past activities in the community, his reputation, and other relevant factors. The field office then searched its files on the candidate to see what additional information was available there. The sum total was then incorporated in an informal memorandum sent to FBI Headquarters.

When the informal memorandum from the field office reached FBI Headquarters, the name of the nonincumbent candidate was searched through FBI Headquarters files. In some cases this search revealed additional information and in others it did not. To take a hypothetical case, let us assume that the name searched at FBI Headquarters located information on the nonincumbent candidate in files A, B, and C. This information might be either good or bad, or both. File A might show, for example, that when the candidate was a student in college, he reportedly belonged to the Communist Party. File B might show that in his last year at college he repudiated the Communist Party and was a source of information for the FBI. File C might show that the candidate had been interviewed as a witness during a criminal investigation conducted by this Bureau or as a reference in a Federal employee investigation.

When all of the information, if any, about the candidate contained in the files of FBI Headquarters had been located, a Final Memorandum was prepared. This memorandum consolidated in one place all of the information received from the field office as above described, and all of the information found in FBI Headquarters files. That memorandum became the basis on which Director Hoover and/or other FBI officials determined what kind of relationship would be proper with the candidate if elected to the office which he sought. If he was not elected, the memorandum was destroyed as having no value. In either event, the informal memorandum received at FBI Headquarters from the field office was destroyed after the information which it contained was incorporated into the Final Memorandum written at FBI Headquarters.

It is this Final Memorandum which we now propose to destroy. It contains information from three sources, as follows:

(1) The unofficial public source information unofficially acquired by one or more Agents in the field;

(2) A summary of the information on that person that was at that time contained in the files of the FBI field office covering his home area, and

(3) A summary of the information on that person that was at that time contained in the files of FBI Headquarters.

In destroying this memorandum, we will not be destroying any official FBI record whatsoever. FBI Headquarters files A, B, and C, whose information was summarized into this memorandum, will continue to exist in headquarters files. FBI field office files, whose information was summarized into this memorandum, will continue to exist in that office. The only information that will be destroyed is that public source information which the Special Agents in the field unofficially obtained and unofficially reported to their field offices and which the field offices then sent to FBI Headquarters (along with a summary of the information in the FBI field office file), and which was thrown into the wastebasket at FBI Headquarters once it had been incorporated into the Final Memorandum which we now propose to destroy.

The Attorney General

Our study of the definition of the term "records" in Title 44, United States Code, Chapter 33, and in 41 Code of Federal Regulations, Section 101-11.000, Subpart 101-11.1, suggests that in destroying the Final Memorandum described above we will not be destroying any official records of the Department of Justice.

A statement of your views on this point and on the two points numbered on page 1 of this letter will be appreciated.

CONGRESSIONAL CONTACTS

Mr. Gray has requested the infinite details concerning our programs of collecting background information on Congressional and gubernatorial candidates.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 5.14.81 BY 6383 UR1/cmj

BACKGROUND:

An extensive search of Bufiles reveals nothing concerning these programs. The program concerning governors is discussed separately at the end of this memo.

Relying on the memory of employees who have been here since the late 1940s and early 1950s the following is the background of the Congressional program as best can be recalled.

Early in the 1950s, added emphasis was placed on sending congratulatory letters to successful Congressional candidates and to increased personal contacts with Members of Congress. In conjunction with this some efforts were made to obtain biographical data on candidates and to determine what our relationship had been with them in the past. There apparently was no effort to compile this data in a central place.

About 1954, apparently on oral instructions from Assistant to the Director Louis B. Nichols, a systematic review of data in Bufiles and available reference material was begun on Members of Congress. This is borne out by the fact that summary-type memo dated in 1954-55 do appear in some main files on present Members of Congress who were then in office. Memos were not prepared in every instance but the data was summarized directly onto reference cards which Mr. Nichols about the same time, also apparently orally, instructed should be prepared on each Member of Congress so he and others dealing frequently with Congress would have readily available a summary of background data and pertinent information from Bufiles to refer to when if was necessary to contact the Members or when they received inquiries from them. Preparation of these cards began in late 1954 or early 1955. From then until 1971 the maintenance and updating of these cards was the primary responsibility of one clerical employee in the Research Unit of the Research and Service Section. This function was transferred to the Administrative Review Unit of the Research and Service Section when it was created early in 1971 to consolidate all functions relating to Congressional activities (except for those dealing with the Budget) in the Crime Research Division.

During the early years of this program biographical data on newly elected Members of Congress was gathered from whatever sources were available here in Washington but this proved unsatisfactory. SACs and ASACs then were requested to provide such data along with any information the field offices might have in its files. These requests for several years were made orally during conferences and through other personal contacts with the Field Office officials. This also proved unsatisfactory so informal written requests were sent to the Field Offices for the background and summary of file information on major nonincumbent candidates. Data on incumbents has not been requested since we already knew them. Apparently, 1960 was the first year written instructions were used--this is based on memory of employee handling, for no record exists. Such written requests have continued to be sent each election year since that time.

Until this year the instructions cautioned that the matter was to be handled extremely discreetly and the information submitted on an informal basis. One copy each of two routing slips sent out in 1970 (dated 8-12-70 and 10-6-70) are enclosed as exhibits A and B. These were retained as samples and are the only ones which have been retained from prior years. In November, 1970, you reviewed the instructions which had been issued and instructed, "Let's be even more circumspect next year--tell them to make no inquiries--get info only from records." Consequently, our instructions which went out this year by routing slip dated 1-13-72 directed--"Under no circumstances should you make outside inquiries such as checks of credit bureaus or newspaper morgues." See exhibit C. The instructions this year also specified the information was to be submitted "by routing slip, not letter." In the few instances where this was not complied with, the Field Office involved was told specifically to remove all copies of the material from its files and destroy it.

M. A. Jones to Bishop Memo
RE: CONGRESSIONAL CONTACTS

About 1959 we began the practice of submitting a memo on each newly elected Congressman and Senator incorporating the background information collected and a summary of data from Field Office and Bureau files. This was the only record ever kept on any information collected under this program. All data gathered on unsuccessful candidates was destroyed after the election. Data not not included in the memo on those elected was also destroyed. This would include such information as the candidates' position on issues not related to law enforcement interest. Many Field Offices have merely sent in copies of news clippings and campaign literature which show the candidates' position on a wide range of issues from birth control to taxation. If there is no law enforcement interest it is not recorded in the memo or on the reference cards and is destroyed.

Enclosed as exhibits D and E are copies of the only two memos which have been written concerning new Members of Congress since Mr. Gray became Acting Director. These are on Senator Elaine Edwards (D-La.) dated 8-2-72 and Congressman John B. Breaux (D-La.) dated 10-13-72. These memos, like those which have been submitted before them, contain the information that the individual has been elected or appointed as Senator or Congressman. They also contain whatever biographical background information we may have either from the Field Office or from reference material available here. They contain a summary of any pertinent information contained in Bureau files or the files of the office covering the individual's home area. If no information is contained in files, this is so-stated.

If a main file for general information, as contrasted to investigative type file, does not already exist in the Bureau on the new Member, this memo will become the basis for opening such a general file. This file then will become the repository for all future general information concerning the new Member, such as memos recording contacts with the Member and some exchange of correspondence with him. If the Member becomes the subject of an investigation, either criminal or otherwise, a separate file on this matter is opened and records concerning the investigation will go into the investigative file, not the general file. Not all memos reporting contacts with a Member nor all exchange of correspondence with him will placed in his general file. If the contact or correspondence concerns a constituent matter, it will be filed under the constituent's name. If it concerns a legislative matter, it will go into a file dealing with the legislation. Rarely are copies of such documents placed in the Members main file and rarely is the Member's name even indexed to such serials. The main general file on the Member will contain such items as memoranda concerning the Member himself, i.e. his visits to the Bureau, his requests for specific items such as autographed photographs, and exchanges of correspondence dealing with personal matters, i.e. thanking him for complimentary remarks on the floor or responding to letters in which he has a personal rather than a constituent or legislative interest.

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKED:

Following is a step-by-step account on how this program has worked. More detailed information is set out later in the memo.

Each election year since 1960 routing slips have been sent to all Field Offices requesting background data and information from Field Office files on major nonincumbent candidates for Congress and for governor. The initial routing slip containing the general instructions has been approved by the Division head, follow-up routing slips where necessary have been approved by the unit or section chief. The routing slip this year was sent out on 1-13-72 (Exhibit C) to alert the Field Offices far in advance of the primaries so they would be able to start collecting news clippings, campaign literature and other public data to provide the background needed since they were specifically instructed to make no outside inquiries.

Material has been received from the Field generally by routing slip or in sealed envelopes addressed to the Crime Research Division. On rare occasions some Field Offices have submitted the data in formal communications and in each instance these offices have been orally instructed to remove from their files all copies of the material, and the communications were treated here as informal ones with no record being made in Bureau files.

One clerical employee has been assigned to handle the election project each year. As data came in from the Field, she logged it in and then placed it in folders according to state and further broken down by Congressional districts. She was the sole custodian of these folders which were maintained by her under the same security as she would maintain a regular Bureau file.

Early in September of election year this employee would request search slips from the Service Unit of the Files and Communications Division on each major nonincumbent candidate once she had collected sufficient biographical data to enable a reasonable check of Bureau indices. Where the search slip showed no record on the candidate in Bureau files this was attached to data received from the Field and held in the folder for use in dictating a memo should the candidate be elected.

If the search slip showed file references on the candidate, these files were requested and the references reviewed for information which should be included in the memo should the candidate win. Such information as the results of any prior investigations of the candidate, indications of criminal or subversive activities, indications of pro or anti law enforcement sentiments, prior contacts with FBI personnel, and positions on issues of interest to law enforcement would be summarized for inclusion in the memo. Review of file references was delayed until just prior to election day and was not done on candidates where there was good indication they had little chance of winning.

After election day, as election results were verified, memos were prepared by the clerical employee handling this project on successful nonincumbent candidates setting out background obtained from the Field and from library reference publications here and summarizing the data located in Field Office and Bureau files, if any.

All information collected on unsuccessful candidates, either from the Field, from library reference sources, from Field Office files, or Bureau files, including the search slips, was destroyed as soon as it was determined the candidate had been defeated. When results of all elections were confirmed and after all memos on successful nonincumbent candidates had been submitted everything which had been collected from any source, including the folder used to maintain the data, was destroyed. The only record which remained was the memo submitted on the successful nonincumbent candidates. This, following review by Bureau officials, was placed in Bureau files.

A reference card then was made up on the new Member. The first information on the card would be the biographical data included in the memo. Next would be a summary of any information contained in the memo which had come from Field Office or Bureau files. This card would replace the card on the defeated Member as soon as the new Member took office. Reference cards are filed alphabetically, divided by Members of the House of Representatives, Senators, and governors, the card on governors being maintained separately from Members of Congress.

CONTINUED - OVER

The cards on former Members are filed alphabetically in an inactive section in the Administrative Review Unit where they are retained for six years (a Senator's term) in the event they may be reelected. If not reelected after six years, the cards are destroyed.

A copy of information placed on the reference cards in the Administrative Review Unit is furnished to the office of the Division Assistant Director for inclusion on the duplicate cards maintained in his personal office and to the chief of the Correspondence and Tours Section for the duplicate set of cards which he maintains. These are the only copies of the reference cards and all three sets are kept under lock. The master reference card file maintained in the Administrative Review Unit is the only place where cards are kept on Members who have been defeated.

Reference cards are updated on a continuing basis by the clerical person responsible for maintaining them. All information concerning Members of Congress from any source is supposed to be furnished to the Administrative Review Unit and tickler copies of all memoranda and correspondence prepared at Bureau Headquarters to or related to Members of Congress are supposed to be designated for this Unit, and these items are reviewed for information to be added to the reference cards. Field offices periodically send to the Bureau information coming to their attention regarding Members of Congress, and this is reviewed for information which should be placed on the reference cards. No information is included on these reference cards unless it is supported by a document which has been designated to go into the official files of the Bureau.

One clerical employee is primarily responsible for the maintenance of the reference cards and for keeping them updated. She is responsible for the summarization of material included on the cards. In this respect she is guided by Agent personnel in the Administrative Review Unit.

Periodically--about once each year--Bureau indices are checked on each Member of Congress for items on the Member which may have been placed in Bureau files without having been routed through the Administrative Review Unit. A stamp is placed on the reference cards showing the month and the year when such periodic checks are made. Other clerical personnel in the Administrative Review Unit assist in this project. All of these personnel are of Grade GS 5 or above. This program requires about 45 percent of the time of the clerical employee responsible for it.

CONTINUED - OVER

Whenever any item is added to the master reference cards in the Administrative Review Unit, a copy of this is furnished to the Assistant Director's Office and to the Correspondence and Tours Section so that the cards maintained in those offices can be updated also.

TYPE OF DATA RECEIVED AND HOW IT WAS SUBMITTED:

Most of the information which has been received on nonincumbent candidates has been of a routine biographical type, virtually all of which has come from two sources--campaign literature and news media articles. Frequently, the Field Offices have complyed with instructions to send background information merel by enclosing copies of news articles and campaign brochures.

The type of information coming from Field Office files, if any, generally has related to some prior contacts office personnel have have had with the candidate. On rare occasions, the Field has furnished information already from its files concerning allegations of criminal or corrupt practices, subversive activities, and immoral conduct. The vast majority of nonincumbent candidates have had no record in the Field Office files. The Field always has been instructed to submit material in this program informally and this year the Field was specifical told to submit the material "by routing slip,not letter." Most of it has been receive in this fashion. Some has been sent directly to the Crime Research Division in sealed envelopes. One or two offices this year, contrary to the instructions, did forward the information to the Bureau by formal communication and each was promptly contacted telephonically and told to remove all reference to and copies of this material from Field Office files. The employee who was previously responsible for this program advised that such was the practice in the past also.

We have not asked for data on incumbents since we already know then The Field Offices from time to time, however, do submit to the Bureau in varying forms--letters, letterhead memoranda, airtels, teletypes--information which come to their attention concerning Members of Congress. This may include a contact the Member had with someone in the office, a speech he may have made in his home district wherein reference is made to the FBI, some allegations of possible criminal or subversive activity, or any number of other topics which the Field may consider of interest to the Bureau. All such information is supposed to be routed through the Administrative Review Unit for the information of its personnel and any action which it may deem necessary. Information of this type which might be pertinent to future dealings we may have with the Member will be summarized on the reference card maintained on him.

PURPOSE OF COLLECTING DATA ON CANDIDATES:

Initially the collecting of data on Congressional candidates was to assist Bureau officials responsible for handling Congressional liaison and this has remained a major purpose. It has been used in the preparation of a memo on newly elected Members of Congress for information of Bureau officials and to determine which new Members should or should not be paid a courtesy call. It also has been available to provide lead information concerning any investigations which might arise under the law dealing with attacks on Members or Members-Elect as well as other investigations which might involve these persons. No specific instances wherein this material was used for lead information in investigations of or relating to Members or Members-Elect are known; however, personnel in the three investigative divisions frequently have requested information from these reference cards.

The collection of this material from the Field Offices has been discontinued effective 10-27-72 and we have destroyed the data which has been received from the Field Offices this year as a result of this program. Should Mr. Gray want us to continue submitting memos on new Members of Congress we will rely on biographical data which is or soon will be available in the Congressional Quarterly and standard reference material in the Bureau Library. We will check Bureau files but will not request a check of Field Office files.

CONTACTS WITH NEW MEMBERS:

Mr. Gray has indicated we should contact all newly elected Congressmen and Senators. It has been our practice in the past to attempt to do this with a few exceptions. For example, it would appear to be unwise to make a courtesy call on a newly elected Congressman who is the subject of an FBI investigation involving a possible violation of the Election Laws. Two examples of prior cases where we opted not to make a courtesy call on a new Member involved Congressman John R. Rarick (D-La.) who was an Exalted Cyclops of a Ku Klux Klan unit in Louisiana shortly before he was elected to Congress in 1966, and Congressman William J. Green (D-Pa.) who, apparently because of our having investigated his father on an allegations of Fraud Against the Government, displayed a strong dislike for the FBI and virtually refused to speak with an Agent making a routine investigation in 1960. For these reasons we recommend against a blanket policy of contacting all new Members of Congress.

THE REFERENCE CARDS:

Enclosed as exhibits F, G, H, and I are Xerox copies of the information appearing on reference cards concerning Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), Speaker Carl Albert (D-Okla.), Congressman David W. Dennis (R-Ind.), and Senator J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.). The first two are examples of cards on Members in office since before the program was started; the latter two are examples of Members elected within the last four years. Data is typed on front and rear of the cards. Each contains a brief biography followed by a summary of information in Bufiles, each entry contained therein being supported by a document in Bureau files.

In the upper right corner of the cards on Senator Eastland and Speaker Albert is a box with a number therein. This represented an early effort to catalog our relationship with the Members on a 1 to 5 scale, a practice long ago discontinued as totally unworkable. The dates stamped on the cards show the month and year in which a check was made of Bufiles to pick up information which was not routinely channeled to the Crime Records Division for inclusion on the cards. In the lower left corner appears the main file number on the Member and, in some instances, the initials of the employee originating the card.

Efforts are made to keep these cards as current as possible. Any communication received at the Bureau, whether it be a letter, airtel, teletype, report, or newspaper article, from any source containing information about a Member of Congress is supposed to be routed to the Administrative Review Unit of the Crime Research Division for its review and consideration of summarizing the information contained therein on the reference cards. Likewise, copies of all communications emanating from the Bureau to Members of Congress or to any other recipient containing information about a Member are supposed to be sent to the Administrative Review Unit for its review and consideration to the inclusion of data therein on the reference cards. From time to time reminders are sent to the various Headquarters Divisions instructing that copies of all documents containi information about Members of Congress, Congressional staffs, and legislation be designated for or routed through the Administrative Review Unit of Crime Research Division. The last such reminder was dated 12-22-71 and is enclosed as Exhibit J.

Because some documents containing information on Members of Congress are not furnished to the Administrative Review Unit, a periodic check of Bufiles--conducted about once each year--is made in an effort to detect those few items which were placed in file without being routed to the Unit. A stamp of the month and year in which this check was made is placed on the reference card of the Member. The memo initially submitted on the Member when he was elected is not updated unless there is specific cause to prepare a new summary memo on the Member which might occur should the Member request an appointment to see Mr. Gray.

There are three sets of these reference cards. The master set is maintained in the Administrative Review Unit which has the responsibility of keeping them up-to-date. A duplicate set is maintained in the personal office of the Assistant Director of the Crime Research Division and a third set is maintained in the Correspondence and Tours Section of the Crime Research Division. The Assistant Director's office and the Correspondence and Tours Section Chief are furnished copies of new material added to the master reference cards so that their duplicate sets can be kept up-to-date. Only in the Administrative Review Unit are copies of reference cards on former Members of Congress retained and the are kept in an inactive section filed alphabetically for six years (the term of a Senator) in the event the Member should be reelected. If after six years he has not been reelected, the reference card is destroyed.

All three sets of the cards are kept under lock and no additional copies of the cards or any portions of them are supposed to be made. Access to the cards is limited but information from them is available to all Bureau officials and supervisors who call this Division for information from them. An average of about ten such calls are received in this Division daily from personnel in other Divisions. Most of these calls come from supervisors who are preparing memoranda concerning the Member or some matter about which he has inquired or a communication to the Member and the supervisor wants to know what the FBI's relationship has been with a Member in the past. A statement concerning this relationship is placed in the body of a memo or in the note on the yellow file copy of the outgoing letter.

PURPOSE OF THE REFERENCE CARDS:

The cards serve the sole purpose of being a ready reference to information contained in Bureau files on Members of Congress. Actually, they represent the only central compilation of such information since the original data may be located in numerous different files and much of it not even indexed to the Member's name. The general file on a given Member will contain items relating to him personally such as memos on contacts and exchange of correspondence. Rarely do copies of memos or correspondence concerning legislation or constituent matters go into this file and rarely are Members indexed to such items. Copies of letters to Members on any topic can be found even if the Member is not indexed to them by checking through abstracts, but this is not true with respect to memos. If the Member is not indexed to a memo and no copy of it is placed in his main file, the reference card is the only lead to the location of this information in Bureau files. Exhibit K shows the instructions followed in Records Branch concerning indexing of Congressmen and Senators. Exhibits L and M are examples of memos where there is important information concerning contacts with Members where the Member was not indexed and our reference card remains the only lead to this data in Bureau files.

CONTINUED - OVER

USES OF INFORMATION FROM REFERENCE CARDS:

Attached as exhibits N, O, and P are examples of how these cards are used to enhance our internal operations. Exhibit N shows that, by using the reference cards, one employee on the same day that we learned the names of 12 Senators with whom Mr. Gray was going to meet, could provide him with thumbnail sketches on these Senators and advise what our relations with them had been. Exhibit O is similar--a memo prepared for Mr. Gray's information providing thumbnail sketches on the Members of the House Judiciary Committee with whom Mr. Gray was to have lunch. Without the reference cards, such memos would require employees to do a complete indices search on the Members involved, employees to pull the files and transport them to the Justice Building, and employees to review these many file references and select therefrom pertinent information to be dictated into a memorandum.

Exhibit P shows Mr. Gray's approval of a continuation of the practice of writing congratulatory letters to selected Members of Congress upon their reelection. Without the reference cards it would require a search of Bufiles on virtually every Member of Congress to determine if he should be congratulated or not, a project which would require days and numerous employees.

The reference cards are referred to in most instances when a letter is being prepared to a Member or a memo is being prepared concerning him or some inquiry from him. These cards generally are the source of the information placed in the note of the file copy of the letter and in the body of the memo showing our relationship with the Member. It is necessary to go to Bufiles for such information only when details are essential.

The reference cards also are referred to frequently by FBI officials responsible for continuing contacts with Congress to refresh their memory on our relationship with some Member prior to going to see him. Likewise, they are used to show what matters previously were discussed with the Member should he hav some further inquiry on this topic. Relying on a check of Bufiles for this data would cause considerable delay in responding to Congressional requests and would not give a complete picture since many contacts with Members are not indexed.

The reference cards also enable us in other ways to provide the kind of prompt service which Members of Congress have come to rely upon. It is not unusual to receive a call from a Senator, Congressman, or one of their staff members referring vaguely to some prior letter from the FBI or a prior personal contact with an FBI representative and requesting a copy of the letter or that their memory be refreshed on the matter discussed. By referring to the reference cards such requests generally can be handled in a matter of minutes. It would take much more time and the services of additional employees if we had to rely on a file check. Too, without rather specific information to identify the contact, there is a good possibility we could not find the record in the files since the Member's name may not be indexed to it.

The reference cards have served and continue to serve a vital function in our daily operations. They represent a very good management practice which saves vast amounts of time and certainly enhances our efficiency. There are no recalled misuses of the cards. They are maintained under at least as good security as is the more complete information which they summarize in the general Bureau files. In spite of all this, the remote possibility that one of these cards or information about them might be leaked represents a potential threat to the Bureau and while our liaison functions will be greatly hampered, it is recommended that the prudent course of action at this time would be to destroy these cards.

PROGRAM RE GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES:

This program, like the one relating to Congressional candidates, was set up on the basis of oral instructions with no record being made in Bureau files. According to the clerical employee who has handled it since its inception, this program was started in 1960 to facilitate providing information to Mr. Hoover for use in his periodic conferences with SACs and ASACs and also to prepare information for inspection teams engaged in checking an office. Information similar to that requested from the Field Offices on Congressional candidates has been requested on gubernatorial candidates. In fact, this program has been operated in exactly the same manner as the Congressional program--the data received from the Field being combined with data obtained from Bureau files and a memo submitted on newly elected governors. This information and a summary of future information going into Bureau files then has been placed on reference cards set up in the same fashion as the Congressional cards. Enclosed as Exhibit Q is a Xerox copy of the card maintained on Governor Marvin Mandel (D-Md.).

This program since 1971 has been handled separately from the Congressional program when responsibility for the latter was assigned to the Administrative Review Unit. The purposes and use of the gubernatorial program are not nearly so important as those of the Congressional program. It is recommended the gubernatorial program be discontinued and the reference cards on the governors destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1) We have discontinued effective 10-27-72 the collection of material on Congressional and gubernatorial candidates and that data which has been received has been destroyed. It is recommended Mr. Gray indicate if he wishes the continuation of the practice of submitting a memorandum on newly elected Members of Congress. If such is desired, information contained therein will be limited to data from Congressional Quarterly and standard reference material in the Library plus a summary of information already in Bureau files but not Field Office files.

2) That we continue our practice of attempting to make courtesy calls on all new Members of Congress except where there is just cause not to do so such as Members under current investigation or those affiliated with subversive-type organizations. Each proposed exception will be submitted for approval.

3) The reference cards are a vital part of our Congressional liaison program. They allow prompt responses to inquiries from Bureau officials about Members as well as prompt responses to many requests from the Members. They cut down greatly on the necessity to check Bureau files and they represent, in some instances, the only lead to important information in Bureau files. In spite of this, the possibility that some of these cards or information about them might be leaked represents a potential threat which can only be guarded against by the destruction of the reference cards; hence, it is recommended this be done.

4) That we discontinue entirely the program relating to governors and destroy all reference cards which have been prepared in this program.

Mr. Gray approved each of the above recommendations and they have been put into effect. - 13 DWS 6-29-73

SUBJECT: PHOTOGRAPHS AND DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU FILES (Property) SUGGESTION 262-73 AND 263-73 SUBMITTED BY MR. [redacted] ALBANY

SUGGESTION 262-73: That the Bureau consider destroying all double zero files on a three-year basis in the interest of conserving filing space since, in nearly all instances, the material in these files is incorporated in the FBI Handbook or Bureau manuals.

OBSERVATIONS: The suggestion was considered by Files and Communications, Inspection, and Training Divisions which unanimously opposed adoption. The consensus was that even though much of the pertinent information contained in double zero files is incorporated in Bureau manuals, there is much which is not. In addition, experience has shown that frequently these files are the only reference source available in the field concerning jurisdiction and policy with respect to each classification of cases as well as Departmental interpretations and Bureau instructions based on these interpretations. It was not believed the filing space salvaged would compensate for the loss of reference and historical value of these files. For these reasons it was recommended these files be retained.

SUGGESTION 263-73: Suggested Bureau consider discontinue issuing glossy photographs to all offices in Identification Order (IO) cases since the IO photographs themselves are the latest available on the subject and "glossies" could readily be obtained if believed necessary.

OBSERVATIONS: Special Investigative Division considered this proposal and opposed adoption. It advised that, in its evaluation of the proposal, it had canvassed six field offices (Knoxville, Mobile, Atlanta, San Francisco, Indianapolis and Washington Field Office). The Fugitive Desk supervisors in each of these offices have advised that the glossy photographs currently supplied each office once an IO is issued are most valuable as an investigative aid. They stated that, since these photographs are the best available likeness and are more convenient to handle than an IO, Special Agents use them frequently in "look-alike" situations and in contacting informants. They are most useful in bank robberies and other major cases where the "glossies" are included among other photographs from viewing by witnesses.

Presently a total of 719 extra copies of Bureau investigative reports are contained in file or stored on the Bulky ramp in the Records Branch in the foregoing cases. Additionally, six copies of the President's Commission Report on the Assassination of President Kennedy (Bufile 62-109060-236) are maintained in the Records Branch and occupy voluminous space. Some of these copies were returned to the Bureau by other government agencies when no longer needed. Attached is a tabulation identifying the serial number, name of reporting agent, date of report, number of copies in file and number of copies of reports maintained on the Bulky ramp in each of these cases.

Re: DISPOSAL OF EXTRA COPIES OF INVESTIGATIVE REPORTS

These extra copies of reports occupy six 5-drawer cabinets of valuable filing space which can be recovered if copies are no longer needed. The identical duplicate copies of documents maintained in the same file are "non-record material" and Archival authority is not required to destroy them.

RECOMMENDATION:

That authority be granted for the destruction of duplicate copies of reports in the aforementioned cases and for the excess copies of the President's Commission Report on the Assassination of President Kennedy..

SUBJECT: CONGRESSIONAL CONTACTS
Destruction of Property - Ben

Per instructions issued by Mr. Gray during the conference in his office on 11-7-72 regarding Congressional contact matters, there is enclosed a draft of a proposed press release outlining in detail the discontinued program to collect information on nonincumbent candidates and our record procedures with respect to Members of Congress and Governors.

Files and Communications Division personnel have advised that under provisions of Chapter 33, Title 44, United States Code, we cannot destroy material in our files without specific authority from the Archivist of the United States. This authority must be requested through the Department of Justice. The proposed press release has, therefore, been written to indicate that Mr. Gray is requesting authority to destroy the summary memoranda incorporating data collected under the discontinued program. As a result of a contact with an official at the National Archives and Records Service concerning a hypothetical situation, Files and Communications Division personnel were told that specific authority would be required to destroy the memoranda involved in this matter. This individual also indicated that from a technical standpoint even the destruction of the raw material gathered under this program this year and in prior years should have been authorized by the Archivist.

RECOMMENDATIONS: #2 Okis approved.

1) That the enclosed draft of the proposed press release be referred to Mr. Kinley in Mr. Gray's office.

RE: CONGRESSIONAL CONTACTS

ADDENDUM BY OFFICE OF LEGAL COUNSEL, 11/10/72, DJD:mfd.

We suggest consideration of the following points:

1. We are not ready to agree that the FBI must have permission from the Archivist to destroy the public source information accumulated on Congressman. The definition of "records" given in 44 USC 3301 can reasonably be interpreted to exclude the referenced information, in that such information was not received by the FBI under any provision of Federal law or in any necessary connection with the transaction of public business. If we are correct in our interpretation, the permission of the Archivist to destroy is not necessary.

How about material in the summary memoranda which came from our files?

2. If we make a request to the Archivist, there is a definite possibility that the Congress can get into the act in the decision-making process. Sections 3302, 3303, 3303a, 3304 and 3305 provide that the lists and schedules of records to be destroyed shall be submitted to the Administrator of General Services and that he may take the matter up by requesting advice and counsel from the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate, and the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives. This conceivably could be the opening by which members of Congress could get their hands on this raw material in the decision-making process.

3. In any event, we strongly suggest that this whole matter, including the text of the press release, be first taken up with the Attorney General. We stoutly maintain that all our files are in the possession of the Attorney General. That being the case, how can we destroy any of them without his permission? Moreover, a study by the Department could result in concurrence with our conclusion that the public source material gathered in the manner and for the purposes described in the press release is not an official FBI record and never was, and hence can be destroyed without permission of the Archivist.

We cannot! →

Agree. I/we not destroy.

CONTINUED - OVER

4. We suggest that consideration be given to eliminating the last paragraph on page 7 of the proposed press release. We do not see that it adds anything of value, and are fearful it would generate difficulties for those of our representatives who make liaison contacts with members of Congress.

SUBJECT: Destruction of Memoranda Prepared for Purposes of Congressional Liaison

This memorandum is in response to your memorandum of November 13 to the Attorney General requesting answers to several questions relating to the destruction of certain documents entitled "Final Memoranda" prepared by Bureau personnel in connection with the Bureau's Congressional liaison program.

While the matter is not entirely free from doubt, it is our view that Chapter 33 of Title 44 of the United States Code and the General Services Administration's implementing regulations (41 C.F.R. 101-11.000 et seq.) require the FBI to obtain prior authority from the Archivist of the United States to destroy the described "Final Memoranda." It is our understanding that there are not now in existence any applicable destruction schedules for FBI records already approved by GSA.

It is suggested by your memorandum that the records at issue may not be official "records" within the meaning of 44 U.S.C. § 3301, and that the procedural requirements governing the destruction of "records" contained in Chapter 33 may therefore be inapplicable. While it is true that prior authorization from GSA is not necessary for the destruction of nonrecord material, we believe that the "Final Memoranda" in question are record material under 44 U.S.C. § 3301. We have not found any judicial or administrative decisions which are helpful on the scope of the term "records" as used in Chapter 33. A 1949 publication of the General Services Administration, however, contains some useful interpretive material. See General Services Administration, Disposition of Records (1949). In addition to the material expressly excluded from the definition of records by the last sentence of Section 3301, the GSA recognizes two types of material that may be considered nonrecord material for purposes of Chapter 33. The first consists of the personal records of government employees kept in their offices in government buildings. The second covers preliminary drafts, shorthand notes, and "[l]etters of transmittal that do not add any information to that contained in the transmitted material . . . ." Id. at 4. As an interpretation by the agency charged by Congress with the administration of the statute, the GSA view is entitled to great weight. It does not seem likely to us that the "Final Memoranda" described in the FBI memorandum can fairly be characterized as either of the above. In our view, memoranda summarizing information contained in FBI files which have been systematically prepared as part of their regular duties by FBI employees for use by the Director of the FBI in dealing with Members of Congress probably must be considered records of the Bureau for the purposes of Chapter 33.

I will take the position that summary memoranda are a part of FBI official files; will not be disclosed to unauthorized persons; and permission will not be requested from Archives to destroy. GMM 1/2 9:13P

Destruction of Bureau Property

This case began January 17,1934 and there are 37 volumes of this file in Cincinnati, 36 of which are 33 years old. According to Cincinnati letter to Director, August 22,1941, the Cincinnati Office was made office of origin for administrative purposes in view of the fact that Assistant Director E. J. CONNELLEY was at the time of the change, SAC of the Cincinnati Office and was in direct charge of the entire investigation.

SAC Letter No. 63-50 dated 10/1/63 states " any office which has been an office of origin or an office of prosecution at any time in the BREKID case should retain all material in its possession".

The serials added to this file since 1954 have been in connection with the release of VOLENY DAVIS on habeas corpus in the district of Minnesota and his release on parole as well as the parole of ALVIN KARPIS. Our file does not show whether DAVIS was paroled.

The Bureau is requested to advise whether any consideration can be given at this time to the destruction of any of this file in the Cincinnati Division.

SUBJECT: PURGE OF INACTIVE FINGERPRINT CARDS
Destruction of Bureau Property

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend the destruction of inactive arrest records of individuals 80 years old and older. The advantages are (1) savings of 6,410 square feet of floor space; (2) make available approximately 420 cabinets which are needed to house new fingerprint jackets (a jacket is established when we have more than one fingerprint card on an individual); (3) accomplish a necessary reduction in the number of fingerprint cabinets in possession dictated by space assigned the Identification Division in the new FBI Building; and (4) eliminate an inactive section of our fingerprint file. There are no disadvantages.

By way of background, the Identification Division was established in 1924 and we have not purged any of the arrest fingerprint cards on the basis of age or inactivity. We now have approximately 1,625,000 individuals 80 years of age or older represented in a separate section of our fingerprint file. Many of the individuals in this section are over 100 years of age and the majority are obviously deceased. A survey of a limited number of these fingerprint records disclosed that 45% had FBI numbers with related jackets and 55% were single masters. A projection based on this sampling disclosed that we could eliminate approximately 731,000 fingerprint jackets. Four hundred and twenty six-drawer cabinets are needed to house this volume of jackets. The master fingerprint cards are housed in 65 five-drawer fingerprint cabinets which occupy 650 square feet of floor space. The 420 cabinets needed to house the jackets of individuals represented in this section of the file occupy 5,760 square feet of floor space. Therefore, if we destroy this section of the file we will realize a savings of 6,410 square feet of floor space which is badly needed in the Identification Division. Further, the cabinets made available through proposed destruction could be used in lieu of purchasing additional cabinets to house new jackets being established each day at a rate that requires one six-drawer cabinet per day. This represents a savings of $44,100 (420 x $105). It should also be noted that a survey conducted during the period of 10-9 through 11-13-72 disclosed that not one fingerprint search was conducted in this section of the file.

Memorandum to Mr. Felt
RE: Purge of Inactive Fingerprint Cards

OBSERVATIONS

The fingerprints of a large number of the individuals represented in this section of the file were obtained from the Federal Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, and the International Association of Chiefs of Police when the Identification Division was established. The remainder are from local and Federal law enforcement agencies which have neither a record nor an interest in these individuals. We have previously received permission from Federal contributors and the Archives to destroy noncriminal fingerprint cards of individuals 75 years of age and older and this has been accomplished. We also destroy criminal and noncriminal fingerprints of deceased individuals. We have been advised that it will be necessary to substantially reduce the number of fingerprint cabinets in possession in order to move into the new FBI Building. This proposed destruction will be a step in the right direction. In addition, we need extra floor space and cabinets for jackets now. The need to purge the name indices in Ident is urgent and the index cards that represent these inactive fingerprint cards will be purged in connection with the rehabilitation of the name indices.

RECOMMENDATION:

That we obtain archival approval to destroy the arrest fingerprint cards and related index cards of individuals 80 years of age and older.

SUBJECT: CHANNELIZING MEMORANDA
SUGGESTION 546-73 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted]
KANSAS CITY OFFICE

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

SUGGESTION: That Form FD-338 (Intraoffice Memorandum re Destruction of Channelizing Memoranda after Inclusion in Reports) be revised to eliminate the parenthetical title (List by serial or serial scope) and in its place make three separate columns, each column captioned as follows: "Description," "Date" and "Location of Original." Samples of the current and proposed formats are attached.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester states Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 15b, requires that Form FD-338 be prepared in listing the channelizing memosto be destroyed by serial or serial scope and requesting the Chief Clerk's Office to destroy.

ADVANTAGES: SA [redacted] believes by having the above titles for each separate column, this would eliminate the necessity for Agents noting explanatory words such as "date" and "location of original" which is time consuming and necessary to fully explain instructions for destruction of channelizing memoranda.

OBSERVATIONS: Inspection Division stated phrasing of the suggestion, as submitted, implies that in preparation of Form FD-338 additional instructional information is necessary. Part II, Section 3, pages 15b and 15c of the Manual of Rules and Regulations contains no requirement that in the preparation of Form FD-338 information as to date and location of original informant reports must be set forth, rather it instructs that the file and serial number of the original informant reports or master channelizing memoranda should properly be listed in the cover pages or cover document accompanying the report or letterhead memorandum (LHM) containing information in the serials to be destroyed. Form FD-338, as now constituted, appears adequate for the purpose intended. Since the idea would require additional work in describing a serial by more than number, listing each individual serial, and setting forth location of original informant report, Inspection Division recommended against adoption.

Alexandria Field Office states it appears this idea to change the FD-338 is made in order to record information which is already a part of the permanent record in file. The information which is proposed be included on this form should be included in the cover pages of the report or in the cover document accompanying the LHM.

Washington Field Office advised this form is used to purge files of channelizing memoranda containing information which has been included in forms suitable for dissemination. Descriptive information regarding these memoranda are contained in the administrative pages of the LHM or report; therefore, this Office believed that additional descriptive data is not needed on the FD-338. It was noted the FD-338 currently used is designed so that needed information can be easily recorded. The approval of the idea would cause additional, unnecessary Agent and clerical work; therefore, it was believed approval of idea would have no benefit.

Chief Clerk's Desk, Administrative Division, points out current regulations provide for the destruction in field offices of channelizing memoranda in criminal and security cases following submission of reports or LHM in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases, the cover pages accompanying the report or the cover document accompanying the LHM which lists the file and serial number of the original informant reports or master channelizing memoranda. In addition, on an annual basis copies of security informants' statements which are designated for 100 classification case files of informants and copies of extremist informants' statements designated for the 157 classification case files of informants must be destroyed. Upon destruction of this material a memorandum must be prepared and placed in the file listing each item destroyed and the location of the original information. Form FD-338a is utilized for this purpose (sample attached). As can be seen from the existing rules as set forth above, it is not necessary for the Agent to make any explanatory instructions concerning the destruction of channelizing memoranda and in view of the fact, this suggestion proposes making a change which is not necessary at this time. Our present format serves its intended purpose for the destruction of channelizing memoranda and revision is not warranted.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact.

SUGGESTION

Modification to form FD 338 (form used in connection with destruction of channelizing memoranda). It is suggested that this form be modified in the following manner:

Eliminate the parenthetical title "(List by serial or serial scope)" and in its place make three separate columns, each column captioned as follows: Destruction of Bureau Property - Request "Description", "Date", and "Location of original". Same modifications are noted on the modified attached form.

Example

Description	Date	Location of Original
FD 209 of [redacted]	12/6/72	[redacted]

b7D

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Part II, Section 3, page 15b of the Manual of Rules and Regulations requires that form FD 338 be prepared in listing the channelizing memo to be destroyed by serial or serial scope and requesting the CCO to destroy.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

By having the above titles for each separate column, this does away with the necessity of the Agents noting explanatory words such as "date" and "location of original" which is time consuming and necessary to fully explain instructions for destruction of channelizing memoranda.

GENERAL

In connection with the reorganization of the former Crime Research Section into captioned Section, limited manpower and available space are being utilized to the best advantage. Accordingly, a continuous effort is being made to streamline operations wherever possible. In this respect, it is pointed out that in connection with the Bureau Mailing List project, there are maintained indices cards of deceased individuals who were formerly on the Bureau Mailing List (Exhibit 1). These cards date back to early years of the Bureau and infrequently are used for reference purposes. These index cards are presently contained in five drawers of a Shaw-Walker 3 x 5 card file cabinet.

There are also maintained 23 file drawers of three individual Shaw-Walker 3 x 5 file cabinets containing index cards of items autographed by former Director Hoover (Exhibit 2). These autographed items include various copies of Mr. Hoover's books and photographs. These cards are likewise on occasion referred to for reference purposes, particularly by the Correspondence Section, in connection with identities of individuals writing in and/or a quick check on former Bureau relations with correspondents or other individuals.

As a practical matter and in consideration of space needs, it is suggested that the "deceased" mailing list cards presently on hand be kept for 90 days and destroyed, and the succeeding "deceased" mailing list cards likewise be kept on a tickler system of 90 days and destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the "deceased" mailing list cards be destroyed on a 90-day follow-up program.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF MISCELLANEOUS 95 (LABORATORY CASES OTHER THAN BUREAU) CLASSIFICATION OVER 10 YEARS OLD BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE, FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend the destruction of valueless file material in the 95 (Laboratory Cases other than Bureau) Classification.

The Records Disposal Committee, Files and Communications Division conducted a survey and analysis of this classification which revealed that certain record material could be destroyed without impairing or adversely affecting the operations and responsibility of the Laboratory Division and the Bureau. Files over 10 years old occupy 143 six drawer filing cabinets. The survey revealed that approximately 65 six drawer cabinets or a total of 780 linear feet of valuable filing space could be reclaimed through the destruction of files over 10 years old which may no longer possess sufficient investigative, reference, intelligence, historical, and evidentiary value to merit retention. Several thousand index cards would also be eliminated. Guide lines for destroying the valueless record material were set forth in the proposal submitted to the Laboratory for review and examination.

The Laboratory Division personnel reviewed samplings of file material over 10 years old proposed for destruction and concurred with the recommendation of the Files and Communications Division with the exception that cases should be limited to those over 15 years old instead of those over 10 years old. This will result in the recovery of approximately 50 six drawer filing cabinets of space.

The Laboratory specified that cases should be retained where any of the following conditions exist:

7. Major or infamous cases, those involving well-known individuals, historical or those involving capital offenses

8. Cases where question of disposal still exists should be resolved in favor of retention

Since the destruction of files in the 95 Classification will include original record material, Archival authority will be required and will be requested by separate memorandum upon approval of this proposal.

RECOMMENDATION:

That approval be granted for the destruction of files in the 95 (Laboratory Cases Other Than Bureau) Classification in accordance with the above-defined guidelines set forth by the Laboratory in cases over 15 years old. If approved, appropriate Archival authority will be obtained.

This is to recommend the destruction of captioned Bureau file 63-9203 since its purpose has been served and it is of no further value.

By way of background, Bureau airtel 6/29/62, to all field offices, instructed that each office submit on a monthly basis estimates of Agent time expended on the investigation of James Riddle Hoffa. Based on the material from the field, the Administrative Division prepared monthly memoranda showing estimated cost figures. This procedure was discontinued by Bureau airtel to all offices dated 10/21/64.

Hoffa was convicted on Obstruction of Justice charges in Chattanooga Federal Court 3/4/64, and sentenced to prison. He was also convicted of Mail Fraud, Fraud by Wire and Conspiracy in Chicago Federal Court 7/26/64, and sentenced to prison. He began serving his prison sentence 3/7/67, at the U. S. Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, and on 12/23/71, the President commuted Hoffa's sentence with the provision that he not engage in labor union activities until 3/6/80. Numerous appeals have been filed since his convictions, all of which have been denied, the last being denied by the U. S. 6th Circuit in Cincinnati on 1/4/73.

Bureau file 63-9203 contains original airtels and letters between the Bureau and the field showing the estimated Agent time spent on various Hoffa investigations. Since this material is of no further value it should now be destroyed.

RECOMMENDATION: If approved, this memorandum should be forwarded to the Files and Communications Division in order that Bureau file 63-9203 can be destroyed. It is noted serial 11 in volume 6 of this file should be removed and placed in the proper file as it does not relate to estimated cost.

SUGGESTION: In view of the current effort to save space in the general index, suggests the Fish & Dies Committees reports be reviewed by the substantive supervisor to determine if there is any reason to preclude deindexing this material. This is late 1920 and early 1930 mail with reports which contain a great deal of indexing. Since this mail is over forty years old, it appears to be of little aid to the inquiries and investigations conducted presently by the Bureau. A review of these reports for deindexing of books, organizations, places and possibly lists of names with no identifying data, should result in eliminating a tremendous volume of cards occupying badly needed space in the general index. The Fish & Dies Committee file number is 62-23170 and Dies Committee is 61-7582.

ADVANTAGES: The suggester states this would eliminate several thousand cards; save space in the general index; and, save some time in making file reviews.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division noted the Fish Committee commenced Congressional hearings in 1930 and the Dies Committee commenced hearings in 1938. These committees were established to investigate and conduct inquiries and hearings relative to Communist and unAmerican activities in the U. S. Names of numerous individuals, organizations, groups and unions were indexed in the Fish & Dies Committees' reports and in news clippings. A random sampling of these items reveals that very limited information is available on approximately one third of the names indexed. Since this material is thirty-five to forty years old most of the references to these files are eliminated in the general index on most searches because of age. This Division favors adopting the idea with respect to deindexing names on which no identifying information appears.

Intelligence Division concurred in the idea with regard to names with no identifying information involved since such references are without value, especially in view of the age of this material.

General Investigative Division believes this idea has merit and agrees that names of individuals, organizations, groups, unions, etc., on which no identifying data appears be deindexed.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS — GENERAL

SUGGESTION: That the rules regarding destruction of "42" files (Deserters) be changed to permit offices to destroy files in this classification one year after closing if not office of origin (00), and five years if 00, or at the discretion of the office regardless of 00, provided subject is not involved in a criminal violation. Extensive investigation has been conducted in an effort to locate numerous deserters, and files in these instances have expanded to as many as two, three or four volumes. Many of these deserters have not committed a crime nor have they been involved in any type of criminal violation. This can be determined by a cursory review of the file before destruction. The Army, in many of these investigations, has withdrawn its request for FBI assistance in locating the deserter or in many other instances, the deserter has been returned to military control. In either event, the subject is no longer of interest to the Bureau. Many other files are also opened based on Form DD-553 "Deserter Wanted by Armed Forces" and request withdrawn after little or no investigation. Retention of files in each aforementioned situation appears to serve no purpose, yet they must be retained for 20 years under present rule.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester states files in which office is 00 are retained for 20 years. Otherwise, they are destroyed in five years provided: (a) office is not office of origin, (b) files do not pertain to a deserter who has been involved in some other criminal category where the Bureau would be obligated to disseminate information to another agency, (c) stops are not outstanding.

ADVANTAGES: The saving of considerable filing space in the closed files section of each field office.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division had no objection to the idea provided specific guidelines are established.

Suggestion 717-73 Submitted By
Mr. [redacted]

Special Investigative Division advised, in view of the potential for saving of file space in each field office, it recommended the suggestion be approved. While there may be some instances where absence of files in the field will necessitate file reviews at FBIHQ, it was not believed these instances would be sufficient to offset the potential savings involved in the suggestion.

Inspection Division believed the basic idea had merit, particularly in view of economy to be effected from reduced space needs. To avoid any lack of uniformity, however, it was believed the portion of the idea which stated "or at the discretion of the office regardless of 00," should be deleted.

Administrative Division will not oppose this idea due to the foregoing views even though it will make another exception to our overall rules for destruction of files. It is agreed the one portion mentioned above by the Inspection Division should not be adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted with the modification as mentioned by the Inspection Division and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Administrative Division to make the appropriate manual revisions to place it into effect.

MR. [redacted] b6 b7C
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

SUGGESTION: That the general membership list of the Fraternal Organization of the International Workers Order (IWO) (61-7341 and subfiles) be deindexed.

Destruction of Bureau Property GENERAL

ADVANTAGES: Suggester advises this would save badly needed space in General Index and would also save the time of reviewers.

OBSERVATIONS: Files and Communications Division stated the IWO was a fraternal insurance organization which came into existence officially on 4/3/30 and was chartered in the State of New York 6/19/30. The initial objectives were set forth in its program adopted in 1930, portions of which were revolutionary in character and meaning. The IWO was cited pursuant to Executive Order 10450. This fraternal and benefit association attracted many individuals of foreign parentage due to its liberal insurance benefits and low cost premiums. It was legally dissolved as of 8/31/54 by the New York State Department of Insurance. In order that the accrued insurance benefits of members might not be lost due to the dissolution, the Continental Insurance Company at the direction of the court took over the insurance formerly underwritten by the IWO.

References in the IWO files are frequently listed because of the absence of any identifying information on persons whose names appear on the membership list. The organization was legally dissolved almost 20 years ago and while in existence was represented to the public as an insurance organization. Little or no significance is attached to names appearing on general membership lists in connection with the Bureau's name check program inasmuch as any person insured by the IWO automatically became a member. All references to officers, directors, delegates, persons active as organizers, participants in selling insurance, and proponents of IWO should be retained. However, it appears the idea has merit and that consideration should be given to deindexing names of persons who appear on the general membership lists only. The deindexing of these names will greatly reduce the repetitive listing of these references as well as the time required to review and summarize these references.

Intelligence Division concurred in this suggestion inasmuch as such membership has no significance from a subversive or loyalty standpoint. Names of officers, delegates, organizers and other active participants in IWO should be retained.

Special Investigative Division opposed adoption pointing out that the IWO continues to be designated under Executive Order 10450 and such information is still of security and suitability significance in connection with name checks by other agencies and name searches conducted under the Federal Employee Security Program (Executive Order 10450).

General Investigative Division wholeheartedly approved the idea of deindexing the general membership as long as the officers, directors, delegates, persons active as organizers, participants in selling insurance, and proponents of the IWO are retained. The experience of this Division has been that the list merely contains a year of birth and more often than not, involves a young child who became a member only for the purpose of obtaining a cheap life insurance policy. This information is not worthy of dissemination as the organization has been nonexistent since the early 1950s.

Administrative Division must agree with the Special Investigative Division that this material should not be deindexed at the present time since the IWO is still on the "List of Organizations Designated by the Attorney General Pursuant to Executive Order 10450." Even though the IWO is no longer in existence, the above-mentioned list still contains this organization and as long as it does it is believed we should keep these names in our indices.

Bureau Property - Gen.

Memo Q. Tamm to Mr. Tolson dated 12-30-58 (copy attached) authorized destruction of administrative memoranda in field office inspection files after five years. Additionally, memo authorized destruction of entire inspection report after a period of ten years, noting that the inspection summary would be retained. No provision was made for similar-type destruction involving divisional inspection files.

The Files and Communications Division has orally proposed to the Inspection Division that inspection reports for both the field and FBIHQ divisions be destroyed after a period of three years and that inspection summary memoranda be destroyed after a period of five years. The Inspection Division has indicated this criteria would be acceptable to that division.

Experience has shown that the need for an inspection report beyond the last inspection is rare. Since inspections are generally handled on an annual basis, it is felt that a three-year retention criteria would be adequate should there be some delay in an FBIHQ division or field office inspection. In the event this recommendation is approved, it is estimated that it will result in a savings of approximately 12 file cabinets within the Personnel Records Unit.

RECOMMENDATION:

That authority be granted to destroy all FBIHQ division and field office inspection reports over three years old as well as all inspection summaries after a period of five years has elapsed.

SUBJECT: RECORDS MANAGEMENT PROGRAM
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION (DESTRUCTION OF XEROX COPIES OF TELETYPE SUMMARIES EMANATING FROM INTELLIGENCE DIVISION)
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

The "Mail Screening Committee," which was recently established in the Files and Communications Division to survey volume mail prior to filing, has determined that daily summary teletypes (example attached) are prepared by the Intelligence Division regarding "Civil Unrest and Acts of Violence" and "Protest Activity and Civil Disturbances." In this regard, a Xerox copy of the file copy (yellow) of the summary teletype is sent to Mr. Felt's Office for information and thereafter is routed to other officials at FBIHQ for their information. When all designated officials have initialed the Xerox copy, it is sent to the Records Branch. Upon receipt, it is matched up with the file copy, which is generally in file, and is filed therewith. This match-up requires additional record processing including determination of file number and subsequent filing.

The present practice of preparing a Xerox copy for Mr. Felt's Office does not present any problems nor does the subsequent routing of the Xerox copy to certain Bureau officials for their immediate information. However, if the Xerox copy bore a stamp notation "To Be Destroyed - Do Not File," this would preclude unnecessary processing upon receipt in the Records Branch at which point it would be destroyed. It is to be noted that this is a Xerox copy of the original file copy and aside from the initials of officials appearing thereon serves no apparent useful purpose. If necessary, the file copy of the teletype summary could be routed to Mr. Felt's Office for further routing to other officials in lieu of the Xerox copy. This could be accomplished with slight delay following its transmission.

It is estimated that two file drawers per year could be saved by not filing the Xerox copies. By destroying the extra copies in the 49 sections of the files now in existence, a savings of four file drawers of space could be realized.

It is to be noted that prior to 2-1-73, Xerox copies of these summary teletypes were routed by way of cover memoranda and official initialing appeared thereon instead of on the Xerox copy of the summary teletype as is the present practice. These cover memoranda were merely a vehicle for routing purposes and therefore serve no useful file need.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Xerox copies of the above-cited teletype summaries bear the stamp notation "To Be Destroyed - Do Not File" so they may be destroyed upon receipt in the Records Branch. If approved, to be handled by the Intelligence Division.

2. That authority be granted to destroy all Xerox copies of above-cited teletype summaries as well as cover memoranda already in file regardless of official initialing appearing thereon. If approved, to be handled by the Files and Communications Division.

Halperin was arrested by the [redacted] on 2/15/46 and copies of a small address book and a small diary, containing numerous names, were found in his possession and were furnished to the Bureau. b7D

The listing of names (serial 365) found in subject's address book with no identifying information has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to this listing causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data it is proposed that the material be de-indexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above listed file reference to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing on this listing of names. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum. The memorandum should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Branch, Room 6309 IB.

Memorandum P. F. O'Connell to Mr. Marshall
Re: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF FILES IN THE 100 (INTERNAL SECURITY) AND 105 (INTERNAL SECURITY MATTERS) CLASSIFICATION CONTAINING VALUELESS FILE MATERIAL BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE

Files, which will be considered for destruction, contain valueless information comprised principally of initial correspondence, and preliminary reports or letters. They were opened based upon rumor, personal grievances, suspicions, non-specific allegations, nebulous information or foreign publications mostly during World War II, for record or informational purposes. All of this material has been extensively de-indexed and files which will be destroyed do not contain any information reflecting unfavorably upon the character, loyalty or associates of the subjects in the title or persons named therein. Approximately 350 six drawer file cabinets of badly needed filing space will be reclaimed. The destruction of these files will be handled on a most selective basis by experienced Records Branch Personnel and will in no way adversely affect the Bureau's operations or its responsibilities in the Name Check field.

The proposed destruction will include material in the 100-0 general file and in the 100-0 Sub A file, where applicable. Archival Authority is required for the destruction of original record material and will be requested by separate memorandum.

It is noted that this proposal is very similar in nature to a recent proposal involving files in the 65 (Espionage) Classification, which was approved by the Bureau in memorandum P. F. O'Connell to Mr. Marshall dated 8/11/72. Archival Authority was granted on 9/12/72 for the destruction of the valueless Espionage file material.

It is recommended that this proposal be referred to the Intelligence Division for its evaluation and comments.

RECOMMENDATION:

That approval be granted for the destruction of files in the 100 and 105 classifications in accordance with the above guidelines in cases over 25 years old. If approved, appropriate Archival Authority will be obtained.

ADDENDUM: GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION
4-6-73, CWL/blw:jml

The Name Check Section presently reviews various files of reference to select information of pertinency in responding to name check requests from various executive agencies and others. In general, files containing non-derogatory information or no information of intelligence value are eliminated upon review. Therefore, the authorized destruction of any files having no apparent historical, investigative, intelligence or reference value should not have any effect upon responsibilities of the Name Check Section.

It would appear that any determination as to selectivity of files for destruction should be made by the Substantive Desk having supervisory responsibility for the files. Therefore, the Name Check Section, which performs a servicing function in connection with review of Bureau files, defers to the judgment of the Files and Communications and Intelligence Divisions.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DESTRUCTION OF FILES IN THE 100 (INTERNAL SECURITY) AND 105 (INTERNAL SECURITY MATTERS) CLASSIFICATION CONTAINING VALUELESS FILE MATERIAL BY THE RECORDS DISPOSAL COMMITTEE FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

Bureau Records - General

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend the destruction of files in the 100 (Internal Security) and 105 (Internal Security or Security Matters - Nationalistic Tendencies other than Domestic) Classifications containing record material which no longer possess sufficient historical, investigative, intelligence, and reference value to merit retention.

The Records Disposal Committee, Files and Communications Division, conducted a survey of our records holdings in the 100 and 105 Classifications which revealed that files over 25 years old occupy 585 six drawer cabinets (100's occupy 565 cabinets and 105's occupy 20 cabinets). A cross section analysis of these files revealed that cases occupying approximately 350 cabinets relate to alleged Espionage, Sedition, Sabatoge, Hatch Act, and Internal Security Violations as well as alleged subversive activity, subversive tendencies, sympathizers, members of subversive organizations, suspicious activities, recipient of funds from foreign sources and miscellaneous matters in which no violations are present and the allegations were unfounded.

Also numerous files in the 100 Classification were opened on outgoing letters to Field Offices based upon excerpts from other Bureau files pertaining to subscribers to the Daily Worker or publications of a similar nature and/or alleged membership in or affiliation with subversive organizations. No further correspondence appears in these files, therefore, all information will be available in the original Bureau case file after these are destroyed.

ADDENDUM INTELLIGENCE DIVISION 4/3/73 SFP:dkp dkp

Attached to this Addendum is a list furnished by the Files and Communications Division of the files being considered for destruction. A review was made of a random sampling of these files (those checked in red on the list; one of each general type; total of thirty files). The sample review bears out the conclusion of the Files and Communications Division that these files have no apparent historical, investigative, intelligence or reference value which would merit their retention. The Intelligence Division concurs in the recommendation of the Files and Communications Division that such files be destroyed after receipt of Archival authorization for such disposal, provided that each and every file to be destroyed is first individually reviewed by experienced Records Branch personnel to ensure they meet the destruction criteria and that their destruction will in no way adversely affect the Bureau's operations or its responsibilities in the name check or security field. It is recommended however, that General Investigative Division (Name Check Section) concurrence be also obtained.

Acting Director, FBI

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS — GENERAL

There is an intensification program at FBIHQ to streamline and simplify the destruction of files and records in the field. As set forth in Buairtel to Albany, with copies to all offices, dated 3/19/73, subsequent to 7/1/74, the expense for space will be at a premium and a concentrated effort is being made to eliminate or reduce the need for additional space and filing equipment.

Consideration is being given to the following proposals relating to the field file destruction program:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

MAILED 23

1. Noninvestigative files and material in all classifications if of no further value. SAC shall designate employees to be responsible for this program. Only exceptions to this rule are destruction of Number Three Registers, FD-256, and field offices who are authorized to destroy record check-type files at an earlier date.

2. Investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigations were negative or of absolutely no continuing value. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on annual or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files in office of origin relating to all classifications of no further value. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction of files.

D. To provide for a uniform and efficient file destruction, the original assignment cards will be used to schedule the destruction under the proposed programs. If this proposal is approved, the original assignment cards would, of course, not be destroyed as under present rules and regulations after cases are closed.

As indicated above, Supervisory Special Agents will authorize the destruction of investigative files. This rule is intended to eliminate the need for the Chief Clerk's Office to be responsible for authorizing the destruction of any investigative files. Clerical employees neither have the experience nor training to be in the position to determine whether or not investigative files are of a continuing value to a field office.

You are requested to submit observations concerning the above proposals as well as any comments as to the disposition of material listed below, after the respective files have been destroyed.

1 - Index cards
2 - Stop outstanding
3 - Zero files
4 - Evidentiary material

You should approximate the volume of space and equipment that would be reclaimed if the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered.

In addition to these points, the Bureau is interested in any other observations which may relate to the streamlining of field paperwork.

Submit your replies to the Bureau, attention Administrative Division, by 6/4/73.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

The purpose of this memorandum is to propose that current field office retention periods be shortened, and that the overall field file destruction program be streamlined and simplified. There are presently twenty-five individual rules relating to the destruction of investigative and noninvestigative field files. In addition, there are numerous other rules concerning the destruction of specified material, serials, and copies of serials. It would seem that a concentrated effort by both field and Headquarters personnel would provide for an efficient streamlined destruction program that not only would further close the gap between the creation of new paperwork and the destruction of obsolete material thereby effecting substantial savings in space and equipment, but also allowing for the retention of material of a continuing value to our field administrative and investigative operations.

In view of the substantial increase in the cost of Bureau space as set forth under Public Law 92-313, Public Buildings Amendment of 1972, it would seem that all possible solutions should be explored regarding the physical destruction of material to reclaim needed space and equipment prior to considering mechanical or electronic systems for the storage of field material. In the past, there have been frequent suggestions to microfilm closed field files to conserve space and equipment, which would result in a very expensive initial cost factor, and would restrict access to urgently needed material.

For the purposes of uniformity, streamlining, and to provide for a more manageable destruction program, the following proposals are being submitted for observations and evaluation by field and Headquarters personnel:

Memorandum T. A. Keane to J. E. Reilly
Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records

A. Files and records to be destroyed on a 90-day basis

1. Register Number 3 - FD-256 (no change in present rules; due to space required to maintain these registers, it would seem logical to destroy as soon as possible).

B. Files and records to be destroyed within 60, 90, and 120 days with Bureau approval

1. Investigative leads to auxiliary offices requesting record checks when results are of no further value (no change in current rules).

C. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on annual or other staggered basis if preferred

1. Noninvestigative files and material of no continuing value. SAC, shall designate employee(s) to handle destruction program. (At present there are sixty - seventy different types of files and material that may be destroyed if one year old or less than one year old. The majority of this material occupies too little space to justify the many schedules presently required for destruction purposes. There would be an appreciable saving in manpower if this material was destroyed annually with the same realization of space.)

2. Investigative files in all classifications where the results of investigations were negative or the file contained nebulous material which was absolutely of no value to the field office. The Special Agent Supervisor is responsible for authorizing the destruction of this material. (For example, a field office could have one lead in an investigation to interview a relative, and the investigation revealed that the relative moved to another area outside the lead office's territory. In the majority of cases, this material would be of no value to the auxiliary office, but under current destruction rules, this material is retained for five, ten, or twenty years depending upon the investigation category involved.)

D. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on annual or other staggered basis if preferred

1. Investigative files in auxiliary offices in all classifications after files have been reviewed and determined to be of no value to the auxiliary offices. (Investigative files in auxiliary offices are currently being destroyed when five, ten, or twenty years old depending upon the classification involved.)

E. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on an annual or other staggered basis

1. Investigative files in offices of origin in all classifications after file reviews have determined that the material is of no further value to the office of origin. (Current rules provide for the destruction of the majority of this material when twenty years old. Unknown subject files in certain criminal classifications can be destroyed when five years old.)

F. To provide for a uniform and efficient destruction program, that the original assignment card be used to schedule the file destruction under the proposed one, five and ten year rules. Considering the fact that the original assignment cards are color-coded to determine offices of origin and auxiliary offices, it is believed that this will further facilitate the scheduling of files for destruction. If an investigative matter is reopened, the latest original assignment card will govern the destruction rule. (At present, original assignment cards on closed and RUC cases are retained for one year and then destroyed.)

The above proposals do not make it mandatory to destroy files or records that are of a continuing value to the office. Investigative files will only be destroyed upon authorization of SAC, ASAC or Special Agent Supervisor. If there is any doubt, files should be retained or the Bureau consulted.

Memorandum T. A. Keane to J. E. Reilly
Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records

Files and records which are currently destroyed when they have served the purpose for which prepared, such as channelizing memoranda, etc., would continue to be destroyed in a like manner. No provisions are being made for changing the rule relating to the destruction of double zero files. Double zero files are retained indefinitely and occupy only a minimum volume of space. Due to the value of this material for reference and research purposes, it is believed this material should be retained as provided for under existing regulations.

It can be observed from the above proposals that no provisions have been made for the destruction or handling of index cards, zero files, stop cards, or evidentiary material, including original FD-302s. It would seem that the most workable solution relating to the destruction of this material can only be solved by consulting Headquarters and field supervisory personnel.

With the above proposals in mind, together with any other suggestions relating to the streamlining of field paperwork, it would appear that much can be accomplished with a concentrated effort by Headquarters and field personnel.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the substantive desks at FBIHQ furnish comments relating to respective investigative classifications in connection with outlined proposals, in addition to other comments, objections or suggestions.

2. That the attached letter be sentto SAC, Albany and All Offices soliciting observations from the field.

Reference is made to your memorandum dated May 1, 1973.

Your proposed draft response has been reviewed and it is agreed that the material involved falls in the category of "records" and that it would be necessary to secure the approval of the Archivist of the United States for its destruction.

In requesting such authority, this Bureau utilizes SF-115, Request for Authority to Dispose of Records, on which the records to be destroyed are described. This form is forwarded to the Office of the Assistant Attorney General for Administration with a request that it be forwarded to the National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration.

SUGGESTION

That we discontinue the practice of filing mental mail for the sole reason that the individual's address has changed, when a card is available in file and evidence of a person's instability is on record in the file. It is suggested that instead, a notation be made on the reverse side of the existing mental card to the effect that on a certain date a letter was received from correspondent indicating a change of address. The change can then be made on the face of the card as is now done and the mail can be destroyed, as is now done, if it contains no threats or anything of pertinence. The mental card indices are maintained in the Correspondence Section, Files and Communications Division.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Currently, the mental mail is sent to file as evidence that an individual's address has changed and the new address is noted on the face of the mental indices card. No manual change indicated.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

The mental mail indicating the change of address for a correspondent will not be filed. This would result in a saving of time in filing procedures and also in space. Inasmuch as the clerks in the Correspondence Section of the Files and Communications Division must change the address on the face of the existing card, very little additional effort is expended in noting on the reverse side that the change occurred in a letter received on or dated a certain date. It is noted that in the majority of cases a piece of mental mail carrying a change of address is quite bulky and, therefore, space consuming. We receive an average of three to four changes of address on mental cards per week.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS-General

ReBulet to Albany 4/23/73.

Anchorage concurrs with the field file destruction proposals set out in A through D of relet.

Anchorage also recommends the following:

1. That index cards on destroyed investigative files be destroyed after they are 20 years old.

2. That outstanding stops be cancelled when the file warrants destruction.

3. That zero files and index cards be destroyed after five years.

4. That evidentiary material be sent to 00 by auxiliary office at time auxiliary office destroys file and by 00 when file warrants destruction.

Approximately ten five-drawer legal-sized cabinets and 75 cubic feet of space would be saved if the above destruction rules are favorably considered.

It is recommended that the Bureau consider printing communications on both sides of the paper except in the case of original 302s. Xerox model 4000 is capable of conveniently printing on both sides. Printing on both sides of paper could cut down volume of files by 25 to 40%.

SUBJECT: ARCHIVAL AUTHORITY FOR DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS (66-19087)

Destruction of Bureau Property - gen.

Authority to destroy various material in our files has been approved by following memoranda:

My memorandum to Mr. Marshall 3/13/73 approved destruction of certain record material without impairing or adversely affecting the operation of the Laboratory Division of the Bureau. This material concerned the destruction of files in the 95 Classification (Laboratory cases other than Bureau) more than 15 years old.

My memorandum to Mr. Marshall dated 3/27/73 approved the destruction of files in the 100 - 105 Classifications containing material which no longer possesses sufficient historical, investigative, intelligence and reference value to merit retention. This material is in files more than 25 years old and relates principally to cases involving espionage, sedition, sabotage, Hatch Act and Internal Security violations as well as alleged subversive activities, subversive tendencies, sympathizers and miscellaneous matters in which no violations are present and allegations were unfounded.

Existing legislation covering destruction of record material requires that we secure Archival authority to destroy material.

Attached is memorandum to the Department enclosing Standard Form 115 containing our request for authority to destroy this material. Department will forward this request to National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, for appropriate action.

FROM : SAC, SALT LAKE CITY

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - General FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReBulet 4/23/73. 66-3286

With regard to proposals A, B, C and D, it is believed that the proposals should be adopted with the exception that the SAC be allowed to designate a relief supervisor on his and the ASAC's desks who will be the one to authorize the destruction. It is pointed out that in a two-desk office such as Salt Lake City, administrative needs, public appearance requirements and over-all supervision are such that this added responsibility would not be practical. It is further pointed out that since the SAC and ASAC are subject to transfer, they are less knowledgeable concerning the old investigations when compared with some of the older Agent personnel.

Insofar as Items 1 through 4 are concerned, it is believed that index cards should be automatically destroyed on a twenty-year basis by the Chief Clerk's Office; that stops outstanding should be forwarded to the supervisory or relief supervisory Agent for his consideration on a ten-year basis; that zero files be automatically destroyed by the CCO on a five-year basis; and evidentiary material forwarded to the supervisory or relief supervisory Agent for his consideration on a twenty-year basis.

With regard to the space saved if proposals A through D were adopted, it is estimated that 100 cubic feet annually would be saved, or in other words that present annual savings of 406 cubic feet would increase to 506 cubic feet with adoption of the new proposals.

Reference Bureau letter April 23, 1973.

The following observations are submitted in response to proposals set out in referenced letter:

A. Items 1 and 2 should be adopted.

B. It is felt that investigative files such as described in relet could be destroyed after one year rather than the proposed five years. In those instances wherein such files are destroyed after one year, a notation to that effect could be placed on the index card; and in the event information concerning that particular file is needed at a later date (up to 10 years), such information could be readily obtained from the office of origin.

C. This proposal should be adopted.

The files destroyed under above proposals can be accounted for by maintaining a list of file numbers at the beginning of each classification in the Closed File Section.

D. The original assignment card could very well serve as a tickler for file destruction after a case has been placed in a closed or RUC status. However, cases are frequently reopened for additional investigation. There might be an instance wherein a case is scheduled for destruction under Proposal A 2 and the case is reopened at a later date, at which time substantial information is developed which would indicate the desirability of retaining the file for a longer period of time. It would be necessary to apply safeguards to insure that the file is not destroyed at the end of one year as originally scheduled. For instance, each time a file is reopened, it may be necessary to purge the previous "original" assignment card.

To insure that a proper notation is placed on all closed or RUC communications, consideration should be given to having the stenographer typing all such communications stamp the file copy "File to be destroyed _____."

Index cards in all classifications can be purged when 12 years old by comparing the cards with the destruction lists maintained at the beginning of each classification and the remaining closed files.

Files should not be destroyed in instances where stops are outstanding.

It is felt that Zero files could be purged on an annual basis. This could be accomplished subsequent to the annual field office Inspection. Index cards relating to the Zero files could be destroyed at the same time.

Evidentiary material should be retained by the office having possession and destroyed or otherwise disposed of when the case file is destroyed.

It is anticipated that approximately 4,000 cubic feet of space and 2,000 file drawers would be saved in the Washington Field Office through implementation of this file destruction program.

SUBJECT: PAPERWORK MANAGEMENT
SUGGESTION 758-73 SUBMITTED BY MISS [redacted] TAMPA OFFICE

re Destruction of Bureau Records General

SUGGESTION: (1) Suggests that informant files, classifications 134, 137 and 170 closed over five years be destroyed, with the exception of Forms FD-221a (Request for Funds for Payment to Informant), FD-302 (Form for Reporting Information That May Become Testimony), progress letters, justification letters and any other evidentiary material.

(2) Permit auxiliary offices to destroy informant files when sixty days old.

(3) Destroy files opened on potential informants, who due to lack of information have never become an informant, after six months old. The index cards for all three categories would be retained for twenty years.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester states there are no specific rules regarding the destruction of informant files but the general rule for destruction of file is when they are twenty years old.

ADVANTAGES: The destruction of these files would save space and eliminate the cost of more file cabinets.

66-3286—

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Santoiana, Tampa, advised paper management is becoming a problem in field offices. Some means must be devised to save costly space which is being used for storage of dead files. He believes the idea is worthwhile and recommended serious consideration be given to it.

Files and Communications Division gave the following comments with respect to each item above: (1) It would appear the information contained in the informant's file should be available for the same period as an investigative file is retained which contains information furnished by him. As this is usually twenty years, the informant's file should be retained for same period. (2) As the file in the office of origin (OO) would contain original of documents prepared by auxiliary offices along with copies of leads for auxiliary offices, there would appear to be no need for an auxiliary office to indefinitely retain its copies. (3) Same comments apply as set forth in Item (1), as a potential informant could have furnished information which is being retained in an investigative file. There would appear to be no advantage to retaining index cards if files are destroyed.

Intelligence Division opposed adoption noting there is no particular reason why these files should be made an exception to the general rules governing the destruction of files. The amount of space saved would not be commensurate with the time necessary to carry out the idea. This Division advised that a field-wide survey is currently underwa regarding the overall problem of destruction of field office files.

Special Investigative Division stated the first item does not take into consid eration the statute of limitations regarding the destruction of informant files as to a crimi nal matter nor does it take into consideration any appeals made by a convicted felon where sometime in the past an informant has furnished information as to this individual, which information might be necessary for an "in camera" or other type of inspection due to the felon's appeal. This suggestion would also destroy consolidation memoranda which wou be contained in these files. This Division did not agree with the idea in that it would des worthwhile information, thereby causing unnecessary research of cases wherein inform has been mentioned in the past plus it would also destroy the identity of the cases where informant furnished competent information of value to these cases. The second item has merit and should be considered for approval as these files serve no useful purpose for the auxiliary office. The third item should not be approved due to views set forth above regar ing first idea. These views are also true in connection with the Top Echelon Criminal Informant Program.

As noted by the Intelligence Division a field survey is being made at this time regarding the overall problem of destruction of field office files. Conceivably, the subject matter involved in this proposal will be included in the recommendations received from field offices; therefore, Administrative Division believes the idea should not be adopted at this time. If this should occur, further action will be taken with respect to the suggester.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted at this time and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising her of this fact.

DATE: 5/31/73

FROM: SAC, BUFFALO (66-1209)

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
BUDED 6/4/73

Bureau Records - Gen.

ReBulet, 4/23/73.

Buffalo has carefully reviewed the proposals relating to the Field File Destruction Program and the following observations are set forth with respect to the specific proposals listed in referenced letter.

PROPOSAL

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Noninvestigative files and material in all classifications if of no further value. SAC shall designate employees to be responsible for this program. Only exceptions to this rule are destruction of Number Three Registers, FD-256, and field offices who are authorized to destroy record check-type files at an earlier date.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-26-82 BY SP4 EWS/ste

Observations

The advantage of adopting this proposal would be to simplify the administration of the Destruction Program since under current regulations certain noninvestigative files are to be destroyed depending on the nature of the files on a monthly, 60 day, 90 day, six month, one year, two year, or three year basis, or after they have served their purpose. In addition, other noninvestigative files such as double zero files on current classifications are to be retained indefinitely.

Adoption of this proposal could have the effect of promoting efficiency and eliminating confusion, resulting from the many exceptions in the guidelines for destruction of files. It would also permit destruction of material in certain control files in investigative classifications after one year, which would otherwise remain in these files until normal destruction in a particular investigative classification.

However, if the proposal were adopted as stated it would mean many volumnious records which heretofore are destroyed at specific periods of less than one year would then have to be retained for at least one year. Examples of records destroyed in less than a year's time are: FBI Calendar of Major Events (currently destroyed after 90 days); transmittal letter of checks and bonds (destroyed after 60 days); carbon copies of NCIC Terminal printouts (destroyed monthly); and Field Stenographers and Typists Daily Reports (destroyed after serving purpose).

Additionally, under the current Destruction Program certain administrative-type files are to be destroyed on an annual basis when three years old. Other files are scheduled for destruction after two years. It is noted the double zero files would fall into the noninvestigative files for destruction when one year old, according to the above proposal, and these double zero files, as well as other files and records which are most valuable in the administration of a field office, would no longer be available for use if destroyed on an annual basis under this proposal. In this regard such files as Accomplishments, Monthly Administrative Reports, Office Personnel file, SAC Letters and SAC Memoranda file, as well as the double zero files, are of value for periods in excess of one year.

It is recognized the key phrase in this proposal appears to be "If of no further value" which ostensibly would permit the field to decide which of the foregoing files can be or should be retained more than one year. This in effect could create a number of exceptions to the rule and obviate the purpose of the proposal, i.e., the simplification of the destruction of files and records program.

Based on the above, it would appear the disadvantages to adopting the proposal far out weigh any advantages to be gained by its adoption and therefore Buffalo recommends against adopting this proposal.

2. Investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigations were negative or of absolutely no continuing value. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction.

Observations

In order to implement this proposal all investigative files closed more than one year would have to be reviewed by Special Agent Supervisor and undoubtedly a number of such files reviewed under this proposal would meet the criteria. Without conducting such a review it is difficult to estimate the number of such files qualifying for destruction under the proposal and perhaps there would be more qualifying files in some classifications than there are in others. However, in view of the objective of economy of space and filing equipment, it is felt a sufficient number of files susceptible to destruction under the above criteria would dictate toward the adoption of this proposal.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files of no further value relating to all classifications in auxiliary offices. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction of files.

Observations

Since the Office of Origin would still be in possession of pertinent data regarding investigative files in the above category and since most of such files in auxiliary offices closed five years or more would not require additional investigation after that lapse of time, it is felt adoption of this proposal would result in a substantial volume of destruction and it is recommended this proposal be adopted. It would be incumbent upon the Office of Origin to furnish background information previously developed during investigation to auxiliary offices in those instances where cases in the above category were reopened.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on annual or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files in office of origin relating to all classifications of no further value. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction of files.

Observations

Adoption of this proposal would likewise result in a substantial savings of space and it is felt a ten year lapse of time is adequate for most Office of Origin investigative files. It is recognized, however, in certain classifications, specifically in the security field, pertinent data could be destroyed by the field which can have a significant bearing in current investigations, such as Security of Government Employees matters. It is presumed in these instances the Bureau would be in possession of such data and files at FBIHQ would be retained longer than the ten year period. It is recommended that this proposal be adopted.

D. To provide for a uniform and efficient file destruction, the original assignment cards will be used to schedule the destruction under the proposed programs. If this proposal is approved, the original assignment cards would, of course, not be destroyed as under present rules and regulations after cases are closed.

Observations

It is felt adoption of this proposal would represent the most efficient means by which those files falling in the schedules for destruction could be identified and retrieved.

Additional observations are set forth below as to the disposition of the material specified following destruction of respective files:

1. Index cards

a. Destroy following destruction of noninvestigative files and investigative files in which results are negative.

b. Retain index cards for ten years after destruction of auxiliary office files five years old, since the index card would flag the fact that investigation had been previously conducted and file cover of destroyed file would indicate identity of the Office of Origin.

c. Destroy the index cards following destruction of Office of Origin cases when ten years old, since the index card would have no value.

2. Stop outstanding

a. Disposition not applicable in noninvestigative files and those investigative files where results of investigation were negative.

b. Stop cards on case files destroyed by auxiliary offices when five years old are maintained by the Office of Origin; however, it is felt correspondence relating to the stop notice and maintained in the auxiliary office should be retained so that any stops can be effectively removed when so instructed by the Office of Origin.

c. Remove or cancel stop with the destruction of file under the ten year destruction program.

3. Zero files

Destroy those serials in the zero file when they are ten years old.

4. Evidentiary material

a. This would not be applicable in noninvestigative files and files destroyed when results of investigation negative.

b. Retain any FD-302s, signed statements and other evidentiary material in auxiliary office on those files destroyed after five years.

c. Destroy FD-302s, signed statements and return or destroy other evidentiary material when case file is destroyed under ten year destruction program.

If the proposed destruction rules are approved the Buffalo Office estimates it currently has approximately 816 cubic feet of material to be destroyed. It is noted, however, about 400 cubic feet of this material is programmed for review and destruction under current destruction procedures.

It is also noted implementation of the proposed destruction rules would place an additional heavy burden on the Chief Clerk's Office and because destruction would have to be authorized by a Special Agent Supervisor, a heavy burden would also be placed on the supervisory staff. It is estimated this proposed program would require the full time equivalent of two clerks and one Agent Supervisor to effectively handle the destruction on a timely basis.

While the Buffalo Office is alert to suggesting streamline procedures, this office currently has no additional observations relating to the streamlining of field paperwork other than those previously submitted under the Suggestion Program.

ReBuLet to Albany 4/23/73, captioned as above.

The proposals set forth in referenced letter have been carefully considered and evaluated by the supervisory staff of this Division and the following comments concerning each proposal are submitted:

A.

1. Noninvestigative matters and material in all classifications if of no further value should be destroyed by an employee designated by the SAC when one year old on an annual basis. This would simplify the destruction rules regarding this type of record and would make for a more uniform destruction program.

2. Although results of any investigation may be negative, the value of the information gathered during the investigation cannot be determined to be of "absolutely no continuing value" as we have no way of knowing what may occur in the future. Consequently, it is not recommended that investigative files in all classifications be destroyed when one year old if results of investigations are negative.

B.

1. It would appear logical and practical that files and records of no anticipated further value relating to all classifications in auxiliary offices be destroyed under Special Agent Supervisory authority when 5 years old on an annual basis. However, it is recommended a record disclosing the caption of each file destroyed, the office of origin, and the office of origin file number be maintained. Original FD 302's, signed statements, and evidential material should also be maintained.

C.

1. There is no concrete way to determine when an investigative file in office of origin has no further value. It is not recommended that investigative files in office of origin relating to all classifications be destroyed when 10 years old, primarily because we do not know if the file has further value and our experience with recidivists would indicate they should not be destroyed when 10 years old.

D. This proposal appears to provide an adequate control system for destruction of records and if the proposals set forth in referenced letter are adopted its adoption would be recommended.

It is the recommendation of this Office that indices cards be maintained for 20 years and destroyed when encountered after the file is destroyed. Files should not be destroyed in any case when there are stops outstanding. Zero files should be maintained for at least 10 years and evidentiary material should be maintained for 20 years or until it can reasonably be shown to have no continued value.

It is estimated that if the proposals set forth in referenced letter are adopted approximately 300 linear feet of space will be saved in our closed files. No equipment will be saved as we utilize open shelf filing.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

The Special Investigative Division has no objection to the referenced proposal contained in the memorandum of Thomas A. Keane to Mr. J. E. Reilly dated April 20, 1973, regarding the destroying of field files and records, except as mentioned hereinafter.

It is recommended that field files not be destroyed in the Presidential Inquiry, 161, and Departmental Applicant (professional), 77 classifications. These investigations are constantly being brought up to date for one reason or another in cases involving White House staff personnel as well as presidential appointees. Experience over the years has shown in these classifications that a select group of men handled various executive positions throughout the Government; consequently, many of these top-level individuals are the subject of investigations time and again. In the case of White House staff personnel, we automatically bring investigations up to date every three years at the request of The White House.

It is further pointed out that in the aforementioned classifications deadlines are so short that there is not sufficient time to reproduce the results of a previous investigation or investigations and forward them to the various field offices. Further, it is not believed there are a sufficient number of these cases volume-wise to cause any problem for field retention of these files. Since time is of the essence in these investigations, it is strongly recommended that 161 and 77 (professional) files not be destroyed as set forth in the reference memorandum.

MEMORANDUM TO MR. CLEVELAND
RE: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

It is understood that the destruction of field files is accomplished on the basis that central files are maintained at FBI Headquarters. In several of the fugitive categories such as the 42 and 88 classifications, reports no longer are sent to the Bureau in routine cases. Before the proposed provision for destroying field files after ten years is approved, it is suggested that Records Branch make a determination that the nature of central files maintained in these classifications is sufficiently complete to permit destruction of field files.

It is noted the recommendations for destruction provide that this will be done only upon authorization of Special Agents in Charge, Assistant Special Agents in Charge, or Special Agent Supervisors. This would appear to place an undue burden on the supervisory staff of the various field offices. It is suggested this authority be extended to other Agent personnel such as limited duty Agents who may be given specific guidelines for authorizing the destruction. Along this line, it is also noted the only suggested criteria seems to be a determination that the material in a file is of no further value to the particular office. It would seem that to obtain some type of uniformity, additional guidelines would have to be developed relating to the destruction of field files since there could be a wide range of opinion as to what could or could not be considered of further value.

In the Criminal Informant, 137 classification, it is recommended that auxiliary office files in the classification with few exceptions, could be destroyed at an early date, such as within six months or one year. These files generally relate to a record check or verification of background information concerning the informant. The advantages of taking this step, of course, must be weighed against the fact that this immediately would set up an exception to the proposed general destruction periods recommended in the memorandum.

ACTION

That this memorandum be referred to the Training Division.

ReBulet 4-23-73.

The proposals set forth in above referenced Bulet relating to the field file destruction program are very good and I feel should be implemented.

It is the observation of this office that index cards should be destroyed simultaneously with the destruction program.

Currently stop cards are reviewed on a 90-day basis and it is felt that this system should be maintained.

Zero files should be destroyed in accordance with the proposals contained in above referenced Bulet.

Evidentiary material in this office is reviewed semiannually and it is felt that this program should be maintained rather than doing it on an annual basis.

If the proposed destruction program was placed into effect, the Cleveland Office would reclaim approximately 1,000 feet of open-shelf filing shelves and 15 index card drawers.

Bureau Records-Gen.

Rebulet dated 4/23/73.

Set forth below under designated headings as listed in referenced Bureau letter are Chicago comments regarding each proposal.

A1. It is felt that in most classifications destruction of noninvestigative files and material of no further value on an annual basis is feasible. Classifications in the Organized Crime and Gambling fields should be exempt inasmuch as material appearing in these files is definitely of intelligence value and should be retained. It is felt 67-0 files could be destroyed on an annual basis; however, a notation should be made on the index card or other appropriate place as to why the particular individual was not processed.

A2. Investigative files in classifications where results were negative or of absolutely no continuing value could be destroyed. Classifications in the Organized Crime and Gambling fields should be retained for their intelligence and background value. It is felt fugitive classifications should not be destroyed on an annual basis due to background information available on individuals who in all probability will be subjects of investigations in the future. It is felt certain cases in several classifications could be destroyed on an annual basis. Namely, 15 cases where no reports submitted to Bureau, Agency checks where Bureau has been advised of results of checks and 163 cases where Bureau is origin and results of investigation submitted to Bureau by letterhead. It is felt at this time the 145 classification files should not be destroyed due to the lack of specific guidelines as to the definition of obscenity. These files should be retained for a period of ten years pending clarification of the guidelines. In the Security field it is felt certain investigative files could be destroyed as long as the Special Agent Supervisor authorizes such destruction.

B1. Files in the Organized Crime Field should be retained because of the intelligence value and reflect the continuing contacts in the Chicago area by out-of-state individuals. In the Gambling Field it is believed about 75 percent of the non-origin cases could be destroyed at the descretion of the Agent Supervisor. In other criminal type violations, it is felt files could be destroyed on a selective basis, however, certain provisions would have to be made for the retention of original FD-302s, signed statements and other evidence either by sending them to the office of origin or having the office of origin authorize their destruction. In the fugitive field it is felt the five year rule might be premature due to the likelihood of repeaters in these categories. It is believed classifications 67 and 77 in which the Bureau is origin could be destroyed.

In the Security Field, it is felt certain files could be destroyed providing the office of origin is in possession of all information of value. The Agent Supervisor should, however, authorize any destructions in these cases.

C1. Files in the Organized Crime Field should be retained because of the intelligence value contained therein. Chicago is of the opinion that in most prosecutive-type criminal cases, these files could be destroyed after a ten-year period providing the Statute of Limitations has run or all appellate actions have been exhausted. It is felt in the applicant-type cases where the Bureau is office of origin, the files could be destroyed.

In the Security Field, it is felt that while many files do contain information of continuing intelligence value to the office of origin, on a selective basis many files could be destroyed after ten years.

It is believed the Supervisor should be responsible for the authorization to destroy files in this category.

D. It is believed that the use of original assignment cards as a means of scheduling the destruction of files would be highly satisfactory. These cards could be used to set up a tickler at the discretion of the Supervisor as to when destruction of a particular file should be considered.

The following comments are submitted concerning the disposition of certain material after the respective files have been destroyed.

Index Cards

Generally it is felt the index cards should be destroyed at the time the respective files are destroyed with a few exceptions. In the case of auxiliary offices, index cards should be retained until the Statute of Limitations has run or all appellate actions have been exhausted. In Fugitive-type cases, it is believed the card should be retained showing the office of origin, file number so that if information is obtained concerning an individual, the office of origin could be contacted for complete information on this individual.

In Security-type cases it is believed the index cards could be destroyed with the exception of a card indicating the main file number of the subject and the office of origin. If the office of origin file is destroyed, a card could be retained including the Bureau file number if it is available.

Stop Outstanding

It is believed that stop cards should be retained until the reason therefor has been resolved or the Statute of Limitations has run. Certain type stops could be placed in NCIC. The office of origin should be responsible for maintaining records of stops and could furnish an auxiliary office sufficient information to cancel a stop thereby making retention of the file in the auxiliary office unnecessary.

Zero Files

In criminal-type cases it is felt zero files should be reviewed annually and information of no continuing value could be destroyed. It is believed all zero files could be destroyed with the approval of the Supervisor after five years.

In security-type cases, it is felt zero files should be maintained for a ten-year period before being considered for destruction.

Evidentiary Material

Evidentiary material should be returned to the contributor or appropriately destroyed after litigation has ceased, the Statute of Limitations tolled or when all appellate actions have been exhausted. It is felt that original FD-302s and evidentiary material should be maintained in the files of the office of origin except in unusual circumstances as rarely are these items needed in auxiliary offices.

Volume of Space and Equipment Reclaimed

The Chicago Division currently utilized open shelf filing. If the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered, it is estimated in criminal classifications approximately 1480 cubic feet or 100 cabinets could be reclaimed.

In the Security Field in the 157 classification, 100 cubic feet or seven cabinets could be reclaimed. In the 100 and other classifications, it is estimated 576 cubic feet or 40 cabinets could be reclaimed.

Observations Relating to Streamlining Field Paperwork

1. In the Organized Crime field, it is believed reports should not be used to set out leads. Further, with rare exceptions, copies of reports need not be sent to an auxiliary office "For Info". In setting out leads, there need not be a predication or lengthy explanation why a routine lead is being submitted, especially when an agency-type lead is set out or a subscriber check on a telephone number is made.

2. Send only two copies of FD-302s and inserts to office of origin, one copy for file and one copy for duplication. This could also apply to documents for field office files except when more copies needed for lead purposes.

3. Summarize negative investigations and maintains details in field file as opposed to including in reports.

4. Consideration be given to microfilming certain records in order to conserve filing space.

5. Changes in reporting rules, i.e. six-month reports in 76 and 88 classifications, has reduced file space approximately 20 percent in these categories and it is felt a similar change in reporting rules in 76 -EFP and 115 classifications would have a similar effect in space used. Instead of reporting with regard to the 45-day reporting rule in 115 and 76 - EFP cases, it is suggested that 120-day reports would suffice and reduce space by approximately 10 to 15 percent. Also, since six-month reports are presently being used in 76 and 88 classifications, it is felt all serials incorporated into these reports could be destroyed after the case has been resolved since the information contained in the report is also contained in other serials in the file creating a duplication of information.

6. When submitting an FD-128 changing the office of origin in security cases, either the entire file should be transmitted to the new office, since the old office of origin has no need for this file, or reports should be stripped from file which would do away with the necessity of duplicating the reports, as is now done.

7. In security cases regarding informant channelizing memorandums, it is suggested that rather than channelizing the entire memorandum to all individuals mentioned therein, it is recommended that the entire memorandum go only to the 134 file and the file of the captioned organization or individual and only the cover page go to remaining files. Since few reports are now being written on individuals, there is no need for their files to contain all information in detail and if needed, some time in the future, the location of the information is noted in the cover page. This would do away with the necessity of channelizing thousands of pages of material annually.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReBulet to Albany 4-23-73.

In connection with proposals set forth in reBulet, the following observations are made by Springfield and are lettered and numbered to correspond with referenced communication:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. It is felt that this particular section needs to be more definitive in nature in order to specifically enumerate the types and classifications of files and material to be destroyed. If this particular section is made applicable only to non-investigative files and non-investigative material that has no apparent further value, then it would appear to be a logical step to authorize destruction on an annual basis.

2. As an alternative to the suggestion made under #2, it would appear logical to allow all auxiliary offices to destroy files in all classifications on an annual or other staggered basis, and in addition to allow the office of origin of Unknown Subject cases to destroy files that were negative or of no continuing value. It also appears appropriate to have the Special Agent Supervisor authorize such destruction.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis:

66-3286-

1. Springfield concurs that this item would be desirable if modified so that auxiliary offices would be required to furnish to the office of origin all original FD-302's, exhibits, evidence, and other pertinent material that under present requirements must be retained under the five and ten-year destruction program. This proposed change would also be applicable to Section A2 above.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on annual or other staggered basis:

1. Springfield concurs with this suggested change.

D. To provide for a uniform and efficient file destruction, the original assignment cards will be used to schedule the destruction under the proposed programs. If this proposal is approved, the original assignment cards would, of course, not be destroyed as under present rules and regulations after cases are closed.

Springfield again concurs that this suggestion would be beneficial.

Springfield's observations are set forth below concerning supplemental materials:

1. Index cards - It is Springfield's recommendation that all index cards concerning files being destroyed be also destroyed. This would require the hiring of an additional clerical employee, who would be assigned full time to the index card destruction project.

2. Stop outstanding - It does not appear appropriate to destroy any file where there is a pending stop outstanding.

3. Zero files - It is recommended that the contents of the zero files be destroyed on an annual basis following each inspection.

4. Evidentiary material - Evidentiary material should be returned to the contributor or destroyed, whichever is appropriate, on the authority of the United States Attorney or at such time as prosecution no longer appears feasible.

Should the above file destruction project be placed into effect, the Springfield Office feels that its current 128 file cabinets could be reduced by approximately 45 cabinets or 35% saving of open shelf space.

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Noninvestigative files and material in all classifications if of no further value. SAC shall designate material to be retained.

2. Investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigations were negative or of absolutely no continuing value, in auxiliary offices only.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files of no further value relating to all classifications in auxiliary offices.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files in office of origin relating to all classifications of no further value with the exception of Security Classifications in 65, 100, 105, and 157 categories. It is suggested these files be retained for 20 years. This suggestion is made since there may be references of value in these files relating to applicant-type cases in these security classifications.

Following observations have been made concerning the disposition of:

INDEX CARDS - To be retained in indices and destroyed as they are encountered in regular searching procedure if the file has been destroyed. This suggestion is made since the destruction of index cards at time file is destroyed would be too time-consuming.

STOPS OUTSTANDING - No stops retained unless they come within the criteria of being placed in NCIC.

ZERO FILES - These files to be destroyed on selective basis when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis.

EVIDENTIARY MATERIAL - No change in procedure for destruction of evidence since this material is reviewed every six months and proper disposition or retention is made at that time.

It is estimated that approximately 540 cubic feet in the open shelf files would be gained by disposition of the material indicated.

Special Agent Supervisors will authorize the destruction of all files and records.

This office has no further observations at this time for the streamlining of field paperwork.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - Gen. FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Bureau letter to Albany dated 4/23/73.

The observations of the Minneapolis Office concerning the proposals set forth in referenced communication are as follows:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis.

1. It is estimated the Minneapolis Office would gain, initially under this program, 52 linear feet of file space if non-investigative files and material in all classifications are destroyed if of no future value. It is believed this can be accomplished without affecting Bureau operations and should be favorably considered providing, when recommended by the supervising Agent, only those portions of files are destroyed that are or could be of no future use.

2. In regard to investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigation were negative or of absolutely no continuing value, it is estimated a total of approximately 91 linear feet would be reclaimed. It is again felt this can be accomplished without adversely affecting Bureau operations and should be favorably considered with the stipulation the files to be destroyed be so designated by the Agent supervisor supervising the particular classification. Here again, it is felt only in some cases partial files should be destroyed, depending on the individual case.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis.

1. Destruction of investigative files of no further value relating to all classifications in which this office is an auxiliary office would reclaim approximately 269 linear feet as a result of this program. It is here again emphasized that only the Agent supervisor having supervision over the particular classification should so authorize and only files or portions of files of no further possible benefit should be destroyed.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on an annual or staggered basis.

1. Investigative files in which this office is origin, if destroyed after ten years, would result in retrieving approximately 1,219 linear feet of space. Here again, it is felt only Agent supervisors should authorize destruction and only those files or portions of files which would be of no future value should be considered for destruction.

D. It is felt the suggested manner for a uniform and efficient file destruction by use of original assignment cards would be feasible; and, therefore, the original assignment cards should not be destroyed as under the present rules and regulations concerning their destruction. The proposed authorization for overall destruction of investigative files by the supervisory Special Agents should be considered; and, the actual destruction should be accomplished by clerical personnel after the supervisor or an Agent designated by him, has reviewed the file and instructed as to which files or portions thereof should be destroyed.

It is felt index cards should be destroyed as encountered when destroying the files as proposed herein. It is further felt index cards should not be destroyed where any portion of a file is not destroyed. It is also recommended that the pertinent portion of files not be destroyed where there are stops outstanding.

Minneapolis recommends "0" files be reviewed and portions thereof in excess of five years be destroyed at the discretion of the supervising Agent. Any evidentiary material contained in any file should not be destroyed even though portions of those files are destroyed.

The overall volume of space that would be reclaimed if the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered would be approximately 1,631 linear feet. This figure, however, is the space reclaimed if all files not within the proposed limits are destroyed. It is noted that the Minneapolis Division has an overall total of about 9,639 linear feet of files presently in the closed section.

Consideration should be given also to implementing the use of microfilming those files which should not for various reasons be destroyed and which should be maintained for an indefinite period.

Only positive or pertinent information should be included in communications going to U. S. Attorneys, other outside agencies, and Bureau. Negative investigations and information should be put in memorandum form and placed in file.

Eliminate reports in fugitive classifications where no report is required to be sent to FBIHQ, but current rules require that every six months an interoffice summary report be submitted.

If the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered it is estimated we will reclaim 40 to 45% of our present volume of space and equipment. FROM : SAC, KNOXVILLE (66-812)

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - Gen. FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Bureau letter to Albany 4/23/73.

The Knoxville Division is keenly aware of the storage space problems existing throughout the field and is in complete accord with the need for a practical and economical solution to this problem. It is felt that whatever method determined upon to conserve space should be such that it would allow the preservation of all vital records and pertinent investigative data. It is the opinion of this office that the suggestions as set forth in referenced Bureau letter would not attain the maximum results in either conservation of space or retention of pertinent information.

It is recognized that knowledgeable Agent personnel must review all investigative files before such files can be destroyed to preclude the destruction of data which has a continuing value to our investigative functions. Experience has shown that such review is, of necessity, extremely time consuming if the program is to be handled properly. As an example, an UNSUB, ITSMV case may have no investigative value in and of itself after a certain passage of time; however, in the course of the investigation much valuable information may have been ascertained and indexed concerning suspects and/or business firms. To arbitrarily destroy such a file on a fixed date basis would lose forever the positive results of the investigation which could be of inestimable value at some time in the future. To insure against this type of loss and the redundancy of investigative work the loss might occasion, each page of every file being considered for destruction would have to be scrutinized by knowledgeable Agent personnel and a determination made as to its value.

Based on a conservative estimate of 100 pages per hour average review time, an Agent review of files would cost approximately $366.40 per cubic feet based on the salary for a GS-12. A similar review by a supervisor, GS-14, would cost $483.60. (Both cost estimates are based on a Step 1 salary grade.)

Because the Knoxville Division believes that the proposals for file destruction are wasteful and exorbitant in cost and furthermore carry an inherent potential that valuable data could be irretrievably lost, the following suggestion is made:

All investigative files to be microfilmed one year after closing. Non-investigative files and records to be microfilmed on a scheduled basis suitable to the type of record involved.

While no survey in depth has been carried out by the Knoxville Division at this time, inquiries made of Bell & Howell and the 3M Manufacturing Company representatives revealed that a camera and a reader printer suitable to our needs could be purchased for something under $6,000. By utilizing microfilming techniques a GS-2 clerk could microfilm one cubic foot (approximately 4,000 pages) of investigative files in 5 hours and 24 minutes, at an employee cost of under $15.00. The approximate cost for film, including processing, runs between three and five mills per page.

The storage of the microfilm is such that one cubic foot of film would be equivalent to slightly more than 32 open-shelf files or more than 770 cubic feet of shelf space.

If the microfilming technique was placed in operation, it would also eliminate the present practice of stripping files since the camera operator would only print one copy of each serial, after which the original file would be destroyed in its entirety.

KX 66-812

Representatives of microfilm manufacturers have stated that the indexing system for this procedure is such that any name checked can be located and viewed on the reader within a matter of seconds. Likewise, the print-out facilities are such that a hard copy of any required document can be made instantaneously.

More important than the comparative cost and the savings in space that microfilming of records would bring is the fact that the Bureau would have the complete retention of all investigative material and that such material would be readily accessible for review.

A representative of the Bell & Howell Microfilm Division has indicated that an untrained clerical employee using a manually operated microfilm camera could, in a 6½-hour workday, transfer to microfilm approximately 4,000 pages of 8½" X 11" material bound in an Acco fastened file. The camera which could be utilized would be such that the depth of field would allow for a file of approximately 200 pages to be photographed page by page without the pages being removed from the file jacket.

During the past fiscal year the Knoxville Division destroyed 96.8 cubic feet of investigative files. The same amount of files could be reduced to microfilm by one clerical employee in approximately 16 work weeks without any Agent supervision. As pointed out earlier, additional time would be saved since microfilming would relieve clerical personnel from stripping files as they are closed.

If the above proposal were augmented original assignment cards would be processed as under the present rules and regulations.

The above proposal would allow for the following:

Index cards, all or portions of, to be microfilmed and permanently retained;

Outstanding stops to be handled as at present;

Zero files to be microfilmed;

Evidentiary material to be destroyed following the running of the Statute of Limitations or returned to its source.

It is felt that microfilming would eventually result in almost 98% reclaimation of space now used for closed files and other records maintained by this and all other field divisions.

Representatives of the microfilm companies have advised that the equipment necessary to process the microfilm can be purchased for approximately $2600.00, enabling the Bureau Office to do its own processing to maintain the confidential nature of our files. This machine takes 40 minutes to process one roll of film and is completely automated following the manual insertion of a film reel into the machine. The possibility exists that one such machine could be purchased to serve several regional offices. For example, the processing in the Southeast area of the country might be handled from Atlanta.

It should be noted that there is nothing in the above suggested procedures which would prohibit the continued use of our present indexing system and the retention of all present index cards.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

By way of explanation, a field survey was recently completed in relation to the streamlining of existing field office file retention programs. Currently, there are 25 individual rules relating to the destruction of investigative and noninvestigative field files. In addition, there are numerous other rules concerning the purging of specific material, serials, and copies of serials.

In view of the substantial increase in the cost of Bureau space as set forth under Public Law 92-313, Public Buildings Amendment of 1972, which is effective as of 7/1/74, and to create a more favorable balance between the creation of new paperwork and the destruction of obsolete material, the following proposals were submitted to each field office for their observations and evaluations, including the estimated savings in space and equipment:

1. Destruction of noninvestigative files and material of no continuing value when one year old. (48 field offices recommended favorably)

2. Destruction of investigative files when results of investigations were negative when one year old. (38 field offices recommended favorably)

3. Destruction of investigative files in auxiliary offices of no further value when five years old. (48 field offices recommended favorably)

4. Destruction of files in offices of origin in ten years if of no further value. (35 field offices recommended favorably)

EX-103 REC-26 66-3286-1135

The savings in space and equipment varied according to the individual field offices. However, to cite some potential savings that would be realized if favorable consideration were given to the above proposals, the Detroit Office estimated a savings of 50 percent of their present filing space and equipment; the New Haven Office estimated a savings of 30 to 50 percent of their present space and equipment; the New York Office estimated a savings of 400, 5-drawer filing cabinets and 300 indices cabinets; and the Washington Field Office estimated a savings of 4,000 cubic feet or approximately 2,000 filing drawers.

The Training Division feels that all or part of the above proposals could be favorably considered consistent with good records management. It should be noted that these proposals do not make it mandatory to destroy material of a continuing value to any particular field office and authority for destruction would be handled on a supervisory level. However, the Training Division feels strongly that no action be taken to streamline our destruction rules at this time for the following reasons:

1. Two schools for Chief Clerks are scheduled for September, 1973, and these proposals should be thoroughly discussed at that time. This would resolve a multitude of administrative problems resultant from the alteration of present destruction procedures.

2. Studies are currently under way concerning the possible use of automated filing equipment which, if accepted, would reduce our need for filing space.

3. Studies are also pending concerning the possible use of microfilm equipment for the storage of most field office material. If this system were approved, new criteria would have to be initiated which would drastically change any existing rules.

RECOMMENDATION:

That any changes in our field file retention rules be held in abeyance until the conclusion of the forthcoming schools for Chief Clerks, and the termination of studies relating to the use of automated filing equipment and microfilm equipment.

After careful analysis of the material on hand in the Las Vegas Office falling within the suggested guidelines in Bulet, the following is a tabulation of volume of space and equipment that would be reclaimed if the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered:

(A) FILES AND RECORDS TO BE DESTROYED WHEN ONE YEAR OLD ON AN ANNUAL OR OTHER STAGGERED BASIS:

It is felt that at the time a closed file is reviewed on tickler by the supervising desk it would be of benefit if the supervisor would stamp the file "Destroy file in 1 year, 5 years, or 10 years," whichever is appropriate, date the file and initial it. This would alleviate the need for this file being pulled and reviewed by the supervisor a second time at a later date. It would also be reviewed while the facts of the investigation are current. If the file is reopened at a later time, this stamp should be removed until file is closed so that it can be re-evaluated each time it is opened or closed. This type procedure would give the Chief Clerk's Office the responsibility of destroying the file at the appropriate time.

At the time the file is returned to the Chief Clerk's Office from the supervisor's desk, the original tickler would be filed in the appropriate box; one year, five years, or ten years, for destruction at the appropriate time.

Zero files in any classification should be destroyed within a year from the date of communication or after each field office inspection. Index cards should be maintained for a period of not more than two years and should be destroyed as they are encountered in the indices.

Stops outstanding in any classification should be cancelled when statue of limitations has expired.

In all cases where the evidentiary material has not been returned to the owner it should be destroyed at the time the file is destroyed. This includes original signed statements, FD-302's and all contents of 1A envelopes.

Unknown Subject cases in all classifications and the index cards relating thereto should be destroyed within five years from date of closing, provided a capital offense is not involved.

Re Bureau letter to Albany dated 4/23/73.

Re proposals relating to the field file destruction program contained in A, B, and C of referenced Bulet to Albany, et al, dated 4/23/73, it appears that if such a program was inaugurated without specific guidelines that considerable pertinent material contained in our non-investigative and investigative files would be destroyed. In addition, there would be little or no continuity to such a program since what one Supervisor might consider to be important another Supervisor in reviewing the same material would consider unimportant and thereby instruct that the particular file be destroyed.

It is felt that the guidelines contained in attached communication are non-specific and would result in the destruction of files on a field-wide basis without any regard being given to information contained in the files which may at a later date prove to be significant. It is strongly recommended that before such a program (destruction of files and records) be implemented that a conference be held at which field and headquarters personnel be present, all aspects of this program be discussed, and as a result of these discussions specific guidelines be set forth as to what files may be destroyed after a particular period of time.

With respect to index cards, it is felt that these should be maintained for a period of five years the file has been destroyed since they would be of some assistance to an agent if he could determine from a review that a particular individual had been the subject of a previous inquiry and the nature of the inquiry.

It is felt that internal security files (100 classification) should not be destroyed. However, the stripping of all old files should continue as well as the destruction of pertinent informant memos after the information has been reported. These, of course, are not new suggestions but are means of conserving

As to the retention of index cards, etc., it would appear that with the files destroyed such cards would serve no purpose. The same would apply to the retention of outstanding stops. Re Bureau letter, 4/23/73.

The proposals in referenced letter have been reviewed by clerical and supervisory Agent personnel for use in the Columbia Division. An estimated 42 cubic feet will be reclaimed which consists primarily of open shelf filing units. Each unit has 7 shelves 36" in length.

The implementation of the program will allow supervisory Agent personnel an opportunity to screen material for destruction.

Under Item D, maintenance of assignment cards, it would appear that the maintenance of these cards for several years would require additional space, possibly to the extent of another indices. Also, the maintenance of these assignment cards would still not relieve the supervisory personnel of reviewing the file for destruction; therefore, it would appear that the assignment cards would not be necessary and that files could be reviewed for a specified numerical grouping covering a one year period and achieve the same results without maintaining the assignment cards.

Destruction of office of origin files relating to all classifications of no further value after 10 years could conceivably present problems regarding name checks. This situation may be more apparent in a newer office such as Columbia where at the present time our routine name checks are going back 7 to 8 years and possibly longer in certain situations. The destruction of files after 10 years would possibly destroy files where pertinent name checks are necessary.

Index cards should be maintained for at least 20 years to allow for name checks and also allow for reference reviews. Additional information could be incorporated on the index card at the time of the file destruction which would make the index card a more useful reference. An example would be incorporating the location of informant information on security subject cases and a complete description of a subject which may not have been incorporated on the index card. Also, if there are stops outstanding or evidence still pending in a case file, it would appear that these files could not be destroyed and a tickler could then be set to allow a review of these files at a later date for possible destruction. Zero files could be destroyed on a one-year basis on a serial-by-serial basis after review by the supervisory Agent personnel.

Re Bureau letter, 4/23/73.

The SAC, Supervisory Agent and Clerical Personnel, and other key Agent personnel conferred for the purpose of considering Bureau's proposals.

Items A and B:

There does not appear to be any objection to the Bureau's effecting the destruction of files as set forth under these plans concerning the one-year and five-year programs. However, in those instances where investigative files contain identifying information such as serial numbers concerning stolen property, such files should be retained.

In those instances where files are being destroyed under the five-year program, it is recommended that the Chief Clerk's Office (CCO) should record the identity of the Office of Origin on the index card and to retain the index card.

Item C:

66-3286-

It is recommended that the security-type cases not be destroyed under the ten-year program as by doing so we might lose some very important information. This particularly relates to searches of names on applications for FBI employment and name checks for CSC which are frequently received. In some major cases such as bank robberies, occasions arise where subjects commit a crime after a period of ten years and after their release from confinement. In this regard, the old bank robbery file would very obviously contain important and useful background and descriptive information. In major cases, the Supervisory Agent should decide after a ten-year period to retain such files unless some obvious reason exists to the contrary at that time.

54 JUN 12 1973

Possibly in a larger office where space is at a premium, consideration should be given to microfilming Office of Origin investigative files at the end of a five- or ten-year period, retaining the index cards so as to retrieve any information from microfilm records. The Norfolk Division does not have a closed file space problem at this time, and no recommendation for microfilming is being made locally.

It is also recommended that accounting work papers can be destroyed after all criminal and civil aspects of the case have been disposed of; e.g., in a strictly civil-type investigation, there are some cases where the accounting work papers are retained indefinitely even though there does not seem to be any further reason to retain them.

Observations Concerning (1) Index Cards,
(2) Stop Outstanding,
(3) Zero Files,
(4) Evidentiary Material:

It is suggested that we retain index cards on all case files. If a file is destroyed and a "hit" is made on a search of indices, we could then either obtain necessary data from microfilmed files at Bureau or through check at the Office of Origin. Index cards could be destroyed, however, on those instances involving destruction of serials in zero or administrative files where the retention of index cards is obviously unnecessary.

It is recommended that no change be made in our procedure in handling stop notices.

Zero files innon-security-type cases could be destroyed after a five-year period unless some obvious compelling reason dictates to the contrary.

Evidentiary material could be destroyed or otherwise suitably disposed of following adjudication of known subject cases or after expiration of Statuteof Limitations in UNSUB cases.

Volume of Space and Equipment to be Reclaimed:

If all of the proposals suggested by the Bureau were placed into effect, it is believed that the Norfolk Division would reclaim about 2000 linear inches of file space. These files would ordinarily be maintained in seven 8' by 3' open-shelf filing cabinets.

Observations:

A considerable amount of Bureau success in investigative accomplishments accrues to the availability of information in our files in both the criminal and security fields. The ready availability of background information continues to be an asset to us. It is accordingly recommended that there not be a wholesale destruction of files and that when files are destroyed, they be done so only under close supervisory guidance.

The Norfolk Division is of the opinion that the amount of field paperwork has been reduced by the cutback in reporting procedures in security-type cases with the revision of criteria for inclusion on the Adex. We have no additional observations to make at this time relating to such streamlining procedures.

Attention: Administrative Division

DATE: 6/4/73

FROM : SAC, Albany (66-819)

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS Bureau Records - Gen.

ReBulet 4/23/73.

The following observations are submitted regarding proposals relating to the field file destruction program.

A. 1. It is anticipated that difficulty would be encountered in controlling this type of destruction and additional work would be required to set up and follow a tickler system to determine which files would be available for destruction at a certain time. It would appear that administrative ticklers would be a necessity and in view of the work and time required, it is not deemed feasible or practical.

A. 2. Even though some investigative files in all classifications result in negative investigations, after one year, little time has elapsed in which to make a proper determination as to whether it is of absolutely no continuing value.

B. 1. It is most desirable to arrange one criteria for all non-administrative type records. Confusion exists when separate criteria is listed for different categories of cases and increases the possibility of error. In auxiliary offices, files contain signed statements and original FD-302s which may be needed by the Office of Origin in spite of a five-year lapse. Their individual retention or transmittal to the Office of Origin creates additional work and loss of manpower.

C. 1. It is recommended that the ten-year destruction proposal be adopted for all classifications, origin or not. Criteria for destruction would be simplified and streamlined, there would be less chance of error, and the question "continual value" will be more easily determined.

D. Adoption of C. 1. would not require the retention of the original assignment cards for five years. This would require space which could be better utilized. The present rule regarding retention of a list of files destroyed at the beginning of each classification should be continued. It is noted that this list reveals an automatic, uniform efficient tickler system for regulated future destruction in numerical sequence with the files which have been destroyed. In addition, there would be no necessity for the retention of file covers, hence additional space is saved.

It is recommended that index cards not be destroyed. Their retention indicates that a file existed and prompts a query of FBIHQ, and is especially valuable in regard to name checks for other Government agencies.

There appears to be no reason for the retention of outstanding stop notices after ten years in view of the statute of limitations. The same is true for zero files and evidentiary material.

The amount of space saved by earlier destruction of individual items or classifications which could be allowed, detracts from uniformity, creates doubt and the work involved is not commensurate with the result.

Considering the "of value" clause, it could reasonably be anticipated that the volume of records would be decreased by approximately one-third or 600 cubic feet and forty shelf units.

DATE: 6/4/73

FROM: SAC, ALEXANDRIA (66-4)

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - Gen. FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Bulet to Albany, 4/23/73.

With respect to the streamlining and simplification of the destruction of field office files and records, comments are set forth as follows in accordance to the request in referenced letter:

A-1. Alexandria agrees with the destruction of non-investigative files and materials on an annual basis.

A-2. The destruction of investigative files on an annual basis regardless of classification places too much of a burden upon a Special Agent Supervisor as to the destruction of files and further complicates rather than simplifies the destruction procedure.

Alexandria recommends that all offices in lieu thereof should be advised to install a record check program in order that these type cases can be destroyed in 90 to 120 days after handling. All offices, regardless of size, can benefit materially from this type of operation and saves considerable filing space and clerical time. Under this program the index cards are also destroyed at the same time. By all offices having a uniform system all agents will be made aware of the fact that records are destroyed after a certain period of time and therefore can furnish other offices needed information as necessary if additional investigative effort is requested of the other office.

B-1. Alexandria Office agrees that investigative files relating to all classifications in auxiliary offices be destroyed after five years if of no further value. After the initial review, the tickler should be set on an annual basis for subsequent review for further destruction.

The index card should be retained and the office of origin listed on this index card so that if there is any additional correspondence with respect to this particular case, other offices can be referred to the office of origin for any additional information.

Evidence obtained in auxiliary office cases should also be destroyed after five years if the file is also destroyed.

C. Alexandria agrees that investigative files in office of origin cases be destroyed when ten years old. After the initial review they should be reviewed on an annual basis for further determination regarding any additional destruction.

D. The retention of the original assignment card to be used to schedule the destruction will provide a uniform and efficient file destruction method. It is suggested that a master destruction schedule be retained by classification indicating the file number and date destroyed. This record could be retained in numerical sequence as a file at the beginning of the classification in the closed file section or be retained as an administrative file in the Chief Clerk's Office.

E-1. Index cards should be color coded using white for office of origin and blue or some other color for auxiliary office. The index card should be dated and indicate, especially on the auxiliary office index card, the office of origin and office of origin's file number if known at the time the auxiliary office prepares the index card. In this manner information which may be desired by an auxiliary office can be retrieved from the office of origin if necessary after the file has been destroyed.

E-2. With respect to "stop outstanding" it is pointed out that stops at the present time are very minimal in view of the fact that most stops are now placed through NCIC. Upon review of the case for destruction, if a stop is outstanding this would be sufficient reason to retain the file if the stop is of continuing value. Also serious consideration can be given at that time to determine if the stop is necessary and if same can be removed and the file destroyed.

E-3. Zero Files. Zero files should be reviewed and data therein destroyed after five years if of no continuing value. By using the five year rule again a simplified system is used and the criteria for destruction can be implemented on a much more satisfactory basis.

E-4. Evidentiary material should be destroyed at the same time that the file is destroyed. The statute of limitations in most cases runs after five years and there is no need to retain this type material after a case has been closed for five years, especially in the normal criminal type case. If the file has continuing value, it should not be destroyed after the five or ten years rule as set forth above and the evidence should also be retained.

E-5. The proposed destruction scheduled as set forth above would reclaim very little if any equipment in the Alexandria Office inasmuch as the office has been open slightly more than four years. Also inasmuch as the Alexandria Office uses the record check operation, considerable space, equipment and clerical time have been saved the past four years.

E-6. To further streamline and simplify the destruction of files and to save considerable clerical time, it is suggested that file consolidation be eliminated. It is pointed out that in attempting to destroy files in a consolidated file considerable time would be necessary to take these files apart to destroy the proper file.

E-7. To streamline administrative operation in an office, it is suggested that the 45-day delinquency rule be changed to either one month or two months. The computation of 45 days is completely unwieldy and is unequitable. By having a case posted every month or every other month, a much more uniform system can be adopted.

The administrative report further should be revised to indicate the delinquency percentage of cases in which the office is office of origin and those which are delinquent wherein the office is the auxiliary office. This procedure will allow for analysis of investigative coverage afforded office to auxiliary office leads.

Bureau Records - Gen.

ReBulet to Albany, 4/23/73.

The proposals set forth under A, B, C and D in referenced letter have merit. It is estimated that approximately 50 per cent of storage space of the San Antonio Division would be recovered once the procedures become current. To become current, it would require one clerk working exclusively on the project for a matter of months.

With regard to the disposition of index cards, stops outstanding, zero files and evidentiary material, San Antonio recommends the following:

Index Cards

All index cards pertaining to investigative matters in office of origin or auxiliary cases be retained for a ten-year period. At the time a file is destroyed, index cards would be disposed of in origin cases. In auxiliary matters, the index cards would be pulled and stamped "file destroyed" with date and retained for ten years. Following the aspiration of the ten-year period, index cards marked "file destroyed" would be removed from indices during normal course of searching.

Stop Outstanding

In origin matters, maintain file until case resolved or statute of limitations has run.

Current Bureau regulations require the file fronts with identity of origin be retained when files are destroyed. This is space consuming and would appear to serve no useful purpose, if a master list on destroyed files is used wherein the file number is indicated, office of origin is identified, and office of origin file number is identified. This procedure is currently used in the San Antonio Office. Current Bureau instructions do not require that the office of origin be identified or the office of origin file number be listed.

If the Bureau proposals are adopted, this Division proposes to have a clerical employee list the files to be destroyed on the "files destroyed list." This list would be referred to the appropriate supervisor along with the files to be destroyed for evaluation and instruction.

Authorization for destruction of file would be given by supervisory initial on the review list furnished by the clerical employee. Listings not initialed would be retained.

Bureau Records - Gen.

ReBulet to SAC Albany and all offices dated 4/23/73 captioned as above.

The proposals being considered by the Bureau have been studied and evaluated by the Charlotte Division, and as a result the following recommendations are submitted:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Charlotte concurs that noninvestigative files and material in all classifications if of no further value should be destroyed when one year old. It is recommended that an exception be made with regard to items which are now being destroyed on a 60 or 90 day basis and that such items continue to be destroyed in the same manner as at present, due to the volume involved. It is also recommended that items currently destroyed after each inspection continue to be destroyed under current rules.

2. Charlotte concurs that investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigations were negative or of no continuing value should also be destroyed when one year old. It is recommended that the case Agent on the file copy of the closing memorandum or RUC communication indicate that the investigation was negative or of no continuing value and recommend that it be destroyed in one year and the indices purged. The Supervisor will then stamp this file copy showing his concurrence or disagreement.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Charlotte agrees that investigative files of no further value relating to all classifications in auxiliary offices should be destroyed when five years old. It is recommended that the case Agent include on the file copy of the RUC communication his recommendation as to whether or not the file should be destroyed after five years and the indices purged. The Supervisor will then stamp his approval or disapproval on the file copy.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on annual or other staggered basis:

1. Charlotte concurs that investigative files in the office of origin relating to all classifications be destroyed after ten years if of no further value. It is recommended that the case Agent indicate on the file copy of the closing communication his recommendation as to the destruction of the file, and the Supervisor will stamp his approval for such destruction or stamp the file for subsequent review for such purpose.

D. If these proposals are approved it is recommended that the original assignment cards be retained and used as ticklers to schedule destruction. The Rotor Clerk should record on the assignment card the date it is to be set up as a tickler for review and destruction. This date will be obtained from the closing or RUC communication.

If the above proposals are approved, observations concerning disposition of the materials listed below are as follows:

1. Index cards should be purged when files destroyed.

2. Outstanding stops. Files should be retained until regular or NCIC stops are removed.

3. Zero files. Material five years old or older should be destroyed and corresponding index cards.

4. Evidentiary material should be retained for five years or until the statute of limitations expires and should be disposed of after check with the Legal Officer.

If the above proposals are adopted, it is estimated that in the Charlotte Division, 49 shelf filing units would be reclaimed and 367 square feet of floor space would be made available.

The Charlotte Division concurs that Supervisory Special Agents should authorize the destruction of investigative files. As a practical matter, however, Supervisory Special Agents with the current volume of work now on their desk will not have sufficient time to personally review the individual files as they come up for destruction. It would, therefore, be necessary for them to delegate the actual file reviews to other persons and make actual decisions in only those cases where a problem or a question arises. While it is true that the average clerical employee does not have the experience or training to make a determination as to the destruction of investigative files, it is felt that an individual may become an expert in this particular field by experience, training and constant practice. In many instances a clerk thoroughly experienced in all the functions of the Chief Clerk's Office who has an aptitude along this line could be selected, given training by Supervisory personnel and developed to the point where he could become a specialist in this particular field. After receiving training and experience he could become the employee responsible for the destruction of field files and records in the division.

FROM : SAC, LITTLE ROCK (66-30)

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - Gen.
FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Bureau letter to Albany, 4/23/73.

Historically the FBI has been noted for its record-keeping procedures and its ability to produce material with regard to information which resulted from our investigative efforts. To take steps such as untimely destruction of files could certainly hinder this facet of our operations which over the years has been one of our strong points. It is felt that if the Bureau, on a field-wide basis, is able to strictly comply with existing instructions in the area of file destruction and consolidation that there will be no great need for additional space or equipment.

In this regard the Little Rock Office and quite possibly other field divisions for one reason or another are currently behind in their file destruction and consolidation programs. It is further believed that with the continuing increase in demands on the time of employees of the Chief Clerk's Office, the full implementation of the current destruction and consolidation programs under normal circumstances will be difficult without additional personnel.

Concerning space and equipment which could be saved if the new plans as set forth in referenced Bureau letter are implemented, it is believed this would eventually result in savings of approximately 468 cubic feet and 27 of the 7-shelf legal size open shelf filing cabinets in the Little Rock Office. It is to be noted, however, that the Chief Clerk of this office, after taking into consideration the status of the current file destruction and consolidation program, as well as projecting the needs under the proposed guidelines, believes it would take at least one additional employee in order for this phase of the Chief Clerk's Office operations to be properly handled. It should further be noted at this point that the file space which will be saved is physically so situated in this office that it would not result in rental savings since it would still be part of the Chief Clerk's Office and the space would continue to be used by the Chief Clerk's Office in some other capacity since it is not suitable for other use.

As noted above, it is felt the existing consolidation and destruction rules, if fully implemented, are sufficient to preclude asking for additional space or equipment in the foreseeable future. It is further believed the existing rules would certainly limit the cases of premature destruction of materials contained in the files as itemized in referenced Bureau letter under Items A, B and C.

With regard to Item D, this would add further work in the Chief Clerk's Office and obviously would require additional equipment and clerical time to properly maintain the assignment cards as destruction ticklers.

Concerning the retention of index cards, stops, zero files, and evidentiary material after the respective files are destroyed, it is felt that regulations regarding current destruction of zero files is adequate. Concerning the other items, if files are destroyed it would appear index cards should also be destroyed since it would be of little value to know that we at one time had a particular file in the matter if we could not tell what the file contained. Further, it is believed that if there is sufficient reason to retain stop or evidentiary material there should be a file available for review to make certain there is justification for continued retention of these items.

Taking all factors into consideration, if it is not believed that full implementation of current destruction and consolidation procedures are adequate to eliminate the need for additional space and file equipment and if the new file destruction program is not placed into operation, the Bureau may desire to consider microfilming some records in those offices where space and equipment problems are considered acute.

In connection with the above, it is recommended the Bureau consider establishing a clerical position designating a knowledgeable, experienced clerical employee to handle the destruction of files on a continuing basis. Such employee would only infrequently have to ask advice of Special Agent Supervisors when questions arise. It is felt that agent supervisors have ample work at the present time to keep them occupied and this destruction program would create an undue burden on them.

D. It is felt that the original assignment card should be kept for one year only and utilized for destruction of files as set forth above. Maintaining original assignment cards for five or ten year periods does not seem practical since it would require considerable space for filing and an inordinate amount of clerical time to file the cards in sequence by classification. It is felt that it would be much more efficient to just review the closed files in numerical order in all classifications and keep a running record for each classification as to the date and the files reviewed for destruction.

INDEX CARDS:

It is recommended that index cards be removed when files are destroyed under the annual proposal and in situations where an office is an auxiliary and the information developed was pertinent to the investigation, the index cards should be retained and a notation made on the destroyed file front indicating the office of origin. In the case of zero files, all index cards should be destroyed after five years. Index cards should also be destroyed on those files destroyed after ten years old.

STOP OUTSTANDING:

It is not felt that a file should be destroyed if a stop is still outstanding.

ZERO FILES:

The material in zero files should be destroyed when five years old.

EVIDENTIARY MATERIAL:

Again, it is not felt that a file should be destroyed if it contains evidentiary material. In this connection, original 302's, signed statements, laboratory reports, etc., which are considered evidentiary material could be sent to the office of origin by an auxiliary office and if the office destroying the file is origin, then files containing such evidentiary material should not be destroyed.

It is estimated that approximately 400 cubic feet of space could be reclaimed if the above proposals were adopted.

OBSERVATIONS:

The terms "no further value" and "continuing value" are subject to interpretation and it is not felt that we could establish any type of uniformity using such terminology. As an example, utilizing the proposal under B-1, if the subject of a TGP case five and a half years ago was determined to have stolen $75.00 worth of Government property and the U. S. Attorney declined at that time since the property could not be definitely established as belonging to the Government, such information might be considered of "no further value" to a supervisor reviewing the matter five years from the date the case was closed. On the other hand, if five and a half years after this case was closed, the subject again was determined to have stolen property, this information would be of benefit in presenting the case to the U. S. Attorney. If the file had been destroyed, we would, of course, have no information concerning the earlier violation.

This office shares the concern of the Bureau in attempting to streamline and simplify record keeping in the field. It is felt, however, that rather than engaging in an involved program of what should be destroyed and when, that the answer might be the utilization of microfilm in each field office. It is felt that a large portion of our files and material could be destroyed under the one-year proposal and the remainder retained on microfilm. This could be done on a project-type basis in connection with the files already closed and the new files microfilmed after they have been closed for one year and are not to be destroyed.

Regarding Items A, B, C, and D, it is this division's recommendation that the proposals as stated be adopted. Bureau letter indicates that supervisory Special Agents will authorize destruction of investigative files although the letter does not indicate who will be responsible for the actual destruction. It is assumed that this would continue to be a clerical function. Along this line, file destruction is generally handled as project work and with the tight situation in most Chief Clerks' Offices, it is quite possible that this function would not receive as much attention as would be necessary. In this connection, it is suggested that the Bureau may desire to create additional positions depending on the size of the destruction program. This would insure that space retrieval and destruction programs would receive continuous and appropriate attention.

Regarding the disposition of index cards, the system of destroying index cards when the file is destroyed is still the only sure way to insure destruction. However, this is to be done consistent with manpower available to do so. In the Omaha Division, we average 650 to 700 cases closed each month which would consume practically all the time of one employee. It is suggested that if additional employees are not hired to do this work that it may be feasible to not destroy cards when file destroyed, but destroy cards upon encountering them during searching. Most stops cease to be of value subsequent to the time set forth file destruction. However, if stops are necessary, then the file should not be destroyed, but should be maintained as long as the stops are necessary. Zero files should be destroyed when five years have elapsed as set forth in B (1.) Evidentiary material should be disposed of at the same time files are destroyed whether under the five-year or ten-year rule as suggested.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS Bureau Records - Gen.

Re Bureau letter to Albany, 4/23/73.

This office concurs with the destruction proposals as set forth in Items A, B, C and D of referenced letter.

In regard to Item B - 1, it would appear that auxiliary offices should note on the index card the office of origin of a particular case since it may be necessary at a date subsequent to five years to determine background information regarding the individual, and if the auxiliary office file had been destroyed there would be no way of determining this information without first going through Identification Division records.

In regard to Item C - 1, destruction of files ten years old in all classifications in the office of origin, it has been noted that in certain classifications quite frequently the subject is a repeat offender and the background information obtained from files ten years old and older quite often alleviates a great deal of agent time. It is felt that consideration should be given to using an age factor of the subject to determine destruction in these types of cases. Age factor meaning that once the subject became a certain age and had shown no activity for several years it would be presumed that he had, because of his age, become inactive or could be presumed dead, thereby eliminating the need for maintaining background information.

Insofar as index cards are concerned, it would appear logical to maintain the index cards, having noted the office of origin on these cards, for future reference in the event an individual became active or again became the subject of an investigation in order to obtain background information from various offices.

In regard to stops outstanding, stop cards are currently reviewed to determine necessity of maintaining stop. This procedure appears to be entirely effective and the matter would be reviewed prior to the destruction of the file and at that time determination made regarding retaining or disposing of the stop.

In regard to zero files, it would appear that proper procedure would be to purge them at least on a five-year basis, if not sooner, since much of the information contained in zero files is extraneous, miscellaneous material.

In regard to evidentiary material, at the present time this is closely followed by tickler to be disposed of as soon as possible. It is not necessary to maintain most of this material at the end of a five-year period and some of it could be photographed if it is found necessary to maintain it even that long. It would appear that the present method of handling this material would suffice, noting again that this sould be reviewed prior to the destruction of the file.

From the proposed destruction of files outlined in referenced letter, it would appear that 165 cubic feet or approximately 100 open shelf file cabinets would be reclaimed in the New Orleans Office.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Bureau Records - Cen.

ReBUlet 4/23/73.

The proposals relating to the field file destruction program as set forth in reference letter were considered in detail and discussed with supervisory staff of this office. It was unanimously agreed that present rules governing files and records destruction were adequate at this time. The recommendation of this office is that none of the proposals as set forth in reference letter be adopted and that any additional proposals changing the present regulations regarding the destruction of files or records should be considered on an individual classification basis.

The above recommendation is made for the following reasons:

1. Under the present rules for files destruction, this office has been able to keep ahead of its files space requirements. It is not expected that any additional space or equipment will be needed for several years. To the contrary, it is expected that more space will be acquired within the next five years under present rules.

66-3286-

2. The opinion of those consulted is that material contained in our files should not be destroyed as long as there is no need for additional files space. The older information in our files continues to be of sufficient value to warrant its retention under existing rules. This is particularly true in responding to name check requests from other Government agencies. It is felt shorter time limitations would require a revision of language used in responding to name checks and more referrals to FBIHQ.

Index Cards

It is recommended that destruction of index cards be continued under present rules, i.e., through purge of indices by experienced personnel or by removal of index cards on subjects and their aliases appearing in title of a report or other serial retained for this purpose after the file is destroyed.

Stop Cards

Stop cards to be treated as at present, i.e., removed when stop no longer in effect except recommendation made that they be reviewed yearly rather than quarterly review as presently required.

Zero Files

Recommended zero files be destroyed under same rules as OO destruction for each classification.

Evidentiary material

It is recommended evidentiary items in 1A and 1B envelopes be carefully reviewed at time auxiliary office files destroyed and items of continuing evidentiary value be forwarded to the office of origin. Office of origin destruction should remain as currently required.

Although the recommendation of this office is that the rules for destruction of files remain as at present, should the Bureau adopt the proposals as set forth in the referenced letter, it is estimated an additional 25% of files space will be gained in the criminal categories and 50% in security categories.

At this time no observations relating to streamling of field paperwork are being set forth; however, specific suggestions regarding individual projects toward this end will be submitted as need becomes apparent.

Re Bureau letter to Albany dated 4/23/73.

After careful consideration, the proposals as outlined in referenced communication and listed as Items A through D, are believed to have merit and it is recommended they be favorably considered.

Comments as to the disposition of the following material after destruction of the files are set forth below:

1. INDEX CARDS

In the course of destroying a file, it is proposed that all serials having indexing thereon be retained temporarily until the index cards are purged from the indices on a project basis rather than on a "when encountered" basis as it is not believed this procedure is effective.

2. STOP OUTSTANDING

Wherever possible, all stops should be entered into NCIC and those that cannot be entered into NCIC should be handled according to present rules whereby quarterly review removes stops if no longer needed.

3. ZERO FILES

These files should be destroyed at the end of ten years if of no further value. It is not believed any purpose will be served by retaining these zero files for a longer period of time.

4. EVIDENTIARY MATERIAL

It is believed the present system for destruction of this material as set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations is sound and no changes should be made. This system includes, of course, the handling of bulky exhibits.

For the information of the Bureau, the administrative files in the Richmond Division are maintained in file cabinets and the closed investigative files are housed in the open shelf filing system.

If the above proposals are implemented, it is estimated two four-drawer, letter-size cabinets (twelve cubic feet) will be reclaimed for the administrative files and ninety-six cubic feet for the investigative files, which will provide a total of 108 cubic feet of space to be reclaimed for both noninvestigative and investigative files.

With regard to the streamlining of field paperwork, the following proposals are submitted:

1. That when available, the Bureau file number, correct title and office of origin be shown on each and every communication originating at FBIHQ.

2. That the office indices in each field office be converted to use by computer.

3. That the initiating office of inserts and FD-302s transmit only two copies to the office of origin and any auxiliary offices. Additional copies needed by any field division should be duplicated by that division. This will eliminate unnecessary duplication and subsequent destruction of excess copies.

Re Bureau letter to Albany, 4/23/73.

Observations and comments are set forth under the same numbers as proposals in referenced Bureau letter.

A. 1. It is agreed that noninvestigative files in all classifications if of no further value, should be destroyed on an annual basis by an employee designated by the SAC. Exceptions should be held to a minimum.

2. It is not agreed that investigative files in all classifications, where results of the investigation were negative or of absolutely no continuing value, be destroyed when one year old. As a fact-finding organization, the Bureau's primary mission is to collect evidence. To destroy any investigative information, regardless of its substance, within one year is too narrow an approach merely for the sake of saving space. Destruction of information and files should be within the framework of the Statute of Limitations, which is five years.

D. 1. The utilization of the original assignment card as a schedule for the destruction of files under the proposed program appears cumbersome in nature. It would create a storage problem for hundreds of cards for up to ten years. Since there has been a file destruction program in effect for a number of years, each office must have perfected their own plan for handling the program that could be easily expanded to fit any new rules. It is believed that the person in the best position to determine the value of information in any given case is the Agent to whom the case is assigned. It is therefore suggested that the case Agent be required to fill out a form when closing a case indicating the time limit for the destruction of the file according to rules in effect when case is closed, this form to be approved by the supervisor and filed as the top serial in the file. When the time limit has expired, the file could then be destroyed without further review, provided no additional mail had been added since closing. In that event, file should have a final supervisory review prior to destruction.

The following observations are offered with regard to the disposition of certain other material:

1. Index Cards - It is recommended that index cards be retained for ten years, or whatever time limit is put on office of origin files, even though an auxiliary office file would be destroyed sooner. Necessary information could then be secured from the office of origin.

2. Stop Cards - If information in file is of no value, it would appear no stop would be of value and cards should not be retained.

3. Zero Files - These files should be purged of all unnecessary serials over a year old on an annual basis.

4. Evidentiary Material - This material should be destroyed at the time of the destruction of the file in the office of origin. This material could be forwarded to the office of origin by auxiliary offices when case is RUC'd.

It is believed that approximately 1700 linear feet of open shelf filing would be saved if the proposed file destruction rules were favorably considered.

ReBulet to Albany, 4/23/73.

The Memphis Division has considered the proposals set forth in reBulet and is in complete agreement with all proposals in Parts A, B and C. However, observations concerning Part D are set out hereinafter:

It is not believed necessary to retain the assignment cards in order to provide for a uniform and efficient file destruction program. The present system of physically reviewing the file to determine if the file is eligible for destruction would eliminate the time-consuming efforts of pulling the assignment card when the date has allowed the file to be considered for destruction. Also, after pulling the file it may be noted that a stop is outstanding or the date of the last communication would not allow destruction. Therefore, physically reviewing the files to determine if a file is eligible for destroying seems more efficient and economical.

It is also believed that Supervisory Special Agents should authorize the destruction of investigative files due to lack of experience and knowledge of clerks to determine whether or not investigative files are of a continuing value to a field office.

Part D, Item 1:

It is not believed necessary to keep index cards any longer than the files since any previous criminal history records of subjects can be obtained through NCIC or through prison records.

Part D, Item 2:

A file with an outstanding stop should not be destroyed if the office is office of origin; however, it might be destroyed in auxiliary offices if index cards are kept until the stop is removed.

Part D, Item 3:

It is felt that zero and double zero files should be disposed of as any other files in a given classification, since any instructional information would be in the Manual of Rules and Regulations.

Part D, Item 4:

Concerning evidentiary-type material, it should be forwarded to office of origin for disposition and the office of origin would destroy this material as the file becomes eligible for destruction under all other rules.

Estimate of space and equipment to be saved in Memphis Division:

It is estimated approximately 84 linear feet of space or approximately 4 open-shelf filing cabinets could be saved in the Memphis Division.

ReBulet 4-23-73.

I agree with proposals A, B, C, and D, except for A-2. I cannot think of a situation where investigative files only a year old should be destroyed as of no value even though the investigations were negative.

Undoubtedly the Bureau has considered the fact that the proposals will of necessity require more of the time of both clerks and Supervisory Special Agents than under current regulations. These factors will have to be weighed in terms of the number of investigative cases supervised by desks and in the clerk-Agent ratio of an office. I believe the benefits to be achieved by an accelerated destruction program will be sufficient to justify some relaxation in the caseload per supervisory desk and clerk-Agent ratio criteria.

Index cards -- I recommend these cards be pulled at the time files are destroyed, eliminating unnecessary work in searching and in reviewing the records of destroyed files.

Stop outstanding -- I recommend that no file be destroyed as long as there is a stop outstanding.

Zero files -- I recommend they be destroyed under the ten year rule, same as double zero files.

66-3286-

Evidentiary material -- I think evidentiary material could be destroyed after a case has been closed ten years, considering the Statute of Limitations runs in five years and allowing an additional five years for appeals. This is a question, however, which I believe should be

The volume of space and equipment which could be reclaimed if the proposed rules are established can only be estimated. We have 651 shelves of closed files. We believe the maximum would be a saving of 25%, or 161 shelves (23 seven-shelf cabinets).

To implement the proposals, my most experienced clerk in this area, [redacted], makes the following suggestion which I believe would be worthwhile, at least as an experiment to determine by usage its practicality: b6 b7C

Bureau to prepare a form on distinctive colored paper with four items pre-printed thereon showing the various categories of destruction, e.g.:

☐ Destroy when 1 year old

☐ Destroy when 5 years old

☐ Destroy when 10 years old

☐ Do not destroy without further review by Supervisor

When the rotor clerk closes or RUC's a case, one of these forms will be placed in the file as a top serial. Then when this closed or RUC'd file comes across the Supervisor's desk on final tickler, the Supervisor will check one of the categories.

If the file is subsequently reopened, the form will be destroyed and a new form inserted when it is again closed or RUC'd.

By utilizing a form of this type, the clerk could destroy the files without consulting the Supervisor on each and every file.

RE: Bureau letter, 4/23/73.

The NHO is generally in agreement with the proposal set forth in relet relating to the field file destruction program.

The following observations and suggestions are submitted for the Bureau's consideration.

1. It is believed that indices cards relating to destroyed auxiliary office files should be retained for additional five years to reflect office of origin.

2. Where file in office of origin is destroyed, retention of indices cards would appear to serve no useful purpose.

3. If file meets criteria for destruction, there should be no need for outstanding Stop or retention of same.

4. Zero files and related indices cards should be destroyed after one year.

5. When file destroyed, evidentiary material relating to investigation should be destroyed. In case where file is preserved, but the statute of limitations has run, evidentiary material can be destroyed.

6. Field supervisor upon closing case could indicate on file cover if file could be destroyed in one year.

It is estimated that the approximate volume of space to be reclaimed upon adoption of this proposal would amount to between 30 and 50%.

Re Bureau letter to Albany 4/23/73.

The Louisville Office is in favor of proposals A.1, B, and C as set out in rel regarding destruction of files and records.

Regarding Proposal A.2, we recommend that cases in the following classifications not be destroyed until 5 years old: 92, 100, 105, and 157.

Instead of Proposal D, we would suggest the following:

A stamp would be put on the file front when the case is closed reading, "If no communication put in file after (Date), the file may be destroyed on (Date)." The Supervisory Special Agent would fill in the stamp and initial. The stamp on the file front would serve as a flag so that the file would be skipped when files were consolidated. On a periodic basis the closed files would be reviewed and the files that could be destroyed would be readily and easily identified.

The closed assignment cards would be handled in the same manner as they are now.

Regarding the disposition of material listed below after the files are destroyed:

1. Index cards. When the files are destroyed, the index cards should be destroyed.

2. Stop outstanding. Files with stops outstanding should not be destroyed.

3. Zero files. Zero files should be destroyed as are files in the classification.

4. Evidentiary material. When the file has been destroyed, all evidentiary material should also be destroyed.

If the above proposals are put into effect, we feel we would be able to destroy approximately 884 cubic feet of closed files.

Regarding lengthy petitions and lists of names, we would like to suggest that they can be destroyed after ten years and the index cards also destroyed. After this length of time the value of the lists is questionable as it becomes more and more difficult to identify the persons listed.

ReBulet to Albany, 4/23/73.

The Honolulu Office is in agreement with the proposals set out in reBulet under Items A, B and C. With respect to Item D, it is felt that the present procedure of destroying the original assignment card within one year after the case is closed should be followed. It is felt that to retain the original assignment card for a greater length of time merely for the purpose of using such assignment card to assist in scheduling the destruction of files under the proposed programs does not warrant the extra clerical time involved in the filing of these old assignment cards for file destruction.

With respect to the destruction of index cards after the respective file has been destroyed, it is considered worthwhile and should be favorably considered.

In those instances when a file is destroyed in which there is an outstanding stop, it is believed that the stop should be removed.

With respect to zero files, it is believed that such files could be destroyed in all classifications when five-years-old on an annual or other staggered basis.

Finally, it is believed that all evidentiary material if of no further value should either be returned to the owner, if appropriate, or disposed of once final action has been taken and file has been destroyed.

Honolulu currently has 275 shelves of Closed or RUC'd files. It is estimated that of the 275 shelves, approximately 50 shelves could be reclaimed if the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered. The consolidation project of the Honolulu Office is current and up-to-date.

DATE: 6/1/73

FROM SAC, SAVANNAH (66-1139)

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - Gen. FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReBulet 4/23/73.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-26-82 BY SP4ELW/rlc

A.

1. It is recommended that non-investigative files and material in all classifications if of no further value be destroyed when one year old. The decision to determine whether or not the material is of no further value should vest in a supervisory agent only.

2. Investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigation were negative or of absolutely no continuing value could be destroyed when one year old on an annual basis or under staggered basis but the final determination as to the value of this material contained in the file should only be authorized by a Special Agent supervisor.

B.

66-3286-

1. It is not believed that a blanket rule can be set forth stating files and records may be destroyed when five years old or on an annual or other staggered basis in all classifications in auxiliary offices. Such destruction could be done provided a Special Agent supervisor reviews the files and determines that they have no potential value to the auxiliary office, as in many classifications in major type cases and security type cases, there is pertinent information concerning hoodlum type, anti-racketeering, bank robberies, modus operandi and individual information concerning contacts made in particular cases which when properly indexed would assist agents in their investigations and knowledge of persons to contact for many years. It is believed absolutely necessary before any such destruction that a penetrative review be made by a Special Agent supervisor of every file in each and every classification and prepare correlation memos where needed prior to any destruction.

C.

With reference to investigative files in the office of origin relating to all classifications and their destruction on a 10-year basis, it is believed this should be limited in all classifications to unknown subject cases and in cases where there is no need to preserve background information, associates and contacts for the typical recidivists. In no cases should individuals who are hoodlums, security subjects or persons who would be involved on continuing basis in crime, should destruction be authorized.

1 - If the files are destroyed, the index cards are of no value and should be destroyed. They would only indicate that a query could be made of Washington in unusual cases. However, to purge the index cards, which is done on a continuing basis, could wait until routinely done.

2 - Stops outstanding - the stops should be immediately removed when the file is destroyed.

3 - Zero files can be destroyed ordinarily on a one-year basis without adverse effect.

4 - Evidentiary material in any file destroyed should be maintained until the Statute of Limitations runs on the individual case after which time it could be appropriately disposed of.

Under this program we should be able to reclaim about 42 shelves of closed file space, about 2 1/2 cu. feet per shelf, or 6 open-shelf file cabinets, maybe more.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records-Gen FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReBulet 4/23/73 regarding proposals relating to the Field File Destruction Program.

Following suggestions are being submitted by the Tampa Division in connection with captioned program:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Tampa Office is in agreement with destruction as outlined in reBulet; however, it is also suggested that there be included in this category informant files as well as the files included in B-1, below. In connection with informant files, it is felt it would be sufficient for the file front with the symbol number to be retained after the serials have been destroyed.

It is suggested that registered mail books and film pack logs be destroyed when they are 6 months old instead of one year.

2. Tampa agrees to destruction as listed; however, it is felt that Zero files should also be included except those of a security nature. Security Zero files could be destroyed when 10 years old.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. It is felt these files could be destroyed in one year as set forth in A-1, above.

66-3286-

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on annual or other staggered basis:

D. To provide for a uniform and efficient file destruction, the original assignment cards will be used to schedule the destruction under the proposed programs. If this proposal is approved, the original assignment cards would, of course, not be destroyed as under present rules and regulations after cases are closed.

Tampa agrees to proposed program, however, it is suggested instead of creating a project of reviewing files for Special Agent Supervisors, it is felt the case Agent could indicate at the time the file is closed the proper time for destruction. This can be noted on the assignment card by the rotor clerk and filed accordingly to indicate destruction date. This destruction program should be included in new Agents' orientation and training in first office.

(1) Index cards. Destroy when file destroyed.

(2) Stops outstanding. Retain until no longer needed.

(3) Zero files. Destroy as listed in A-2, above.

(4) Evidentiary material. Case Agent should destroy when no longer needed on authorization by USA's Office. Auxiliary offices should furnish evidence to Office of Origin when file due for destruction.

If proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered, approximately 400 cubic feet of space and equipment would be reclaimed.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records Gen. FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReBulet to Albany, 4/23/73.

The supervisory staff of this office agrees with the proposals in relet.

Recommendations as follows are being submitted:

Destroy index cards when files destroyed.

Retain files if stops outstanding.

Destroy zero files 1 year old and index cards relating thereto.

In destroying five year old files in auxiliary office, send evidentiary material to office of origin.

It is estimated that 965 linear feet would be gained through destruction of files under the proposed program. We would be able to bring all closed files into the Chief Clerk's Office proper, thus releasing 54 5-drawer filing cabinets, letter-size.

66-3286-

Because of the clerical time involved in the consolidation of files when closed six months, the addition of file ends, the removal of files from consolidated volumes when files are reopened, the return of files to consolidated volumes when case is again closed, the splitting of consolidated volumes when a pending file charged out of a consolidated volume becomes a multi-volume file and the reconsolidating of files after some files are removed from a volume for destruction, it is recommended that the consolidation of files be discontinued.

Bureau Records - Gen.

ReBulet 4/23/73, concerning proposals relating to the field file destruction program.

Appropriate supervisory personnel in this Division, as well as the Chief Clerk, have reviewed the proposals set forth in relet and believe those lettered A, B, C, and D should be followed. Concerning comments as to the disposition of (1) Index cards, it is suggested that they be retained in place until discovery and then destroyed. Concerning item 2, Stops Outstanding, this should be handled at the time the file is reviewed by the Special Agent Supervisor prior to destruction. Any outstanding stops should be cancelled prior to destruction of the file. (3) Zero files, since they are non-investigative, would fall into category A in relet and after appropriate review should be destroyed when they are one year old. (4) Evidentiary material should be handled in the same manner as outstanding stops in that it should be handled prior to the destruction of the file by the appropriate reviewing Special Agent supervisor.

The approximate volume of space and equipment that would be recalimed if the proposed file destruction rules are favorably considered is 55 five-drawer file cabinets and the space they would occupy.

Appropriate personnel have been canvassed concerning submission of ideas to streamline field paperwork and to date this Division has no further observations in this regard. In the event any ideas are forthcoming they will be promptly submitted to the Bureau for consideration.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

By memorandum dated 4/20/73, from Thomas A. Keane to Mr. J. E. Reilly, it was requested that substantive desks at FBIHQ furnish comments regarding proposals relating to changes in rules which govern destruction of field files and records. The General Investigative Division (GID) feels that the proposed changes for the purpose of streamlining and conservation of space are, in general, well taken. The suggested five to ten year destruction periods, in most cases, should fulfill most needs field offices might have for data contained in pertinent files. Remarks of the various Sections of the GID are set out below:

CRIMINAL SECTION: It is not felt there are valid reasons to retain most of the field investigative files for as much as twenty years in classifications supervised in this Section, unless some special reason exists for doing so as in a particularly major classification. Exceptions could occur in classifications such as 175- (Threats Against the President). Because of their importance, files in this classification should probably be retained by the office of origin for a twenty year period.

In addition, it is pointed out that the Statute of Limitations should be taken into consideration in implementing new destruction procedures. Regarding items of evidentiary material, such as FD-302s, it is suggested that such items be retained in field offices for a minimum of ten years before destruction. It has also been suggested by personnel of this Section that files pertaining to such especially major investigations as the Kennedy Assassinations and Wounded Knee never be destroyed by the office of origin because of their potential historical value.

CIVIL RIGHTS SECTION: The proposals relating to new destruction criteria for field files and records have been reviewed in light of classifications handled by the Civil Rights Section. Personnel of this Section feel the proposals have merit, are constructive, and should result in significant savings in space and equipment, if implemented.

ACCOUNTING AND FRAUD SECTION: The Accounting and Fraud Section does not feel that the implementation of these destruction of files and records proposals would have any adverse effect concerning classifications of cases handled in this Section.

NAME CHECK SECTION: The Name Check Section of the GID does not have any responsibility for supervision of substantive classifications. However, this Section feels that the proposals for the destruction of obsolete material have merit and should be seriously considered for adoption.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

The purpose of this memorandum is to propose that current field office retention periods be shortened, and that the overall field file destruction program be streamlined and simplified. There are presently twenty-five individual rules relating to the destruction of investigative and noninvestigative field files. In addition, there are numerous other rules concerning the destruction of specified material, serials, and copies of serials. It would seem that a concentrated effort by both field and Headquarters personnel would provide for an efficient streamlined destruction program that not only would further close the gap between the creation of new paperwork and the destruction of obsolete material thereby effecting substantial savings in space and equipment, but also allowing for the retention of material of a continuing value to our field administrative and investigative operations.

In view of the substantial increase in the cost of Bureau space as set forth under Public Law 92-313, Public Buildings Amendment of 1972, it would seem that all possible solutions should be explored regarding the physical destruction of material to reclaim needed space and equipment prior to considering mechanical or electronic systems for the storage of field material. In the past, there have been frequent suggestions to microfilm closed field files to conserve space and equipment, which would result in a very expensive initial cost factor, and would restrict access to urgently needed material.

For the purposes of uniformity, streamlining, and to provide for a more manageable destruction program, the following proposals are being submitted for observations and evaluation by field and Headquarters personnel:

ENCLOSURE 66-3286-

Memorandum T. A. Keane to J. E. Reilly
Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records

A. Files and records to be destroyed on a 90-day basis

1. Register Number 3 - FD-256 (no change in present rules; due to space required to maintain these registers, it would seem logical to destroy as soon as possible).

B. Files and records to be destroyed within 60, 90, and 120 days with Bureau approval

1. Investigative leads to auxiliary offices requesting record checks when results are of no further value (no change in current rules).

C. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on annual or other staggered basis if preferred

1. Noninvestigative files and material of no continuing value. SAC shall designate employee(s) to handle destruction program. (At present there are sixty - seventy different types of files and material that may be destroyed if one year old or less than one year old. The majority of this material occupies too little space to justify the many schedules presently required for destruction purposes. There would be an appreciable saving in manpower if this material was destroyed annually with the same realization of space.)

2. Investigative files in all classifications where the results of investigations were negative or the file contained nebulous material which was absolutely of no value to the field office. The Special Agent Supervisor is responsible for authorizing the destruction of this material. (For example, a field office could have one lead in an investigation to interview a relative, and the investigation revealed that the relative moved to another area outside the lead office's territory. In the majority of cases, this material would be of no value to the auxiliary office, but under current destruction rules, this material is retained for five, ten, or twenty years depending upon the investigation category involved.)

D. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on annual or other staggered basis if preferred

1. Investigative files in auxiliary offices in all classifications after files have been reviewed and determined to be of no value to the auxiliary offices. (Investigative files in auxiliary offices are currently being destroyed when five, ten, or twenty years old depending upon the classification involved.)

E. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on an annual or other staggered basis

1. Investigative files in offices of origin in all classifications after file reviews have determined that the material is of no further value to the office of origin. (Current rules provide for the destruction of the majority of this material when twenty years old. Unknown subject files in certain criminal classifications can be destroyed when five years old.)

F. To provide for a uniform and efficient destruction program, that the original assignment card be used to schedule the file destruction under the proposed one, five and ten year rules. Considering the fact that the original assignment cards are color-coded to determine offices of origin and auxiliary offices, it is believed that this will further facilitate the scheduling of files for destruction. If an investigative matter is reopened, the latest original assignment card will govern the destruction rule. (At present, original assignment cards on closed and RUC cases are retained for one year and then destroyed.)

The above proposals do not make it mandatory to destroy files or records that are of a continuing value to the office. Investigative files will only be destroyed upon authorization of SAC, ASAC or Special Agent Supervisor. If there is any doubt, files should be retained or the Bureau consulted.

Files and records which are currently destroyed when they have served the purpose for which prepared, such as channelizing memoranda, etc., would continue to be destroyed in a like manner. No provisions are being made for changing the rule relating to the destruction of double zero files. Double zero files are retained indefinitely and occupy only a minimum volume of space. Due to the value of this material for reference and research purposes, it is believed this material should be retained as provided for under existing regulations.

It can be observed from the above proposals that no provisions have been made for the destruction or handling of index cards, zero files, stop cards, or evidentiary material, including original FD-302s. It would seem that the most workable solution relating to the destruction of this material can only be solved by consulting Headquarters and field supervisory personnel.

With the above proposals in mind, together with any other suggestions relating to the streamlining of field paperwork, it would appear that much can be accomplished with a concentrated effort by Headquarters and field personnel.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the substantive desks at FBIHQ furnish comments relating to respective investigative classifications in connection with outlined proposals, in addition to other comments, objections or suggestions.

2. That the attached letter be sent to SAC, Albany and All Offices soliciting observations from the field.

SAC, Albany

PERSONAL ATTENTION

Acting Director, FBI

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

There is an intensification program at FBIHQ to streamline and simplify the destruction of files and records in the field. As set forth in Buairtel to Albany, with copies to all offices, dated 3/19/73, subsequent to 7/1/74, the expense for space will be at a premium and a concentrated effort is being made to eliminate or reduce the need for additional space and filing equipment.

Consideration is being given to the following proposals relating to the field file destruction program:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when one year old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Noninvestigative files and material in all classifications if of no further value. SAC shall designate employees to be responsible for this program. Only exceptions to this rule are destruction of Number Three Registers, FD-256, and field offices who are authorized to destroy record check-type files at an earlier date.

2. Investigative files in all classifications where results of the investigations were negative or of absolutely no continuing value. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction.

B. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old on an annual or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files of no further value relating to all classifications in auxiliary offices. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction of files.

C. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old on annual or other staggered basis:

1. Investigative files in office of origin relating to all classifications of no further value. Special Agent Supervisor will authorize destruction of files.

D. To provide for a uniform and efficient file destruction, the original assignment cards will be used to schedule the destruction under the proposed programs. If this proposal is approved, the original assignment cards would, of course, not be destroyed as under present rules and regulations after cases are closed.

As indicated above, Supervisory Special Agents will authorize the destruction of investigative files. This rule is intended to eliminate the need for the Chief Clerk's Office to be responsible for authorizing the destruction of any investigative files. Clerical employees neither have the experience nor training to be in the position to determine whether or not investigative files are of a continuing value to a field office.

You are requested to submit observations concerning the above proposals as well as any comments as to the disposition of maferial listed below, after the respective files have been destroyed.

1 - Index cards
2 - Stop outstanding
3 - Zero files
4 - Evidentiary material

You should approximate the volume of space and equipment that would be reclaimed if the proposed file destruction rules are favorable considered.

In addition to these points, the Bureau is interested in any other observations which may relate to the streamlining of field paperwork.

Submit your replies to the Bureau, attention Administrative Division, by 6/4/73.

INFORMATION CONCERNING FBI FILES

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-18-81 BY 6383 VBT/AG

An item reported by United Press International (UPI), June 28, 1973, stated that "Clarence M. Kelley, who soon will take over as FBI Director, said Thursday he will stop the practice of keeping files on persons for political reasons." Chief Kelley was further reported to have said that checks would be made on a politician only if he or she applied for a Government job. Chief Kelley was quoted as saying, "But I do not subscribe to the establishment of files for political purposes. If this is the reason, and if they do exist, they would be stopped immediately."

As the quotation attributed to Chief Kelley correctly observed, "If they do exist," is critical to any discussion of an alleged practice of keeping files on persons for political reasons.

Events during the past year brought to public view an FBI practice that was subject to the misinterpretation that the Bureau was compiling dossiers on persons for political reasons. This unfavorable publicity was probably the basis for the press inquiries of Chief Kelley which resulted in the June 28th UPI item.

MAILED 3 JUL 5 - 1973 A-FBI

The facts concerning the FBI program referred to above were furnished the Attorney General in a memorandum dated November 13, 1972, captioned "Destruction of Files, Congressional Liaison," which requested authority to destroy the records compiled as a result of the program. The reply dated November 21, 1972, and captioned "Destruction of Memoranda Prepared for Purposes of Congressional Liaison," advised such records could not be destroyed absent specific authorization from the Archivist of the United States. As indicated by the handwritten note appearing on the bottom of the second page of the reply, former Acting Director Gray took the position that the documents in question were part of FBI official files; that they would not be disclosed to unauthorized persons; and that permission would not be requested for their destruction. Copies of these documents are attached.

Further, information concerning this program is contained in the published report of the hearings held by the Committee on the Judiciary concerning the nomination of Mr. Gray to be Director of the FBI. Copies of pages 31 through 38 from that report are attached.

Mr. Gray testified on February 28, 1973, that he first learned of the program to collect biographical information on congressional candidates on October 26, 1972, when he was advised that an Agent in Ohio, contrary to specific instructions, had contacted a newspaper requesting information on a candidate. Mr. Gray testified that he promptly obtained the complete facts concerning the program and immediately ordered that it be discontinued. A press release concerning this matter was made the following day, October 27, 1972. Mr. Gray's testimony on this point was reported at page 40 of the published record of the hearings. A copy of that page is enclosed.

Such data collection which was intended only as an aid to FBI officials, was discontinued entirely October 27, 1972. Therefore, except for necessary preemployment investigations and other authorized investigations which may concern political figures, there is no FBI activity which could be misunderstood as a practice of keeping files on persons for political purposes. Therefore, the present policy of the FBI is entirely consistent with the views expressed by Chief Kelley as reported in the UPI item dated June 28, 1973.

BY JOHN C. BRADEN

KANSAS CITY, MO. (UPI) -- CLARENCE M. KELLEY, WHO SOON WILL TAKE OVER AS FBI DIRECTOR, SAID THURSDAY HE WILL STOP THE PRACTICE OF KEEPING FILES ON PERSONS FOR POLITICAL REASONS.

AND HE SAID HE WOULD TRY TO POLISH THE IMAGE OF THE AVERAGE FBI AGENT BY MAKING HIM MORE AVAILABLE TO THE PRESS AND PUBLIC.

"THERE WAS A TIME, WHEN MR. HOOVER WAS DIRECTOR, WHEN HE HAD VERY FEW CONTACTS WITH THE PRESS," SAID KELLEY, REFERRING TO LONGTIME FBI HEAD J. EDGAR HOOVER. "I BELIEVE THE PRESS AND LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL SHOULD GET TOGETHER."

KELLEY, WHO LAUGHED AND JOKED WITH REPORTERS DURING HIS FIRST HOMETOWN NEWS CONFERENCE SINCE THE SENATE CONFIRMED HIS FBI NOMINATION WEDNESDAY, SAID CHECKS WOULD BE MADE ON A POLITICIAN ONLY IF HE OR SHE APPLIED FOR A GOVERNMENT JOB.

"BUT I DO NOT SUBSCRIBE TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF FILES FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES," HE SAID. "IF THIS IS THE REASON, AND IF THEY DO EXIST, THEY WOULD BE STOPPED IMMEDIATELY."

KELLEY SAID HE WOULD REMAIN IN HIS PRESENT POSITION AS KANSAS CITY POLICE CHIEF UNTIL HE IS SWORN IN AS THE FBI HEAD. KELLEY SAID HE HAD NOT BEEN TOLD WHEN OR BY WHOM HE WOULD BE SWORN IN.

"YOU FELLOWS NEVER DID BOTHER ME AND I ACTUALLY DID ENJOY WORKING WITH YOU," KELLEY TOLD REPORTERS. "YOU HAVE CONSISTENTLY REPORTED WITH FIDELITY WHAT WE HAVE SAID."

KELLEY SAID HE SAW NO REASON WHY LOCAL FBI UNITS COULD NOT BE MORE FREE WITH THE NEWS MEDIA, WHO HAD GROWN USED TO "NO COMMENT" FROM AGENTS UNDER HOOVER.

"I AM OF THE SCHOOL OF THOUGHT THAT THERE SHOULD BE A GREATER LIBERTY OF DISCUSSION," HE SAID. "FROM MY EXPERIENCE, MEN OF STATURE AND ABILITY THAT THEY (LOCAL AGENTS) ARE COULD HANDLE PRESS RELATIONS."

HE SAID PROBLEMS OF MORALE OF THE BUREAU MAY HAVE BEEN OVERSTATED. HE SAID THE AGENCY SEEMED TO NEED THE STABILITY OF A PERMANENT DIRECTOR.

Destruction of Bureaus Property - General

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF INDEX CARDS, SUGGESTION 10-74 SUBMITTED BY ASSISTANT LEGAL ATTACHE [redacted] MEXICO CITY OFFICE

b7C

SUGGESTION: In June, 1972, it was proposed by the Mexico City Office that destruction be permitted of those index cards which pertain to destroyed files for which no Bureau file number is available. It was pointed out the current procedures allow a needless accumulation of thousands of cards in larger foreign offices because these cards have no further value after files have been destroyed if there is no Bureau file number. They clutter up the indices, occupy space needed for current cards, multiply the number of cards to be handled during current searches, create a need for additional index cabinets in already congested areas and increase the volume of material to be destroyed if emergency measures should be invoked.

By letter dated 8/21/72, the Acting Director stated that this idea was not adopted because a survey of foreign offices disclosed the majority believed the disadvantages involved outweighed any anticipated benefits.

Suggester now requests authorization for Mexico City Office to destroy these cards, as encountered, in connection with the periodic review of the indices for other purposes. He states that although other foreign offices may not have a comparable volume, there are now over 270 rows of index cards on hand in the Mexico City Office which causes considerable congestion and an urgent need for additional index cabinets if cards in this category cannot be disposed of as suggested. In addition, if emergency destruction procedures should become necessary at some future date, the cards now on hand represent a total of 3,000 pounds of material. This could take up to 120 hours for destruction with equipment presently available inside space.

REC-24 66-3286-1137

OBSERVATIONS: Intelligence Division recommended the proposal be accepted since the size of the Mexico City Office makes the problems of space and emergency destruction of records unique among our foreign offices and the proposed action would help alleviate these problems without detriment to Legat operations.

Memorandum T. J. Brownfield to Mr. Jenkins
Re: Destruction of Index Cards
Suggestion 10-74 Submitted By Assistant Legal Attache [redacted]
Mexico City Office

b7C

Inspection Division noted the Foreign Operations Policy Manual, Section 6, L, page 13, provides for the destruction of files in Legat offices and prescribes, "Index cards for files destroyed should be retained, thereby affording a future file reference for any necessary Bureau indices check." The contention that index cards have no further value after files have been destroyed if there is no Bureau file number is not valid. Index cards, when prepared in accordance with prescribed regulations, can and do provide information. The value of that information is, of course, relative to the inquiry; however, absence of a Bureau file number would not necessarily preclude the existence of further detail in Bureau files. The absence of the index card would deny the searcher the knowledge that the office had prior information on subject.

The Inspection Division believed the advantage of retention of these cards outweighed the space and searching time to be gained from destruction of index cards prior to established guidelines. Additionally, Legat, Mexico City, should not be permitted to have its own rule for destruction of index cards. This Division opposed adoption.

W/IN Insp. Div.

Training Division agrees. The retention of index cards even though they pertain to destroyed files is a vital link in the chain of the administrative and investigative operations. There are numerous occasions when U. S. and foreign sources request a name check. If the file has been destroyed, there is at least an index card which contains the Legat file number, a full name, important biographic data and usually the character of the case. By knowing that an office had a file, it can be guided accordingly with the agency requesting the check. If a case is of sufficient importance to open, it is believed a three- by five-inch reference to it should be retained. The indices serve a very useful purpose and their utility would be diminished if the idea were implemented. In addition, this procedure would result in an exception in our current rules for one office only.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be approved and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact.

In June, 1972, a suggestion from this office requested that destruction be permitted of those index cards which pertain to destroyed files for which no Bureau file number is available. It was pointed out that current procedures allow a needless accumulation of thousands of cards in larger foreign offices because these cards have no further value after files have been destroyed if there is no Bureau file number. They clutter up the indices, occupy space needed for current cards, multiply the number of cards to be handled during current searches, create a need for additional index cabinets in already congested areas and increase the volume of material to be destroyed if emergency measures should be invoked.

By letter dated 8-21-72, the Acting Director stated that this suggestion was not adopted because a survey of foreign offices disclosed that the majority believed the disadvantages involved outweighed any anticipated benefits.

Bureau is now being requested to authorize the Mexico City Office to destroy these cards, as encountered, in connection with the periodic review of the indices for other purposes. Although other foreign offices may not have a comparable volume, there are now over 270 rows of index cards on hand in the Mexico City Office which causes considerable congestion and an urgent need for additional index cabinets if cards in this category cannot be disposed of. In addition, if emergency destruction procedures should become necessary at some future date, the cards now on hand represent a total of 3,000 pounds of material. Due to a large volume of higher priority work and a limited number of clerical personnel, it is not being suggested that any special project be undertaken to accomplish this destruction. Rather, as stated above, the cards would be destroyed as they are discovered during periodic review of the indices for other purposes.

For the above reasons, it is considered essential to request at this time that the Mexico City Office be authorized to destroy only those cards which pertain to destroyed files where no Bureau file number is available.

SUBJECT: PEOPLES DEFENSE LEAGUE

Destruction of Bureau Property
GENERAL

Investigation in this matter was closed in 1949. Serial 1 which contains a list of approximately 600 members of the Peoples Defense League has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to this listing causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data it is proposed that the material be de-indexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above listed file reference to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing on this listing of names. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum. The memorandum should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Section, Room 6309 IB.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen

ORIGINAL FILED IN 66-2286-

The purpose of this memorandum is to indicate progress made in curtailing the growth of records in files within the Correspondence and Crime Research Section as related to the Bureau mailing list and to recommend the destruction of needless cards.

Upon examining the mailing list, which contains 3 x 5 cards showing the names and addresses of individuals who receive the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, the UCR bulletin, material sent to FBI National Academy men, and those on the Special Correspondents List, I observed that in many instances there were three or more cards attached behind the current 3 x 5 card showing the necessary information for an individual. By bringing forward to the top card information concerning either a business or home address and other pertinent information, the top card contained all the necessary data and it has been possible to eliminate all but one card for an individual. The unnecessary cards have been destroyed. This has been accomplished with your approval.

The mailing list cards have shown the salutation used by the Director in prior correspondence and this salutation is helpful as a guide to the preparation of current correspondence. To avoid confusion with the salutation used in correspondence by former Director Hoover and Acting Directors Gray and Ruckelshaus, I have had an ink line drawn through all salutations shown on our mailing list in anticipation of handling of correspondence for Mr. Kelley. This action was taken immediately after the nomination of Mr. Kelley and before he was sworn in so any salutations shown on the mailing list cards now relate to the manner in which Mr. Kelley would address the individual identified on the mailing list card.

concerned individuals who previously were on the mailing list and were deleted by reason of no longer desiring to receive the material, furnished no forwarding address, etc. I have had all the inactive cards pulled out of our mailing list cabinets with an approximate 40 percent savings in cabinet space. Previously, the mailing list was contained in 8 nine-drawer cabinets which hold 3 x 5 cards. These inactive cards have been set aside and I have personally reviewed several hundred of them to satisfy myself there is no useful purpose served in their retention. I am confident that the destruction of these cards is advisable. The information contained on them is anywhere from 2 to 10 or 15 years out of date and they serve no historical purpose.

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise you of the action taken in the Correspondence and Crime Research Section as related to the Bureau mailing list and to recommend the destruction of needless cards.

It is recommended that the inactive mailing list cards be destroyed. Upon approval, this memorandum should be returned to the Correspondence and Crime Research Section so that this action can be taken.

ARSON OF BUREAU CAR #70-748
OKLAHOMA CITY DIVISION
JUNE 19, 1973
DESTRUCTION OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY

b7C

This is to advise of the destruction of Bureau car #70-748 (1970 Ambassador), Oklahoma City Division, by fire early a.m., 6/19/73.

On 6/19/73, at 4:30 a.m., SAC Wilburn K. DeBruler, Oklahoma City Division, telephonically advised Night Supervisor [redacted] that he was notified by the Oklahoma City Fire Department that captioned vehicle was found burning at the extra storage garage located at 42nd and Western Avenue, Oklahoma City, at approximately 2:30 a.m. (Oklahoma City time), 6/19/73. SAC DeBruler advised that the extra storage garage, which is used mainly for repairs, is an open-type, well lighted compound surrounded by a barbed wire fence. Unsub entered the compound by cutting the fence at the bottom and then proceeded to place a red one-gallon can of gasoline with a wick next to the left rear tire of Bureau car and ignited same resulting in complete destruction of Bureau car.

SAC DeBruler stated that no suspects have been developed at this time, however, he desired to point out that Oklahoma City experienced several serious incidents possibly involving members of the Nation of Islam (NOI) on evening of 6/17/73, after Oklahoma City Police Department (OCPD) had arrested two NOI members for assaulting a police officer. NOI reportedly threatened police with retaliation when OCPD refused to release the individuals charged. During the night and early a.m. of 6/17-18/73, unknown blacks approached residences of two white families in predominantly black section of Oklahoma City and without provocation shot and killed one man and critically wounded two other men. Additionally, one 15-year-old white female was critically wounded from a shotgun blast fired from a passing car occupied by three blacks. Two fire bombs, one at a department store and one at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, and two arsons, one at a high school and one at a local white-owned grocery, were reported during the evening and early a.m. of 6/17-18/73. SAC DeBruler advised that there SAC DeBruler stated that he would be submitting a detailed teletype later a.m., 6/19/73, concerning captioned matter.

ACTION: For information.

ADDENDUM JBL:erg 6/19/73

By subsequent teletype, Oklahoma City advised that in addition to captioned vehicle, there were four other vehicles stored in this compound, however, these vehicles sustained no damage. Oklahoma City advised that these four vehicles are being removed to Agents' homes for security reasons as no space exists in the regular office garage.

FROM : T. J. Jenkins

SUBJECT: ~~Destruction of Bureau Records~~ FILE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM

PROPOSAL: By letter, 7/20/73, under the same caption, the St. Louis Office advised that the fire at National Personnel Records Center-Military (NPRC-M) in St. Louis, Missouri, on 7/12/73 had purportedly destroyed an estimated thirty million military records. These records were reported to be all World War I, World War II, and post-World War II military records up to 1960 plus all Air Force service records.

Under these circumstances, the St. Louis Office felt that the next best record to verify military service within the above periods might well be contained in either Bureau or field office files; therefore, it recommended an exception be made to our file destruction procedures in all offices to provide that any file containing an excerpt or summary of any military record not be destroyed until such file would become eligible for destruction under the 20-year rule.

PRESENT PRACTICE: As a general rule, investigative files in field offices become eligible for destruction when 20 years old. There are, however, the following exceptions:

1. Bureau applicant cases may be destroyed after 10 years but those which have been closed administratively with no correspondence to the Bureau and Bureau applicant material in the 67-0 file may be destroyed after three years old.

2. Files may be destroyed when 5 years old in the following classifications:

25-when office is not office of origin or prosecution.

42-when office is origin (1 year for auxiliary office) and/or file does not involve a deserter implicated in other criminal activity where dissemination to another agency has been made.

Unknown subject files in classifications 15, 26, 52, 70 and 87, unless a capital offense is involved or the file contains information of intelligence or evidentiary value.

3. FBI National Academy applicant files may be destroyed after 3 years if office is not origin.

OBSERVATIONS: General Investigative, Special Investigative and Files and Communications Divisions concurred in the recommendation made by the St. Louis Office.

Intelligence Division also concurred and recommended in addition that the moratorium be extended to include those files normally destroyed after 20 years at least until such time as it is determined such retention no longer serves the intended purpose of verifying service-record material.

Administrative Division believed the proposal of the St. Louis Office had limited merit but felt the only files which might have verified service-record information in them would be applicant-type files such as those on Bureau Applicants, Departmental Applicants, Atomic Energy Act Applicants, Special Inquiry, Application for Pardon upon Completion of Sentence, and, possibly, some Selective Service Act of 1948. cases. Administrative Division asserted, however, the validity of information obtained through interview unsupported by official documentation would, at best, be questionable and only of corroborative value. This division also cited an article which appeared on page 22 in 7/26/73 edition of "The Washington Post Times Herald" captioned, "Military Claims Unaffected by Fire" which quoted Veterans Administration official Donald E. Johnson as stating his agency's records are intact at 57 regional offices and 169 hospitals and can be used to support new claims from Vietnam veterans as well as to reconstruct any new claims from World War II and Korean War veterans.

Accordingly, Administrative Division recommended no files scheduled for destruction be maintained with the objective of providing a source of military service data unless the file contains facsimilies, copies of official documentation of service information, or reports a specific review of military service record material.

Inspection Division noted that existing instructions require the field to destroy certain investigative files under specified conditions when they are one, three, five, ten, or twenty years old. To establish a requirement that those files which would meet the criteria for destruction prior to 20 years be retained if they contained military record data would create yet another exception to the already existing exceptions to the general 20-year retention rule.

Inspection Division further cited the provisions as set forth under "Present and Practice" above with respect to the 10, 5, 3 and 1-year destruction rules and stated that correspondence relating to military record checks in unknown subject cases could reasonably be expected to be minimal and, in known subject cases, office of origin should be in possession of copies of such correspondence at the time auxiliary office is authorized to destroy its file under the 5-year rule although, it is conceivable some origin cases in 42 classification could contain results of military record checks at time these files are eligible for destruction after 5 years. Other than unknown subject cases, 42 and 67 classifications which, as noted above, are destroyed in 5, 10 and 3 years respectively, the office of origin would retain most investigative files and any military record data included therein for 20 years.

Accordingly, Inspection Division felt that, with the availability of office space a constant problem which our present systematic file destruction programsare aimed at alleviating, the anticipated benefits of the proposed extension of these destruction periods would be outweighed by the extra storage space it would require. This was so particularly in view of the fact that such extension of the present retention periods would be based solely on the possibility some files might be of subsequent investigative interest; therefore, Inspection Division opposed adoption of the proposal.

Training Division agrees with the objections of Inspection Division and concurs in the observations of Administrative Division that the types of cases primarily involved would be of the applicant-type matters Administrative Division cited. To these, Training Division would add Internal Security and subversive investigations on individuals and Loyalty and Security of Government Employees cases. In all of these cases either the Bureau is origin or else the office of origin retains the files under the 20-year rule. The exception to this rule would be Bureau applicant cases as noted heretofore. However, in these cases the results of any investigation conducted, which would include record checks, are furnished to the Bureau where they are retained and hence would be recoverable through search provided the name and sufficient identifying data were supplied.

For these reasons it is believed the vast majority of classifications which would involve military record check information are either already being retained by the field under the 20-year rule or the data has been furnished and is recoverable at the Bureau if needed in which circumstance it would be duplication to require the field to retain it.

In opinion of the Training Division, these factors, plus the fact that much of the material reportedly lost in the fire at NPRC-M is of the vintage when activity requiring recourse to such record information lessens with each passing year, make the disadvantages resulting from the proposed extension of current file retention periods far outweigh any anticipated advantage.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the present file destruction procedures remain in effect and the proposal of St. Louis Office not be approved.

(2) If ~~just~~ FIRST recommendation is approved, St. Louis Office will be appropriately advised.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM

Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen

In view of the major fire which occurred at the National Personnel Records Center-Military (NPRC-M), on July 12, 1973, in which some thirty million military records were estimated to have been destroyed, it is recommended that the Bureau reconsider the captioned program.

It is pointed out that the fire at the NPRC-M is reported to have destroyed all World War I, World War II, and post-World-War II until 1960 military records as well as all Air Force service records. In view of this, the next best record to verify military service may well be contained in either Bureau or field office files. Accordingly, it is recommended that in connection with the destruction of files program of all offices, that any file containing excerpts or a summary of any military record not be destroyed until such file would normally be destroyed under the 20-year rule.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that a form be designed for use when handling the disposition of certain material. You may be interested to know that similar proposals have been considered previously and not adopted. It was decided the present wording on the file cover of the consolidated volume is consistent with the manner in which these files should be purged.

The thoughtfulness which prompted you to submit your idea to me is indeed appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

The current rules are consistent with their intent. When files are consolidated, the fronts are not retained with the exception of the one which goes on the consolidated volume. When files are destroyed under the circumstances as mentioned in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13b, the reason for destruction is placed on the file fronts or on the consolidated volume front cover and the file numbers should be listed followed by the office of origin. This is necessary for reference purposes in auxiliary offices since no notation is being placed on index cards regarding this information. The use of a form would not be warranted for this purpose.

NOTE: Suggests Bureau give consideration to the development of an optional form to be used to list file numbers and office of origin file number on cases destroyed under the five-year rule. Criminal classifications with exception of Selective Service and Deserters are destroyed under this rule.

Columbia is evidently not interpreting this rule as it was intended. While files are consolidated after six months and file fronts are destroyed, there naturally would be only front of consolidated volume on which to place disposition of destroyed files with office of origin. New file fronts do not need to be prepared. Training Division recommends no further action regarding this matter.

It is suggested that the Bureau give consideration to the development of an optional form to be utilized to list the file numbers and the office of origin file number on cases destroyed under the five year rule. Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

It would save considerable time and reduce expenses to maintain a form in each volume of consolidated cases (preferably right below the cover) which would allow the office to list thereon the necessary file numbers of each case destroyed. It is noted that the Columbia Office, which is a Group III Office, destroys approximately 100 files each week in accordance with established precedures. Considerable time is spent in preparing and individual file front to be inserted in the consolidated files for each case destroyed.

Each individual investigation contained in this consolidated volume does not have an individual file front. Rather it is maintained in the consolidated volume merely by file number. Current regulations authorize the destruction of these closed files on a five year basis. As the files are destroyed, it is necessary to list the office file number and the office of origin file number. This is accomplished by inserting a file front in the consolidated volume in lieu of the individual file destroyed. On this file front is listed the necessary file numbers. SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Memorandum of Mr. Jenkins dated 12/5/73 set forth proposed streamlined, uniform destruction rules for views and comments.

The Criminal Intelligence and Organized Crime Section, Special Investigative Division, concurs with the recommendations in the memorandum of 12/5/73.

The Fugitive Section, Special Investigative Division, noted that there are several classifications in the fugitive category wherein FBIHQ does not receive investigative reports and in most instances very few interoffice communications. These classifications are unlawful flight, parole, probation, and conditional release violators, and deserters. Destruction of office of origin files after ten years would mean there will be instances in which background information concerning such individuals will not be available in the event of a subsequent investigation concerning the same subject. If it is concluded that the savings in space costs resulting from the destruction of such files outweigh the value of keeping such data in file, the Special Investigative Division interposes no objection to the recommended destruction rules provided this is not inconsistent with the Archival regulations referred to on page four of the 12/5/73 memorandum to the effect that original records cannot be destroyed before twenty years old.

In the Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section, FBIHQ, is office of origin in such cases as those handled in 77, (Departmental Applicant), 116 (Atomic Energy Act), 140 (Security of Government Employees), and 161 (Special Inquiry) classifications. In the 77, 116, and 161 classifications, numerous bring up-to-date investigations are conducted in which FBIHQ now refers field to prior reports already in its possession. In the 140 classification, as well as 138 classification (United Nations), which is also handled in this Division, FBI is concerned with cases involving subversive allegations with individuals concerned often leaving and reentering employment in Executive Branch over period of years necessitating reopening of these cases. Some of the cases in 140 classification involve ADEX subjects which are reopened on a periodic basis to report additional pertinent information. Recognizing the critical need for additional space and filing equipment in many field offices--St. Louis (120 days), Alexandria (90 days), and Baltimore (60 days)--currently have the authority to destroy their files after a stated period when the file contains results of such record checks as those at Central Intelligence Agency and Naval Investigative Service.

The memorandum of 12/5/73 provides that auxiliary offices destroy investigative files after five years in all classifications provided files are of no continuing value for evidence or for intelligence or other reference purposes. The question is presented as to what files actually come within this restriction.

Destruction of such files by the field is a situation we could live with but it may, on many occasions, necessitate the copying of necessary reports at FBIHQ for investigative assistance of field.

In opening cases in Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section, the field is referred to criminal and subversive references pertinent to the current investigation. We have learned to adjust to the current practice where files are generally destroyed in the field after twenty years. The recommended ten year rule would necessitate additional copying here at FBIHQ to enable the field to intelligently conduct the current investigation. In any event we could not be sure what files are available in the field to the office of origin after ten years and to auxiliary offices after five years.

PURPOSE: Destruction of Bureau Property - Security

To recommend that an appropriate security statement be included on the "Mailing List of Field Divisions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice."

BACKGROUND:

At the present time the mailing list of field divisions of the FBI (copy attached), which is intended solely for internal FBI use, contains no cautionary statement as to the security to be afforded this document.

OBSERVATIONS:

Although the majority of information appearing on this mailing list is of public record, SACs' and ASACs' home telephone numbers are also listed thereon. In light of previous instructions to the field to strengthen security regarding publication of home telephone numbers of our personnel, it is felt that the security statement now appearing on FBIHQ and field office telephone directories, organizational charts, etc., should be added to the mailing list of field divisions in the future.

That future revisions of the "Mailing List of Field Divisions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice," contain the following security statement: "This Document is for Internal Use Within the FBI, is to be Provided Appropriate Security, and Disposed of in Confidential Trash Receptacles When No Longer Current." If approved, addition of security statement to be handled by the Administrative Division which is responsible for the preparation of the field division mailing list.

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATION OF FILES
DESTRUCTION OF COPIES OF SERIALS
Bureau Property - General

Existing procedures provide for the destruction of copies of serials when files are closed or referred upon completion to the office of origin (RUC). The Manual of Rules and Regulations also provides for the consolidation of files within six months after closing or RUC.

Certain chief clerks who were in attendance at recent training programs requested that the above two functions be handled within the same time period. These employees advised that in many instances, particularly in those field offices which have an above-average number of resident agencies, serials are properly charged out at the time the file is closed or RUC, and, therefore, copies of serials cannot be destroyed in compliance with present rules. The chief clerks stated this practice is unworkable and it results in a considerable amount of time being spent locating material which is charged out at the time of closing or RUC. These employees believe that if the rule relating to the destruction of copies of serials was changed from the time of closing or RUC to within six months of the change of status, which would be consistent with the consolidation rule, there would be a more efficient operation and a savings in manpower time.

The Training Division can foresee no real disadvantages to the above proposal. In fact, this proposal would be flexible enough to satisfy the intent of these certain offices and yet allow for the immediate destruction of this material in those other offices desiring to do so.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN
MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

Part II, Section 3D6, Item 6a, Page 11c, should be revised to read as follows:

6. Destruction of copies of serials

Copies of serials in all classifications must be destroyed within six months after files have been closed or referred upon completion to the office of origin. Employee destroying copies must note on top serial in the file "file stripped" and place employee's initials and date. The employee will thus certify that at that point in the file all copies not otherwise accounted for have been destroyed. Serials may be duplicated if needed subsequent to date of destruction. When copies of serials are duplicated, the date and number of copies must be set forth on the original.

SUBJECT: MAJOR PROGRAM GOALS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1974

Attached is a letter to the Attorney General regarding the program entitled "Major Program Goals for Fiscal Year 1974." This letter is being submitted in response to the Attorney General's request to the Director on 8/8/73 that the FBI review these departmental goals, as well as his (the Attorney General's) reaction to them. Attached is also a copy of the Attorney General's letter to OMB, dated 8/8/73, as well as a copy of the Department's 12 Major Program Goals for FY74.

In reviewing these 12 major goals, it was apparent that four of these directly focused on the work of the Bureau, while the remaining eight only indirectly affected our operations and pertained primarily to other agencies within the Department, or to the Department itself.

Comments of the interested Divisions were obtained, distilled where necessary, and set forth in the accompanying letter. Where necessary, clarification or amplification of the Department's goal statement has been included in order to properly present the views of the Bureau.

In addition to the twelve major goals of the Department, the Bureau is also committed to its own set of objectives, which were previously forwarded to the Department. These eleven goals were originally expressed to the Department by memorandum dated 5/18/73, and while some revision has been made in the interim as to form and content, the original goals have not been altered substantially since that time. These eleven items are being set forth below for sake of clarity:

1. Develop an automated fingerprint-reading scanner system.

2. Reduce the impact of organized crime on the American public by continuing to penetrate the organized crime structure with a twofold program of intelligence gathering aimed at major hoodlum gangs, their top leaders, and their primary sources of income, and of increasing the number of convictions of major leaders in organized crime.

3. Increase the total number of convictions obtained over the previous fiscal year.

4. Train an estimated 3,725 law enforcement officers through the FBI National Academy and specialized training programs and symposia of the FBI Academy, and provide assistance to an estimated 10,000 law enforcement training schools on the field level.

5. Automate the Bureau's general index.

6. Increase by 10 the number of states participating fully in the NCIC/CCH file.

7. Attract and sustain a steady and substantial increase of employees representing minority groups and women in assignments throughout the service so that we may be as representative of the American public as possible.

8. Increase aid afforded state and local law enforcement agencies through location of fugitives in the unlawful flight category.

9. Increase the number of items of narcotic information disseminated to appropriate agencies in an effort to render material assistance to the overall national goal to reduce illicit narcotics traffic.

10. Disseminate on an increasing basis to other Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies information developed through our investigative operations which relates to matters of interest to those organizations, in an effort to reduce crime.

11. Purge civil fingerprint file of 4,000,000 duplicate fingerprint cards.

Although only items 2 and 9 above were adopted as Department-wide goals, the Bureau remains committed to all the above objectives and progress in these areas will be followed by the Department.

Memorandum from Mr. Baker to Mr. Callahan,
8/28/73 - Re: Major Program Goals for Fiscal Year 1974

The Attorney General has stated he is not satisfied with the goals expressed by the Department to the Office of Management and Budget, and has indicated extensive refinement is needed. In line with this, it would appear beneficial at this time to re-examine the previously stated FBI goals, bearing in mind that the original instructions to the Department from the President called for the establishment of "...new policy initiatives, major operational achievements, and improvements which can be made in current programs, giving particular attention to objectives which you consider to be of Presidential-level importance." (emphasis added)

A review of the FBI's own eleven goals at this time might result in the type of refinement sought by the Attorney General, or in the establishment of objectives not previously considered.

ACTION:

1. If approved, the attached letter will be forwarded to the Attorney General.

2. If approved, all FBIHQ Divisions should re-examine the previously submitted FBI program goals, with a view toward refinement or establishment of new objectives.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth the observations of the Office of Legal Counsel concerning the microfilming of closed files based on the recommendation submitted by the Los Angeles (LA) Office.

The LA Office submitted certain proposals relative to the microfilming of closed files, including details as to a specific system which they felt was best suited to their particular situation. The Inspection Division and Files and Communications Division have set forth their comments concerning the LA recommendation and requested the comments of Office of Legal Counsel concerning the same recommendation.

Specifically, Office of Legal Counsel was requested to comment on the admissibility into evidence of microfilm copies of FD-302s and signed statements, the originals of which have been destroyed.

We could find no cases where a microfilm or photostatic copy of an FD-302 or signed statement had been introduced into evidence. Normally an FD-302 is not introduced into evidence, but is utilized to satisfy the requirements of the Jencks Act (Title 18, United States Code, Section 3500). However, assuming the instance arose where it became necessary to introduce an FD-302 or signed statement where the original was not available, in our opinion a microfilm copy would be admissible under the Best Evidence Rule.

Generally, that rule requires that the original of a writing must be introduced into evidence. See McCormick on Evidence, Section 195, Page 409 (1954). If, however, the original is not available and this is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the court, secondary evidence of the original may be introduced, i.e., a copy of the original. See U.S. v. Manton, 107 F2d 834, (2nd Cir. 1938); Edmunds v. Frank R. Jellef, Inc., 127 A2d 152 (1956).

Title 44, United States Code, Section 3302 and 3303, furnish the authority for the microfilming of our files. In connection with these two sections, Title 44, United States Code, Section 3312, provides that photographs of records made in compliance with regulations under Section 3302 shall be treated as originals for the purpose of their admissibility in evidence. The regulations promulgated pursuant to that section are set forth at 37 Federal Register 2962. Therefore, although we could find no cases interpreting Section 3312 it is our opinion that section is authority for the introduction into evidence of microfilm copies of an FD-302 or signed statement if the microfilm process is performed in compliance with the above-mentioned regulations.

GSA BULLETIN FPMR B-40
ARCHIVES AND RECORDS

TO: Heads of Federal agencies

SUBJECT: Withdrawal of authority to dispose of records

1. Purpose. In accordance with the authority in FPMR 101-11.406-8 (44 U.S.C. 2909), this bulletin announces withdrawal of disposal authorizations covering records listed in disposal schedules. Specifically those records are military service records of individuals discharged from the United States Army, November 1, 1912, through December 31, 1959, and the United States Air Force, September 18, 1947, through December 31, 1963. Disposal authorizations may be applied to all records documenting military service in the United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, and the United States Coast Guard. Records relating to service of individuals in the United States Army and United States Air Force discharged during years other than those cited above may be disposed of as authorized by current records disposal authorizations.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin contains information of a continuing nature and will remain in effect until canceled.

3. Background.

a. The recent fire at the Military Personnel Records Center building, St. Louis, Missouri, destroyed service records of former members of the armed forces. FPMR Bulletin B-39 directed all Federal agencies to suspend disposal of all records which could be used to reconstitute these service records.

b. Service records of members of the United States Army (including Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Forces) who were discharged between November 1, 1912, and December 31, 1959, and members of the United States Air Force who were discharged between September 18, 1947, and December 31, 1963, were destroyed.

c. Records of military service for individuals discharged from the United States Army prior to November 1, 1912, and subsequent to December 31, 1959, and discharged from the United States Air Force subsequent to December 1963 were not destroyed. There was no significant loss of records of military service in the United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, and United States Coast Guard.

4. Procedures.

a. All Federal agencies are requested to suspend indefinitely disposal of any records that may be used to reconstitute records of military service in the United States Army for individuals discharged between November 1, 1912, and December 31, 1959, and in the United States Air Force between September 18, 1947, and December 31, 1963. These records include those containing information regarding dates of service, physical injuries, and mental impairment.

b. All Federal agencies may resume the normal disposal of records affected by GSA Bulletin FPMR B-39 other than those requested to be retained by this bulletin. Records relating to military service in the United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Coast Guard, and those relating to military service in the United States Army for individuals discharged prior to November 1, 1912, and subsequent to 1959 and in the United States Air Force for individuals discharged from January 1, 1964, to the present may be disposed of according to existing records control schedules.

c. Exceptions to this bulletin will be approved by the Archivist of the United States. Requests for exceptions should be addressed to General Services Administration (NC), Washington, DC 20408.

5. Cancellation. This bulletin cancels GSA Bulletin FPMR B-39.

By separate memorandum, the Training Division was authorized to conduct surveys to streamline and simplify existing field file and serial retention procedures. The main objectives of these surveys were to arrive at a more workable destruction program, and to conserve all possible space in view of the substantial increase in space costs under Public Law 92-313, Public Buildings Amendment of 1972, effective July 1, 1974.

There are presently eight pages in the Manual of Rules and Regulations which are devoted to the more than twenty-five individual destruction rules, and, in addition, there are numerous other regulations pertaining to the destruction of specific material and serials. Current rules provide for the destruction of material ranging from immediately to twenty years, depending upon the classification, whether or not the office is origin or auxiliary, and whether or not the material is of a continuing value.

The Training Division furnished each field office with certain proposed streamlined destruction rules for comments, including savings of office filing space. The majority of the field offices were in favor of the proposed destruction rules, and there was an anticipated saving of filing space up to fifty percent. These proposals were also discussed with the Chief Clerks who were in attendance at the recent schools. For the most part, the Chief Clerks were critical of the administrative restrictions governing the destruction of material. These employees stressed the wide and varied policies were often so time-consuming as to offset the worth of the space saved. Taking into consideration the replies from the field and the comments solicited from the Chief Clerks, the Training Division believes the following streamlined, uniform destruction rules could be substituted for the many existing rules without any adverse effect on the field administrative or investigative operations:

a. Files and records to be destroyed when 90 days old
   1. Carbon copy of printout produced by NCIC terminal - retain previous month plus current month
   2. Daily Report of Chief Clerk's Office - FD-127
   3. Encoded messages
   4. Field personnel files of separated employees when separation is not for disciplinary reasons or for entering military service. Electrocardiogram tracings and reports of medical history (SF-93) are to be forwarded to Bureau
   5. Record of Registered Mail - FD-211
   6. Register No. 3 - FD-256
   7. Transmittal Letters - Checks and Bonds

   (EXISTING REGULATIONS PROVIDED FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF THE ABOVE MATERIAL IN 30, 60, AND 90 DAYS)

b. Files and records to be destroyed when 120 days old
   1. In auxiliary offices with Bureau approval, investigative leads requesting record checks, when the results are of no continuing value.

c. Files and records to be destroyed after FBIHQ field office inspection providing material is 1-year old
   1. Noninvestigative files and material of no continuing value in following classificiations:
      A. Classification 1 - Training Matters only
      B. Classification 32 - Identification (Fingerprint Matters)
      C. Classification 33 - Uniform Crime Reporting
      D. Classification 62 - Miscellaneous Matter only
      E. Classification 64 - Foreign Miscellaneous
      F. Classification 66 - Administrative Matters
      G. Classification 80 - Public Relations Matters

H. Classification 94 - Research Matters
I. Classification 95 - Laboratory Cases, Other Than Bureau
J. Classification 163 - Foreign Police Cooperation

d. Files and records to be destroyed when 5 years old if following conditions are met
   1. Investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices provided files are of no continuing value for evidence or for intelligence or other reference purposes
   2. Dead files in all classification, if of no continuing value
   3. Zero files in all classifications if of no continuing value

e. Files and records to be destroyed in 10 years
   1. Investigative files in all classifications in offices of origin provided files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence or other reference purposes.

If there is any doubt concerning the destruction of the above material, auxiliary offices should consult the office of origin, and offices of origin should consult the Bureau.

Under existing regulations, Special Agent Supervisory personnel are responsible for authorizing the destruction of files. The Chief Clerk's Office (CCO) pulls files for destruction, delivers them to the Agent Supervisors, and returns the files to the CCO for refiling or destruction depending upon the decision of the supervisor. Presently, there are no uniform tickler systems or schedules for file destruction programs. In many instances files are repeatedly pulled and reviewed to determine if they are eligible for destruction. This procedure is particularly cumbersome when reviewing files in consolidated volumes.

In order to facilitate the destruction of material as set forth above, and to reduce the burden presently placed on Special Agent Supervisory personnel, the Training Division believes the following administrative procedures should be considered in order to provide for a uniform, workable destruction program:

1. Since there are only two destruction rules which apply to investigative files, five years and ten years, that the Case Agent in both the office of origin and the auxiliary office note the destruction rule or that file should not be destroyed on the file copy of the closed or referred-upon-completion (RUC) communication. The Case Agent is in a position to determine the potential value of each case and the Agent's recommendation would be subject to approval by the supervisor when the communication is initialed for closing or RUC. The file would not be returned to the supervisor unless additional material was received during the interim period.

2. That the master assignment card be used as a tickler for the destruction of investigative files. Under current rules, the CCO posts the date of the file copy of each closing and RUC communication to the reverse side of the master assignment card, and these cards are maintained for one year and than destroyed. In order to use the master assignment cards for tickler purposes, the CCO, in addition to posting each case, would note on the front of each master card the destruction date recommended by the Case Agent on the file copy of each closing and RUC communication. In this manner these cards can be retained for one year under present rules; however, instead of destroying these cards when one-year old, they would be retained as ticklers for file destruction according to date appearing on the front of the card. Since these master assignment cards are color coded by office of origin (blue) and auxiliary office (white), this factor would only enhance their value by providing an already available instrument for scheduling files for destruction.

3. That index cards be destroyed when files are destroyed. The index cards would not appear to be of any value if the respective files did not exist. Fugitives, stolen property, etc., could be checked through NCIC.

4. That original FD-302s, signed statements and other items of evidence be retained for twenty years. Index cards relating to this material would also be retained for a like period. This procedure would be consistent with Archival regulations whereby original records cannot be destroyed before twenty years old. There have been some opinions expressed that this material be forwarded to offices of origin; however, it would appear that any such procedure would only generate additional paperwork unnecessarily since an office of origin would have no need for them unless prosecution was instituted.

5. That two lists containing the numbers of files destroyed be maintained. One list would be filed in front of each respective classification in the closed files section, and the other list would be retained in a specific administrative file designed for this purpose. Under present regulations, the file fronts are maintained under certain conditions, and lists of files are maintained at the beginning of each classification under other conditions. Current regulations do not provide for the maintenance of an administrative file for a listing of all files that have been destroyed in any given field office.

The Training Division believes the above proposals would have practical application throughout the field and also allow for a much more favorable balance between the creation of new paperwork and the destruction of obsolete material. It is also believed that the savings in filing space in each office would eliminate the need for any further expansion in these areas.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That this memorandum be referred to the Administrative, Files and Communications, General Investigative, Inspection, Intelligence and Special Investigative Divisions, and the Office of Planning and Evaluation for views and comments.

Files & Comm. Div. preparing comments. 12/12/73 gum

2. If favorable action is recommended, that the Training Division advise the field and make appropriate manual revisions.

Memorandum T.J. Jenkins to Mr. Callahan dated 12/5/73
Re: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD
FILES AND RECORDS

ADDENDUM BY INTELLIGENCE DIVISION: TJS:lml 12/27/73

It is the view of the Intelligence Division that files relating to internal security and foreign intelligence matters have a continuing value for intelligence purposes. We are constantly referring to such files which are considerably older than 10 years old. We feel that if destruction after 10 years is discretionary from office to office and is based on judgment values from office to office, there will be some field personnel who will not see future value in 10-year-old security--intelligence files. If destruction is based on prior Bureau approval we would concur in the recommended procedure.

Our objections apply only to Office of Origin files, not to auxilliary office files. Of course, any file could be destroyed after 10 years if everything contained therein is also filed at FBI Headquarters.

WPW | TJS

ADDENDUM OFFICE OF PLANNING AND EVALUATION EESheets/imt 12/28/73

Concerning Item B, page 2, of this memorandum, captioned "Files and records to be destroyed when 120 days old," it is recommended that auxiliary offices, with Bureau approval, be permitted to destroy files concerning investigative leads requesting record checks when results are of no continuing value. This is interpreted by the Office of Planning and Evaluation to have reference to major record centers such as St. Louis, San Antonio and Baltimore. The Office of Planning and Evaluation suggests that all auxiliary offices with leads requesting record checks, when results are of no continuing value, be permitted to destroy the communications pertinent thereto after 120 days without obtaining further Bureau approval. No value can be seen in the retention of such material by auxiliary offices. Therefore, there should be no occasion for requesting Bureau authority prior to destruction of that material after 120 days.

(B) RECORDS MANAGEMENT PROGRAM - FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION - (WITHDRAWAL OF AUTHORITY TO DISPOSE OF MILITARY RECORDS --

The General Services Administration (GSA), Archives and Records, has advised by GSA Bulletin FPMR B-40 that authority to dispose of certain records is being withdrawn. The recent fire (July, 1973,) at the Military Personnel Records Center Building, St. Louis, Missouri, destroyed service records of many former members of the armed forces. The authority to dispose of certain records from which military service can be verified has been withdrawn by Archives.

The Archivist of the United States has directed all agencies to suspend indefinitely disposal of any records that may be used to reconstitute records of military service in the United States Army (including Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Forces) for individuals discharged between November 1, 1912, and December 31, 1959, and in the United States Air Force between September 18, 1947, and December 31, 1963. This includes records which contain information verifying dates of military service, physical injuries and mental impairment.

In those instances where the information has been furnished to the Bureau by the field office, the field office may destroy their records according to existing authority. Employees responsible for the destruction of files must insure the destruction and disposal of records comply with the instructions furnished above. Any exceptions to the above must be approved by the Bureau.

The loss of records of the United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, and the United States Coast Guard was insignificant. Therefore, records relating to these services and those records relating to military service in the United States Army for individuals discharged prior to November 1, 1912, and subsequent to December 31, 1959, and in the United States Air Force for individuals discharged subsequent to January 1, 1964, may be disposed of according to existing records control schedules.

A BILL TO PROVIDE FOR AN INVESTIGATION OF THE CHARACTER AND PAST ACTIVITIES OF POTENTIAL VICE-PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEES BY THE FBI
93rd CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

By form memorandum we were requested to advise the Department's Office of Legal Counsel of our views concerning captioned bill introduced by Senator William E. Brock III (Republican-Tennessee).

This bill would permit each Presidential candidate to request investigations by the FBI of not more than ten individuals listed by him as potential Vice-Presidential nominees. After the Presidential candidate has been nominated by the national nominating convention of the political party with which he is affiliated, he and one other person designated by him would be permitted to inspect the results of the investigation of each individual listed by him as a potential Vice-Presidential nominee, if the person investigated consents to the inspection in writing. This bill provides that the inspection be made in the presence of an employee of the FBI, who would be the custodian of the evidence and information developed. It further provides that after the national nominating convention of a political party nominates a candidate for election to the office of Vice President, all evidence and information obtained during the investigation of potential Vice-Presidential nominees of that party shall be destroyed. This bill states no evidence or information obtained under or in connection with these investigations shall be admissible in any proceeding before any court of the U.S. or any state. It further states, "The disclosure, release, or retention of evidence or information in violation of the provisions of this Act shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed $50,000, imprisonment for not to exceed five years, or both."

SUBJECT: RECORDS MANAGEMENT PROGRAM
FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION
(WITHDRAWAL OF AUTHORITY TO DISPOSE OF MILITARY RECORDS)

The General Services Administration (GSA), Archives and Records, has advised by GSA Bulletin FPMR B-40 (copy of which is attached) that authority to dispose of certain records is being withdrawn. The recent fire (July, 1973,) at the Military Personnel Records Center Building, St. Louis, Missouri, destroyed service records of many former members of the armed forces. The authority to dispose of certain records from which military service can be verified has been withdrawn by Archives.

Mr. Thomas Wadlow, Acting Director, Records Disposal Division, Archives and Records, GSA, has been contacted and has advised that any record entered into our records system from which military service can be verified must be preserved if it falls within the specific time period set forth in the attached bulletin. He further advised this would not effect our microfilm program since a microphotograph certified as true copy will be as good as the original document. Concerning the records in the field offices, Mr. Wadlow stated that if the field office had submitted the material to the Bureau Headquarters, the Headquarters record would be considered as the record copy and the field office could destroy their file in accordance with current records disposal schedules. Those employees at FBI Headquarters involved in records disposal have been thoroughly briefed on these regulations. There is attached a proposed Memorandum to All Special Agents in Charge which should serve as a guideline to all field offices in carrying out their records disposal programs.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached proposed Memorandum to All Special Agents in Charge be approved.

General Destruction of Bureau Records

Reference T. J. Jenkins to Mr. Callahan memorandum dated 12/5/73 which sets forth streamline revisions for the destruction of files and other material both administrative and investigative in the field offices. These procedures did not change the material which was to be destroyed or otherwise disposed of but merely made recommendations concerning the retention time of various material which was of no continuing value, evidentiary, intelligence or reference wise.

The Files and Communications Division has made a detailed analysis and can find no objections to the use of these procedures as recommended. It is felt it is up to each individual office and the substantive division involved as to the reference value of the investigative files to the field office involved.

Dear Mr. Kelley:

The personnel of the Los Angeles Office join me in thanking you for visiting here this week. It was indeed an honor to have both you and the Attorney General. DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU Property - General

Mr. Saxbe was extremely complimentary regarding the personnel and operations of the Los Angeles Office. He likewise, expressed appreciation for the arrangements made by the Los Angeles Police Department, the United States Attorney's Office, the Federal Judges, and the Los Angeles Times.

Mr. Saxbe declared that his visit had been extremely beneficial to him as he had learned much and thought that his visit would be of considerable assistance in evaluating various programs administered by the Department of Justice, and particularly LEAA.

While the Attorney General was most complimentary of the Los Angeles Office, prior to his departure this morning, he commented to me that he felt the FBI needed to microfilm our files. He had observed the space necessary for the maintenance of our files and particularly, the closed files. As you will recall, he also had an explanation given regarding our file destruction program.

I believe that in light of the Attorney General's concern, that it would be desirable to inform him that our Newark Office is presently testing and evaluating our filing system as related in Bulet dated 12/17/73, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records."

REC-67 66-32864-1199

For your information, the Los Angeles Office, by letter dated 5/11/73, to the Bureau entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records", made recommendations regarding the microfilming of closed files. However, this recommendation is being held in

REC-67

FBI FIELD OFFICE FILING PROCEDURES

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8/26/82 BY SP4 ELW/etc

This concerns your recent comments to Assistant Director Sullivan of our Los Angeles Office relative to the microfilming of FBI files.

Please be advised that consideration is being given to the feasibility of microfilming at least closed files in our Los Angeles Office, as a result of a proposal made by them in May, 1973. While the study of Los Angeles' proposal was in progress, our Newark Office received authorization to install and test the "Conserv-a-trieve" automated equipment filing system manufactured by the Supreme Equipment and Systems Corporation of Brooklyn, New York.

Briefly, the "Conserv-a-trieve" equipment is a filing unit consisting of two facing banks of steel box containers for the storage of files and an electro-optical conveyor or transport mechanism which is located between the facing banks of containers. This conveyor, which moves vertically and horizontally at the command of an employee operating a push-button console, will pull and restore the requested file bin in a matter of seconds. The units can be tailored to existing space and can afford a saving of as much as 64 percent of file space over conventional methods.

As a result of the action approved for the Newark Office, it was decided to hold in abeyance any further action with respect to the microfilming of files in the Los Angeles Office until the results of Newark's experience with "Conserv-a-trieve" equipment are known.

In addition, existing monographs may now be removed from inventory and the FD-222's returned to the Bureau, Attention: Procurement and Administrative Services Section. You are also authorized to destroy all but one copy each of monographs, which copy should be so maintained for reference purposes. A record of destruction of monograph copies must be retained. Legal Attaches may destroy monograph copies when necessary due to space limitations.

Requirement for reading the Summary and Conclusions of monographs is being dropped inasmuch as recent monographs do not contain these headings.

Appropriate Manual changes being made.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN
MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

Part II, Section 3, page 13, should be amended to read as follows:

8. Destruction of files and records (closed files are kept in numerical sequence.) Files and records may be destroyed within the provisions of Title 44, USCA, 369, which covers the disposition of records and sets up the procedures to be followed. The head of an agency may recommend to Congress the destruction of records that apparently will not have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation. When files are destroyed, retain file fronts, writing thereon reason for destruction. (See exception set out in paragraphs a, c, d, and h below.)

Authority has been suspended indefinitely for the disposal of records material that may be used to reconstitute records of military service in the United States Army (including Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Forces) for individuals discharged between November 1, 1912, and December 31, 1959, and in the United States Air Force between September 18, 1947, and December 31, 1963. This includes records which contain information verifying dates of military service, physical injuries and mental impairment. In those instances where the information has been furnished to the Bureau by the field office, the field office may destroy their records according to existing authority.

The loss of records of the United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, and the United States Coast Guard was insignificant. Therefore, records relating to these services and those records relating to military service in the United States Army for individuals discharged prior to November 1, 1912, and subsequent to December 31, 1959, and in the United States Air Force for individuals discharged subsequent to January 1, 1964, may be disposed of according to existing records control schedules.

Proposed Change in Manual of Rules and Regulations

NOTE: The General Services Administration (GSA), Archives and Records, has advised by GSA Bulletin FPMR B-40 that authority to dispose of certain records is being withdrawn. The recent fire (July, 1973,) at the Military Personnel Records Center Building, St. Louis, Missouri, destroyed service records of many former members of the armed forces. The authority to dispose of certain records from which military service can be verified has been withdrawn by Archives. The Manual of Rules and Regulations has not been changed previously; however, this information has been furnished to the field and other divisions at FBI Headquarters by SAC Memorandum 55-73 (B) dated 12/4/73.

Destruction of Bureau Records - Memo

There has been no investigation in this matter since 1947. Serials 123, 124, and 125 is an index for Free World for the years 1941 through 1943. This list which contains approximately 900 names has been called to our attention by personnel engaged in Name Check work. They advise that the frequency of reference to this listing causes unnecessary work because insufficient information is available to effect an identification. In an effort to streamline procedures and eliminate unnecessary reference to this data, it is proposed that the material be de-indexed through removal of the cards from the Bureau's indices.

It is requested that the appropriate substantive supervisor review the above listed file reference to determine if any reason exists for retention of the indexing on this listing of names. A notation advising of the decision reached may be placed on this memorandum. The memorandum should be returned to the Correlation Unit of the Records Section, Room 6309 IB.

Intelligence Division noted SAC, Cincinnati, recommended the idea be adopted. It concurred especially since the 12-0 file also has a copy of data in question retained therein.

Special Investigative Division had no objection to approval of this idea since the Cincinnati Office reports the copy of each such memorandum is retained in 12-0. There appears to be no need to maintain copies of these communications in Bureau files at any time. The suggester indicates that a special file was set up as a result of Bureau teletype 8/17/73. This communication did not instruct that a separate file be initiated for this material.

Due to the foregoing views, Training Division has no objection to approval since it appears some offices may not have set up a separate file for this purpose. On approval, this letter will serve as the authority for the Special Investigative Division to take the steps necessary to place the proposed procedure into effect.

SUBJECT: NARCOTICS MATTERS

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

The Cincinnati office has submitted a suggestion to destroy on a yearly basis material in a file set up to record narcotics information which was disseminated. This material is also maintained in another file. By letter dated 5/2/74 the suggestion was approved.

GENERAL

It is recommended that the field be advised that the procedure of maintaining copies of communications indicating dissemination of narcotics data in two separate files is not required, but noting that if they determine this facilitates administration of the program, it is permissible and the information in the second file should be destroyed on a yearly basis.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the attached SAC memorandum be approved.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION
SUGGESTION 731-74 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] CINCINNATI OFFICE

SUGGESTION: Suggests destruction when one year old, the bank robbery or bank burglary summaries furnished under the "Dissemination of Current Bank Robbery Data" program which was set up under SAC Letter 59-43(J) dated 7/7/59.

Proposes destruction, when one year old, of the theft from interstate shipment and interstate transportation of stolen property summaries furnished under the "Dissemination of Current TFIS and ITSP Data."

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester advises the referenced SAC Letter instructed that each office maintain these summaries in a separate file. No rule to cover destruction.

Destruction of Bureau Property-Gen

b7C

ADVANTAGES: Mr. [redacted] believes this procedure would save space. Since July, 1959, this file has grown to 25 volumes occupying three feet of shelf filing space. Twenty-two volumes are over one year old. Since bank robberies have increased steadily in recent years and should this file not be destroyed, it would require considerable filing space in years to come. Numerous index cards could also be removed from the indices. In addition to the above advantages, needless duplication would be avoided since copies of summaries are in individual case files and because summaries serve no useful purpose after one year.

ST-116 REC-10 NOT RECORDED MAY 17 1974

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Baken, Cincinnati Office, advised this idea has considerable merit and would save filing space. Dissemination memoranda in the above three categories serve little or no useful purpose after appropriate Agent personnel have been alerted to modus operandi and personal appearance of subjects.

Files and Communications Division noted a review of this proposal indicates that inasmuch as copies of the summaries are contained in individual case files these copies would be designated as the record copy. Those copies in the album could be classified as being maintained for convenience purposes. Since copies of material being maintained for convenience purposes can be classified as nonrecord material, it is the opinion of the Files and Communications Division that the summaries maintained in the albums could be purged at any time their usefulness has ended. The Records Disposal Act of 1943 as amended in Title 44, Section 366-380, U.S. Code, provides that "Extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience reference..." are not included in the definition of the word "Records" and may be destroyed at will. Inasmuch as record copies are maintained in individual case files and the albums are maintained for convenience purposes, there appears to be no reason the summaries cannot be purged at any time their usefulness has ended and based on this it was recommended the idea be adopted.

Memorandum J. D. Jamieson to Mr. Jenkins

General Investigative Division stated ASAC Hogan, Cincinnati Office, telephonically advised 5/3/74, that the majority of the summaries described by the suggester are, in fact, the Forms FD-430 (Airtel for Bank Robbery ADP Entry) submitted to Cincinnati by contiguous offices such as Detroit, Louisville and Indianapolis. The summaries concerning TFIS and ITSP data are primarily airtels submitted by those same offices. No useful purpose is served by maintaining such data for extended periods of time. This Division concurred with the idea that destruction of such data after one year has merit. All offices should be so instructed, if approved.

Training Division has no objection to the approval of this idea. It is noted there is currently under consideration streamlining measures for the file retention program; however, a final decision has not been made on this matter. The current idea would be consistent with the aims of the survey.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as authority for the General Investigative Division to appropriately advise the field of the action which may be taken in this regard.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS Bureau Records - General

Re J. D. Jamieson to Mr. Jenkins memorandum 3/13/74 recommending various changes in the retention times of various administrative and noninvestigative file material in the field offices in which to provide a more exception-free and simplified file destruction program with the ultimate objective being conservation of manpower and space.

We have Archival authority for destruction of vast majority of these files. Retention period previously approved, however, varies from "when purpose served" to three years and Training Division proposes that retention period of some be shortened. We must secure Archival authority for a shorter retention period.

By way of background, law on destruction of records provides that agencies must have Archival authority to destroy records. Archives issues General Records Schedules which describe records common for all agencies and specifically describe retention period for these common records. In event records are not covered by General Records Schedules, separate Archival authority must be secured for destruction. 64-32486-

NOT RECORDED
46 JUN 19 1974

In 1946, we secured Archival authority to destroy all closed field investigative files. In 1950, we secured authority to destroy large category of field administrative and noninvestigative files. Anytime it is desired to destroy a field administrative or noninvestigative record, it is necessary to determine whether we have prior Archival authority for destruction. Likewise, in the event we desire to change the period of retention, we must determine whether new retention period is compatible with authority previously granted. This is a tremendous administrative problem. All pertinent information in a field administrative or noninvestigative file is duplicated in FBIHQ and FBIHQ files are considered to contain record copies. Accordingly, it is felt that we should make one

As stated above, we have such authority for investigative files. Acquisition of this broad authority would greatly simplify field administration of retention of administrative and noninvestigative files.

If approved, Files and Communications will submit necessary request to secure Archival approval for destruction of all administrative and noninvestigative files in the field when they have served their purpose.

SYNOPSIS:

This memorandum sets forth a proposed procedure for use by the FBI in complying with the nonpublic record and expungement provisions of the Controlled Substances Act, Title 21, United States Code, Section 844. Captioned individual represents what is probably the first instance of an expungement order, under the above act, involving an FBI arrestee. Prior consultation with Department representatives resulted in a decision that the FBI would promulgate its own procedures in these matters and submit the procedures to the Department for approval rather than be bound by the more generalized procedures set forth in Department of Justice Order 2710.7A.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum to the Department with enclosed records be approved and sent.

Memorandum to Mr. E. S. Miller

DETAILS: OTHER Pursuant to U.S.D.C. Order

Captioned matter represents what is believed to be the first instance of the issuance of an order to expunge arrest and identification records of an FBI arrestee under the provisions of Title 21, United States Code, Section 844 (b) (2).

Captioned individual was prosecuted under Section 844 of the Controlled Substances Act following his [redacted], arrest by Agents of the New Haven Office under a warrant charging violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 13 (Laws of states adopted for areas within Federal jurisdiction). Issuance of the warrant was based on reports that [redacted] had [redacted] This matter was carried under the character Crime on a Government Reservation - Possession With Intent to Sell Marijuana.

On [redacted], the Government filed an Information in the U. S. D. C., D. Connecticut, charging [redacted] with violation of Title 21, United States Code, Section 844 (a), (unlawful possession of a controlled substance /marijuana/). On [redacted], [redacted] was found guilty as charged. A judgment of guilty was not entered and the subject was placed on probation for a period not to exceed one year. On 5/8/73, U. S. D. J., D. Connecticut, Jon O. Newman found that [redacted] had not violated any of the terms of his probation, and thereafter ordered the proceedings against [redacted] dismissed and that all recordation relating to the case be expunged.

The 5/8/73, Order was received in the New Haven Office on 10/4/73, from the U. S. Attorney, New Haven. A representative of the U. S. Attorney's Office advised that the court order was "believed to have been misplaced somewhere in the U. S. D. C. Clerk's Office," thereby causing the five-month delay. On 10/31/73, New Haven advised that a New Haven Assistant U. S. Attorney had instructed that all FBI records relating to this matter were to be furnished his office per Department of Justice Order 2710.7A.

In view of the centralized nature of FBI records management, the fact that records regarding this matter were known to be on file in Bureau offices in Boston and Philadelphia, in addition to New Haven and FBIHQ, and in light of the fact that a five-month delay had ensued between the issuance of the order to expunge and our notice of it from the U. S. Attorney, New Haven, it was determined that SA [redacted] of the Legal Counsel Division should consult with appropriate Department officials in an effort to arrive at a more suitable plan for furnishing the appropriate records. b6 b7C

Under the provisions of Title 21, United States Code, Section 844 (b) (2) the subject of a Section 844 proceeding may, upon the discharge of the proceedings against him as specified under Title 21, United States Code, Section 844 (b) (1), apply for an order to expunge from all official records all recordation relating to his arrest, indictment or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge. The only records excepted from such an order to expunge are nonpublic records which are to be maintained by the Records Section, Office of Legal Administration, Department of Justice. In accordance with this record keeping authority, the Department on 10/18/73, issued Department of Justice Order ~~2710.~~ 7A, which prescribes the procedure to be followed in the retention of a nonpublic record by the Department and the expungement of official records pursuant to court order in cases like the [redacted] matter.

A copy of Department of Justice Order 2710. 7A is attached.

On 2/11/74, [redacted] of the Identification Division prepared a memorandum captioned "Controlled Substances Act, Non-public Record Pursuant to Departmental Order 2710. 7A." A copy of this memorandum is also attached. In discussing the experience of his office under the Controlled Substances Act and the Departmental Order which was drafted in response to it, Mr. [redacted] noted that the Identification Division had received three requests from the Department per Order 2710. 7A. Two of these requests concerned the expunction of fingerprint records and one request dealt with the establishment of a nonpublic file in a case. Of these requests, Mr. [redacted] noted that the Department had b6 b7C uniformly failed to provide his division with sufficient positive identifying data to enable his office to definitely identify a fingerprint record as that assigned to the individual who was the subject of the Department's request. Additionally, the arrest fingerprint card in one case had been submitted by a local law enforcement agency even though Federal prosecution under the Controlled Substances Act had eventually taken place. Finally, Mr. [redacted] noted that the Department's request that the FBI create a nonpublic record in one instance under Paragraph 6 (b) of the Departmental Order 2710.7A would require the FBI to create a new file solely for the "sealing" of such records. Such a procedure would impose an additional administrative burden on the Identification Division, and would not be of value to the Identification Division's primary function of being a central repository for dissemination of identification information.

The [redacted] matter adds another dimension to the situation mentioned above in that in the [redacted] case this Bureau not only possesses an arrest record on this individual but also possesses all the information regarding the investigation and prosecution of the Controlled Substances Act violation committed by [redacted] Meetings have been held between Mr. [redacted] of the Identification Division, SA [redacted] of the Legal Counsel Division, and Departmental Representatives [redacted] of the Department's Record Section and [redacted] of the Office of Legal Administration. As a result of these meetings, the following conclusions can be made:

1. The Department has not had enough practical experience in the creation and maintenance of nonpublic records under the Controlled Substances Act to be of specific advisory benefit to this Bureau in formulating our policies in compliance with the Act.

2. The Department representatives consulted admitted that Departmental Order 2710.7A was not intended to be an all-inclusive procedure for the creation and maintenance of nonpublic records and therefore it was recognized that certain provisions of the Order would not constitute the most efficient means for this Bureau to aid the Department in its nonpublic record maintenance program.

3. While the Department has no clear and definite ideas as to precisely the extent of information to be included in each nonpublic record, the Department representatives indicated that the furnishing of the FBI

CONTINUED - OVER

Identification Record and the fingerprint record regarding the arrest which led to the ordering of the nonpublic record would in all probability be all that it is required from the FBI. This includes cases in which the subject was an FBI arrestee.

4. It was concluded that the FBI would draft what it deemed to be the most effective program for the FBI to follow in complying with the Act and Departmental Order 2710.7A. It was agreed that this proposal, along with the pertinent FBI records regarding [redacted], would be submitted to the Department and upon approval would constitute a statement of the FBI's procedures in this area under Departmental Order 2710.7A.

It is felt that the following procedure sets forth the most practical way to effectively comply with the requirements of the Controlled Substances Act as it pertains to FBI records.

1. The Department should be advised that all requests for FBI fingerprint identification records and rap sheets are to be directed to the FBI Identification Division along with sufficient identifying data to insure that a positive identification can be made.

2. Upon receipt of the Department request, the Identification Division will conduct an indices check under the name of the subject. If this check reveals that the arrest, which led to the individual's prosecution under the Controlled Substances Act was not the subject of an FBI investigation, the Identification Division would retain sole responsibility for complying with the Departmental request for expunction or nonpublic record procedure. Under no circumstances will the Identification Division set up a separate nonpublic record identification file. When such requests are received, the fingerprint card regarding the arrest in question will be submitted to the Department's Office of Records Management and that fact will be recorded via a notation made in the Identification Division's card index file. In those instances where the arrest which was the subject of the Controlled Substances Act prosecution was made by another Federal agency, the Identification Division will notify the submitting agency that the fingerprint card regarding that arrest has been forwarded to the Records Branch of the Department in accordance with Title 21, United States Code, Section 844, as implemented by Departmental Order 2710.7A.

3. In those instances where the arrest fingerprint card was submitted by a non-Federal law enforcement agency even though the subject was later prosecuted federally under the Controlled Substances Act, the Identification Division will direct a letter to the submitting law enforcement agency advising it that the record has been ordered to be made part of a nonpublic record under the provisions of Title 21, United States Code, Section 844 (b) (1). This letter will formally notify the submitting agency of the transfer of the fingerprint card in question to the Records Branch of the Department of Justice by the FBI, of the deletion of that arrest information from the files of the FBI Identification Division and advise the contributor of the fingerprint card that any further correspondence regarding that fingerprint card should be directed to the Records Branch of the Department of Justice.

4. In those instances where the subject of the nonpublic record request or expunction order was an FBI arrestee, the Identification Division will furnish a copy of the request or order to the Division responsible for supervising the classification under which the crime was investigated. The responsible investigative division, upon review of the Bureau files in that case should notify all field offices maintaining records in that investigation. The field offices should be instructed to submit all records, including field office index cards regarding that investigation to FBIHQ. In addition, the Identification Division will submit the arrest fingerprint card and Identification Record to the FBIHQ Division handling the Bureau case.

Additionally, the Division responsible for supervising the classification involved would be required to compile, for the information of the Department's Records Section, Office of Legal Administration, a listing of those agencies to whom we disseminated information regarding the investigation.

Upon receipt of the records at FBIHQ, the fingerprint card and Identification Record regarding the arrest in question will be furnished the Department's Record Section, along with an executed Department of Justice Form 329 (Certificate of Expungement), and all Bureau records regarding that arrest shall be destroyed. This record destruction function should be the responsibility of the Files and Communications Division. The Files and Communications Division should create a control file to maintain the Bureau copies of Department of Justice Form 329 in an alphabetical or chronological basis, whichever is more practical. Additionally, the Files and Communications Division should retain the subject's index card in its General Index, Records Section, with a notation reflecting that the file in question has been expunged in accordance with a court order per Title 21, United States Code, Section 844. In order to prevent any possible interpretation that the expungement of the subject's file came as a result of a "skip" or "miss" in our numerical file sequence, a provision should be made by the Files and Communications Division to place a notice in the file cabinet that the file in question has been expunged in accordance with a court order.

5. Any record check thereafter conducted under the subject's name would not disclose a record of the Controlled Substances Act prosecution either in our Files and Communications Division or the Identification Division. All we will retain will be the previously mentioned nondescriptive file control notices to be maintained by the Files and Communications Division and the expungement notation in the Identification Division's card index file. The above notations, which would seem to be permissible under the Act, would also serve as proof that on a date certain the FBI had expunged its records regarding the arrest in question. Such proof would be of value in meeting any allegation that this Bureau had failed to comply with a court order issued under the Act. Whereas, a total lack of records noting the expungement would materially hinder our ability to prove that we had complied with an expungement order under the Act.

Legal Counsel does not believe that our destruction of files not supplied to the Department per Departmental Order 2710.7A would require this Bureau to seek case-by-case authority for such record destruction per Title 44, United States Code, Chapter 33 (Disposal of Records). Title 21, United States Code, Section 844 (Controlled Substances Act), was enacted following the most recent revision of the general record disposal procedures under Title 44, United States Code, Chapter 33, and we may safely conclude that the specific expungement requirements of the Controlled Substances Act supersede and are an exception to general records disposal procedures cited previously.

It is Legal Counsel's opinion that the previously outlined procedures, if agreed to by the affected Divisions, and acceptable to the Department, constitute an efficient method by which the FBI can comply with the requirements of expungement orders issued under the Controlled Substances Act, while, at the same time, causing the least possible degree of dislocation in our present record keeping procedures.

SUBJECT: DESTROYING FILES IN FIELD DIVISIONS
SUGGESTION 16-75 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] b6 b7C
PHILADELPHIA OFFICE

SUGGESTION: Suggests unknown subject (Unsub) files in an office of origin (OO) for classifications 9 (Extortion), 31 (White Slave Traffic Act), and 47 (Impersonation) be included in existing rule for the destruction of Unsub files in classifications 15, 52, 70 and 87, i.e., destroyed when five years old if certain conditions are met.

GENERAL / BUREAU PROPERTY

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester states files may not be destroyed until 20 years old (Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, a, page 13).

ADVANTAGES: Mr. [redacted] believes each field office would retrieve a great amount of file space in the closed file section and this destruction would amount to an undetermined monetary savings in each office. b6 b7C

OBSERVATIONS: Office of Legal Counsel had no objection to the idea but deferred to the substantive division with regard to the need for retention of any files.

General Investigative Division recommended this idea be given favorable consideration pointing out that it would appear that Unsub 9, 31 and 47 cases although they involve "victims" instead of crimes against property (15, 26, 52, 70 and 87 classifications), would not normally, after passage of five years, retain any greater import just because of their nature. This is especially true in view of the fact that the Statute of Limitations would run after five years. Should the Unsub cases in these three classifications be included under the five-year rule, destruction of the pertinent files would still be subject to supervisory review with any doubtful cases submitted to FBIHQ for final consideration.

Files and Communications Division advises the Bureau has Archival approval for such destruction as long as reports have been sent to FBIHQ.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF OBSOLETE CLERICAL BADGES

General Destruction of Bureau Property -

Several years ago, at the request of the Administrative Division, arrangements were made with the Food and Drug Administration to burn obsolete clerical badges in their Pathological Incinerator. Obsolete badges were accumulated in our crypto-vault until such time as there was a sufficient number to warrant a trip to the incinerator. Badges were then transported to and placed in the incinerator by personnel of this Section in the sealed containers in which they were received.

Since that time, several badges believed to have been placed in the incinerator have been turned in to the FBI. One such badge, recently received, belonged to Mr. [redacted] of the Identification Division, who turned in this badge approximately a year ago. Mr. [redacted], General Services Administration Supervising Engineer, advises that in his opinion, nothing can escape the incinerator without being totally destroyed inasmuch as the material passes through several destruction chambers over 1/4" shaker grates. When the material is sufficiently destroyed it falls through the grates into a water bath where it is removed by a chain conveyor and sold as top soil conditioner for agricultural purposes. Mr. [redacted] also advises that during the period in question there was no breakdown of his equipment that required the destruction process to be stopped and nothing could have been removed from the incinerator.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Based on my memorandum 6-6-74, request for authority to destroy administrative and non-investigative records in field which are duplicated in entirety or substance at FBIHQ when purpose served was forwarded to Acting Assistant Attorney General for Administration 6-17-74. Department was requested to forward our request to National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration. By routing slip 7-24-74, Archives returned our request bearing approval of Archivist of the United States. Approval which is on Standard Form 115 is attached.

This authority coupled with authority previously received for destruction of closed field investigative files now gives us authority to destroy all field files when we feel purpose has been served.

Dear Miss [redacted]

The suggestion submitted by you has been received regarding the disposition of all files in all classifications after five years. You may be interested to know the matter is currently under active consideration and studies are being conducted by FBI Headquarters.

Although prior action was being taken in this instance, I appreciate having the benefit of your thoughts on this subject.

By memorandum P. F. O'Connell to Mr. Marshall dated 6/6/74 captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records," our current policy regarding the destruction of field files was set out and it was noted we have Archival authority for destruction of vast majority of various administrative and noninvestigative file material. Retention periods previously approved; however, vary from "when purpose served" to three years; therefore, Archival approval had to be secured for a shorter retention period. When we desire to change the period of retention, we must determine whether new retention period is compatible with authority previously granted. This is a tremendous administrative problem. All pertinent information in a field administrative or noninvestigative file is duplicated at FBIHQ and FBIHQ files are considered to contain record copies. It was pointed out that acquisition of this broad authority would greatly simplify field administration of retention of administrative and noninvestigative files. It was approved that Archival authority be obtained for disposition of all administrative and noninvestigative files in field when they have served their purpose. In addition, a trial is currently underway in four California offices to determine the feasibility of destruction of all files in auxiliary offices after they are referred upon completion. Due to the foregoing observations, Training Division recommends no further action regarding the current proposal.

#75-75

Employee, through the Streamlining Committee, Files and Communications Division, has suggested that copies of Justice Department Press Releases more than four years old in file 94-8-3-A be destroyed. These press releases are filed in date order as Not Recorded Mail and there is no indexing in this file.

The file started in 1938 with a few newspaper clippings and thereafter copies of Justice Department Press Releases have been filed with no indexing. If the press release is pertinent to a Bureau case or to the Bureau in some other fashion, a copy is designated as file copy by the Agent Supervisor and is marked for indexing if any is indicated. It is then filed in the appropriate case file.

A discussion with Special Agent T. J. Harrington of the Press Office, External Affairs Division, determined that he could see no reason for retaining any of these for more than four years or the period of time necessary to cover a current Attorney General. A review of files indicated that those copies maintained in 94-8-3-A could be classified as convenience copies and would be, therefore, nonrecord material. The Records Disposal Act of 1943 as amended in Title 44, Section 366-380, U.S.C., provides that "Extra copies of documents preserved only for convenient reference....." are not included in the definition of the word "Records" and may be destroyed at will.

Re: [redacted]
Streamlining Committee Suggestion

b6
b7C

The Streamlining Committee recommended unanimously that this suggestion be adopted and the Justice Department Press Releases more than four years old be destroyed. They also recommended that prior to destroying, approval be obtained from the Press Office, External Affairs Division. If adopted approximately one half drawer of filing space would be recovered for future use.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. For referral to the Press Office, External Affiars Division, for their comments.

2. If approved, Mrs. [redacted] be thanked by letter for her suggestion. Monetary savings would be negligible; therefore, no reward appears necessary. Appropriate letter to the suggester is attached.

3. On approval, this memorandum will serve as authority for the Files and Communications Division to place the proposed procedure into effect.

ADDENDUM, EXTERNAL AFFAIRS DIVISION TJH:asg 8/9/74

The Press Services Office is in full agreement with this suggestion and recommends that it be adopted.

SUBJECT: FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT
PROPOSED AMENDMENTS
H.R. 12004
Destruction of Bureau Property

Remymemo 7/23/74 recommending that SA Richard D. Cotter, Document Classification Officer, accompany Assistant Attorney General Rakestraw of the Office of Legislative Affairs, during latter's appearance before House Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Government Information to present Department's views on H. R. 12004. This legislation would revise Federal classification system.

R. D. Cotter

Mr. Rakestraw, accompanied by SA Cotter and Mr. James H. Wentzel of the Office of Legislative Affairs, testified 7/25/74. A copy of the stenographic minutes is attached (Rakestraw's testimony is set out on pages 218-272). Rakestraw deferred several questions to Cotter with regard to classification procedures and these are included from page 251 to page 269. In line with accepted procedures, Cotter has made various grammatical and editorial changes in the text.

Members of Subcommittee asked that additional material be prepared for the record, including following two points which arose during Cotter's testimony:

(1) The criminal penalties involved with regard to the destruction of Government records. Congressman McCloskey inquired as to whether classified material could be destroyed and he was advised that in this respect the FBI followed the various regulations established by the National Archives relating to the destruction of record material. McCloskey then inquired as to whether it was a crime to destroy records without the concurrence of Archives and he was advised that further information would be furnished in this regard. Following the exchange McCloskey commented that he was curious as to why former Acting FBI Director Gray had not been prosecuted (in connection with his admitted destruction of certain documents he had been given by former White House Counsel John Dean).

It is noted that the Bureau's Legal Counsel prepared a memorandum dated 5/1/73 in the Watergate case in which he outlined possible violations involved in the Dean-Gray transaction. Legal Counsel noted several possible violations of statutes depending upon whether or not the documents were Government property or the personal property of a White House employee and whether or not documents were of evidentiary value. Legal Counsel noted that if the material were U.S. Government property, violation of Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 641 (Destruction of Government Property) might exist. By letter 5/4/73 from Mr. Ruckelshaus to Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, we requested approval to conduct certain inquiries regarding circumstances of Dean-Gray transaction. Department never responded to this communication nor has the Special Prosecutor requested any FBI inquiries along these lines. Question of Gray's culpability is still pending with Special Prosecutor so far as we know.

(2) An estimate as to difference in cost in handling Top Secret and Confidential material. In this regard, it has been our long-standing practice to maintain classified material (including Top Secret, Secret and Confidential) in the same manner as unclassified material and without any compartmentalization. We do not maintain special vaults or safe cabinets for the storage of classified information, as most agencies do. Instead, we keep all of our files under periodic surveillance (either by appropriate supervisors during working hours or by security patrols during non-business hours.) This system, in lieu of special safe-type cabinets, is specifically provided for in Departmental regulations implementing Executive Order 11652. As result, there is actually little difference in handling costs between unclassified and classified information in the FBI.

ACTION: Attached transcript should be routed to Inspector Bowers of External Affairs Division for delivery to Department's Office of Legislative Affairs. The submission of the two additional items for the record will be handled by separate memorandum.

Declined to OLA 8-14-74 [illegible]

In responding to Mr. McCloskey's inquiry concerning the destruction of classified information, we will limit our answer to pertinent regulations dealing with maintenance and disposal of record material (as set out in Title 44, U.S. Code, Sections 3101-3314).

4 Rep.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

No destruction of serials in 134, 137 and 170 files allowed.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

A sampling review of the files of the Newark Division, falling within these catagories reflect a savings of closed file space of between 10 and 15 percent of actual closed files or more than 10 percent of 26 five drawer cabinets amounting to three file cabinets or more, representing 21 sq. ft. of floor space @ $10.50 per sq. ft. rental per year.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILE MATERIAL
SUGGESTION 90-75 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted]
NEWARK OFFICE

SYNOPSIS

O Bureau Records General

Proposes destruction of serials which do not identify source in field files of Security Informants, Criminal Informants and Extremist Informants where file is over five years old or serials showing negative contacts, in all files over two years old, as well as serials in closed files over five years old that reflect information which is duplicated in file by report, letterhead memorandum (LHM) or disseminated to substantive file. The objective of this procedure would be saving of file space.

Special Investigative Division had no objection to destruction of serials reflecting negative contacts in criminal informant files or other types of serials in such files as long as there remains in file the basic background data of the individual. Intelligence Division believed the idea had some merit with respect to Form FD-209 (Memorandum for Recording Contacts with Criminal, Extremist and Security Informants) which merely show a contact made with source and no information obtained. Files and Communications pointed out we do not have Archival authority to destroy material in pending files and it is doubtful if volume of negative contact serials would warrant securing this authority. Training Division discussed this matter with supervisors of Washington Field Office who felt that destruction of serials in informant files after a five-year period which are duplicates of material in the substantive file would not be a good practice. Any anticipated saving of space would be outweighed by the effort needed to strip the files. With respect to Forms FD-209 or other memoranda which report purely negative contact, there is no apparent reason why this could not be done after a two-year period; however, in many instances informants are interviewed about numerous matters and the average FD-209 would probably reflect both positive and negative contacts. Since we cannot destroy results of a positive contact, it follows the time and effort to separate the negative from the positive would not be worth the effort. Training Division believes the idea should not be approved.

Re: Destruction of File Material
Suggestion 90-75 Submitted By

DETAILS

SUGGESTION: Proposes destruction of serials which do not identify source in field files of 134 (Security Informants), 137 (Criminal Informants) and 170 (Extremist Informants) classifications, where file is over five years old or serials showing negative contacts, in all files over two years old, as well as serials in closed files over five years old, that reflect information which is duplicated in file, by report, LH M or disseminated to substantive file.

Suggester states in reviewing closed files in these classifications, he noted that numerous serials in the closed field files are totally negative in nature. These seria show merely that a contact was made and no identifying data on the source or positive data was furnished. Many of the serials reviewed have information which is duplicated in exac wordage in serials elsewhere in the file, such as LHMs, reports, Forms FD-221a or justification letters to the Bureau. In addition, many serials in files closed five years or longer are disseminated to substantive files, indexed there, and are merely a duplication of paper in the source file. Several files carried indications that the former sources wer deceased and these files, five years or older, could be stripped of all serials except identifying data.

Files closed more than two years, or with totally negative contacts, such as on Forms FD-209 (Memorandum for Recording Contacts with Criminal, Extremist and Security Informants), two years old or older in pending volumes, could be stripped of these serials also. This would allow these serials to be available during the most recent inspection, or last two inspections, then destroyed. A file with these serials destroyed, upon being reactivated, as some are occasionally, would have no less necessary information within the file than if the serials would be still in existence. The value of the file would be no less with these serials destroyed and would in no way hinder a judgment on th value of the source at any time in the future. With these serials destroyed, the Newark Office would save considerable space in storage of files and a total amount of space in storage of files and a total amount of space saved Bureau wide.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester states no destruction of serials in these classifications is permitted.

ADVANTAGES: A savings of closed file space of between 10 and 15 percent of actual closed files or more than 10 percent of 26 file drawer cabinets amount to

Memorandum J. D. Jamieson to Mr. Jenkins

Suggestion 90-75 Submitted By

three file cabinets or more representing 21 sq. ft. of floor space at $10.50 per sq. ft. rental per year.

OBSERVATIONS: Special Investigative Division had no objection to the destruction in the field of serials reflecting negative contacts in criminal informant files, or other types of serials in these files so long as there remains in the file the basic background data of the individual. This latter information would be essential if he will again be used as an informant at some later date. It should also be noted that all pertinent background information along with the productivity and payment records are maintained on a permanent basis at FBIHQ.

Intelligence Division advised it appeared this idea has some merit with respect to Forms FD-209 in field files which merely show a contact made with source and no information obtained. A review of the Manual of Rules and Regulations reveals that these classifications are maintained for a period of 20 years. It states that destruction of files and records are under provisions of Title 44, USCA, Section 369. It also states the head of an agency may recommend certain files to be destroyed if their further preservation is of no value. This Division believed Legal Counsel Division should possibly review these files and recommend whether further consideration is necessary.

Inspection Division believed any authorization for destruction of serials in these classification should be limited to those serials which report completely negative contacts. Serials which contain information, even though it is subsequently reported in case files, LHMs, reports, etc., should not be destroyed. The serial recording the information is the original recording and should be retained so that it may be later referre to for verification of what has been recorded. It was agreed those serials containing completely negative contacts could be destroyed without affecting the ability of a reviewer to assess the value of the source. Retaining the negative contacts for a two-year period would permit both supervisor and Inspector's Aide to determine that contacts are being regularly made and the source is being properly handled. It was recommended this idea be approved to the extent that serials reporting completely negative contacts with sources be destroyed after a two-year period.

Files and Communications Division noted the Bureau has Archival authority to destroy closed field investigative files at any time. Time limit on retention is within Bureau's discretion. Accordingly, we can approve destruction of any material in closed files once file has been closed. We do not, however, have Archival authority to destroy material in pending field files. Further Archival authority will be necessary to do so. It

Re: Destruction of File Material
Suggestion 90-75 Submitted By b6 b7C
SA [redacted]

is doubtful that volume of negative contact serials in pending files would warrant securing Archival authority. It would seem if a file was pending for more than two years, there should be relatively few negative contact serials and that time and effort to review, remov and destroy such serials would not be commensurate with space saved. Any material of any substance in closed files in these classifications is duplicated in FBIHQ files. Accordingly, field copies are for convenience of reference by field. Records Section deferred to judgment of the substantive desks handling these classifications as to type of information which should be retained by field.

Since Training Division had some doubt about the destruction of the materia as proposed, this matter was discussed with supervisors of Washington Field Office who advised destroying serials in informant files after a five-year period which are duplicates of material in the substantive file would not be a good practice. Any anticipated saving of space would be outweighed by the effort needed to strip the files. With respect to destroying Forms FD-209 or other memoranda in informants' files which report purely negative contact, there is no apparent reason that this could not be done after a two-year period; however, in many instances informants are interviewed about numerous matters and the average FD-209 would probably reflect both positive and negative contacts. Since we cannc destroy the results of a positive contact, it follows that the time and effort to separate the negative from the positive is not worth the effort. Due to these observations, Training Division believes the idea should not be approved.

ADDENDUM

In reviewing a sampling of closed 134, 137 and 170 files, it is noted that numerous serials in the close field files are totally negative in nature. These serials show merely that a contact was made and no identifying data on the source or positive info was furnished.

Many of the serials reviewed have info that is duplicated, in exact wordage, in serials elsewhere in the file, such as in LHM's, reports, FD 221a or justification letters to the Bureau. In addition, many serials in files closed five years or longer, are disseminated to substantive files, indexed there, and are merely a duplication of paper in the source file.

Several files carried indications that the former sources were deceased, and these files, five years or older, could be stripped of all serials except identifying data.

Files closed more than two years, or with totally negative contacts, such as on FD 209's, two years old or older in pending volumes, could be stipped of these serials also. This would allow these serials to be available during the most recent inspection, or last two inspections, then destroyed. A file with these serials destroyed, upon being re-activated, as some are occasionally, would have no less necessary information within the file than if the serials would be still in existence. The value of the file would be no less with these serials destroyed and would in no way hinder a judgment on the value of the source, at any time in the future. With these serials destroyed, the Newark Office would save considerable space in storage of files, and a total amount of space saved Bureau wide, could not be evaluated by the Newark Division. Those Bureau offices having a closed file storage problem, would be allowed more space for expansion.

Thank you for the suggestion regarding the disposition of certain serials in files of a particular type. After consideration by the interested divisions at FBI Headquarters, it has been decided this proposal should not be approved since it was felt the time and effort required to separate and purge this material would more than outweigh any anticipated saving of space.

I appreciate the interest you displayed in submitting this idea to me.

FROM : R. D. COTTER

SUBJECT: FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT
PROPOSED AMENDMENTS
H. R. 12004 Destruction of Bureau Records

Reference memorandum A. B. Fulton to Wannall, 8/8/74, reporting testimony of Assistant Attorney General Vincent Rakestraw of the Office of Legislative Affairs before the House Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Government Information. Rakestraw presented the Department's views on H. R. 12004, a bill which would revise the Federal classification system. As indicated in referenced memorandum, Rakestraw was accompanied by SA R. D. Cotter, FBI Document Classification Officer, to whom he deferred various questions.

Members of the Subcommittee asked that additional material be submitted for the record on two points which arose during Cotter's testimony: (1) Federal regulations governing the destruction of Government records and the possible applicability of criminal penalties; (2) an estimate as to the cost differences in handling "Top Secret" and "Confidential" material in the FBI.

A letterhead memorandum (attached) has been prepared setting forth additional information on these two subjects. On the question of destruction of records, our letterhead memorandum cites the overall responsibility of the Administrator of General Services for establishing procedures on the proper disposal of Federal records (as set forth in Title 44, U. S. Code). We have also called attention to the possible applicability of Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 641 which prohibits unauthorized disposal of such records and Title 18, Section 2071, which prohibits unlawful destruction of Government records.

Concerning the handling of "Top Secret" as opposed to "Confidential" material, the attached letterhead memorandum spells out our long-established stress on the confidentiality of all FBI investigative files, over and above any classification assigned. We call attention to the fact that all FBI employees are hired only after a thorough background inquiry and interview, are cleared for access to "Top Secret." Accordingly, no compartmentalization of our files by classification is required and, in effect, all of our investigative files are stored the same with the exception of certain minor exceptions (e. g. communications intelligence data). The letterhead memorandum cites additional precautions taken by the Bureau in disseminating "Top Secret" and "Secret" data but points out that the costs are very minimal, especially in view of the very limited amount of such data originated by the FBI.

TESTIMONY OF ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL VINCENT RAKESTRAW BEFORE THE HOUSE SUBCOMMITTEE ON FOREIGN OPERATIONS AND GOVERNMENT INFORMATION, JULY 25, 1974

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Pursuant to the request of members of the Subcommittee, the following additional information is submitted for the record with respect to the testimony of Special Agent Richard D. Cotter, FBI Document Classification Officer, who accompanied Mr. Rakestraw during his appearance before the Subcommittee on July 25, 1974.

1. Congressman McCloskey requested that additional information be supplied as to regulations governing the destruction of Government records. Overall responsibility for establishing Federal procedure relative to the proper disposal of Federal records is vested in the Administrator of General Services as set forth in Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3301-3314, which prescribes that records of the United States Government may not be alienated or destroyed except under this chapter. No specific penalties are provided for violations of existing regulations. In practice, the Administrator of General Services has delegated this responsibility to the National Archives and Records Service.

The destruction of Government records could constitute a violation of Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 641, which provides punishment for whoever without authority disposes of any record, voucher, money, or thing of value to the United States, or of any department or agency thereof, or any property made or being made under contract for the United States or any department or agency thereof. It could also constitute a violation of Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 2071, which provides penalties for the willful and unlawful destruction of records filed or deposited with any public office or officer of the United States.

NOT RECORDED

2. Congressman Moss, Chairman of the Subcommittee, requested that additional information be furnished as to the comparative costs in the FBI of handling "Top Secret" and "Confidential" material. In this respect, certain preliminary comments are necessary by way of background.

Testimony of Assistant Attorney General Vincent Rakestraw

It has been a long-standing rule in the FBI that in order to properly discharge the serious responsibilities imposed on us, maintain the confidence of persons furnishing information to us, and protect the privacy of individuals who might be the subject of unfounded allegations, the confidential character of FBI investigative files must be preserved.

The disclosure of FBI reports, except under the most stringent safeguards, would reveal the identity of sensitive sources of information and, if it did not place the lives of such persons in actual jeopardy, it would likely destroy their future value and effectiveness. The disclosure of our files would make otherwise patriotic citizens reluctant to furnish information and, in many instances, could prove of considerable advantage to hostile foreign intelligence or domestic subversive elements, or to unlawful and criminal elements. Moreover, such disclosure could injure the reputations or well-being of individuals connected with the investigation who are entirely innocent of any wrongdoing.

Accordingly, it has been our established policy to treat all FBI investigative files as confidential in character and as deserving of careful protection from unauthorized disclosure. This policy was in effect long before the creation of a Federal classification system in 1951 under Executive Order 10290.

All FBI employees are afforded a thorough background investigation and a detailed interview before they are hired to insure their discretion, reliability and trustworthiness. Tight discipline is maintained and a strict need-to-know principle is enforced with respect to the handling or dissemination of all data concerning FBI investigations, both within and outside the Bureau. Prompt and stringent administrative action is taken in any instances involving a breach of this principle.

The very nature of the FBI's operations and the heavy volume of our work, including the handling of hundreds of thousands of file checks annually, make it essential that all our employees have ready access, on a need-to-know basis, to the data in our files, including information which may be classified. Any attempt to compartmentalize our files or our staff into different categories of storage or access would seriously impair and delay our handling of the Bureau's responsibilities and would also result in major additional costs, both for extra personnel and otherwise.

Testimony of Assistant Attorney General Vincent Rakestraw

All FBI employees are cleared for information up to and including "Top Secret" on a need-to-know basis in the performance of their duties. Moreover, all Bureau investigative files are maintained under continuous security and accountability procedures, including periodic surveillance by a small but mobile security patrol force when they are not under the supervision of our regular staff during business hours. Accordingly, we do not provide separate storage facilities for classified material, including "Top Secret" information, with the exception of certain selective and relatively small categories of documents requiring special protection under various National Security Council directives and other agency requirements (e.g. communications intelligence data).

Certain differences exist in the transmission of FBI documents containing differing levels of sensitive or classified information. "Top Secret" items being transmitted to other agencies are individually packaged, appropriately marked, and a register is maintained to provide accountability. "Secret" material is transmitted in a separate envelope, appropriately designated, and a register is also kept on all such documents. Within the Bureau, all "Top Secret" correspondence must be routed in envelopes. The additional costs involved in these regulations are minimal, however.

In fact, classified documents represent a comparatively small percentage of the total number of documents originated by the FBI. While no exact figures are available, it is estimated that less than five percent of our reports and other correspondence are classified. Of the classified material, some eighty percent is classified "Confidential," approximated y twenty percent "Secret," and less than one percent "Top Secret."

SUBJECT: S. 3921
H.R. 16655
RECORDS MANAGEMENT ACT
TWO BILLS TO AMEND TITLE 44,
UNITED STATES CODE, TO STRENGTHEN THE AUTHORITY OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF GENERAL SERVICES WITH RESPECT TO RECORDS MANAGEMENT BY FEDERAL AGENCIES, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES
Destruction of Bureau Property
General

In reference to A. B. Fulton to W. R. Wannall memorandum dated 10/1/74, the comments and observations of the Files and Communications Division concerning captioned bills have been requested.

The Senate and House bills accomplish the same goal, that is the policies contained in the present law, Chapter 27 through 31, Title 44, United States Code, are combined into one chapter. Neither of these Acts, if passed, should work to the detriment of the Bureau's records management and custodial practices. It would or should not in any way effect the destruction of material or the disposal of records under our records management program. The only change of any importance is in the area of the inspection of the records by the Administrator of General Services Administration or his authorized representative. Presently, and as proposed by the House bill, the Administrator promulgates regulations concerning inspection but permits must be granted by the head of the agency whose records are to be examined. The Senate version of the new law, Section 2704(d)(2), Title 44, would transfer approval from the head of the agency to the Executive Office of the President. Depending upon the situation, this could or could not bring about some small controversy in examination of the records. It is not believed it would materially effect the FBI's records because this inspection is supposed to be made for the purpose of assisting the agency in its records management program. 66-3286

The file covers of the consolidated volumes destroyed could be marked "All files destroyed with the exception of the enclosed per MRR." At the present time the file cover in this office is being marked to show the date of the Bulet which authorized the destruction and the file number of the administrative file wherein Bulet located. Having this listed with other annual destruction would give better insurance in not skipping it unintentionally.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Thank you for the suggestion regarding a procedure for use in connection with the disposition of mail and index cards in certain classifications involving numerous serials. After evaluation, it has been decided our current procedures are preferred since the action mentioned by you is taken when the names in a serial are arranged alphabetically and it has been found to be more efficient to write duplicate cards when the names are spread throughout the serials.

I appreciate the interest which prompted you to submit your idea to me.

original 3- by 5-inch cards could then be checked against the mail in one process instead of the two which are being used at the present ttime.

Files and Communications Division advised the current and long-time practice used when lists of names are involved is as proposed. The serial containing the list of names is taken to the indices and the cards are pulled from the list, especially if the names are arranged alphabetically. In those instance where the indexed names are spread throughout the serials, not in alphabetical order and with the great volume of mail involved through the purging of files at FBIHQ, it has been found to be more efficient not to take the mail into the indices. The writing up of duplicate 3- by 5-inch cards, to be arranged alphabetically to expedite the accurate pulling of cards is more efficient. Inasmuch as we already pull purged cards using the serial when an alphabetized list of names is involved and it has been found to be more efficient to write duplicate cards which are arranged alphabetically, the adoption of this idea was not recommended. Due to these views, Training Division recommends the proposal not be approved.

SUGGESTION

The change of procedure with regards to the destruction of mail and index cards in certain classifications involving numerous serials (75 to 200 per file). The mail which can be destroyed could be taken to the indices instead of the hand written 3x5 cards. These hand written cards could be eliminated and the original 3x5 cards could be searched and pulled according to the subject or subjects and the serial number on the mail. The original 3x5 cards could then be checked against the mail in one process instead of the two which are being used at present.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY
GENERAL

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

3x5's are hand written for each subject or subjects for each serial. They are then used in searching for the original 3x5's. Mail destroyed after 3x5 made and checked. Cards destroyed after found &nck.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Hand written 3x5 cards would be eliminated. The unit production average for writing these cards varies from 36 to 53 per hour depending on the classification. 3x5's could be found by the mail.

Checking the hand written 3x5's with the mail would be eliminated. This would create the need for only one check which brings about very good advantages in itself. Checking the original 3x5's with the mail would clarify the subjects names on serials that are either not clear due to damage and repair or due to a number of variations or aliases that may or not be indexed.

Man hours could be saved by not only the elimination of the hand written cards but also by the time it takes to check them against the mail.

Disadvantages of suggestion

ST-117

This procedure would depend upon the amount of room needed for the extra employees who would be using the indices.

External Affairs Division agreed with foregoing views. It noted a review of the files disclosed the material contained therein has no historical value and is serving no present-day purpose. Further, valuable filing space would be saved.

While a savings is set forth, it is not sufficient for consideration of an incentive award so it is believed a letter of commendation is appropriate in this instance. Training Division recommends the idea be approved.

TO : Mr. Jenkins

DATE: 10/3/74

FROM : John W. Marshall

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

By memorandum from Mr. Jenkins to Mr. Callahan, dated 12/5/73, under the same caption, the Training Division proposed revisions of existing destruction rules for closed and referred-upon-completion (RUC) files in the field to provide the most exception-free and simplified file-destruction program possible. The ultimate objectives are, of course, to save manpower and conserve filing space in the field.

The revisions proposed were evaluated by the Administrative, Files and Communications, Intelligence, General Investigative, Special Investigative and Inspection Divisions plus the Office of Planning and Evaluation. These divisions furnished some additional comments for the clarification and/or amendment of the proposed revised program.

Following is a revised proposed file-destruction program incorporating the views of the divisions mentioned. It is believed this revised version covers the objections and pitfalls cited by them in their consideration of the original proposals. It is noted that, under the proposed program, as under present rules, destruction of a file will not be accomplished summarily or arbitrarily simply because a file has satisfied the prescribed retention requirement since discretion must be exercised if the file contains material of continuing value from an investigative, intelligence or historical aspect or there are other ramifications which would militate against its destruction. In this regard, if there is any doubt concerning the feasibility of destroying any file in an auxiliary office, that office will consult the office of origin. Similarly, if there is any doubt about destruction of a file in an office of origin, that office will consult FBIHQ prior to taking action. Further, since the Bureau is office of origin in some classifications, primarily applicant-type cases, and since the present retention period in the field with respect to Bureau Applicant cases is ten years, it is believed that uniformity will be achieved if the retention period for auxiliary offices (namely, the field) in all cases in which the Bureau is office of origin be made a flat ten years. This will correspond, as noted, to present retention rule for Bureau Applicant cases and will provide a rule that Special Investigative Division, which handles other applicant-type classifications, can live with.

Memorandum John W. Marshall to Mr. Jenkins
Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records

There were two other objections to the proposed revisions, one by the Intelligence Division and the other by the Legal Counsel Division.

The Intelligence Division argued that files relating to internal security and foreign intelligence matters have a continuing value for intelligence purposes and, in the division's experience, constant reference is being made to files which are considerably older than 10 years old. The division feared that, if destruction after 10 years was made discretionary from office to office and was based on judgment values from office to office, there will be some field personnel who will not see future value in 10-year-old security-intelligence files. The division felt that such destruction should be based only on prior Bureau approval. It conceded, however, that such objections applied only to office of origin files, not to auxiliary office files and added that, of course, any file could be destroyed after 10 years provided anything contained in it was also on file at FBIHQ.

To satisfy this objection, the proposed revisions will specifically stipulate that security files may be destroyed by the office of origin after 10 years provided the Bureau has been advised of and has recorded all the pertinent information contained in them.

Legal Counsel Division questioned whether we have authority to destroy administrative and noninvestigative records in the field. Files and Communications Division advised that we had Archival approval for destruction of a vast majority of these files; however, the retention periods previously approved, varied from "when purposes served" to three years. We must secure Archival authority to shorten the retention period. Accordingly, Files and Communications Division requested Archival approval to destroy administrative and noninvestigative records in the field which are duplicated in entirety or in substance at FBIHQ when the purposes for which the records were prepared have been served. By memorandum 7/26/74, Files and Communications Division advised that approval had been received from the Archivist of the United States on Standard Form 115. This authority compiled with authority previously received for destruction of closed field investigative files now gives the FBI authority to destroy all field files which are duplicated in entirety or in substance at FBIHQ.

Accordingly, it is now proposed:

A. Files and records to be destroyed when 90 days old
   1. Carbon copy of printout produced by NCIC terminal-retain previous month plus current month
   2. Daily Report of Chief Clerk's Office - FD-127
   3. Encoded messages

D. Files and records to be destroyed when 5 years old if following conditions are met.
1. Investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices provided files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes or if the case is one in which the Bureau is office of origin. In Bureau origin cases, retain 10 years.
2. Dead files in all classifications if of no continuing value.
3. Zero files in all classifications if of no continuing value.

E. Files and records to be destroyed when 10 years old
1. Investigative files in all classifications, except security classifications, in offices of origin provided the files are of no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes. In security classifications the files may be destroyed only if all the pertinent information therein has been made a matter of record at the Bureau.

2. Investigative files in auxiliary offices in cases in which Bureau is office of origin.

If there is any doubt concerning the destruction of the above material by an auxiliary office, it should consult the office of origin. If there is any doubt about the destruction of a file in an office of origin, that office should consult the Bureau.

With respect to the mechanics of the file destruction in the field, existing regulations place responsibility on Special Agent supervisory personnel for the destruction of files. The Chief Clerk's Office (CCO) pulls files for destruction, delivers them to the Agent supervisors and they return them to the CCO for refiling or destruction depending on their decision. At present there are no uniform tickler systems or schedules for file destruction programs with the result that files may be pulled repeatedly for review to determine if they are eligible for destruction. This procedure is particularly cumbersome when files to be reviewed are in consolidated volumes.

To simplify this procedure, Training Division proposes the following system:

1. Since there would be only two destruction rules under the proposed revisions which apply to investigative files, 5 years and 10 years, the case Agent will either note the destruction rule on the file copy of the closed or referred-upon-completion (RUC) communication or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention. The case Agent is logically in the best position to determine the potential value of each case; however, his recommendation would be subject to approval by the supervisor when the communication is initialed for closing or RUC. The file would not be returned to the Supervisor unless additional material were received during the interim period.

2. The master assignment card should be used as a tickler for the destruction of investigative files. Under present rules, the CCO posts the date of the file copy of each closing or RUC communication to the reverse side of the master assignment card and these cards are then retained for one year and destroyed. In order to use these master assignment cards for ticklers as proposed, the CCO, in addition to posting each case, would note on the front of the master assignment card the destruction date recommended by the case Agent and approved by the supervisor on the file copy of the closing or RUC communication. Instead of destroying the card as is now the rule, it would be retained as tickler for destruction according to the date shown on the front of the card. Since these cards are color-coded, blue for office of origin and white for auxiliary office, this factor would further enhance their value as ticklers by providing an already available instrument for scheduling files for destruction. In the event a file were reopened during the period intervening between being closed or RUC and its actual destruction, the new master assignment card would supersede the old tickler.

3. Index cards relating to the case should be retained for 20 years and then destroyed as encountered.

4. Original FD-302s, signed statements and other items of evidence will be retained for twenty-years or until of no further value if that be longer than 20 years. Index cards relating to this material would also be retained for a like period. (There have been some opinions expressed that this material, if in an auxiliary office, should be forwarded to the office of origin; however, this would only generate additional paperwork unnecessarily with no saving of space, since the office of origin would have no need of them unless prosecution were instituted.)

5. Two lists containing the numbers of files destroyed should be maintained. One list would be filed in front of each respective classification in the closed files section; the other list would be retained in an administrative file specifically created for this purpose. This procedure should simplify the present system under which file fronts are maintained under some circumstances and lists of files are maintained at the beginning of each classification under other circumstances. It is noted no provision is currently made for an administrative file to list all files destroyed in any given office.

Training Division believes these revised proposals would have practical application in the field and would strike a more favorable balance between the generation of new paperwork and the destruction of obsolete material. This in turn would save filing space and eliminate or at least minimize the need for further expansion. It is felt these changes now meet the objections raised by Special Investigative and Intelligence Divisions.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That rules for field office file destruction proposed above be approved.

(2) On approval, the Training Division will advise the field and make necessary manual revisions.

D. Files and records to be destroyed when five years old if following conditions are met.

1. Investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices provided files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes or if the case is one in which the Bureau is office of origin. In Bureau origin cases, retain 10 years.
2 - Dead files in all classifications if of no continuing value
3 - Zero files in all classifications if of no continuing value

E. Files and records to be destroyed when 10 years old.

1 - Investigative files in all classifications, except security classifications, in offices of origin provided the files are of no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes. In security classifications the files may be destroyed only if all the pertinent information therein has been made a matter of record at the Bureau.
2 - Investigative files in auxiliary offices in cases in which Bureau is office of origin.

If there is any doubt concerning the destruction of the above material by an auxiliary office, it should consult the office of origin. If there is any doubt about the destruction of a file in an office of origin, that office should consult the Bureau.

With respect to the mechanics of such file destruction in a field office, the following procedure should be followed:

A. Since there will be only two destruction rules, five years and 10 years, which apply to investigative files under the new regulations, the case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion (RUC) or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention. The case Agent is logically in the best position to determine the potential value of the case; however, his recommendation would be subject to approval by the supervisor when the communication is initialed for closing or RUC. The file would not be returned to the supervisor unless additional material were received between the time the case was closed or RUC and the actual date for destruction.

B. The master assignment card should be used as a tickler for the final destruction of an investigative file. Heretofore, the Chief Clerk's Office (CCO) posted the date of the file copy of the closing or RUC communication to the reverse side of the master assignment card and the card was retained for one year and then destroyed. Under the new system so that these master assignment cards can be used as ticklers, the CCO, in addition to posting the date of the closing or RUC communication in each case, will note on the front of the master assignment card the destruction date which was recommended by the case Agent and approved by the supervisor on the file copy of the communication. Instead of destroying the card in one year, it should be retained as a tickler for destruction according to the date shown on its front side. In the event the file is reopened during the period intervening between being closed or RUC and its actual destruction, the new master assignment card would supersede the old tickler.

C. Index cards relating to the case should be retained for 20 years and then destroyed as encountered.

D. Original FD-302s, signed statements and other items of evidence will be retained for 20 years or until of no further value if that be longer than 20 years. Index cards relating to this material would also be retained for a like period.

E. Two lists containing the numbers of the files destroyed should be maintained. One list will be filed in front of each respective classification in the closed files section; the other list will be maintained in an administrative file created specifically for this purpose.

Manual changes concerning the foregoing procedures are being made and will be forthcoming in the near future.

SUBJECT: MICROFILMING OF BLUE SLIPS AND INFORMANT RECEIPTS AND DISPOSAL OF ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

Attached memorandum from the Legal Counsel Division to Mr. J. B. Adams dated 10/23/74 sets forth background information concerning captioned matter and concludes that the Bureau has legal and delegated authority to microfilm blue slips and informant receipts and destroy the original documents provided such documents are five or more years old. Pursuant to this memorandum, we now plan to start microfilming such documents. Through arrangements with the Files and Communications Division we are obtaining two microfilm recorders and two film viewers. This equipment will enable us to do the microfilming and viewing in our own space and with Voucher Unit personnel. Arrangements have also been made with the Files and Communications Division for the developing of the microfilm. The developed films will be reviewed by employees of the Voucher Unit to insure that we have good copies of all original records prior to their destruction.

As indicated in the attached memorandum, we have some records that have been microfilmed but the original documents never destroyed. These microfilmed records cover the period of time from the beginning of the Confidential Informant Program through a portion of the calendar year 1954. These original records including blue slips and informant receipts may now be destroyed. We will continue to retain administrative data concerning informant payments which includes monthly reports and posting ledgers. This material must be retained to insure verification of tabulations for payments made to an informant, should we be requested to furnish such tabulations for court purposes.

SUBJECT: PURGING OUT-OF-SERVICE PERSONNEL FILES

The purpose of this memorandum is to consider purging our out-of-service personnel files of "temporary" records and retaining those classified as "permanent" records as set out in the Federal Personnel Manual (FPM).

The permanent records are described by the FPM as those which give legal force and effect to personnel transactions and establish employee rights and benefits under the pertinent laws and regulations governing Federal employment. The permanent records make up the Official Personnel Folder (OPF) which "travels" with the employee throughout his entire Federal career, and in the case of most agencies, is eventually placed in a repository for Federal records. We have authority to retain same on out-of-service personnel as opposed to forwarding to a Federal repository.

The FPM identifies and itemizes permanent records. It recognizes that all agency records are not the same and specifies the equivalent of the record named is to be considered a permanent record. The FPM does not identify temporary records but gives examples such as requests for personnel action, letters of reference, performance ratings (other than Outstanding or Unsatisfactory), debt and draft correspondence, admonishments, letters of caution, warning, reprimand, and similar disciplinary action papers.

There follows a listing of the permanent records using our designations when the name of the record differs from the FPM listing:

1. Application for employment
2. Claim for Veterans preference
3. Notification of Personnel Action (3-634) and Payroll Change Slip (3-542), formerly SF-50 and SF-1126
4. Request for Federal Employees Group Life Insurance (FEGLI - SF-51)
5. Election, Declination, or Waiver of FEGLI Coverage (SF-176 or SF-176T)

10. Statement of prior Federal, civilian, and military service (or equivalent)
11. Health Benefits Registration (SF-2809)
12. Notice of Change in Health Benefits (SF-2810)
13. Evidence of birth
14. Official Personnel Folder received from another Government agency
15. Request for Verification of Military Service (creditable service of retired military personnel - CSC Form 813)
16. Federal Employees Notice of Injury or Occupational Disease (CA-1 and CA-2)
17. Outstanding performance rating and Unsatisfactory performance rating (official only)
18. Notification of incentive awards
19. Official commendation letters
20. Agency Certification of FEGLI (SF-56)
21. Record of Leave Data Transferred (SF-1150)
22. Resignation letter

24. Evidence of separation for legal incompetence
25. Approval for disability retirement.

Our personnel files contain results of the Bureau applicant investigation and briefs or other summaries thereof which we would retain permanently in addition to the records named above.

The Bureau has not purged out-of-service Special Agent personnel files, only out-of-service clerical files over ten years old. We retain all mail in out-of-service files not purged. In those purged, we have been retaining the records listed above and in addition thereto, have retained the following:

1. Any derogatory information
2. Any memoranda or letters on which administrative action has been based
3. Appointment letters
4. Congressional endorsements
5. Duplicate property record
6. Emergency personnel program appointments (applicants appointed without investigations) which we have not made for years
7. Field firearms and scientific training records
8. Inquiries from outside the Bureau concerning employment or credit references
9. Unsatisfactory inspection reports
10. Leave without pay forms which are for periods of 30 days or more
11. Letters of censure and background material
12. Marital change and data concerning check of spouse
13. Memoranda prepared by Name Check Section for forwarding to other Government agencies
14. All material on mental conditions of employee or members of employee's family

20. Civil Service Commission mail
21. All mail which amends an action
22. Cancellation of action
23. Any mail which indicates a reference card has been made that refers to other individuals
24. Inquiries from employees concerning his or her retirement
25. Indebtedness to the Government matters
26. All mail concerning accrued annual leave and sick leave
27. All mail supporting incentive awards
28. Application for retirement deductions refund
29. Draft matters, deferments, induction papers, and discharge papers

Memo Hunsinger to Walsh
Re: Purging Out-of-Service Personnel Files

30. Yellow outgoing of expense vouchers
31. Photostats of retirement records
32. Leave record cards
33. Permanent Brief

Regulations concerning disposal of temporary records specify disposal on transfer to another agency (except in a transfer of functions), separation of the employee, or when one year old, whichever is earlier.

Although it is likely that some of the 33 items listed above might be useful in handling an inquiry from the former employee or other sources, it is felt that after one year has elapsed, from date of separation, their usefulness would be minimal and retention would not be justified in view of our need to conserve record storage space. One area has been given special consideration. Specifically, exit interviews of those resigning during an administrative inquiry do not set out the specific reason for separation but instead refer to a memorandum which in fact does record the specific reason for resignation. It is concluded that we will be confronted conceivably with requests for reinstatement of those who have been out of service for more than one year and accordingly, it is necessary to insure that the file provides sufficient information so as to allow for determination on whether we will consider the employee for reinstatement. Therefore, we propose that in any case where Files and Communications Division is confronted with an exit interview that refers to a related memorandum the entire file be sent to the Administrative Division for determination as to what should be retained. We contemplate retaining no more than one administrative memorandum which would be sufficient to make a determination on any request for reinstatement. No material would be purged from any file involved in current litigation.

The Files and Communications Division estimates there are approximately 117,000 out-of-service personnel files now on hand which could be purged and to do so utilizing 10 GS-4 clerical employees would require about 29 months and cost over $180,000.

This has been coordinated with Files and Communications Division and Legal Counsel Division.

Such a reference memorandum to the memo by reference will become an integral part of the exit interview form (4-) and therefore cannot be destroyed in MD Records
Post & Hunsinger for Legal Counsel

Memo Hunsinger to Walsh
Re: Purging Out-of-Service Personnel Files

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That approval be given for Files and Communications Division to purge both clerical and Special Agent out-of-service personnel files after they are one year old, except any involved in current litigation.

2. That we retain only the permanent records, results of the background investigation, and all briefs on other summaries of the background investigation. This is with the proviso that whenever an exit interview refers to an attendant administrative memorandum, the entire file be sent to the Administrative Division for determination as to what should be retained.

ADDENDUM OF LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION THB:law 11-25-74

The general provisions regarding disposal of records are contained in Chapter 33 of Title 44, U. S. Code, which provides that files and records of Federal agencies may be destroyed following submission of lists of records that do not warrant further preservation to the Administrator of General Services. The Administrator then determines whether disposal of the listed records is appropriate.

The Federal Personnel Manual specifies agency civilian personnel records should be disposed of as scheduled in the GSA General Records Schedule 1, Federal Property Management Regulations (FPMR) 101-11.4, issued December 15, 1967. As indicated in this memorandum, disposal of "temporary records" upon transfer to another agency, separation of the employee, or when one year old, whichever is earlier, is provided for in the FPMR.

SUBJECT: DISCONTINUANCE OF MAJOR CASE SUSPECT INDEX CARD FILE

Destruction of Bureau Property

General

Major Case Suspect Index Card File is a file in Latent Fingerprint Section of 3" x 5" cards filed by FBI number, if available, or name showing extent of search of fingerprints or major case prints of suspects and subjects through National Unidentified Latent File (NULF).

File was established at inception of NULF in 1944 and each examiner, prior to making a search in NULF, checks captioned file to determine if prints of suspect or subject have previously been searched. Upon completion of search examiner adds card to file showing extent of current search.

Captioned file consists of 24 file drawers of 3" x 5" cards with some dating back to 1944. Over the past several years it has been necessary to add additional categories to NULF and further subdivide existing categories. This has necessitated a complete renumbering and resequencing system and resulted in information on most cards in file being no longer applicable. Further, captioned file has been under review by supervisorystaff and by the file review committee and it has been determined that the incidence of duplicate or repeated requests for comparison of a particular suspect or subject with the same category in NULF is extremely infrequent and does not warrant retention of the file. Captioned file is therefore being destroyed. Sections in Latent Fingerprint Section manual relative to procedures involved in maintaining the file are being deleted.

Chief Clerk's Desk, Files and Communications Division, advised the suggestion relates to the recent file destruction rules furnished to the field whereby a uniform streamlined schedule for destruction was established through use of master assignment cards for ticklers. The Records Section concurs with the idea inasmuch as the proposed revision would provide for a uniform location of the destruction date with no additional effort on part of field clerical personnel. Due to these views, Training Division recommends the idea be adopted. On approval, this letter will serve as the authority for the Forms Management Desk, Training Division, to take appropriate action.

SUGGESTION

In view of new instructions re file destruction and use of master assignment card as tickler for final file destruction, it is suggested that FD-1C and FD-1D be revised to include an additional line reading "File to be destroyed (date)", under the "Reassigned to" line.

Destruction of Bureau Records - GEN

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

In the past the master assignment card has been destroyed after one year. The manual is presently being revised in this regard.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

This pre-printed line on the master assignment card will provide a neat, uniform system throughout the field for setting the file destruction tickler. Clerical time will be saved as all that would have to be entered is a date. Otherwise, the clerk would have to write "Destroy (date)" or use a rubber stamp to that effect, on each card closed.

SUGGESTION

That the attached form be used by all field offices in recording Office of Origin and OO file number when files are destroyed in an auxiliary office.

Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) SAC Memorandum 52-74(A) dated 11/5/74 contains no requirement for listing of OO. MRR, Part II, Section 3, page 13b (4)(e) states, "Retain file fronts and show identity of OO thereon for reference purposes."

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate)

By use of this form, each field office could correspond directly with OO in the event information in a destroyed file is needed. Without this form the field office involved would be required to correspond with the Bureau, who may or may not be able to furnish the required information since the Bureau is not advised of all investigation conducted in the file. If available at the Bureau, the file may be difficult to retrieve. The retention of file fronts as required by the MRR is impractical as many field offices consolidate their closed files and the file fronts are not available at the time of destruction.

REC 176-3286-116

By use of a carbon, two copies of the form would be prepared. One copy would be filed in front of each respective classification in closed file section; the other list would be maintained in an administrative file created for this purpose.

Disadvantages of suggestion

None.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
SUGGESTION MATTER
BUDED 12/18/74

Reference is made to SAC Memorandum 52-74 (A), dated 11/5/74, with the caption, "Destruction of Field Files and Records." On page three of this memorandum, item E. states: "Two lists containing the numbers of files destroyed should be maintained. One list will be filed in front of each respective classification in the closed files section; the other list will be maintained in an administrative file created specifically for this purpose."

A suggestion is under consideration at FBI Headquarters whereby the enclosed form would be used for this purpose. By use of carbon paper, two copies could be prepared for filing as noted above. By having this form for use, field offices could correspond directly with the office of origin in the event information in a destroyed file is needed. The suggesters feel that the retention of file fronts as required by the Manual of Rules and Regulations is impractical as many field offices consolidate their closed files and the fronts are not available at the time of destruction.

You are requested to thoroughly review this matter and submit your comments to the attention of the Suggestion Desk, Training Division by the close of business 12/18/74.

SUBJECT: ~~DESTRUCTION OF~~ FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
SUGGESTION 270-75 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] AND MR. [redacted]
SAN ANTONIO OFFICE

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

SUGGESTION: That the attached form be used by all field offices in recording office of origin (OO) and OO file number when files are destroyed in an auxiliary office.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggesters state SAC Memorandum 52-74 (A) dated 11/5/74, regarding this matter contains no requirement for listing of OO. Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13b, (4), (e) states, "Retain file fronts and show identity of OO thereon for reference purposes."

ADVANTAGES: By having this form for use, each field office could correspond directly with OO in the event information in a destroyed file is needed. Without this form, the field office involved would be required to correspond with the Bureau which may or may not be able to furnish the required information since the Bureau is not advised of all investigations conducted in the file. If available at the Bureau, the file may be difficult to retrieve. The retention of file fronts as required by the Manual is impractical as many field offices consolidate their closed files and the file fronts are not available at the time of destruction. By use of a carbon, two copies of the form would be prepared. One copy would be filed in front of each respective classification in closed file section; the other list would be maintained in an administrative file created for this purpose.

OBSERVATIONS: Inspection Division stated the idea appears valid but it would defer to the judgment of Files and Communications and Training Divisions.

EX-110 REC-71 66-3246-1162

Files and Communications Division noted this form provides for auxiliary offices to list the file number and the identity of the OO for all files destroyed in auxiliary offices in accordance with SAC Memorandum dated 11/5/74. This Division feels, as a result of the recent published file destruction regulations, there may be several suggestions from the field concerning the creation of a new form or in the event of approval of the above form, modifications of same. In order to prepare a uniform, standard system throughout the field, the Records Section believes it would be practical to survey a representative number of field offices regarding their comments on the proposed format. It was believed such a form should also include the date of destruction and the identity of the Bureau file number, if available.

Due to these observations, Training Division believes the idea should be acknowledged and a survey made of a representative number of field offices to obtain their comments before final action is taken.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the attached letters be forwarded to the suggesters advising them of the action which is being taken. That final action be held in abeyance pending the results of this survey.

(2) That the attached letter be forwarded to a number of our field offices to obtain their thoughts regarding this matter.

NOTE (Continued)

SAC McNiff, Mobile Office, stated that the idea would be beneficial from an investigative standpoint; however, from a practical standpoint, it would be very time-consuming to pull the indices cards, review the files and then transpose data to the cards. He stated his office does not have necessary clerical manpower to implement the idea and he was sure the same conditions existed in larger offices. For these reasons he did not recommend adoption.

Training Division noted that a trial study (California Project) is being conducted among the four California offices plus the Chicago, Las Vegas Phoenix and Portland Offices, to determine the feasibility of destroying auxiliary office files after the case has been referred upon completion (RUC'd) In connection with this project, the means of insuring that the office of origin i noted on the indices card and up-dating the card with available identifying data is also being studied since it will be necessary for retrieval of information if the case file is no longer available. This project is to continue until approximately 2/5/75 after which the results of the study will be evaluated. For these reasons, no further action is necessary on the current suggestion.

SUGGESTION that prior to destruction of investigative files at end of 5 or 10 yrs., whichever is appropriate, indices card(s) relating to the file be pulled and office of origin be typed thereon and it be insured that all descriptive data available in file pertaining to the subject is placed on the card. If adopted, it is suggested that at time of preparation of original indices card, office of origin be indicated thereon.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Bureau Memo 52-74 dated 11/5/74, sets forth a file and record destruction program for the field, basically setting forth that auxiliary office investigative files can be

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) Assume that after destruction of a file info is received necessitating investigation of an individual. Indices check shows prior file on person with same name. Office may be able to determine subject to be non-identical with subject of prior investigation from info appearing on indices card. If this occurs in 5 to 10 yr. period of original investigation and another office was 00 in old investigation, office receiving info causing a new investigation would know prior 00 and could go to that office for background info, investigative leads, etc. Estimate of annual savings unknown but it can be seen that instances where identifying number(s) is available from indices card NCIC should be checked, leads to 00 could be set forth, thereby possibly eliminating extensive investigation, etc.

Disadvantages of suggestion

Suggestion, if adopted, would require additional clerical time in the typing of office of origin on indices card, if not already shown and additional identification data if available in file on indices card.

(The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is adopted within two years after submission.)

NOTE: As the result of a suggestion submitted by Mrs. [redacted] of the Miami Office on 11/11/74, Assignment Card Forms (FD-1C and FD-1D) are being amended to include space to enter date case file in question is eligible for destruction. Some delay is encountered as these forms must be printed by Government Printing Office. Since Suggestion Desk has to date received at least six suggestions proposing same action, it is felt letter should be sent to field to forestall any other duplicative submissions.

RE: DISPOSITION OF MATERIAL CONCERNING SENATE APPROPRIATION.....

Mr. [redacted] advised that the foregoing material is of no further value to the Subcommittee and he wanted to turn it over to the FBI for destruction prior to his retiring. He noted that each of the hearings had been held in executive session and that all of the material bears classifications ranging from confidential to top secret.

This material has been reviewed and it contains no data of interest to us. We already have copies of the transcripts before and after corrections were made. The steno tapes and other miscellaneous items are of no significance.

RECOMMENDATION:

FROM : J. D. Jamieson

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

SAC Memorandum 52-74 (A), dated November 5, 1974, and entitled as above advised the field of newly adopted, more simplified file destruction procedures.

Among the instructions set forth in the SAC Memorandum was one to the effect that two lists containing the numbers of the files destroyed should be maintained. One list is to be filed in front of each respective classification in the closed files section; the other list is to be maintained in an administrative file created specifically for this purpose.

From the various comments, the field has enthusiastically received the new procedure; however, several questions have been posed as to the need for maintaining the duplicate list of files destroyed in an administrative file set up solely for this purpose. The tenor of these comments has been that the administrative file is cumbersome and unnecessary duplication of effort inasmuch as one list is already maintained at beginning of each classification in closed files.

The matter has been discussed with a dozen offices (Alexandria, Baltimore, Dallas, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Phoenix, Portland, Richmond, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco and Washington Field Offices) and only one, Dallas, favored maintaining the administrative file because it has done so even before the new procedure was instituted. One office, San Diego, was opposed to maintaining either list feeling that the file fronts could be retained and the necessary notations made thereon. The other 10 offices felt the second copy of the destruction list was overcontrol and unnecessary duplication.

EX-110 REC 44 66-3276-1169

In view of these comments, it is felt there is validity to the arguments of the majority of the field offices enumerated above and the instruction should be amended to require maintenance of only the list kept in front of each classification in closed files. However, inasmuch as one office apparently has a procedure of long-standing by which it maintains an administrative file on files destroyed, it is felt the maintenance of the duplicate list could be made optional.

Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That, in connection with the current procedures for destruction of files in field offices, they be required to maintain only the list of files destroyed at the beginning of each classification in closed files section. The maintenance of the duplicate list in an administrative file set up for that purpose be left to the discretion of the individual office.

(2) On approval, the attached Letter to Albany and All Offices be approved and sent.

(3) Manuals Desk, Training Division will make the necessary change.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
SUGGESTION 270-75 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] AND MR. [redacted]
SAN ANTONIO OFFICE
Form FD-478

Reference is made to my memorandum to you with the above caption dated 12/3/74 regarding the proposal that a form (sample attached) be used by all field offices in recording office of origin (OO) and OO file number when files are destroyed in an auxiliary office. Destruction of Bureau Property - General Rule 5B2

It was recommended and approved that a field survey be made regarding this matter. The results of that survey are now available. Chicago Office recommended another column be added to the form entitled "Date Destroyed" and the form, when the page is filled, would go to the administrative file and classification file. As files are destroyed, date could be inserted on the two forms and lists would be in numerical order with date of destruction available. Cincinnati submitted a form which it has been experimenting with for the same purpose (sample attached showing how the system works). Mobile, Phoenix and Richmond recommended adoption of original form submitted. Philadelphia and Tampa wanted to retain the file fronts which already have most of the information noted on them; however, this takes up extra space in each field office.

REC-31 66-3286-1170

This matter has been discussed with Washington Field Office and Baltimore Office. The latest instructions regarding the destruction of files calls for the two lists to be maintained at the beginning of each classification and in an administrative file. It is believed the system being used by the Cincinnati Office would be more efficient than any other being considered. The format has been amended to include "Date Destroyed" as mentioned previously and the asterisk and notation regarding those files in which original FD-302s, signed statements and evidentiary material retained has been deleted. This would be noted on the file front and until all items in the file have been destroyed or in the case of evidence returned to the OO, it would not be marked off of the proposed form.

Training Division believes this system will be beneficial to all offices and will provide uniformity in handling this procedure.

1 MAR 13 1975

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the amended proposed form be approved and the attached letters be forwarded to the suggesters advising them of this fact.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Reference is made to the suggestion submitted by Mr. [redacted] and you concerning the use of a form in connection with our new regulations regarding the disposition of certain files. The results of the survey are now available and it has been decided a form similar to the one proposed will be approved for use in handling this procedure. Steps will be taken to place this system into effect.

I did not want this opportunity to pass without expressing my appreciation to you for bringing this matter to my attention.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: PURGING OUT-OF-SERVICE PERSONNEL FILES
Destruction of Bureau Records

Attached memorandum R. G. Hunsinger to Mr. Walsh, 11-18-74, captioned as above recommended that Files and Communications Division purge out-of-service Special Agent and clerical personnel files after they are one year old (except those involved in litigation) and that we retain only those records designated as "permanent" in accordance with the Federal Personnel Manual and results of all background investigation. Recommendation was approved.

A conference was held on 1-10-75 with Deputy Associate Director, James B. Adams, and representatives of the Administrative, Files and Communications Division, and Office of Legal Counsel to discuss guidelines and procedures to be followed in implementing the purging of these files.

Mr. Adams proposed that the out-of-service Agent files be purged before the out-of-service clerical files since they are generally more voluminous than most clerical files and a greater savings of filing space will be realized. A logical purging procedure commencing with the files at the beginning of the alphabet and continuing systematically was decided as the most logical and practical approach. No material would be purged from any file involved in current litigation.

In 1969, Archives made Records Retention Plan (describing records which must be retained indefinitely) for Bureau. Plan requires that personnel folders of officials occupying positions of Assistant Director and above be retained indefinitely. Accordingly, these files will not be purged.

Out-of-service files containing memoranda relative to adverse administrative action resulting in suspension or dismissal will be forwarded to the Personnel Section, Administrative Division, for a determination as to retention of material. Thereafter, memoranda flagged for retention will be placed in a personnel inquiry file under the individual's name and filed in the Personnel Records Unit. Since the Statute of Limitations for filing a civil action against the United States is six years, personnel inquiry files will be destroyed after six years. Some of this material, such as inquiries into possible violation of law, may require Archival authority for destruction. Prior to destruction of such material, a determination would be made.

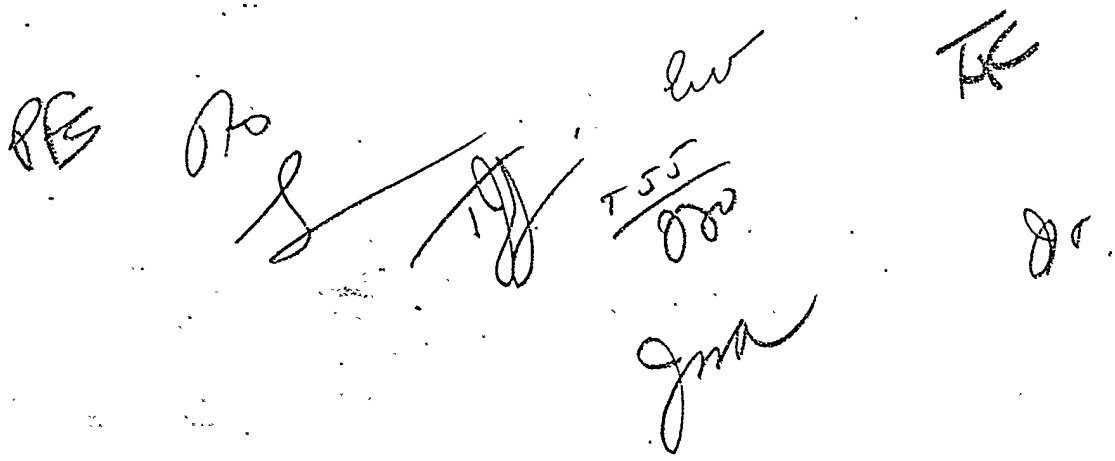
Files and Communications Division estimates we currently have approximately 117,000 out-of-service files, of which about 12,000 are Agent files. A recent three-day survey was conducted concerning purging out-of-service Agent files in accordance with the standards set forth in referenced memorandum and it was determined that a GS-5 clerk averaged five Agent files per day. It is believed this average would gradually increase with experience and following the creation of a Purge Unit for this specific purpose which, of course, will be a continuing operation.

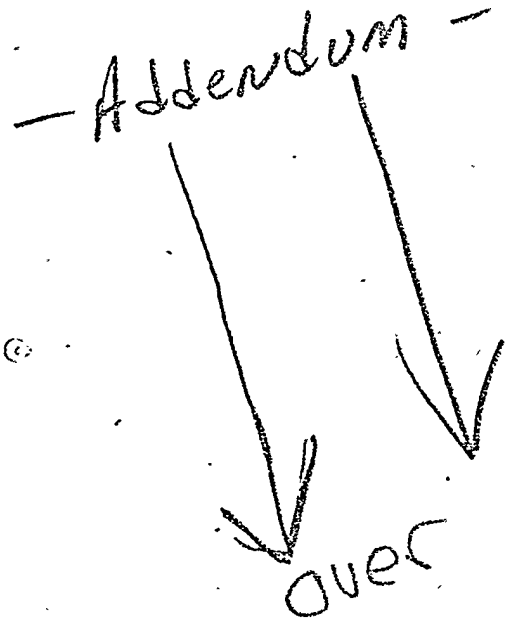
In order to implement recommendation that out-of-service personnel files be purged, it is imperative that additional clerical employees be assigned to Files and Communications Division. It is our estimate that 23 clerical employees will be necessary and it is just not possible for Records Section to reassign current on-board employees to this work since we are already operating at a very substantial level below our authorized quota. It is anticipated that GS-5 employees currently on duty in Records Section will be reassigned to the Purge Unit being created in the Personnel Records Unit and it is essential that they be replaced by new employees. Proposed job descriptions, including a clerical supervisor, will be promptly submitted.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That purge of out-of-service personnel files commencing with Agent files alphabetically be instituted by Files and Communications Division.



2. That appropriate action be taken by Administrative Division to assign necessary clerical employees to Files and Communications Division for replacement of clerical employees who will be assigned to the new Purge Unit.



OVER

Memo Hauer to LaPrade
Re: Purging Out-Of-Service Personnel Files

RECOMMENDATIONS: (Continued)

3. That a new classification be designated for personnel inquiries on FBI employees and that classification 186 be assigned.

ADDENDUM OF LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION THB:ms 1/24/75

This memorandum has been reviewed by Legal Counsel Division. It is not necessary to notify General Services Administration (GSA) of the destruction of the records proposed in view of provisions set forth in the Federal Personnel Manual (FPM). Chapter 293 of FPM deals with general policies governing agency records and files. Subchapter 1 states authority for agencies to dispose of certain classes of personnel records, including those designated as "temporary" is contained in GSA, General Records Schedule 1, published in the Federal Property Management Regulations, (FPMR) 101-11.4. A check of this section of the FPMR shows the authorized disposition for all copies of correspondence and forms maintained as "temporary" records is by disposal on (1) transfer of employee to another agency (2) separation of the employee, or (3) when one year old, whichever is earlier. This is distinquished from the "Official Personnel Folder," which other agencies must, on separation of employee, transfer to the Federal Records Center, St. Louis. Memorandum of R.G. Hunsinger to Mr. Walsh dated 11/18/74, captioned as instant memorandum, states we have authority to retain the official Personnel Folder of separated employees as opposed to forwarding to a Federal repository.

This and the above mentioned memorandum state our "permanent" records will be retained and that purging will be of "temporary" records from Out of Service Personnel Files. The above cited provisions of the FPM and FPMR authorize us to dispose of these records without notification to GSA.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF MATERIAL CONCERNING SENATE APPROPRIATION HEARINGS

Reference memorandum L. C. Groover to Mr. Walsh dated 1/8/75 captioned "Disposition of Material Concerning Senate Appropriation Hearings."

On 1/21/75, Mrs. [redacted] Archivist, Records Disposition Division, National Archives and Records Service, who handles records disposition for the Department of Justice, was contacted personally with a hypothetical question concerning the attached memorandum. Mrs. [redacted] advised that the records schedule for the Congress, both Senate and House of Representatives, and the Judicial Branch of the Government are handled separately from the Executive Branch. She said her records do not show the House of Representatives turning any records over to Archives; however, the Senate has in the past done so. They are obliged to retain their original records; however, hearings and other matters within the Subcommittees and the papers resulting from therein are sometimes considered work papers and after the information has been published, are destroyed or disposed of in other ways. She said record copies of material furnished by the FBI to Committees or Subcommittees on the Hill concerning various matters such as budgetary material would be the copies maintained permanently by the FBI, in so far as the FBI is concerned. She further advised that in connection with Senate or House of Representatives records, Jane Smith, Director, Civil Archives Division, Mark Eckhoff, Chief of the Legislative, Judicial and Fiscal Branch, Civil Archives Division, or George Perros, Head of the Legislative Section of the Archives, would be the appropriate people to contact.

It is noted that some of the material listed in referenced memorandum was given in executive session and presumably not published. Based on conversation with Mrs. [redacted] it would appear that this could then be considered as records material. In view of this, it is not felt that this material should be destroyed.

As you are aware, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Hugh Scott, in a letter to the Director dated 1-27-75, requested the Bureau not to destroy, remove from our possession or control, or otherwise dispose or permit the disposal of any records or documents which might have a bearing on subject's under investigation proposed by Senate. Accordingly, Files and Communications Division is holding in abeyance any destruction program previously approved by statute or regulation and has issued instructions to all field offices and Legats to do likewise until clarification of above request is received. Recommend Office of Legal Counsel prepare letter to Senators Mansfield and Scott asking clarification of their request and whether or not it includes existing destruction procedures previously approved by the Archivist of the United States.

Regulations of the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), General Services Administration, which are based on Title 44, Chapter 33, Sections 3301 and 3302, U. S. Code, govern the type of material which we must maintain. NARS regulations also govern what material may be destroyed. Record material is described as including "all books, papers, maps, photographs, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by an agency of the U. S. Government under Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the information value of data contained therein." Our destruction programs are conducted in compliance with NARS regulations to conserve space and manpower. In those instances where we have more than one copy of a communication it is our policy to file only the original of the communication and to destroy any copies when they no longer serve a useful purpose. Memo Hauer to LaPrade
Files and Communications Division

Identification Division has purge-type projects in both the criminal and civil fingerprint files involving the destruction of certain fingerprint cards and related name index cards, primarily duplicate-type cards on persons considered inactive because of age.

Insofar as destruction of material by Files and Communications Division is concerned, files, index cards, and related material over 25 years old maintained at FBI Headquarters pertaining to unfounded allegations of subversive activities, membership in subversive organizations, subversive sympathies and tendencies on the part of individuals and organizations are approved for destruction by NARS when investigations revealed allegations predicated upon rumor, nebulous complaints and nonspecific allegations from which no prosecutive action occurred. Archival authority has been obtained to destroy FBI Headquarters files in connection with Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles cases, Selective Service Act cases, Destruction of Aircraft or Motor Vehicles cases (provided no prosecution results from the inquiries conducted and the case had been closed ten years); and Archival authority has been obtained for destruction of files at FBI Headquarters in unknown subject cases in which there was no criminal prosecution (no time limit set regarding the destruction of unknown subject cases).

In addition to the above authority for the outright destruction of FBI Headquarters records, Archival authority has also been obtained to microfilm any closed criminal file after the case has been closed for ten or more years. Thereafter, the paper records may be destroyed. We currently have on hand 38,601 index cards to be destroyed which pertain to paper record material which has been destroyed previously under NARS regulations and authority.

In addition, personnel files concerning employees who have been separated more than one year are reviewed and temporary records contained therein which no longer serve a useful purpose are purged and only those permanent records as described in the Federal Personnel Manual are retained in the official personnel folder.

Also files, index cards and related material, over 15 years old, maintained at FBI Headquarters relating to laboratory examinations requested by various local, state and Federal law enforcement organizations in cases other than FBI cases wherein positive identification was not effected are also purged. These files no longer possess sufficient reference or evidentiary value to merit retention.

Administrative and noninvestigative records maintained in the various field offices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are purged also. This material is retained in the field offices until necessary action has been taken or it has served its purpose.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Office of Legal Counsel prepare an appropriate reply to Senators Mansfield and Scott to determine if their request not to destroy records and documents was intended to include the destruction programs enumerated above.

Bill directs Director, FBI, to permit any Member of Congress, upon request, to examine any file maintained by FBI, indexed to such Member of Congress, unless exempt from examination under Bill. No later than 60th day following such examination, FBI shall destroy such file without divulging information in such file to any person. Likewise, any file subject to examination under Bill shall be destroyed by FBI, whether or not such examination takes place or requested.

File not subject to examination or destruction under Bill if file maintained by FBI as part of investigation into alleged violation by such Member of Congress of a specific criminal law for purposes of prosecution, but FBI shall in such case give notice, not later than 6 months after opening file, to Speaker of House of Representatives or President pro tempore of Senate, as appropriate, of fact such file being maintained. File not exempt from examination if maintained more than 3 years after enactment of Act and no criminal charges or indictment filed.

File not subject to examination if maintained by FBI as part of background investigation of such Member of Congress for consideration for appointive position in executive or judicial branches, but FBI shall in such case give prompt notice to Speaker of House or President pro tempore of Senate. Exemption does not apply if file maintained more than 6 months and Member of Congress has not been nominated to office for which considered.

OBSERVATIONS: Bill, if enacted, would have serious impact on phases of work of General Investigative and Special Investigative Divisions. Disclosure of requested information would adversely affect investigative effectiveness of FBI. Individuals, including some Members of Congress, cooperate with the FBI because they feel their information will not be revealed to the person investigated and disclosure of their information would adversely affect ability of FBI to obtain their cooperation in the future. The current atmosphere in Congress makes opposition to this Bill difficult.

from such examination under section 2. Not later than the sixtieth day following the date such examination is concluded, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is directed to destroy any file so examined, without divulging the information contained in such file to any person. The Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is directed to destroy promptly, without divulging the contents of such file to any person, any file subject to examination by a Member of Congress under this section, whether or not such examination takes place or is requested, but no such file shall be destroyed prior to ninety days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 2. (a) No file shall be subject to the examination of a Member of Congress or destruction under the first section of this Act if such file is maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a part of an investigation into the alleged violation by such Member of Congress of a specific criminal law for the purposes of prosecution, but the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall, in the case of each file so maintained, give notice not later than six months after the commencement of the maintenance of that file to the Speaker of the House of Representatives (in the case of a Member of that House) or the President pro tempore of the Senate (in the case of a Member of that House) of the fact that such file is being maintained. No file shall be exempted under this subsection from examination and destruction under the first section of this Act if such file has been maintained for any period greater than three years after the date of the enactment of this Act and no criminal charges or indictment have been filed in court during such three years against the Member to whom such file is identifiable or indexed.

(b) No file shall be subject to the examination of a Member of Congress or destruction under the first section of this Act if such file is maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a part of an investigation into the background of such Member of Congress to assist in the consideration of such Member for any appointive position in the executive or judicial branches of the Federal Government, but the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall, in the case of each file so maintained, give prompt notice to the Speaker of the House of Representatives (in the case of a Member of that House) or the President pro tempore of the Senate (in the case of a Member of that House) of the fact that such file is being maintained and of what appointive office is involved. No file shall be exempted under this subsection from examination and destruction under the first section of this Act if such file has been maintained for a period greater than six months, and the Member of Congress to whom it is identifiable or indexed has not been nominated to the office required to be mentioned in the notice given to the Speaker of the House of Representatives or the President pro tempore of the Senate under this subsection.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY - 75
LETTER FROM SENATORS MANSFIELD AND SCOTT
RE DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS - general
JANUARY 27, 1975

In a letter to Mr. Kelley dated 1-27-75, Senators Mike Mansfield (D - Mont.) and Hugh Scott (R - Pa.) requested we not destroy any documents or files that may be of interest to the Senate in the forthcoming hearings on intelligence activities.

A memorandum from H. R. Hauer to Mr. LaPrade dated 1-31-75 captioned "Destruction of Files and Records, Files and Communications Division," pointed out that our destruction program is governed by the Federal Records Act of 1950 and regulations of the National Archives and Records Service. Our current practice is to destroy files over 25 years old relating to subversive activities which are based on unsubstantiated allegations and have not resulted in prosecution. Criminal files over 10 years old are reduced to microfilm and the paper records are destroyed. In addition, all duplicate copies of communications are destroyed when they no longer serve a useful purpose. The Files and Communications Division asked the Legal Counsel Division to determine whether the Senators' request applied to our current destruction program. Mr. Callahan noted "Discuss with SSC staff."

On 2-10-75 Inspector J. B. Hotis, Legal Counsel Division, met with William G. Miller, Staff Director, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, concerning this matter. Miller was told that our destruction program has been suspended until we can determine whether any documents are involved that might be of interest to the Committee. Miller said he doubted that the Committee would inquire into intelligence matters that were over 25 years old but asked that we withhold destruction of files until he consulted with Senator Church. He said he would contact us later this week.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS gen.

Form FD-479

SAC Memorandum 52-74 (A) dated 11/5/74 and captioned as above set forth a new file destruction program to be followed in the field.

By letter 11/14/74, the Los Angeles Office proposed use of a form to be used as a top serial in each closed file for the purpose of either setting forth the date the file would be eligible for destruction under the newly established criteria or, if it were to be retained, the appropriate justification for its retention.

Los Angeles was instructed by letter dated 11/21/74 to place the proposed form on trial for a 6-month period to evaluate its usefulness. If, however, it became apparent earlier that the form was functioning to the satisfaction of the office, the trial could be cut short and appropriate recommendations made.

Information received from various sources indicated the complete feasibility of such a form, so Los Angeles was instructed to terminate the trial after three months and submit its request for approval of the form.

By letter 2/10/75, Los Angeles submitted the form for approval, modified to include two additional check-off boxes so that provision would be made to cover every retention period involved in our file destruction criteria.

Since the format would be useful to all offices, it is now proposed that it be approved for use field wide. A sample of the proposed form is attached modified to include the pertinent manual citation.

Dear Senator Mansfield:

We have received the letter of January 27, 1975, with enclosure, from you and Senator Hugh Scott which requests that we not destroy or otherwise dispose of any records or documents relating to a forthcoming Senate investigation of intelligence activities.

Our procedures regarding the destruction of documents in our files are governed by the Federal Records Act of 1950 and regulations of the National Archives and Records Service. It is our current policy to destroy all records over twenty-five years old pertaining to subversive activities which were based on unsubstantiated allegations and did not result in prosecutive action. In addition, all criminal files over ten years old are reduced to microfilm and the original records are destroyed. We also destroy the duplicate copies of all documents when these copies no longer serve a useful purpose.

Upon receipt of your letter, we immediately suspended our destruction program and are attempting to determine whether any documents are involved that might relate to matters set out in section 2 of Senate Resolution 21. We also contacted William G. Miller, Staff Director, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities, who advised us that he will consult with Senator Church and advise us accordingly.

You may be assured that we are taking every possible measure to preserve those records or documents relating to intelligence activities that might be of interest to the Senate. It is certainly our intention to cooperate fully with the Select Committee in this very important inquiry.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: TESTIMONY BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND THE DIRECTOR BEFORE THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON CIVIL RIGHTS AND CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS, FEBRUARY 27, 1975

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-27-82 BY SP4E/W/Cal

On March 10, 1975, Associate Deputy Attorney General James Wilderotter advised me that the Attorney General had called him this morning and requested a memorandum to be prepared by the FBI interpreting Executive Order 10450 and practices of the FBI under the Order. Mr. Wilderotter said that he understands that the Attorney General will have the FBI's memorandum referred to the Department's Office of Legal Counsel for review and analysis before final submission of both memoranda to the Attorney General.

Mr. Wilderotter also said that the Attorney General mentioned that the Director had said to the Attorney General on several occasions that he would approve the destruction of certain material in FBI files if that were possible. The Attorney General asked that a plan for destruction of material in FBI files should be prepared setting out the standards and criteria that might be used and the mechanics that would be involved.

I discussed with Mr. Wilderotter the temporary prohibition against destroying anything in our files imposed by requests we have received from Senator Mansfield and Congressman Albert, and Mr. Wilderotter agreed that such temporary requests should be maintained, but that they should not interfere with the preparation of an appropriate plan as requested by the Attorney General.

The two requests from the Attorney General grew out of the testimony before the Edwards Committee even though they are not specifically included in the list of requests made officially by the Committee on the day of the testimony.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Special Investigative Division prepare an appropriate memorandum to the Attorney General concerning Executive Order 10450 and FBI practices pursuant to that Order.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU FILES AND RECORDS

Re my memorandum to you dated 2-14-75.

As indicated in referenced memorandum, the Bureau's program concerning destruction of files and records has been suspended until we can determine whether it involves any documents that might be of interest to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities.

We contacted William G. Miller, Staff Director for the Committee, and he asked that we withhold further destruction of files until the Committee Counsel, who had not been appointed at that time, had an opportunity to review the matter. Mr. F. A. O. Schwarz 3d, a New York attorney, was recently named the Committee's Chief Counsel. It is recommended that representatives of the Files and Communications Division and the Legal Counsel Division meet with Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Miller at the earliest opportunity to resolve this matter.

RECOMMENDATION:

That representatives of the Files and Communications Division and the Legal Counsel Division meet with the Chief Counsel and Staff Director of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities to determine whether the Bureau's destruction program can be reinstituted.

SUBJECT: GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE (GAO) REVIEW OF FBI OPERATIONS

In response to A. B. Fulton memorandum to Mr. W. R. Wannall dated 3-4-75, on captioned matter; data pertaining to the Files and Communications Division regarding maintenance of information resulting from FBI investigations, are listed below.

The records retention plan for FBIHQ generally provides for the microfilming but continuing retention of criminal files after 10 years old, and the indefinite retention of security matters except for investigations which were instituted on non-specific complaints of subversive activities which were never corroborated through investigation. Any extention of the Bureau's destruction or purging procedures would have to be approved by the National Archivist. Regulations of the National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, which are based on Title 44, Chapter 33, Sections 3301 and 3302, U. S. Code, govern the type of material which we must maintain.

Specific authority governing the FBI's destruction of information obtained from domestic intelligence investigations was granted by Archives on 10-3-72 and 5-11-73. This specifically relates to records that consisted of nebulous complaints and non-specific allegations for which there were no prosecutions and the material was over 25 years old.

Specific authority governing the FBI's destruction of information obtained from criminal investigations currently relates to several basic areas. Specifically, Archival authority was initially granted on 7-9-52 to destroy criminal investigative files which had been closed and inactive for 10 or more years after adequate microphotographic copies were obtained. Thereafter, approval was granted on 8-23-57 for destruction of Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles Act investigations over 10 years old in which no prosecution resulted. On 7-28-70, approval was granted for destruction of Sabotage of Aircraft and Destruction of Aircraft or Motor Vehicle investigations over 10 years old in which no prosecution resulted. On 11-12-70, approval for destruction was granted for cases in which no prosecution resulted because identities of perpetrators were not developed during investigation. On 10-3-72, approval was granted for destruction of miscellaneous material over 5 years old including correspondence from the public, letters of complaints and referrals, and newspaper articles in which no prosecution was undertaken. On 5-11-73, approval was granted to destroy Laboratory matters over 15 years old wherein positive identification was not affected.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

My memorandum to you of 3-18-75, captioned as above, set forth information concerning the destruction of certain material in FBI files. Attached to my memorandum were a cover memorandum from the Director to the Attorney General enclosing a letterhead memorandum on this same subject. The letterhead memorandum contained, as the last paragraph, a statement that the letterhead memorandum is the property of the FBI and its contents were not to be distributed outside the agency to which it was sent. Mr. Kelley has inquired as to the use of the last paragraph of the letterhead memorandum. He has also inquired regarding certain material maintained in 62, 63 and 94 classification files.

With respect to the Director's inquiry regarding the inclusion of the last paragraph of the letterhead memorandum, it is noted the Stenographer's Manual for FBI Headquarters, Part 2, Section 3, Page 5, indicates wording of this nature should be included on letterhead memoranda being forwarded outside the FBI. It has been determined the general practice at FBIHQ is to use such wording in letterhead memoranda being forwarded to the Department in those instances where it can be anticipated the content of the letterhead memorandum will be disseminated outside the Department. Since this is the practice and since it does not seem the information contained in the letterhead memorandum would be disseminated beyond the Department, the last paragraph of the letterhead memorandum has been deleted.

With respect to the Director's inquiries concerning certain material being filed in the 62, 63 and 94 files, it is true the majority of the record material retained by the FBI concerning Members of Congress, prominent individuals and other private citizens which does not directly involve a matter of investigative interest or responsibility of the FBI is filed in the 62, 63 and 94 files. At the present time we have approximately 305 six-drawer filing cabinets of 62 files; 43 six-drawer filing cabinets of 63 files; and 110 six-drawer filing cabinets of 94 files. Each six-drawer filing cabinet contains an estimated 30,000 pages of material; therefore, the 458 cabinets house approximately 13,740,000 pages of material. The material contained in these 62, 63 and 94 files covers a multitude of matters and is not limited solely to information which does not involve matters of investigative interest or responsibility of the FBI. In order to purge the 62, 63 and 94 files of the type of material which is of current concern, it would be necessary to conduct a very detailed review of each file in these classifications since many of the files are of a general nature and contain information and material which would be inappropriate for purging. An experienced employee who is required to do a detailed review of documents can be expected to review approximately 10 pages per hour. Based on this estimate which was obtained from FOIA Unit, it would take an astronomical amount of time to review the material contained in our 62, 63 and 94 files (687 man years, based on 8 hours per day, 5 days per week, 50 work weeks per year).

With respect to purging the 62, 63 and 94 files, it must be kept in mind, and it is imperative all parties understand, that under no circumstances would such a purge remove from FBI files all of the material of the type that is of concern. This is because material of the type that is of concern has without question in some instances been placed in other than 62, 63 and 94 files, such as, additions to files in other classifications already in existence. The only way to retrieve all such information would be by a serial-by-serial review of our entire file holdings.

A question also arises as to whether the FBI has the authority to purge the 62, 63 and 94 files of all material that does not involve a matter of investigative interest or responsibility of the FBI. This question comes about since the Retention Plan for Records of the FBI, as prescribed by the National Archives and Records Service, specifically states "Reports on crimes involving, and other records (emphasis added) concerning, the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the United States, members of and delegates elected to the Congresses of the United States, cabinet heads, judges and other officials appointed by the President" must be retained indefinitely. When considering the "and other records" portion of the aforementioned quotation, it seems a legitimate question can be raised as to whether or not the FBI can dispose of certain material that can undoubtedly be found in the 62, 63 and 94 files, even though such information does not directly pertain to a matter of investigative interest or responsibility of the FBI. This question would, of course, have to be resolved with the Archivist prior to any purge being undertaking by the FBI.

The end result of all of this could very well be that the FBI would undertake a very substantial purge project and, in the final analysis, would not purge the very material that is involved in the issue presently being considered, unless the Archivist modifies his standards for records retention.

This brings us back to the point where the modification of our dissemination rules to conform with approved guidelines to be drawn seems to be the most practical solution to the problem.

The letterhead memorandum to the Attorney General has been rewritten to include information concerning data contained in 62, 63 and 94 files. The statement concerning the letterhead memorandum being the property of the FBI has been removed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letterhead memorandum be forwarded to the Attorney General for his information and consideration.

FROM : W. M. Mooney

SUBJECT: RECORDS MANAGEMENT
SUGGESTION 565-75 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted]
PHILADELPHIA OFFICE

b7C

SUGGESTION: That field offices continue review of closed files for destruction and those files meeting current file destruction requirements as set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, particularly investigative files, be removed from the closed file section of offices and placed in appropriately marked storage cartons which would be kept in location other than with closed files, but readily available if needed in connection with proposed investigation and study of Government operations with respect to intelligence activities referred to in BUtel, 1/29/75. Files held in this manner can be so indicated on Form FD-478 (List of Files Destroyed) by placing an asterisk beside the number.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Suggester states Records Destruction Rules are being held in abeyance apparently for indefinite period as per instructions received in above-mentioned BUtel to all offices.

b7C

ADVANTAGES: Mr. [redacted] notes that in the recent past, current rules regarding file destruction has enabled field offices to require space in proper sequence or classification through destroying files where space is needed, thus continuously providing space for current files as they become closed out. For Philadelphia Office and no doubt many others should this destruction program be held in abeyance for any length of time current files being closed will need to be filed out of classification sequence or else additional space and equipment will be needed to keep them in any kind of order. By removing files the Bureau has already determined to be of no current value, investigative wise, space will continue to be available to file recent closed files which are referred to from time to time for investigation purposes. At such time as the ban on destroying investigative files is lifted, the files accumulated in cartons can easily be burned without further review.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC Baker, Philadelphia Office, stated this appears to be an excellent idea and one that would benefit all field offices.

Memorandum W. M. Mooney to Mr. Jenkins
Re: Records Management
Suggestion 565-75 Submitted by
Mr. [redacted] b6 b7C
Philadelphia Office

Files and Communications Division feels this proposal is practical and adoption of same would prevent an accumulation of project work at the termination of the above-mentioned moratorium. In fact, this Division has received several informal requests from the field regarding the proposed procedure; and in each instance, the appropriate field office was advised that the segregation of material to be destroyed would not be in violation of instructions from the congressional committee. If approved, Files and Communications Division will handle the appropriate notification to the field.

Training Division agrees with the idea as it appears a practical solution to the problem and the files will still be available as needed.

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the suggestion be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising him of this fact.

(2) On approval, this memorandum will serve as the authority for the Records Management Unit, Files and Communication Division to take the action necessary to place the idea into effect.

Dear Miss [redacted]

Your suggestion has been received that we discontinue the use of Form FD-479 in favor of inscribing the date of destruction for the file on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion. I thought you would be interested to know that the procedure you propose is already covered in the Manual of Rules and Regulations. The form to which you refer was created in response to requests by some field offices and was adopted after a trial for use on an optional basis. Manual changes to this effect are forthcoming.

Although your idea was not adopted, I appreciate the interest which led you to submit it to me.

As noted above in reply to suggester, Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, item 3, D, 8, a, already provides for noting destruction date of file (or that it be retained plus justification for retention) on serial closing case or referring it on completion. Form FD-479 was created in response to field requests and after a trial period in Los Angeles Office. Its use is optional and it is provided for convenience since it is recognized that some offices have devised other means to flag destruction or retention of file such as stamping file cover or noting on closing serial as described above. Instructions setting forth optional use of FD-479 are in process of being printed in Manual of Rules and Regulations and will be distributed with next revision.

SUGGESTION Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Discontinue the use of FD-479 "Files and Records Destruction Order". FORM

Place the date of destruction on the memorandum, letter or report that RUC's or closes the file next to the status.

i.e.: FROM: SAC, JACKSON (C) (D.D. 4/25/85)

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

FD-479 issued 2/20/75 to record the date a file is to be destroyed.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

The destruction date is designated at the time of dictation and can be approved by the supervisor when he approves the closing communication. This also can be posted to the assignment card at the same time the assignment card is posted.

Recommendations and comments of Division Head

This is an excellent suggestion which will result in considerable saving of storage space through the elimination of an additional serial in each closed case. The practice suggested by Miss [redacted] Chief Clerk of Jackson Division, is the practice and resulted from All-Employees Conference when the destruction rule introduced. The savings in dollars through elimination of unnecessary form could be considerable. I recommend adoption.

SUGGESTION

Continue review of Closed Files for destruction and those files meeting current file destruction requirements as set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, particularly investigative files, be removed from the closed file section of offices and placed in appropriately marked storage cartons which would be kept in location other than with closed files, but readily available if needed in connection with proposed investigation and study of Government operations with respect to intelligence activities referred to in BU tel, 1/29/75. Files held in this manner can be so indicated on FD-478 by placing asterisk beside number.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GEN'L.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Records Destruction Rules are being held in abeyance apparently for indefinite period as per instructions received in Butel, 1/29/75, to all offices.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Recent past, and more so, current rules regarding Files Destruction has enabled Field Offices to require space in proper sequence or classification through destroying files where space is needed, thus continuously providing space for current files as they become closed out. For this office and no doubt many others should this destruction program be held in abeyance for any length of time current files being closed will need to be filed out of classification sequence or else additional space and equipment will be needed to keep them in any kind of order. By removing files, the Bureau has already determined to be of no current value investigative wise space will continue to be available to file recent closed files which are referred to from time to time for investigation purposes. At such time as the ban on destroying investigative files is lifted the files accumulated in cartons can easily be burned without further review.

DESTRUCTION OF FILES AND RECORDS

Present instructions as set forth in Part II, Section 3D8, page 13 of Manual of Rules and Regulations, provides for the destruction of files and records under the provisions of Title 44, USCA, Section 369. The latest edition of Title 44, USCA, reveals that Section 369 was subsequently changed to Section 3304 and repealed. Existing authority for the destruction of files and records falls within Title 44, USCA, Section 3303, "Lists and schedules of records lacking preservation value; submission to Congress by Administrator of General Services;" and Section 3303a, "Examination by Administrator of General Services of lists and schedules of records lacking preservation value; disposal of records."

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Purpose of this memorandum is to advise of a conflict between instructions which have been issued to the field regarding destruction of field files and records and actual Archival authority to dispose of such records.

SAC Memorandum 52-74 dated 11-15-74, set forth detailed instructions regarding the destruction of closed field investigative files. Field was authorized to destroy RUC'd auxiliary office files after five years and closed office of origin files after ten years, provided files were of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes. Exception to these rules concern cases in which Bureau is office of origin, and security classification files. In Bureau origin matters, field must retain files ten years and in security classification files, destruction is authorized only if all pertinent information contained therein has been made a matter of record at FBIHQ.

The only Archival authority the FBI has obtained to destroy closed field files involves those files in which the material contained therein is duplicated in its entirety or in substance at FBIHQ. That authority was obtained in 1946. Reporting procedures have changed considerably over the years and at the present time FBIHQ files do not contain the substance of all field investigations. As a matter of fact, during Fiscal Year 1974, FBIHQ opened only 40% as many files as were opened by offices of origin in the field. Based on this, it is apparent much record material is being created and maintained at field level. While it is recognized that most, if not all, of the cases which are being closed at field level on the authority of the SAC without the substance of the files being reported to FBI Headquarters are of small significance compared to those cases which require reports and other communications to be submitted to FBIHQ, it is important the FBI maintain and/or dispose of this material in accordance with Archival regulations.

A moratorium on the destruction of any record material, either at FBIHQ or in the field, has been in effect since late January 1975. This moratorium is based on the request of Senators Mansfield and Scott that no material be destroyed which may have a bearing on forthcoming Senate Study of intelligence operations. In view of this, it would not appear that any extensive destruction of field files has been accomplished in accordance with instructions issued in SAC Memorandum 52-74; however, it is important this conflict between the instructions issued and the authority obtained be resolved promptly inasmuch as several field offices have space problems regarding the maintenance of closed files.

Since the bulk of the cases which are opened and closed in the field without FBIHQ being advised involve no prosecutive action; the perpetrators of the violation are not identified; or the investigation revealed the allegations were predicated upon rumor or nebulous complaints, it would seem these files do not possess sufficient reference or evidentiary value to merit retention and it is not anticipated there would be difficulty in obtaining Archival authority to dispose of these records.

In view of the conflict discussed herein, we have two choices with respect to the action that must be taken. We can either seek Archival authority to dispose of the field files and records as instructed in SAC Memorandum 52-74 or we can rescind those instructions. Since criminal penalties may attach to the unauthorized destruction of record material, it is imperative this matter be resolved at this time.

My recommendation is that Archival authority be obtained to dispose of those field files and the current moratorium be continued until such time as that authority is in hand.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That Archival authority be sought to dispose of field files and records as set forth in SAC Memorandum 52-74 dated 11-5-74.

2. That the current moratorium on the destruction of field files and records be continued, even after the Scott-Mansfield request, is withdrawn, until such time as appropriate Archival authority has been obtained.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

Part II, Section 3D, Item 8, First Sentence, page 13, should be revised to read as follows:

8. Destruction of files and records (closed files are kept in numerical sequence). Files and records may be destroyed within the provisions of Title 44, USCA, Sections 3303 and 3303a.

SUBJECT: INVENTORY OF DOCUMENTS RECEIVED FROM FORMER ASSOCIATE DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL JAMES A. WILDEROTTER, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Obstruction of Bureau Records - General

By memorandum to the Attorney General dated June 26, 1975, the Attorney General was advised of the circumstances under which documents were received from former Associate Deputy Attorney General Wilderotter by Section Chief James A. Farrington. A copy of the memorandum was addressed to Mr. Wilderotter and the memorandum indicated that we would make available to Wilderotter for his review, but not for retention, a copy of the inventory of the documents.

At 2:30 p.m. on July 1, 1975, I met with Mr. Wilderotter in his office at the White House and furnished him his copy of the memorandum and a copy of the inventory. I asked Mr. Wilderotter to review it carefully and if he desired to indicate appropriate disposition of the items listed. Mr. Wilderotter reviewed each of the items and indicated for each recommendations as to their disposition. He placed an X or wrote the word "burn" beside those he thought should be destroyed. Others he indicated the recipients to whom the materials should be forwarded.

Attached is the copy of the inventory which Mr. Wilderotter reviewed and bearing his notations.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That the notations by Mr. Wilderotter be considered during discussions with the Department as to the appropriate disposition of the materials.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF FILES AND RECORDS
SUGGESTION 28-75 SUBMITTED BY

OKLAHOMA CITY OFFICE

Destruction of Bureau Records - Gen.

SUGGESTION: Proposes the Files and Records Destruction Order (Form FD-479) be revised to include "Permanent Retention Order" in the title as reflected in attached sample.

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13a, paragraph a., states "The case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion (RUC) or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention. Form FD-479, Files and Records Destruction Order, may be used for this purpose."

ADVANTAGES: Suggester believes use of proposed modified form would make it easier to handle the destruction of files program. In instances where the present FD-479 is used, it would appear that the contents of the file are to be destroyed at the first glance. Proposed modification of form would more clearly define the purpose for which form was originally intended.

OBSERVATIONS: Inspection Division noted this form is utilized to either recommend destruction of or justify retention of files. The current title connotes it is for destruction information only. Proposed change in title would more adequately describe the form. This Division concurred with the idea.

Files and Communications Division on the other hand does not agree with the proposed revision noting the existing form provides for the file destruction under the 120-day rule, one-year rule, five-year rule, and ten-year rule. Further retention of any file has to be detailed in the body of the existing form. At the time the present destruction rules were approved for field use, it was the intent to have these files reviewed periodically in order to determine if they were still of some value to the appropriate field office. The form was designed to permit periodic reviews and also for the retention of any file under the existing rules and regulations. This Division opposed adoption.

Training Division agrees with Files and Communications Division's views. There are files which are retained permanently because of various reasons, particularly when they are of historical value. Any employee using this form can certainly ascertain from the other wording on the format (sample of present form attached) the space allowed for justification of retention. No problem should exist; therefore, it is believed cost for revising form at this time would not be warranted. This is a new form and 60,000 copies were furnished the field with 300,000 copies placed in stock as late as March, 1975.

RECOMMENDATION: That the suggestion not be adopted and the attached letter be forwarded to the suggester advising her of this fact.

A survey was conducted in the eight field offices who participated in the California Project to determine the frequency in which cases were reopened in auxiliary offices. The basic facts from the survey revealed that a total of 3,263 auxiliary office cases were reopened by the eight participating offices, in 75 classifications, during a six-month period. Additionally, 82% of this activity was confined to within 20 classifications, and approximately 2,600 or 80% of these reopenings took place within 13 weeks of the RUC date.

Basic observations regarding the effective implementation of a six-month auxiliary office destruction program are as follows:

1. The six-month destruction rule will be consistent with the time period for file consolidations which would eliminate duplicate handling.

2. Auxiliary offices would be responsible for the submission of original FD-302's and pertinent evidence and exhibits to the office of origin. Bulky evidence, and exhibits will be the exception to this rule and will be handled under existing regulations.

3. The exception to the six-month destruction rule will be those cases in which the Bureau is office of origin.

4. It will be necessary for auxiliary office index cards to contain the identity of the office of origin, office of origin file number, and RUC date. "See" references, pertaining to auxiliary office files will have to be destroyed at the time auxiliary office files are destroyed.

5. Such a streamlined file destruction project can only be successful if adequate manpower is available to keep this project on a current basis.

6. In order for this program to be effective, it will be essential for the office of origin to send sufficient lead information to auxiliary offices since any leads previously sent to other offices will not be available six months subsequent to date of RUC.

Throughout the California Project, certain questions were raised as to the practical application of a streamlined auxiliary office destruction rule. These observations are as follows:

1. Any projected space savings would be false economy when compared to the increase in communication costs.

2. In Bureau applicant cases where Bureau is origin and in most instances, the field submits only a summary Airtel and if cases were reopened or references necessary, the file would have been destroyed.

3. Difficulties will be encountered when it is necessary to change offices of origin.

4. Transfer of original FD-302's, certain evidentiary material, and exhibits would place added burden on Agent personnel and Agent Supervisors.

5. In 105 contact cases, (Internal Security--Nationalistic Tendency) results of prior investigations are invaluable.

6. Added communications and manpower costs to refer to origin for additional information would offset any advantages derived from the proposed procedures.

The eight field offices: Chicago, Los Angeles, Las Vegas, Portland, Phoenix, Sacramento, San Diego, and San Francisco were furnished the above observations and comments along with the statistical data concerning the frequency in which cases were reopened during a six-month period subsequent to date of RUC. Again, these field offices were requested to discuss the proposed destruction program with their supervisory staffs and were requested to submit their observations concerning the six-month survey along with the proposed guidelines for the implementation of this program.

Five of these field offices: Chicago, Los Angeles, Portland, Sacramento, and San Diego recommended adoption of a six-month file destruction program in auxiliary offices. The San Francisco and Phoenix field offices recommended that the current five-year destruction of auxiliary office files be retained because they did not feel that the advantages offered by the proposed program would offset the disadvantages in relation to manpower and economy. The Las Vegas Office did not think it was necessary to retain auxiliary office files for six months. In doing the survey, they found that the majority of cases reopened could be adequately handled without the need for prior background data. The Las Vegas Office believed that any program that eliminates RUC files as soon as possible would present a savings to the Bureau in manpower time and filing space. They found no real objection to the original California Project wherein files were to be destroyed at time of RUC.

The five offices listed above, who recommended approval of this program, did not feel that any of the objections set forth above would present any overwhelming problems. It is interesting to note, however, they felt very strongly against the inclusion of the RUC date on index cards as suggested above. These offices believed that if this date was deemed that important to retain, it could be recorded on the file destruction sheet and that these sheets could be retained in front of every classification in the closed file section.

Memorandum W. L. Bailey to Mr. McDermott
Re: California Project Proposed Destruction of Auxiliary Files When They are Referred Upon Completion (RUC)

On Monday, July 28, 1975, the "California Project" was discussed at Mr. Callahan's conference. With the exception of Mr. Mintz, who was absent, the attendees unanimously approved the California Project and those related procedures set forth in the below listed observations.

OBSERVATIONS:

1. It is believed that this survey reveals that six months would be a reasonable retention period for auxiliary office files. It will achieve the basic objective in eliminating the material of no continuing value and result in considerable space savings.

2. That it should not be necessary to include the RUC date on index cards which would be a very time consuming function. The advantages of having this date available would be accomplished through the use of assignment cards or the file destruction sheet.

3. It should not be mandatory that files be destroyed when six months old, and index cards relating thereto, if material contained therein is of a continuing value to the auxiliary office. If there is any doubt concerning the destruction of this material by an auxiliary office, it should consult the office of origin.

4. In order to maintain strict control of bulky exhibits, which are obtained by auxiliary offices, these offices will send a copy of the "green sheet", FD-192, to the office of origin. Offices of origin can utilize this copy as a tickler in order to immediately notify the appropriate auxiliary office to return or dispose of related bulky exhibits.

5. Existing regulations provide for the use of the master assignment card as a tickler or schedule for file destruction purposes. These cards would be maintained in a like manner under the proposed destruction rules, and these cards will enable the Inspection Staff to review the respective files to determine the continuing value to the auxiliary office.

6. That special consideration be given to the storage and maintenance of Court of Claims cases, classification number 83. Under existing regulations, the Bureau will designate office of origin. The office of origin, upon completion of its investigation, submits a letter to FBIHQ with a copy to WFO requesting that WFO be designated office of origin and instructing WFO to follow the Court of Claims docket until a final decision has been rendered. To insure that Court of Claims cases are not prematurely destroyed by auxiliary offices, it is recommended that the original offices or origin remain origin until cases are closed. When the office of origin submits a letter to FBIHQ with copy to WFO instructing that WFO follow Court of Claims docket, the office of origin file will be placed in a pending inactive status and WFO, acting as an auxiliary office, will advise offices of origin and FBIHQ when a decision is rendered by court.

7. It will be necessary to create a workable solution whereby evidence sent to the Laboratory and/or Identification Division will be returned to the office of origin when examinations have been completed.

8. The initialing of FD-302's by Resident Agents will require tighter controls by the auxiliary offices. Procedures will be established whereby outgoing communications making references to FD-302's will not be submitted to the office of origin until the original FD-302 has been initialed by the Resident Agent and returned to Headquarters City and sent as an enclosure with the appropriate outgoing communications.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That the six-month destruction program as set forth above be adopted; however, actual destruction must be held in abeyance in accordance with the current congressional request not to destroy any file material.

2. If approved, the field will be advised separately regarding the details for implementation of this program. (Archival approval is not necessary for the destruction of duplicate material).

SUBJECT: INVENTORY OF DOCUMENTS RECEIVED FROM FORMER ASSOCIATE DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL JAMES A. WILDEROTTER, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Destruction of Bureau Record - general

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 2-19-97 BY 63 BVK/sls

Reference is made to memorandum of J. C. Farrington to Mr. McDermott 6/17/75, captioned as above, with copy of the inventory attached, which requested INTD to review the inventory to determine if any of the documents were of interest.

PURPOSE:

To advise regarding disposition of documents in captioned inventory which originated in INTD.

A copy of the inventory is attached to this memorandum.

On 9/12/75, Section Chief James C. Farrington advised that the Department had not yet made a decision as to the disposition of the documents obtained from Mr. Wilderotter.

The inventory has been reviewed by substantive sections of the INTD for the purpose of making recommendations as to the disposition of individual items if they are retained by the Bureau and are not governed by any existing regulations regarding document retention. It was suggested that where a document is the original Bureau correspondence to the Department, it should be returned to the Bureau file with appropriate notation made. If the document was a copy of the original, Sections varied as to the dispositions of the document and their responses are noted below.

ADDENDUM: FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT SECTION JCF:law 9/25/75

The Freedom of Information Act Section agrees with the ultimate disposition of these documents as set forth above by the Intelligence Division. However, in Legal Counsel Division to Mr. J. B. Adams memorandum of 7/8/75 it was reported that the Deputy Attorney General had requested a copy of the inventory for the purpose of discussing it with Mr. K. William O'Connor following which the Deputy would contact Assistant Director Mintz to discuss further the disposition of the materials reflected in the inventory and presently being held by the Bureau. Therefore, no action should be taken regarding the disposition of the above-referenced documents until we have received appropriate instructions from the Deputy Attorney General.

SUBJECT: ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT AT FBI ACADEMY

The Academy has one Balkamp battery charger model 14-4094, serial number T8789. This equipment under normal use has failed to operate. The electronic shop has determined that to facilitate repairs will cost approximately $81.00 for repair parts. The unit is six years old and the initial cost was $133.48.

RECOMMENDATION:

Due to cost of repair that this equipment be removed from inventory and junked at Quantico.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF CONFIDENTIAL TRASH
J. EDGAR HOOVER FBI BUILDING

Re memorandum dated 4/29/75 which set forth security criteria for acceptance of the L and F Industries "Document Disintegration System" hammermill which will be used to dispose of confidential trash in the J. Edgar Hoover FBI Building, and memorandum dated 7/16/75, which reported favorable security analysis of effluent produced by machine constructed for FBI and recommended that authorization be granted for shipment and installation.

This equipment has now been completely installed and all security adjustments have been effected. A controlled sample consisting of materials normally constituting confidential trash (carbon paper, carbon ribbon, photographs, film, teletype tape, teletype ribbon, and various weights of bond and thin paper) was destroyed utilizing the prescribed 3/16" security screen. A portion of this effluent was collected and a representative sample weighing 10. grams was removed for analysis. When the pieces exceeding the 3/16" screen size were segregated they were found to weigh .17 grams. Slippage was determined to be 1.7%, which is within the prescribed 3% limit. Examined samples are attached. We have apprised the Headquarters Building Unit and the Bureau's Security Coordinator that the Document Disintegration System is performing satisfactorily from a security standpoint.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that Form FD-479 be amended to add a ballot box with a particular item regarding exhibits. After evaluation, it has been determined that it would be premature to take this action at the present time since new rules and guidelines concerning the disposition of material are to be made available to field offices in the future and this will cause several changes to be made in this format.

The interest you displayed in submitting your idea to me is indeed appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

SUGGESTION

To add a block on the FD-479 entitled "Files and Records Destruction Order," between the words "destroyed and retained" with writing adjacent to it reading, "1 A's Bulky Exhibits cleared." A copy of the FD-479 showing the proposed revision is attached.

EXP Destruction of Bureau Property

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

FD-479 (2-20-75) is currently in general usage.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

The inclusion of such a block for 1 A's and/or Bulky Exhibits on the FD-479 would serve as a reminder for Agents closing cases to be sure that 1 A's and/or Bulky Exhibits no longer necessary for retention are returned or destroyed. It is difficult to accurately estimate a monetary savings to the Government but certainly one would be gained in terms of space reserved for Bulky Exhibits no longer necessary.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Authorization for General

This recommends that address card 70-1 be destroyed and no replacement card prepared.

(U) [redacted] Washington liaison representative, has advised that [redacted] Address card 70-1 shows [redacted] and contains an address for directing mail to [redacted] similar to those of the FBI in the U. S. It has no criminal responsibilities. Because correspondence between FBIHQ and [redacted] primarily handled and prepared almost exclusively by the Intelligence Division in view of mutual interest of the FBI and [redacted] in the security and intelligence field, we see no reason to prepare a new address card for wide distribution at FBIHQ. We feel that recipients of this memorandum should instruct personnel in possession of address card 70-1 to destroy it and refer any future inquiries for the address of [redacted] to the Foreign Liaison Unit of the Intelligence Division.

Jack: Recall memo re destruction of GENERAL records. T.J.S.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to request Archival authorization for destruction of individual enclosures, attachments and exhibits to Bureau files including publications which have been incorporated into our record system and no longer serve a useful purpose.

b6

[redacted] Quantico Library, will review publications week 4/5-30 for material he would like to retain at Quantico

SYNOPSIS:

The files system of the Records Management Division includes an endless number of enclosures to files and publications which appear to be of no value. Procurement of Archival authorization and subsequent destruction of this material would result in a meaningful recovery of file space.

CURRENT BUREAU POLICY:

Archival authorization is necessary for the destruction of record material.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That destruction of the record material described in this memorandum be approved.

DETAILS:

In order to eliminate material which no longer serves an administrative need and to recover space in our file area, destruction of countless enclosures, attachments and exhibits to case files should be considered. The bulk of this material is never accessed, is outdated, is generally irrelevant, and would not impair future Bureau operations. Striking examples include enclosures to criminal investigations which have been microfilmed after 10 years of inactivity; outdated evidentiary material (toys, medicine, tools, wearing apparel, shoes, literature) dated from 1921; latent fingerprints; photographs; photostatic copies of checks; newspaper clippings; and other miscellaneous items. This material contains little or no indexing. As a precautionary measure, individual enclosures to files would be directed to the substantive division for review and determination of final disposition.

Destruction of publications filed in the Numerical Section (as opposed to Alphabetical) of the Publications sub-unit of the Filing Unit would be an additional source of space recovery. The material occupies 30 legal-size cabinets, is dated from 1879 and is infrequently accessed. A preliminary review of this material by the Central Research Unit of the Intelligence Division disclosed that only a minimal number of publications are worthy of retention. The bulk of these records are copies of military and foreign intelligence documents, many of which are classified. Included are military daily and weekly intelligence summaries; studies on Soviet propaganda and espionage; Communist Party history; foreign propaganda, travel and political activities; and foreign and domestic intelligence reports. Studies emanating from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and those documents so designated by the Intelligence Division would be retained.

Approximately seven legal-size cabinets of material filed in the Alphabetical Section of the Publications sub-unit have now exceeded the specified retention periods designated by the Domestic Intelligence Division in 1971. These items, along with extra copies, "Daily Worker" and "Political Affairs" editions over 10 years old, and 76 reels of microfilmed copies of the "Daily Worker" dated 1/13/24 - 9/27/54 would also be destroyed.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Dear Senator Mansfield:

You will recall that by letter dated January 27, 1975, you and Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott requested that the FBI not destroy or otherwise dispose of material relevant to the subjects of inquiry by the Senate Select Committee.

Please find enclosed a copy of a letter which addressed to Senator Frank Church, Chairman of the Senate Committee to Study Governmental Operations With Respect gence Activities, suggesting what, I hope, is a reason of our total moratorium on file destruction.

Please accept my assurance of cont in all matters of mutual interest.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that a rubber stamp containing certain data be used in lieu of Form FD-479 on the file copy of a closing or referred upon completion communication. It may interest you to know that similar proposals have been considered in the past. This form is optional and it is not mandatory that it be used since some offices have devised other means for noting this information in a file, including the use of rubber stamps.

The interest you displayed in submitting your idea to me is indeed appreciated.

Form FD-479 would then only be used in investigative files in those instances where justification for retention is needed.

As noted above in reply to suggester, Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3,D,8,a, page 13a, already provides for noting destruction date of file (or that it can be retained plus justification for retention) on serial closing case or referring it UP on completion. Form FD-479 was created in response to field requests and after a trial period in Los Angeles Office. Its use is optional and it is provided for convenience since it is recognized that some offices have devised other means to flag destruction or retention of file such as stamping file cover or noting on closing serial. Due to these observations, Training Division recommends current idea not be approved.

A rubber stamp be used in lieu of FD-479 on file copy of closing or RUC communication in investigative files giving instructions for file destruction, such as:

I HAVE REVIEWED THIS FILE, AND UNDER THE CRITERIA SET FORTH IN PART II, SECTION 3 OF MRR, THIS FILE SHOULD BE DESTROYED and form FD-479 would only be used in investigative files in those instances where justification for retention is needed.

Destruction of Bureau Records - general

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Current practice of the Little Rock Division is the submission by agents of FD-479 in all files being closed or RUC per MRR, part 2, section 3.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Advantages of suggestion are that it would save clerical and agent time in handling and filing an additional form and reduce likelihood of destruction information not being included in file and also would produce an annual savings to the Bureau in reduction of cost of paper and printing of FD-479.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 378-76 SUBMITTED BY
SA [redacted], SAN JUAN OFFICE

SUGGESTION: Proposes adding a ballot box on Form FD-479, "Files and Records Destruction Order," between the words "destroyed and retained" with writing adjacent to it reading, "1-A's/Bulky Exhibits cleared." A copy of the form showing the proposed revision is attached.

ADVANTAGES: Suggester states the inclusion of such a ballot box for 1-As and/or Bulky Exhibits on the FD-479 would serve as a reminder for Agents closing cases to be sure that these exhibits are no longer necessary for retention and have been returned or destroyed. It is difficult to accurately estimate a monetary savings but certainly one would be gained in terms of space reserved for Bulky Exhibits no longer necessary.

OBSERVATIONS: SAC deBrueys, San Juan, notes the idea has merit and would serve a most useful purpose in insuring that 1-A's and Bulky Exhibits have been cleared and should preclude any unnecessary retention thereof.

Inspection Division advised rules for retention of property are set out in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 8, page 19, and an Agent following these rules should have disposed of his evidence long before a file is considered for destruction. This Division could see no need for revising Form FD-479 and recommended the idea not be adopted.

EX-115 REC-6 66-3286-1183

Files and Communications Division commented that, while the Manual of Rules and Regulations explicitly comments regarding the handling of exhibits, it does appear that proposed revision has merit in that such a statement would serve as a flag to employee reviewing file(s) for destruction that consideration must also be given to the destruction/retention of exhibit material. However, new destruction rules and guidelines which have a significant impact on the destruction of field files have been established and approved at FBIHQ. These instructions, which will cause Form FD-479 to be revised considerably, will be made available to the field at such time as the existing moratorium on records destruction is removed. Therefore, it was the opinion of the Records Management Unit that revision of Form FD-479 should be held in abeyance until such time as the aforementioned moratorium is removed and new destruction guidelines are made available to the field.

SUBJECT: DISPOSAL OF RETURNED COMMISSION CARDS AND FBI IDENTIFICATION CARDS

During the last inspection of the Procurement and Administrative Services Section, it was suggested by the Inspection Division that a new system be set up as to the destruction of Agent's credentials and non-Agent employee's identification cards. At the time of the last inspection, credentials of this type were kept in a 2-drawer safe filing cabinet and were periodically destroyed by hand.

In the write-up for the Inspectors, we indicated that this matter of destruction would be resolved in the new building with the hammer mill system and that a tickler would be set up every 30 days for these cards to be destroyed and a responsible clerical employee would be assigned to the project, at which time he or she would make a list of the numbers and employee's names of the cards being destroyed and sign and date that he or she destroyed same and that a document would be forwarded to the Personnel Records Section to be placed in the personnel files of all involved.

For a matter of record purposes, this procedure is now in progress and working with one exception - that in many cases these cards are destroyed more frequently than 30 days depending on the volume. It should also be noted that clerical identification cards that are being returned are being destroyed in the same manner.

SUBJECT: ~~RETENTION OF~~ ACCOUNTING OF RECORD DISSEMINATION AS REQUIRED BY THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS General

SYNOPSIS

The purpose of this memorandum is to direct attention to the accounting of record dissemination regulation cited in the Privacy Act of 1974 and to establish an effective system whereby dissemination from all FBI records systems would be duly recorded.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That Files and Communications Division effectuate a retention period of at least five years on record material which has been disseminated from the investigative, administrative, and general files to conform with the regulations of the Privacy Act of 1974.

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
Re: RETENTION OF ACCOUNTING OF RECORD
DISSEMINATION AS REQUIRED BY THE
PRIVACY ACT OF 1974
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

3. That Legats be advised to utilize LEG-7 as a means of accountability and to forward this information to Headquarters for retention in the respective case file for specified period.

4. That appropriate manual insertions be prepared by the Records Management Unit to ensure that obligations incurred by the Act will be discharged.

DETAILS

The regulations of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-579), which encompass systems of records maintained by all Federal agencies as of 9/27/75, include an accountability clause that will carry some impact with regard to our record destruction programs at FBIHQ and in the field. Subsection (c), entitled "Accounting of Certain Disclosures", paragraphs (1) and (2), requires each agency to keep an accurate accounting of the date, nature, and purpose of each disclosure of a record to any person or to another agency; to note the name and address of the person or agency to whom the disclosure is made; and to retain that accounting for at least five years or the life of the record, whichever is longer. Access or dissemination within the agency in the course of routine duties is exempt from the requirements. In order to fulfill our obligation under subsection (c), a review of FBI record systems is essential.

FBI RECORD SYSTEMS

The FBI record systems reported in the Federal Register, issue of 8/27/75, were identified as (001) National Crime Information Center (NCIC), (002) the FBI Central Records System, (003) the Bureau Mailing List, (004) Routine Correspondence Handled by Preprinted Form, (005) Routine Correspondence Prepared Without File Yellow, (006) Electronic Surveillance (Elsur) Indices, (007) FBI Automated Payroll System, (008) Personnel Information Network System, and (009) the Identification Division Records System.

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
Re: RETENTION OF ACCOUNTING OF RECORD
DISSEMINATION AS REQUIRED BY THE
PRIVACY ACT OF 1974
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

Since systems 001, 002, 007, and 009 disseminate record information as a routine function and conduct extensive destruction programs, and systems 006 and 008 disseminate but retain records indefinitely, guidelines for accountability of dissemination should be formulated and adopted for these systems. Systems 003, 004, and 005 may be excluded from this procedure since record material is not dissem-- inated.

FBI CENTRAL RECORDS SYSTEM

Throughout the years, variable rules regarding retention of disseminated documents have been adopted by the Purge and Consolidation Units of the Files and Communications Division which conduct the destruction program for the investigative, administrative, and general files of the FBI Central Records System. While the maintenance of a card file containing the dissemination record has been suggested as a means of accountability, retention of the original record for the specified period would appear to be more feasible. The maintenance of a tickler system should be considered during the initial review as a means to retrieve files for destruction after the five year retention period if destruction criteria are met.

The microfilming program in the Files and Communications Division has adequate provisions for accountability since the reverse sides of communications are filmed if dissemination stamps appear thereon and the film is spliced to include additional dissemination notations as they are created and filmed.

An accounting of material disseminated from the official personnel files is handled through the execution of Standard Form 50 "Notification of Personnel Action" or Standard Form 127 "Request For Official Personnel Folder" by the Administrative Division. The completed form is serialized and retained in the personnel files indefinitely.

FBI FIELD RECORDS SYSTEMS

Provisions have been made for field retention of FD-159 (Control File), "Record of Information Furnished Other Agencies", for the prescribed period and appropriate manual changes have been handled separately.

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
Re: RETENTION OF ACCOUNTING OF RECORD
DISSEMINATION AS REQUIRED BY THE
PRIVACY ACT OF 1974
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

LEGAL ATTACHE RECORD SYSTEMS

Instructions had been issued to Legal Attache Offices to maintain in a control file, all correspondence with Headquarters relating to destroyed files. To ensure total compliance, the Foreign Liaison Unit of the Intelligence Division proposed advising Legal Attache Offices to complete LEG-7 for routine liaison inquiries which result in record dissemination. LEG-7 would be forwarded to Headquarters for filing in the substantive case file for the retention period, since records are not retained for prolonged periods in Legal Attache Offices. The format of LEG-7, which is utilized to record dissemination of classified documents abroad, is adequate to record the essentials required by the Act with the exception of the purpose which may be noted as "routine liaison inquiry."

Additional record systems maintained at FBIHQ will continue to be published in the Federal Register and substantive divisions will be required to maintain records on dissemination from these systems. Pertinent divisions will be alerted when the additional systems are published.

In addition to the above accountability requirement, subsection (o) of the Act, entitled "Report on New Systems", alerts all agencies that alterations to or revisions in established systems of records and the creation of new systems must be reported in advance to Congress and the Office of Management and Budget by each agency for evaluation. Such alterations would include expansion of type or categories of information maintained, change in method of organization, indexing, or retrieval, alteration in purpose of the system or change in equipment configuration.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that the office of origin and its file number be included in the data placed on an index card at the time of its preparation. It is further suggested that index cards be retained, rather than destroyed after six months as required by Bulet to SAC, Albany, entitled "DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS", dated 3/3/76. This retention would enable a field office to identify subjects of RUC'd cases and, if the case is of a classification where the subject could be dangerous to Bureau personnel, a call to the office of origin could resolve the situation if the former subject were to appear at the auxiliary office or come to its attention in an investigative matter.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Currently there is no rule relative to the placing of the OO file number on an index card and destruction in auxiliary cases is after six months.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

If all auxiliary files and index cards are destroyed in six months, a dangerous subject could easily escape detention since there would be no record of previous investigation regarding him in the auxiliary office, a situation that could have dire or embarrassing consequences.

SUBJECT: RETENTION OF ACCOUNTING OF RECORD DISSEMINATION AS REQUIRED BY THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

Bailey to McDermott memorandum dated 2/9/76 requested the Computer Systems Division to review and comment on procedures utilized in accounting for record disseminations in systems of records under its control. Accordingly, the following information is furnished:

001 - National Crime Information Center (NCIC)

The NCIC is a computerized information system. A permanent record of all NCIC transactions, including disseminations, is maintained in the form of computer magnetic tapes stored at the FBI computer center.

007 - FBI Automated Payroll System

Payroll information is disseminated to Federal, state, and local government agencies pursuant to Federal statutes and regulations. These disseminations involve salary and leave information furnished to such agencies for income tax and social security matters, and upon retirement, transfer, or resignation from this agency. Written records of disseminations are maintained for the life of the payroll records.

EX-112
REC-49

008 - Personnel Information Network System (PINS)

The automated PINS system is used by the Administrative Division as a source of information to respond to outside requests for employment verification, salary data, etc. Such disseminations are made only with the employee's approval. Permanent written records of such disseminations are maintained in each employee's personnel file.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

The purpose of this memorandum is to clarify a statement appearing in a memorandum from the Attorney General to the Director.

Attached is a memorandum from the Attorney General to the Director dated March 15, 1976, captioned "File Destruction Program." The Attorney General's memorandum, in part, states "Before the program actually resumes the Department will have to contact Congresswoman Abzug, who has requested of me that no files be destroyed." Since the aforementioned quote appears not to be consistent with our prior understanding with the Department on this matter, Jack Fuller, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, was contacted on 3/18/76 and he was asked whether the Department was implying they would solicit the approval of Chairwoman Bella S. Abzug prior to the resumption of the file destruction program. Fuller said that this was not the case and they were merely going to give Chairwoman Abzug notice of the decision to resume the program. The notice would be given in a fashion to apprise her that this resumption had been approved by Senators Church, Scott and Mansfield.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION

PURPOSE: Restoration of Bureau Records - General

To advise the Director of the status of file destruction.

DETAILS:

The Director previously created a committee to consider the acceleration of the destruction of records not required for operational use. The committee consists of Mr. Cochran, Mr. Gallagher and myself. The status concerning the committee's deliberation follows.

1. As you are aware, for months we have been attempting to remove the moratorium on Bureau file destruction requested by the Joint Senate Leadership. The Department has approved forwarding a request to the Senate and a favorable response to our request is anticipated which will allow us to resume the destruction of file material which has been approved by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), other than security and intelligence files.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 5-19-87 BY 6383 UAT/sms

2. Instructions have already gone forward to all field offices mandating the destruction of Auxiliary Office files six months after they have been placed in an RUC status as opposed to the current five year destruction rule. Index purging would accompany such destruction. This procedure will allow us to save at least 30 percent of closed file space in all field offices. Field supervisors would have the option for the selective retention of any record believed to be of continuing value.

3. There continues a study looking to proposing to the National Archivist various records for destruction which are included in the Records Retention Plan which should allow us to reduce our file retention in certain classifications, especially at FBIHQ.

4. New uniform criteria for indexing records (through 1976 which all information is retrievable) has already been promulgated and implementation is imminent.

5. Of paramount consideration in the destruction of Headquarters files is the Bureau's responsibility under Executive Order (EO) 10450, which requires Executive Branch agencies to submit name check requests to the FBI. The standards of file review require consideration of the applicant or employee's entire adult life. This review criteria vis-a-vis EO 10450 would be impeded by the destruction of records covering a person's adulthood which may thereafter become the subject of a name check request. This problem has been discussed with the Department and we have been informed that in view of the sensitivity of the Congress and the Executive Branch to curtail certain record retention it might be necessary to rewrite EO 10450.

6. Title 44 of the United States Code authorizes NARS to promulgate the retention or destruction of Executive Branch records. The Archivist has previously advised that "... Ordinarily the records of a Federal agency that are worthy of permanent retention amounts to a rather small percentage of the total volume of records generated. However, many of the records produced by the FBI relate to a number of controversial, if not important, aspects of history of the United States, particularly the role of the Federal Government in its relation to its citizens. NARS noted that many years will pass before these records can be made available to the public for historical and other serious research. Nevertheless, the Archival value of these records will not decrease, nor will interest in them dissipate." Accordingly, in connection with the Records Retention Plan, NARS has placed an indefinite retention period on most of our basic violation categories. The destruction of the substance of any of this material is prohibited. After records in this category are no longer needed by the Bureau, they must be sent to NARS for permanent retention because of their historical value. Despite this, we have reason to believe from negotiations we have had with NARS we can obtain Archival approval to accelerate destruction of certain of our records and this is being pursued.

7. There is attached a three and one half page excerpt captioned "Archival Matters" which is taken from my memorandum to Mr. Jenkins dated 2/26/76 captioned "Automated Records Management Systems (ARMS) - Developments in Communications Section", copies of which were furnished to all Assistant Directors. This discusses in more detail the matters relating to file destruction and file retention.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. This is submitted for the Director's information regarding the status of the file destruction and retention program.

ARCHIVAL MATTERS
(CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS TITLE 41)
(UNITED STATES CODE TITLE 44)

GENERAL ARCHIVAL DATA APPLICABLE TO AGENCIES OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

All agencies are required to retain any material made or received during the course of public business which has been preserved or is appropriate for preservation. Disposal must be in accordance with established regulations. Records of the Federal Government are legally destroyed in accordance with General Records Schedules which are promulgated by the Administrator of General Services and apply to records material common to several or all agencies or by submission of individual record schedules to National Archives and Records Service (NARS). With a combination of these items and the Records Retention Plan, developed and approved by NARS, agencies are required to prepare Records Control Schedules to provide for disposition of all agency records, either through destruction, retention at agency level, retention at Federal Records Centers or National Personnel Records Centers, or accession by Archives.

Duplicate copies of record material maintained for convenience are not considered "records" and may be destroyed without NARS approval.

NARS GUIDELINES APPLIED TO FBI RECORDS

FBI records support the Bureau's investigative and administrative needs and its obligation to act as a clearinghouse under Executive Order (EO) 10450 regarding the security of Government employees. Accordingly, in support of this need, the destruction of original records or records of substance has not been sought. In other words, the record is needed in the transaction of current business in accordance with FBI obligations as prescribed by law. The records are needed for investigative reference and for EO 10450 until such time a legal limit is placed on what prior records may be accessed for this purpose. Additionally, because of the continuing need to access all records on a frequent basis, Federal Records Centers have not been used for investigative data. The following is a brief summary on the disposition of FBI records:

General Criteria Used For The Destruction of FBI Records As Approved by NARS

1) A variety of records are destroyed after a specified time in accordance with the Records

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 5-19-87 BY 6383 UNT/ans

ENCLOSURE
66-3286-1117

Control Schedule which includes categories of records approved within the General Records Schedules and specific requests made and approved by NARS. Records in this category are generally administrative in nature and also apply to fingerprint records.

2) Destruction of FBI investigative matters has generally applied in the following categories:

a) cases in which there was no prosecutive action undertaken;

b) perpetrators of violations not developed during the investigation, and;

c) investigation revealed allegations were unsubstantiated or not within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI.

3) Destruction of FBI closed criminal matters over 10 years old after it has been determined that microphotographic copies are satisfactory duplicates of the original material.

4) Destruction of closed field files after reports or summaries of substance have been forwarded to FBIHQ.

General Criteria Used For The Retention of FBI Records As Approved By NARS

Accordingly, it is interesting to note that the FBI has never destroyed an investigative matter of substance. Additionally, NARS, in connection with their Records Management Evaluation Program, established a Records Retention Plan for the Bureau wherein they noted that ordinarily the records of a Federal agency that are worthy of permanent retention amounts to a rather small percentage of a total volume of records generated. However, many of the records produced by the FBI relate to a number of controversial, if not important, aspects of history of the United States, particularly the role of the Federal Government in its relation to its citizens. NARS noted that many years will pass before these records can be made available to the public for historical and other serious research. Nevertheless, the Archival value of these records will not decrease, nor will interest in them dissipate.

While it may be established there may be certain categories of investigative records of substance that can be offered for destruction (by obtaining authority from NARS because they serve no continuing need), NARS may exercise their option to retain the records because of their future historical significance. Records in this category could be applicant cases since NARS, in their records retention plan, did not place an indefinite retention period on this type of record.

In connection with the Records Retention Plan, NARS has placed an indefinite retention period on most of the basic violation categories. The destruction of the substance of any of this material is prohibited. After it has been determined that files in the specific categories noted by NARS serve no continuing need, the Bureau will be obligated to forward them to NARS for permanent retention because of their historical value. This data, however, is always subject to reevaluation by NARS.

USE OF FEDERAL RECORDS CENTERS (FRC)

The FBI has forwarded material to the FRC which has been administrative in nature and applies only to payroll and voucher material. The only exception has been a court order placing certain documents from personnel files under seal in a National Personnel Records Center.

Because of FBI obligation to disseminate pertinent data to other agencies in connection with EO 10450 or other "need-to-know" basis, these agencies have in turn deposited these records with NARS. However, in accordance with Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations, no one else can have access to these records without the originating agency's approval.

RECORDS FORWARDED TO NARS BECAUSE OF THEIR HISTORICAL VALUE

The only FBI records that have been accessioned by or offered to NARS for their historical value which did not serve a continuing need for the FBI are those records prior to 1924. They were referred to as the Old German, Bureau Section, Mexican and Miscellaneous files.

CURRENT APPLICATION OF NARS GUIDELINES
TO BRING THE RETENTION OF FIELD RECORDS IN-BALANCE WITH THEIR NEEDS

At the conclusion of the current moratorium on the destruction of record material imposed by Senate Resolution 21 (request of Joint U. S. Senate leadership Mansfield and Scott) all field offices will be advised of new field destruction rules which have previously been approved. This will allow Auxiliary Office files, which are of no continuing value, to be destroyed six months from the date cases were referred upon completion to the office of origin. The office of origin currently has authority to destroy files of no continuing value after they are 10 years old.

With these destruction rules, FBIHQ will then have a copy (or summary of substance) of all investigative matters handled by the field except (1) pending matters which have not required a communication to Headquarters, and (2) unknown subject cases and cases that did not result in prosecution which are closed administratively.

The suggestion made by [redacted], Kansas City, proposing a form to be utilized by an auxiliary office to the office of origin upon destruction of auxiliary office files appears to have merit. The first listed advantage is that such a form would alert the Chief Clerk's Office that documents attached should not be blockestamped which is very valuable and would automatically alert the Chief Clerk's Office not to block stamp document attached. It appears that the suggestion does have merit and the Office of Planning and Evaluation recommends adoption be considered.

Inspection, Records Management Divisions and Office of Planning and Evaluation agree the idea has merit and should be approved. By Bulet 3/3/76 entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" all offices were informed of new destruction criteria applicable to auxiliary office files with instructions that original FD-302s and 1-A Exhibits be furnished to OO. While many of these items will naturally be transmitted by formal communication containing investigative information, there will also be many instances when such a communication is not required. Therefore, a form as proposed would eliminate need to prepare other suitable transmittal communication and alert the Chief Clerk's Office that material attached should not be block stamped. The format has been discussed with Records Management Division and it is believed the amended form attached for approval is more appropriate than the one submitted. On approval, this letter will serve as the authority for the Forms Management Desk, Training Division, to take appropriate action and the Records Management Division to advise the field of the use to be made of the form.

SUGGESTION

See form attached. Proposed form to be utilized in transmitting original documents to OO upon destruction of files by an auxiliary office. This form would be utilized at such time as the moratorium has been removed.

General
Destruction of Bureau Property

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Director's letter to Albany dated 3/3/76 re destruction of field files and records.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

If proposed form adopted, following advantages will be derived:
1) Will alert CCO in receiving offices not to block stamp original documents.
2) Will streamline and simplify forwarding original FD-302s, lab reports and other original documents to office of origin.
3) Will save steno time in typing and xerox costs of reproducing a transmittal form.

SUGGESTION 501-76

ADDENDUM RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:evp 4/7/76)

It is proposed in attached suggestion that a form (sample copy enclosed) be authorized for use as a transmittal communication for documents and/or items being furnished to Office of Origin by Auxiliary Office as the result of instructions contained in Bulet 3/3/76 to Albany and all offices captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records."

OBSERVATIONS:

By Bulet 3/3/76 titled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" all field divisions were informed of new destruction criteria applicable to Auxiliary Office files with instructions that original FD-302s and 1A exhibts be furnished to office of origin. While many of these items will naturally be transmitted by formal communication containing investigative information, there will also be many instances when such a communication is not required. Therefore, a form as suggested would eliminate the need to prepare other suitable transmittal communication. It is the opinion of the Records Systems and Training Unit that suggestion has merit and should be adopted as such a form would be a useful tool in implementing the instructions setforth in Bulet 3/3/76.

RECOMMENDATION:

That suggestion be adopted.

Honorable Hugh Scott
United States Senate Minority Leader
Room S-230, The Capitol
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Scott:

The Select Committee has been advised by the FBI that it wishes to resume its normal file destruction program, which was suspended over a year ago. This suspension was instituted by the FBI as a result of your request of January 27, 1975, that the FBI not destroy any records which might have a bearing on the subjects under investigation by the Select Committee pursuant to S. Res. 21.

The Select Committee believes that this moratorium on records destruction is broader than is now necessary, both for its work and for the effective discharge of the responsibilities of any future Senate committee engaged in oversight of the FBI. We have reached this conclusion after consultation with the Attorney General. A letter from Attorney General Edward H. Levi of March 18, 1976, relating to this matter is attached. In addition, I am attaching an exchange of correspondence between FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley, the Justice Department, and myself on this matter.

The Select Committee believes that the FBI Director should be permitted to resume the Bureau's routine records destruction program, since the files to be covered by that program do not relate to security or intelligence matters. This is clearly stated in Director Kelley's letter. Consequently, the Select Committee recommends that the FBI institute the procedures outlined by Director Kelley.

Sincerely,

Frank Church

Dear Mr. Chairman:

You will recall that by letter to me of January 27, 1975, from Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Minority Leader Hugh Scott, we were advised of the Senate's plan to conduct an investigation and study of intelligence activities by Government agencies. The scope of the study was defined in Senate Resolution 21 of the 94th Congress. The letter specifically requested that we not destroy or otherwise dispose of any records or documents which might have a bearing on the subjects under investigation or relating to the matters specified in Section 2 of Senate Resolution 21. That Section of the Resolution described the Senate's extensive interest in the domestic intelligence, as well as foreign counterintelligence, activities of Executive Branch agencies, including the FBI.

In accommodation of that request of the leadership of the United States Senate, I immediately issued instructions to all offices and divisions of this Bureau establishing a moratorium on the destruction of all records of whatever description. In retrospect, I now feel that the moratorium need not have been as all-encompassing as that, but this was done to assure that there could be no question of my intention for the FBI to comply fully with the request with regard to the preservation of relevant records in which the Senate might develop an interest.

Honorable Frank Church

It is now almost one year since the inception of the moratorium on our regular records destruction program. For your information, our regular destruction program, as approved by the National Archives and Records Service, is designed to prevent retention of masses of records well beyond the period during which they may serve a useful purpose. Further, our records destruction program, as approved by the National Archivist, permits the destruction of those records which are deemed to no longer possess evidentiary, intelligence, or historical value. The moratorium, which was not expected to last as long as it has, has created substantial administrative burdens not only at FBI Headquarters but throughout our 59 field offices. The suspension of sound records management and file destruction practices in many areas is causing very substantial space and storage problems.

I, therefore, now propose, with your concurrence, to resume that portion of our records destruction program which, in reality, could not have been contemplated by the Senate leadership's request in the first instance. We would continue the destruction moratorium on all classifications of files which would fall within the general description of "security files." These would encompass all files on domestic intelligence matters, extremist matters, racial matters, as well as foreign counter-intelligence subject matters. We would, with regard to such "security matters," destroy duplicative material only.

The matters that we propose to resume routine destruction of, in accordance with our previously established Records Retention Plan, are the following: files relating to criminal investigations, suitability or applicant-type investigations, correspondence files, and files of an administrative nature generally. Should you or any members of your Committee express an interest for our continued retention of any record material other than as specified herein, you may be assured that such a request would receive every consideration.

Dear Director Kelley:

I have considered your letter of January 12, 1976, regarding the request of the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader on January 27, 1975, that the FBI not destroy any records which might have a bearing on matters specified in Senate Resolution 21.

The Select Committee deeply appreciates your instructions issued immediately after the request establishing a moratorium on destruction of all FBI files of whatever description. We understand that this moratorium has been costly and has produced substantial administrative burdens.

Therefore, the Select Committee would raise no objection to the resumption of destruction of certain records which would have no relationship whatsoever to the matters specified in S. Res. 21. We are concerned, however, that resumption of routine destruction in accordance with your established Records Retention Plan may result in destroying materials which might be of use in connection with the work of a future Senate committee engaged in oversight of the FBI.

Consequently, we suggest that you confer with the Attorney General so as to ensure that he is satisfied that reinstitution of destruction under the Records Retention Plan is consistent with his policies regarding the availability of materials for future Congressional oversight, as well as for effective supervision of the FBI by the Attorney General.

I will be happy to recommend to the Majority Leader and Minority Leader that they endorse resumption of records destruction, upon receipt of notification that the Attorney General has approved such destruction after considering the concerns stated above.

Thank you again for your continued cooperation with the Select Committee.

SUBJECT: FM Radio Equipment — Destruction of Bureau Property

The Laboratory is in possession of several pieces of old Moore tone control equipment. These are pieces of equipment that have been used by various field offices for control of their radio systems and have been replaced with newer equipment. This equipment is of a vintage such that new replacement printed circuit cards are no longer available from the manufacturer. Inasmuch as these units will not be used in the future by the Bureau, it is recommended they be cannibalized for usable parts and the remainder destroyed.

It is suggested that the MRR, Part II, Section 3, 5 (b), be changed to read "Files in all classifications must be consolidated within 6 months after closed or referred upon completion to the office of origin or at the time that Auxiliary office files are destroyed under the 6 months destruction rule."

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate)

It may be some time before all offices become current in file destruction in all classifications because of new file destruction rules. It would save considerable clerical time to delay condolidation of closed files until auxiliary office files have been destroyed. It would be easier to destroy auxilary office files while filed as single files and before they are stripped and consolidated. Auxiliary office files could be destroyed and other files stripped and consolidated in one operation and volumes would have to be made only one time.

Memorandum W. M. Mooney to Mr. Jenkins
Re: Handling Of Mail In Field Divisions
Suggestion 489-76 Submitted By
Mr. [redacted], Charlotte Office

b7C

DETAILS: Suggester states it may be some time before all offices become current in file destruction in all classifications because of new file destruction rules. It would save considerable clerical time to delay consolidation of closed files until auxiliary office files have been destroyed. It would be easier to destroy auxiliary office files while filed as single files and before they are stripped and consolidated. Auxiliary office files could be destroyed and other files stripped and consolidated in one operation and volumes would have to be made only one time.

Inspection Division stated, in view of the fact that the Records Management Division has recently issued instructions relative to destruction of files and has been receiving numerous suggestions concerning file destruction, it was the Division's view that the idea should be held in abeyance until the current moratorium on destruction of files is lifted and a final determination can be made regarding these proposals by the Records Management Division.

Records Management Division observed that new instructions relative to the 6-month file destruction program are being formulated at FBIHQ and will be furnished to the field in the very near future. In addition to file destructio these instructions will impact file consolidation and will result in major manual changes relative thereto. This Division recommended the proposal not be adopted since forthcoming instructions will cause manual changes to be made that will supersede proposed change.

Due to the above observations, Training Division agrees the idea should not be adopted at this time.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN FOREIGN OPERATIONS POLICY MANUAL

Destruction of Bureau Records - Journal

Section 12, page 6 should be amended to read as follows:

G. RETENTION OF DISSEMINATION ACCOUNT

In order to comply with the regulations of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-579), Legal Attaches will complete form LEG-7 for routine liaison inquiries which ultimately result in dissemination and forward this information to FBIHQ for retention in the substantive case file for the prescribed period. The regulations require retention of accounting of dissemination of record material or disclosure of a record to any person or to another agency for five years or the life of the record, whichever is longer.

Dear Mr. Director:

You will recall that we wrote to you on January 27, 1975, requesting "that you not destroy, remove from your possession or control or otherwise dispose of documents. . ." which might be pertinent to the investigation which was provided for by S. Res. 21. We are now advised by Senator Church, as Chairman, that this moratorium is broader than necessary at this time.

Accordingly, we rescind our request of January 27, 1975, to the end that you may resume the Bureau's routine records disposal program. Our understanding is that the files involved in that program do not relate to security and intelligence matters.

With appreciation for your cooperation, we are

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL
SUGGESTION 504-76 SUBMITTED BY MRS. [redacted] EL PASO OFFICE

b6
b7C

PURPOSE: To evaluate the proposal that the office of origin (OO) and its file number be included in the data placed on an index card at the time of its preparation. Further, suggests that index cards be retained, rather than destroyed after six months as required by Bulet to SAC, Albany, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records," dated 3/3/76.

SYNOPSIS: This retention would enable a field office to identify subjects of referred upon completion (RUC'd) cases and, if the case is of a classification where the subject could be dangerous to Bureau personnel, a call to the OO could resolve the situation if the former subject were to appear at the auxiliary office or come to its attention in an investigative matter.

If all auxiliary files and index cards are destroyed in six months, a dangerous subject could easily escape detention since there would be no record of previous investigation regarding him in the auxiliary office, a situation that could have dire or embarrassing consequences.

Records Management Division agrees with the idea to place OO and OO file number on index cards at time they are prepared and this would be in line with the current study and effort to automate/computerize indices. This Division opposes retention of index cards after six months. Views are attached.

It is noted that a similar idea was submitted by SA Joel R. Hitt on 12/17/74 and not approved at that time. This is within the two-year time limit for recognition of ideas so it is believed he should receive a letter regarding this matter.

REC-34 66-3256-1192

RECOMMENDATIONS: (1) That the portion of the idea regarding placing the OO and OO file number on index cards when they are prepared be adopted and the attached letters be forwarded to the suggesters advising them of this fact.

ADDENDUM RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISON (TBD:evp 4/19/76)

It is proposed in attached suggestion that Office of Origin (OO) and OO file number be placed on index cards at the time the cards are prepared. Further, that index cards be retained rather than destroyed after six months as currently required by Bulet to SAC, Albany 3/3/76 entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records." Currently there is no requirement that OO and/or OO file number be placed on index cards.

OBSERVATIONS:

The suggestion to PLACE ~~[illegible]~~ OO and OO file number on index cards at time they are prepared appears to have merit and would be in line with the current study and effort to automate/computerize indices. This project is in the process of being implemented at this time. The suggestion that index cards be retained rather than destroyed after six months is contrary to instructions contained in aforementioned Bulet to SAC, Albany and all offices 3/3/76, and McDermott to Jenkins memorandum 4/5/76 titled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" wherein a change in the Manual of Rules and Regulations was approved thereby providing for the destruction of index cards at the time related file material is destroyed. Therefore, suggestion to retain index cards should not be favorably considered for adoption.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That suggestion to place OO and OO file number on index cards be adopted. However, retention of index cards as suggested should not be adopted as such an arrangement would be contrary to above cited instructions and manual change.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:evp 6/11/76)

Attached suggestion from the Albany Office proposes that forms FD-478, List of Files Destroyed, and FD-479, Files and Records Destruction Order (samples attached), be revised to further facilitate the file destruction program outlined in BuAirtel 4/27/76 titled "Destruction of Field Files and Records."

OBSERVATIONS:

In view of the recent instructions concerning destruction of field investigative files, aforementioned forms are in need of revision as suggested. The Records Systems and Training Unit, therefore, feels this suggestion has merit and should be adopted.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend suggestion be adopted.

THE DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES AND RECORDS

The regular destruction program applied to FBI files and records has been approved by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) and is in accordance with Title 44, Chapter 33 of the United States Code and Title 41, Chapter 101 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The program is designed to prevent retention of masses of records beyond the period during which they may serve a useful purpose. Additionally, our records destruction program as approved by the National Archivist permits the destruction of those records which are deemed to no longer possess evidentiary, intelligence, or historical value.

In addition to the approved destruction of various types of administrative, applicant and correspondence files, destruction of FBI investigative matters has generally applied in the following categories: (a) cases in which there was no prosecutive action undertaken; (b) perpetrators of violations not developed during the investigations and (c) investigations that revealed allegations were unsubstantiated or not within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI. Destruction has also applied to Laboratory examinations other than FBI cases in which positive identifications were not made. In these categories reference to the original material does not exist.

In investigative matters of substance, microfilmed copies or summaries of substance are retained. For example, destruction has applied to: (a) FBI closed criminal matters over 10 years old after it has been determiend that microphotographic copies are satisfactory duplicates of the original material; (b) closed field files after reports or summaries of substance have been forwarded to FBI Headquarters and; (c) duplicate or extra copies of record material. These approved guidelines, which permit the disposal of obsolete material, are in accordance with sound records management principles and allow for a more efficient utilization of filing equipment and space.

The Destruction of FBI Files and Records

In accordance with Senate Resolution 21 of the 94th Congress, all file destruction was suspended in January, 1975, at FBI Headquarters and all field offices. This moratorium was placed on all records of every description to assure the preservation of relevant records in which the Senate might develop an interest. This moratorium lasted longer than anticipated which caused administrative burdens and storage problems. Therefore, at the request of the FBI, on April 7, 1976, the Attorney General, after advising various members of the Congress, advised the FBI may renew the routine program of file destruction except those files relating to domestic intelligence, extremist matters, racial matters and foreign counterintelligence matters. The Attorney General also advised that in implementing this plan great care should be taken so that no documents involved in litigation are destroyed and that the destruction program leaves intelligence and security files intact. This also precluded the destruction of duplicate copies of material in this category.

Approval is now requested to procede with the complete file destruction program for which Archival authority has been granted without the exceptions noted above. This particularly refers to duplicate material which no longer serves a useful purpose and closed files in our field offices after reports or summaries of substance have been forwarded to FBI Headquarters.

MANUAL OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

0 Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Part II, Section 3C, 8f, Page 5a, delete.

Part II, Section 3D, 8a first sentence, Page 13a, amend to read as follows:

> There are only two basic destruction rules, six months and ten years, which apply to investigative files.

Part II, Section 3D, 8c, Page 13a, delete.

Part II, Section 3D, Paragraphs 8d and 8e delete. Substitute the following:

d. Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old:

(1) Field office investigative files in all classifications, in office of origin provided the files are of no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical or other reference purpose.

(2) Investigative files in auxiliary offices in cases in which the Bureau is office of origin.

(3) Destroy all field office index cards at time related field office file is destroyed.

e. Files and records to be destroyed when six-months old if following conditions are met:

(1) Investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices provided files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes, or if the case is one in which FBIHQ is office of origin.

(2) Exceptions to the ten-year and six-month destruction rules include the following field office files and material which are to be retained five years and then destroyed:

Proposed Change in Manual of Rules and Regulations

(a) Dead files and index cards related thereto in all classifications if of no continuing value.

(b) Zero files and index cards related thereto in all classifications if of no continuing value.

(c) FBI Law Enforcement Bulletins - (retain index cards).

(d) Records of Information furnished other agencies, FD-159 (control file copy only) to be destroyed after five years. Copy of FD-159 contained in the substantive file and index cards related thereto to be destroyed when substantive field office file is destroyed.

If there is any doubt concerning destruction of the above material by an auxiliary office, that office should consult the office of origin. If there is any doubt about the destruction of a file in an office of origin, that office should consult the Bureau.

Add the following paragraphs:

Procedures set forth below are to be followed in implementing instructions for the destruction of field office files and records, items 8d and 8e above:

Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and 1A exhibits being retained as the only items in a file due to a previous purge/destruction rule should be forwarded to Office of Origin (OO) if subject and/or OO file number is available otherwise this material should be retained by auxiliary office and destroyed when 10 years old. If less than 10 years old and subject and/or OO file number is available these items are to be furnished to OO by routing slip or other appropriate transmittal communication. Otherwise, auxiliary office should retain these items until 10 years old and then destroy them.

* Form FD-491, Transmittal communication for Original Documents to Office of Origin, may be utilized in connection with the destruction program.

Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports and 1A exhibits being removed from files which currently satisfy the destruction criteria and are not 10 years old are to be forwarded to OO by routing slip and/or other appropriate communication reflecting subject and/or OO file number. Recipient office will assign each FD-302, Laboratory report and latent fingerprint report OO file number and next sequential serial number and place in OO file. Transmittal communication may be filed if appropriate. 1A exhibits are to be filed according to previously established filing procedures.

Original FD-302s prepared, and 1A exhibits acquired as a result of current and ongoing investigations are to be forwarded to OO by appropriate communications with the exception of those 1A exhibits which are to be returned to the contributor in the jurisdiction wherein they were obtained. You may retain these excepted exhibits until they have served their purpose or until the auxiliary office file has satisfied the destruction criteria at which time these exhibits should have served their purpose and should be returned to contributor. However, if additional retention is required, the exhibit is to be made a bulky exhibit and two copies of the green sheet (FD-192) furnished to OO.

In order to avoid unusual delays in reporting by OO, auxiliary offices with remotely located Resident Agencies may furnish OO copies of FD-302 by appropriate communication. The original is to be forwarded to OO by routing slip or other appropriate communication once it has been initialed by the Resident Agent and returned to field office headquarters. Auxiliary offices will request FBIHQ to furnish original Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and if appropriate, the evidence to OO upon completion of Laboratory examinations.

In current and ongoing investigations where auxiliary office furnished FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and/or 1A exhibits to OO, a copy of the transmittal as well as a copy of the FD-302 should be retained in auxiliary office file until file is destroyed.

Proposed Change in Manual of Rules and Regulations

In those cases where OO is changed, both the new OO and new auxiliary office will apply the 10 year destruction rule to files in this category. It will be the responsibility of the new OO to advise the original OO when case is closed. This will facilitate the retention of original material that is contained in the files of both offices and will insure that original documents and/or evidence is not prematurely destroyed. At such time the OO is changed it will not be necessary for new auxiliary office to forward existing original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and/or IA exhibits to OO. Only these items prepared and/or acquired subsequent to changing OO will be furnished to new OO in accordance with aforementioned procedure, unless advised to the contrary by OO.

In connection with bulky exhibits, the auxiliary office should furnish two copies of FD-192 to OO. One copy will be filed in OO case file according to established filing procedures and the other copy will be filed in the bulky exhibit index (numerical sequence of form FD-192 by classification and file number). Auxiliary office will retain original FD-192 in case file, place copy in bulky index, and copy with exhibit. This procedure will facilitate conduct of the semi-annual inventory of bulky exhibits which will be the responsibility of the OO. Semi-annually, when OO reviews bulky exhibits and notes on FD-192 action to be taken, a Xerox copy of this form is to be furnished to auxiliary office holding exhibit(s). The most recent FD-192 will supersede the one previously furnished and being retained in the bulky index.

In all cases, with the exception of FBI Law Enforcement Bulletins, all index cards are to be destroyed at time related file material is destroyed.

SUBJECT: ASSESSMENT OF PRIORITIES FOR THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION

PURPOSE: Destruction of Bureau Records - General

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise the Director of my assessment of the priorities for the Records Management Division.

SYNOPSIS:

After meeting with my staff and reviewing the various areas of responsibilities for this Division, I have concluded there are three basic areas that should receive priority attention. Specifically this relates to: (1) the automation of the General Index, (2) the destruction of obsolete file material, and (3) improving our position relating to FOIPA matters. I feel the Bureau's overall mission and goals will be greatly enhanced if positive accomplishments can be fully realized in the immediate future in these important areas. I fully intend to see that sufficient resources are dedicated to these matters and expect positive results to be forthcoming.

Memorandum to Mr. Jenkins
ASSESSMENT OF PRIORITIES FOR THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION

DETAILS:

Automation of the General Index

I consider the automation of the General Index to be of prime importance. The Index is the key to all file material and automation of other significant record functions depend on the Index. By providing the capability of remote access and input for index automation, investigative personnel will have available to them the information to use as an investigative aid that is currently not available. In addition to providing significant savings by eliminating many redundant functions, the Automated Index will serve as a basis to include many other related automation programs that would aid and be helpful to the investigator. For these reasons I feel it is essential to accelerate this project. Significant progress has already been achieved in this area and by the first of July of this year we will begin to capture all new incoming index information in machine format and at the same time start converting a portion of the existing index. We should have an automated index within two or three years that relates to all FBIHQ records for the past 20 years. This will accommodate 77 percent of all FBIHQ searching requirements. The New York Office will be used as a pilot study in applying index automation to the field. Terminal equipment has been ordered and we expect a prototype operation to be under way by the first of the year. The experience factor gained with New York will help in extending index automation to all field offices.

File Destruction

I feel it is now timely for the Bureau to reevaluate requirements for the retention of file material at FBIHQ beyond certain specified time periods and to consider the retention period of 10 or 20 years after a case has been closed. The Bureau has not previously sought destruction of investigative records of substance at FBIHQ on the basis they were needed for reference in connection with investigative and administrative needs and to satisfy requirements under Executive Order (EO) 10450. There is no legal requirement to maintain files for a specified period of time in connection with EO 10450 and it may be reasonable to assume that a 10 year retention period would account for all records that are relevant and timely. Additionally, the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) placed an indefinite retention period on all basic violation categories because of their historical significance. NARS is now reluctant to accession records in large volume due to complications encountered as a result of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts, and records they previously felt should be retained for historical reasons are now being reevaluated since they would be responsible for responding to the requests if they took custody of the records. FBIHQ's continuing need for these records will now be reevaluated since a short retention period would have a significant impact on many operations, such as: (1) burdens in handling responses to Freedom of Information and Privacy Act requests, (2) reduction in the staff at FBIHQ, resulting from less records to maintain and review, and (3) result in significant savings in space. I consider this to be a very essential and priority item for this Division and will see to it that the appropriate aspects regarding file destruction are resolved and that appropriate resources are directed to accomplish desired goals.

Freedom of Information-Privacy Acts

Implementation of the Freedom of Information-Privacy Acts (FOIPA) continues as a high priority matter of the FOIPA Section, Records Management Division. At the present time, FOIPA Section has 182 employees on-board consisting of 24 law-trained Agents and 82 reviewer analysts. The high volume of work associated with FOIPA continues unabated and requests for records continue to be received at the rate of 55 per day, the same daily average as in 1975. There is currently a backlog of slightly over 6,000 requests in the Section and the courts continue to look with a jaundice eye on this backlog. There have been a number of court orders requiring expedited attention in some of these cases which further increases the backlog of requests since each must be treated as "mini" specials. At the present time, the FOIPA Section is just about holding its own in responding to requests and the backlog has been kept at about the 6,000 level for the past two months, having reached a peak of 6,782 in the latter part of March, 1976. There has been a substantial allocation of our resources in both terms of manpower and finances to FOIPA matters and it is essential that this commitment be maintained until the backlog has been substantially reduced. Requests have been made for slight increases in Agent and analyst complement to further reduce the backlog and if approved, this further commitment will give us an idea as to what further action, if any, need be taken in this area.

File memo from Bowman as enclosure to memo-

DETAILS:

The Bureau's Records Management Program is in accordance with Title 44 of the U. S. Code and Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The National Archives and Records Service (NARS), in connection with their Records Management Evaluation Program established in 1969 a Records Retention Plan for FBI records and in doing so noted that "...Ordinarily the records of a Federal Agency that are worthy of permanent retention amount to a rather small percentage of the total volume of records generated. Many of the records produced by the FBI relate to a number of controversial, if not important, aspects of history of the United States, particularly the role of the Federal Government in its relation to its citizens. Many years will pass before these records can be made available to the public for historical and other serious research. Nevertheless, the Archival value of these records will not decrease, nor will interest in them dissipate." Accordingly, in connection with the Records Retention Plan, NARS placed an indefinite retention period on most of our basic violation categories.

The Bureau has traditionally taken the position that FBI records support the Bureau's investigative and administrative needs and its obligation to act as a clearinghouse under Executive Order (EO) 10450 regarding the security of Government employees. Accordingly, in support of this need, the destruction of investigative records of substance at FBIHQ has not been sought.

In addition to the approved destruction of various types of administrative, applicant, and correspondence files, destruction of FBI investigative matters has generally applied in the following categories: (a) cases in which there was no prosecutive action undertaken, (b) perpetrators of violations not developed during the investigation, and (c) investigations that revealed allegations were unsubstantiated or not within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI. Destruction has also applied to Laboratory examinations other than FBI cases in which positive identificaitons were not made. In these categories reference to the original material does not exist.

In investigative matters of substance, microfilmed copies or summaries of substance are retained. For example, destruction has applied to: (a) FBI closed criminal matters over 10 years old after it has been determined that microphotographic copies are satisfactory duplicates of original material, (b) closed field files after reports or summaries of substance have been forwarded to FBIHQ, and (c) duplicate or extra copies of record material.

Statuatory Requirements

Title 44 of the U. S. Code and Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) set forth statuatory requirements regarding the creation, maintenance, use, and disposition of Federal records. There is attached an enclosure with pertinent excerpts from Title 41 CFR relating to the creation and disposition of records. Basically these regulations require that records be made and preserved to show adequate and proper documentation of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, and essential transactions of the agency which will furnish information necessary to protect the legal and financial rights of the Government and of persons directly affected by the agency's activities.

These regulations also require that routine paperwork be kept to a minimum and that the accumulation of unnecessary files be prevented. Effective techniques should be applied to minimize duplicate files and the disposal without filing of transitory material that has no value for record purposes. The Agency's Records Control Schedule should provide for the disposition of all records and prevent retention of records beyond the period during which they may serve a useful purpose.

Current NARS Policy

A representative from NARS in a recent discussion regarding records expressed reluctance on the part of Archives to accession additional records in large volume due to complications encountered as a result of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts. The NARS representative noted that Government agencies were requesting reductions for retention periods in established Records Control Schedules because of the burden of these Acts. Accordingly, many records which NARS previously felt should be retained because of their historical significance are not receiving the same interpretation today because of the complications and burdens of these Acts.

According to the current Records Retention Plan approved by NARS, there are many categories of records the FBI is prohibited from destroying and once it is determined the records no longer serve a useful purpose for FBI responsibilities, the Bureau would be obligated to forward them to NARS for permanent retention because of their historical value. Other records we have that are not included in the Records Retention Plan may be offered for destruction once they are no longer needed by the Bureau. However, NARS can exercise their option to retain the records if they believe they contain historical significance.

This position is now subject to reevaluation and there is an indication that NARS will not be interested in obtaining the many categories of records that were initially listed in the Records Retention Plan for historical reasons because of the burdens and complications of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts. That is, once they took custody of the records they would be responsible to respond to requests. They most likely would now authorize the destruction of these records once the Bureau determined they no longer serve a useful purpose. Perhaps there would be exceptions for certain major cases with historical significance such as the Lindbergh kidnaping case, and it may be necessary to retain a representative sample of investigative matters in selected classifications.

Current Use of Records

In connection with the study of automation applied to Bureau records, it is interesting to note that recent surveys show that 77 percent of all index searching requests are satisfied with references that have been established since 1956. In other words, this is material established in the last 20 years. The General Index contains approximately 59 million index references, however, 13 million references satisfy 77 percent of FBIHQ searching requirement. We currently have about 7 thousand file cabinets of file material and about half of them pertain to material generated in the past 20 years. About 15 hundred cabinets, or 20 percent of the total, relate to material generated within the past 10 years. Enclosed is a chart showing the volume of file material related to certain years in terms of 6 drawer file cabinets.

OBSERVATIONS;

It appears it is now timely for the Bureau to reevaluate requirements and justification for the retention of file material at FBIHQ beyond certain specified time periods. It is noted that the retention for field files (Office of Origin), after the case has been closed, is 10 years. This has previously been acceptable to NARS on the basis that FBIHQ maintained the record copy or summary of substance of all pertinent investigative matters. The indefinite retention period for files at FBIHQ, in addition to the NARS Records Retention Plan, is based on the fact they are needed for reference purposes in accordance with the Bureau's basic investigative obligations and EO 10450. It is noted that this Executive Order has no reference as to how long investigative material must be maintained. Therefore, it is believed that retaining only information that is necessarily relevant and timely would be in compliance with this order and it would be reasonable to assume that a 10 year retention period would fulfill this requirement. The current standards for file review require consideration of the applicant or employee's entire adult life. This review criteria vis-a-vis EO 10450 would be impeded by the destruction of records covering a person's adulthood, which may thereafter become the subject of a name check request. However, this problem has been discussed with the Department and we have been informed that in view of the sensitivity of the Congress and the Executive Branch to curtail certain record retention, it might be necessary to rewrite EO 10450.

It might be reasoned that information in our closed files more than 20 years old except in certain situations would be of little value unless it is also supported by current information. It may be further reasoned that the retention period of 10 years for our files could be considered since the field, from an investigative point of view, can satisfy their basic responsibilities with this type of criteria. A retention period of 10 or 20 years for FBIHQ files (except for certain individual files that were deemed to have a continuing value even though the case has been closed for more than a 10 or 20 year period) would have a very significant impact on FBIHQ operations. For example: (1) the burdens under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts would be greatly diminished if we did not have our current large volume of file material to give out, (2) the large maintenance staff (1,150 employees) in the Records Section would not be needed to maintain and service a smaller file holding, (3) the continuing need for a large staff for other FBIHQ Divisions would diminish considerably because there would no longer be available a large amount of files to review, (4) space saved in filing cabinets alone could amount to over 35,000 square feet if a 10 year retention period was adopted, and (5) there would be a considerable impact and savings on many other related functions if a short (10 year) retention period was adopted, such as eliminating the need to microfilm old records and additional space savings as a result of curtailing other activities.

Accordingly, it is being recommended that each FBIHQ Division review this material in detail and provide justification for the retention of files in their respective areas of responsibility for periods beyond 10 and 20 years or to suggest other retention periods. Of particular importance will be for the General Investigative Division to reexamine the requirements under the Name Check program and for the Special Investigative Division to reexamine the requirements for the Security of Government Employees currently being handled by the Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section. Additionally, consideration must be given for the need of references to criminal and security cases more than 10 or 20 years old.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that field office indices cards not be destroyed when auxiliary office files are destroyed and that the office of origin be placed on the indices cards for retention at least ten years. You may be interested to know the same proposal has been considered in the recent past and manual revisions are currently being made with respect to adding the recommended data to these cards; however, it was decided the destruction period as set forth in recent instructions to the field should not be changed.

The interest you displayed in giving me the benefit of your thoughts on this matter is indeed appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

When considered in recent past, it was decided by the Records Management Division that the proposal to place OO and OO file number on index cards at time they are prepared had merit and would be in line with the current study and effort to automate/computerize indices. The suggestion that index cards be retained rather than destroyed after six months is contrary to instructions contained in Bulet to SAC, Albany and all offices 3/3/76, and McDermott to Jenkins memorandum 4/5/76 titled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" wherein a change in the Manual of Rules and Regulations was approved thereby providing for the destruction of index cards at time related file material is destroyed. Therefore, idea to retain index cards should not be favorably considered for adoption. Manual of Rules and Regulations is being revised at present time to place first portion of idea into effect. Training Division recommends retention of these cards for at least ten years not be approved.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that field office indices cards not be destroyed when auxiliary office files are destroyed. In addition, it is further suggested that the Office of Origin be designated on the indices cards and these be retained at least ten years.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

Exp.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Auxiliary office files and indices cards are destroyed after six months with original FD-302s, 1As, etc. being submitted to origin. (Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part 2, 3, 13.) This eliminates all record of individual in auxiliary office.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

In the event of an inquiry concerning an individual from an outside agency or private citizen be made, it can be immediately ascertained if he is a matter of Bureau interest (i.e., escapee, fugitive, etc.).

Under the current practice, there would be nothing in the auxiliary office records to indicate any investigation had been conducted concerning the individual or the identity of the OO. Unless a full name and identifying number could be obtained, NCIC could not be queried to determine if an individual was a fugitive.

Annual savings could only be estimated in the amount of investigative efforts saved by eliminating duplication of efforts and number of fugitives or individuals of Bureau interest missed.

Disadvantages of suggestion

RECOMMENDATIONS AND COMMENTS OF DIVISION HEAD

As the Bureau is aware, auxiliary office files in criminal classifications are destroyed after a six month period with the exception of certain documents. At the time of this destruction, existing instructions require that the indices cards relating to the destroyed file also be removed from the general indices and destroyed.

It is felt that this suggestion has merit in assisting a field office, prior to computerization, in identifying office of origin in cases in which investigation has been conducted by an auxiliary office. It is conceivable that recent information would be available in the files of office of origin which might assist the former auxiliary office in a current investigation. If all indices cards had been destroyed by an auxiliary office there would be no way of determining whether prior investigation had been conducted without having knowledge of office of origin or making an inquiry of the Bureau, provided the case had not been closed administratively by the office of origin. Instead of maintaining all indices cards in a case meeting criteria for destruction, it is suggested that strong consideration be given to destroying all indices cards with the exception of title indices cards which would also identify the office of origin.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
(Bufile 66-3286)

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend that the Manual of Rules and Regulations be changed to conform with the existing 10 year destruction rule thereby permitting the field to destroy original FD-302s, signed statements, and other items of evidence when 10 years old. This change would also provide for the destruction of index cards at the time related material is destroyed.

DETAILS:

Currently the Manual of Rules and Regulations provide two basic rules for destruction of field investigative files, (1) Office of Origin files when 10 years old, (2) Auxiliary Office files when 5 years old providing files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes. Current regulations further stipulate that "original FD-302s, signed statements and other items of evidence will be retained for 20 years or until of no further value if that be longer than 20 years. Index cards relating to this material would also be retained for a like period."

Memorandum to Mr. Jenkins
DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
(Bufile 66-3286)

As the result of a unanimous decision at Mr. Callahan's conference on 7/28/75, the 5 year rule has been changed to permit the field to destroy auxiliary office files six months after they have been referred upon completion (RUC'd) to office of origin. Therefore, the Records Management Division proposes changing the Manual of Rules and Regulations to conform with the 10 year destruction rule thereby permitting the field to destroy aforementioned FD-302s, signed statements and other evidence and provide for the destruction of index cards at the time related material is destroyed. This change will be in accordance with authorization received from National Archives and Records Service concerning records retention and destruction.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

If approved, Records Systems and Training Unit, Records Management Division will initiate appropriate manual changes.

NOTE:

Referenced Albany airtel to all field offices and each Legal Attache set out instructions as to basic destruction rules of files and records in the field. These basic destruction rules primarily relate to destruction of files either at a 10-year or 6-month interval. In effect auxiliary offices in which the Bureau is office of origin such files according to the new rules would have to be maintained for a period of 10 years. Our Legal Attache Offices in the capacity of an auxiliary office, maintain a number of cases in which the Bureau is office of origin, such as the 163 classification (foreign police cooperation matters). The prime consideration for continuing to utilize the destruction program in effect for foreign offices is the storage problem and the need, should it arise, to destroy files in a foreign office where the exigencies of the situation might dictate. This matter has been coordinated with [redacted] of the Records Management Division who has indicated that his Division would have no objections to Legats continuing to follow the policy as outlined in the Foreign Operations Policy Manual concerning the destruction of files and records. SUGGESTION

In the implementation of new Bureau instructions regarding the destruction of auxiliary office files and index cards considerable concern, some real and some imaginary, has been expressed by investigative personnel over the inability to identify a case upon possible receipt of subsequent information since the index cards are destroyed six months after the case is RUC'd. It would appear that this can be alleviated by retaining the index cards in RUC cases under the ten year rule and using these cards as a cross reference to the FD 478 (List of Files Destroyed), so that it can quickly be determined when the file was destroyed, which office was 00 and the 00 file number.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Suggestion

EXP. PROC.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Destroy RUC case files and index cards six months after the case is RUC'd, unless retention can be justified.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

ADVANTAGES: The advantages of retaining the index cards for this purpose under the ten year destruction rule, particularly until such time as the Automated Indices are implemented, far outweigh the present arrangement of leaving a complete void when new information is received even though instances of receipt of such information may be minimal. It is requested that Bureau give consideration to the feasibility of the above and, of course, any refinements FBIHQ may have to offer based on its overall expertise in the field of records management.

SAVINGS: It is not possible to measure the degree of monetary savings which may accrue as the result of this suggestion; however, it is felt that considerable expenditure of time and effort by FBI employees can be avoided on those occasions when the need to identify cases occur.

The suggestion that index cards be retained rather than destroyed after 6 months is contrary to instructions contained in Bulet to SAC, Albany and all offices 3/3/76, and McDermott to Jenkins memorandum 4/5/76 titled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" wherein a change in the Manual of Rules and Regulations was approved thereby providing for the destruction of index cards at time related file material is destroyed. Therefore, idea to retain index cards should not be favorably considered for adoption. Training Division recommends retention of these under the 10-year rule not be approved.

General

The Federal Bureau of Investigation letterhead memorandum of March 4, 1976, captioned "U.S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities" described a plan to renew the routine program of file destruction in areas other than domestic intelligence, extremist matters, racial matters and foreign counterintelligence matters. I asked that you hold off in implementing this plan until various Members of Congress had been notified. This has been done, and you may now proceed to implement the plan described in the memorandum. Great care should, of course, be taken so that no documents involved in litigation are destroyed and that the destruction program leaves intelligence and security files intact.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Butel to all offices 1/29/75 captioned as above which imposed a moratorium on destruction of all field office files and records.

This is to advise that the moratorium has been lifted and all offices should resume the destruction program according to criteria set forth in Bulet to Albany and all offices 3/3/76, same caption. Re Bulet stipulates that all "Auxiliary Office Files" and index cards relating thereto may be destroyed six months after a case is last referred upon completion (RUC) to office of origin with the exceptions of those cases wherein FBIHQ is office of origin or cases are believed to have continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical, or for other reference purposes.

The Attorney General, by letter dated 4/7/76, specifically excluded from destruction at this time those matters relating to domestic intelligence, extremist, racial, and foreign counterintelligence with instructions that great care be taken to insure that no documents involved in litigation are destroyed and that the destruction program leaves intelligence and security files intact. In view of these instructions from the Attorney General material in security classifications identified in the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 25, is not to be destroyed. This also includes duplicate copies of this material. You will be advised if and when destruction of material in these security classifications can be resumed.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD
FILES AND RECORDS

There are two basic destruction rules, (1) ten years and (2) six months, which apply to field office investigative files. These rules are being stated herein and supersede previous instructions applicable to the destruction of field office investigative files:

1) Files and records to be destroyed when ten years old:

   a) Field office investigative files in all classifications, in office of origin provided the files are of no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes.

   b) Investigative files in auxiliary offices in cases in which the Bureau is office of origin

   c) Destroy all field office index cards at time related field office file is destroyed.

2) Files and records to be destroyed when six-months old if following conditions are met:

   a) Investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices provided files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical or other reference purposes, or if the case is one in which FBIHQ is office of origin.

3) Exceptions to the ten-year and six-month destruction rules include the following field office files and material which are to be retained five years and then destroyed:

   a) Dead files and index cards related thereto in all classifications if of no continuing value.

424389

b) Zero files and index cards related thereto in all classifications if of no continuing value.

c) FBI Law Enforcement Bulletins - (retain index cards)

d) Record of Information furnished other agencies, FD-159 (control file copy only) to be destroyed after five years. Copy of FD-159 contained in the substantive file and index cards related thereto to be destroyed when substantive field office file is destroyed.

If there is any doubt concerning destruction of the above material by an auxiliary office, that office should consult the office of origin. If there is any doubt about the destruction of a file in an office of origin, that office should consult the Bureau.

In order to establish uniform procedures to be followed in implementing instructions for the destruction of field office files the following guidelines are being set forth:

1. Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and 1A exhibits being retained as the only item(s) in a file due to a previous purge/destruction rule should be forwarded to OO if subject and/or OO file number is available otherwise this material should be retained by auxiliary office and destroyed when 10 years old. If less than 10 years old and office of origin (OO) subject and/or file number is available these items are to be furnished to OO by routing slip or other appropriate transmittal communication. Otherwise, auxiliary office should retain these items until 10 years old and then destroy them.

2. Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports and 1A exhibits being removed from files which already satisfy the destruction criteria and are not 10 years old are to be forwarded to OO by routing slip and/or other appropriate communication reflecting OO subject and/or file number. Recipient office will assign each FD-302, Laboratory report and latent fingerprint report OO file number and next sequential serial number and place in OO file. Transmittal communication may be filed if appropriate. 1A exhibits are to be filed according to previously established filing procedures.

3. Effective immediately, original FD-302s prepared, and 1A exhibits acquired as a result of current and ongoing investigations are to be forwarded to the OO by appropriate communication with the exception of those 1A exhibits which are to be returned to the contributor in the jurisdiction wherein they were obtained. You may retain these excepted exhibits until they have served their purpose or until the auxiliary office file has satisfied the destruction criteria at which time these exhibits should have served their purpose and should be returned to contributor. However, if additional retention is required, the exhibit should be made a bulky exhibit and two copies of green sheet (FD-192) furnished to OO in accordance with instructions relating to bulky exhibits set forth in paragraph number 5 below.

It is recognized that some concern exists over the delay of original FD-302s reaching OO due to remotely located Resident Agencies. However, it is believed that if this situation does exist, it can be overcome by auxiliary office continuing to follow the present procedure of furnishing copies of the FD-302 to OO by appropriate communication. The original can be forwarded to OO by routing slip once it has been initialed by the Resident Agent and returned to field office headquarters. This procedure is considered highly desirable since the submission of original FD-302 to OO at time case is RUC'd or destroyed would result in these communications being months or even years out of logical sequence in OO file. In order to further streamline and minimize the handling of original Laboratory reports and latent fingerprint reports, auxiliary office will request FBIHQ to furnish these items, and if appropriate, the evidence to office of origin upon completion of Laboratory examinations.

In all current and ongoing investigations where auxiliary office furnished FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and/or 1A exhibits to OO, a copy of the transmittal as well as a copy of the FD-302 should be retained in auxiliary office file until file is destroyed.

4). In those cases where OO is changed, both the new OO and new auxiliary office will apply the 10 year destruction rule to files in this category. It will be the responsibility of the new OO to advise the original OO when case is closed. This will facilitate the retention of original material that is contained in the files of both offices and will insure that original documents and/or evidence is not prematurely destroyed. At such time the OO is changed it will not be necessary for new auxiliary office to forward existing original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent fingerprint reports, and/or 1A exhibits to OO.

Only these items prepared and/or acquired subsequent to changing OO will be furnished to new OO in accordance with aforementioned procedure, unless advised to the contrary by OO. This will be particularly helpful in cases comprised of many volumes and subsections.

5. In the case of bulky exhibits, the auxiliary office should furnish two copies of FD-192 to OO. One copy will be filed in OO case file according to established filing procedures and the other copy will be filed in the bulky exhibit index (numerical sequence of form FD-192 by classification and file number). Auxiliary office will retain original FD-192 in case file, place copy in bulky index, and copy with exhibit. This procedure will facilitate conduct of the semi-annual inventory of bulky exhibits which will be the responsibility of the OO. Semi-annually, when OO reviews bulky exhibits and notes on FD-192 action to be taken, a Xerox copy of this form should be furnished to auxiliary office holding exhibits(s). The most recent FD-192 will supersede the one previously furnished and being retained in the bulky index.

In accordance with the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 13a, the Supervisory Special Agent and/or case Agent has the option of retaining and/or authorizing for destruction investigative files after criteria for destruction has been satisfied. The case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion (RUC), or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention, and designate projected destruction date. Form FD-479, Files and Records Destruction Order, may be used for this purpose.

In all cases, with the exception of FBI Law Enforcement Bulletins, all index cards are to be destroyed at time related file material is destroyed.

Appropriate manual changes are forthcoming.

NOTE: Based on Bulet to Albany and all offices 3/3/76 captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records", and letter from Attorney General to Director 4/7/76 captioned "Destruction of Files" which granted authority to resume file destruction program excluding matters relating to domestic intelligence, extremist, racial and foreign counterintelligence and set forth instructions to exercise great care to insure all documents involved in litigation are not destroyed and that intelligence and security files are kept intact.

SUGGESTION

That the requirement that a list containing the numbers of files destroyed be maintained in front of each respective classification in the closed file section be rescinded as having no practical application in view of recent file destructions regulations that ALL INDEX CARDS ARE TO BE DESTROYED AT THE TIME FILE MATERIAL IS DESTROYED.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) Since the most recent instructions dictate that all index cards are to be destroyed at the time related file material is destroyed, no logical reason exists to record destroyed files. As the suggestor views the situation, the reason lists of destroyed files were prepared and maintained in the past was for retrieval capability. This administrative procedure was valid when files were destroyed but index cards were not until 20 years old, as indicated on form FD-478. (SEE ATTACHED). Index cards made it possible to retrieve information from files in the office of origin. This information was available from data appearing on form FD-478. Since there will be neither files nor index cards under the present destruction criteria, the maintenance of lists of destroyed cont.

c. Bulky exhibits
Bulky exhibit is an exhibit of such size, quantity, or value that it cannot be placed in the 1-A serial of the case file. Each bulky exhibit must be identified individually. Form FD-192, which is a letter-size green form for entering the date, title and character of case, date property acquired, source from which property acquired, location of property or bulky exhibit, reason for retention of property and efforts made to dispose of same, description of property or exhibit and identity of Agent submitting same, and field file number, must be executed when a bulky exhibit is obtained whether or not brought to the office or when the 1-A serial is made a bulky exhibit. Original FD-192 is then filed as the 1-B serial adjacent to the 1-A serial, if there is one, and immediately above it, or as the bottom serial of the first section of the file. FD-192 is to be block stamped with the date received in the office. It is made up in triplicate; a duplicate must be attached to the exhibit. The serial number of the document showing the details concerning the exhibit should be put on the green sheet. FD-192 is to be used to record automobiles taken into custody by the FBI.

When a bulky exhibit is received in a zero file, FD-192 is to be filed adjacent to the memorandum, letter, or other communication to which it pertains. It is to be given in such cases a main serial number and its accompanying memorandum, letter, or other communication is to be made an "A" serial to it.

d. Bulky exhibit index and inventory
The basis of the bulky exhibit index is the third copy of FD-192. The third copy of form FD-192 is to be filed in numerical sequence in a binder. These copies serve as an inventory of bulky exhibits. If desirable, an additional copy of FD-192 may be made to serve as the tickler for disposal. This tickler is not mandatory and small offices will not usually need it for they can follow exhibits from the triplicate of FD-192.

e. Only those clerical employees designated by the SAC may initial 1-A serials for filing.

f. Only the field supervisor, ASAC, or SAC may initial bulky exhibit envelopes and FD-192 for filing. Official is to examine package prior to filing in order to determine if any part of such property may be disposed of and in order to permit a discussion with the Agent who acquired such exhibit as to any property which is not useful as evidence or necessary for retention.

8. Destruction of files and records (Closed files are kept in numerical sequence.)
Files and records may be destroyed within the provisions of Title 44, USCA, [§§ 3303 and 3303a,]which covers the disposition of records and sets up the procedures to be followed. The head of an agency may recommend to the Administrator of General Services who in turn may recommend to Congress the destruction of records that apparently will not have sufficient administrative, legal, research, or other value to warrant their further preservation. When files are destroyed, a list containing the numbers of the files destroyed should be maintained in front of each respective classification in the closed files section. Form FD-478 should be used for this purpose. At the option of each office another list may be maintained in an administrative file created specifically for this purpose.

Authority has been suspended indefinitely for the disposal of records material that may be used to reconstitute records of military service in the United States Army (including Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Forces) for individuals discharged between November 1, 1912, and December 31, 1959, and in the United States Air Force between September 18, 1947, and December 31, 1963. This includes records which contain information verifying dates of military service, physical injuries and mental impairment. In those instances where the information has been furnished to the Bureau by the field office, the field office may destroy its records according to existing authority.

ENCLOSURE

Only these items prepared and/or acquired subsequent to changing OO will be furnished to new OO in accordance with aforementioned procedure, unless advised to the contrary by OO. This will be particularly helpful in cases comprised of many volumes and subsections.

5. In the case of bulky exhibits, the auxiliary office should furnish two copies of FD-192 to OO. One copy will be filed in OO case file according to established filing procedures and the other copy will be filed in the bulky exhibit index (numerical sequence of form FD-192 by classification and file number). Auxiliary office will retain original FD-192 in case file, place copy in bulky index, and copy with exhibit. This procedure will facilitate conduct of the semi-annual inventory of bulky exhibits which will be the responsibility of the OO. Semi-annually, when OO reviews bulky exhibits and notes on FD-192 action to be taken, a Xerox copy of this form should be furnished to auxiliary office holding exhibits(s). The most recent FD-192 will supersede the one previously furnished and being retained in the bulky index.

In accordance with the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 13a, the Supervisory Special Agent and/or case Agent has the option of retaining and/or authorizing for destruction investigative files after criteria for destruction has been satisfied. The case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion (RUC), or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention, and designate projected destruction date. Form FD-479, Files and Records Destruction Order, may be used for this purpose.

In all cases, with the exception of FBI Law Enforcement Bulletins, all index cards are to be destroyed at time related file material is destroyed.

Appropriate manual changes are forthcoming.

Suggestion #T34-76

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD: evp 7/29/76)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the El Paso Office that the requirement to maintain a "list of files destroyed," Form FD-478, in front of each respective classification in the closed files section be discontinued as having no practical application in view of recent regulations which require that all index cards be destroyed at time related field office file material is destroyed.

OBSERVATIONS:

The "list of files destroyed" provides a means of determining the existence or nonexistence of a file which cannot be located in its proper numerical sequence in the closed and/or pending files of the Chief Clerk's Office. Without such a method of accounting for destroyed files it would be impossible to determine if a particular file ever existed, and if it did is it misfiled, has it been destroyed, or whatever. It is, therefore, the opinion of the Records Systems and Training Unit that in order to maintain integrity of the file numbering system, and the whereabouts of files, the "list of files destroyed" is essential and a necessary adjunct to sound records management. Accordingly, it is believed this suggestion should not be considered for adoption.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that the requirement to maintain Form FD-478 in front of each respective classification in the closed file section be discontinued. Since this form provides a means of determining whether or not a particular file ever existed as well as its present status, its use should be continued.

Thank you for the interest which you expressed in submitting your proposal to me.

Sincerely yours,

(Suggestion T34-76)

NOTE: Suggests use of FD-478 (List of Files Destroyed) in front of each respective classification in the closed files section be discontinued. The Records Systems and Training Unit, Records Management Division, opposes the adoption of this suggestion and states that, in order to maintain the integrity of the file numbering system and the whereabouts of files, the form is essential and a necessary adjunct to sound records management. (Views attached.) Training Division agrees that suggestion should not be approved.

SA [redacted], Mobile Office, has recommended an inquiry of NCIC be made by auxiliary offices to determine if a subject is still in a fugitive status prior to destruction of the case file, and associate index cards. In instances where NCIC is negative, re all fugitives involved, the file would be destroyed in accordance with current instructions regarding destruction of field files and records, otherwise, a copy of the fugitive's record in NCIC would be placed in the file, and the file would be retained intact for another six months' period.

Retention of the case file, or destruction of the case file (in auxiliary offices) will not foreseeably impact NCIC Operations in our field offices, since per airtel to SAC, Albany and each Field Office, 4/27/76, captioned "DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS," the auxiliary office should recognize the need to retain files containing documentation re property on the file in NCIC, and files in which the auxiliary office has an outstanding warrant cannot be RUC'd. The decision as to the merits of this suggestion is directly within the purview of the Records Management Division and Special Investigative Division, hence, this suggestion is being deferred to these divisions for their views and recommenations.

FBG/PM

Suggestion #T58=76

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:chs 8/11/76)

Attached suggestion from the Mobile Office recommends that Auxiliary Office be permitted to retain auxiliary office files in those instances where it is determined that one of the subjects was a fugitive at the time the case was RUC'd. That an NCIC check be made to determine if the subject is still in a fugitive status prior to destruction of the file. If NCIC is negative, file could be destroyed. If still a fugitive a copy of the NCIC printout be placed in the file and be retained for six additional months. On each occasion thereafter prior to destruction the same NCIC check would be made.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Manual of Rules and Regulations currently provides that investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices may be destroyed when six months old provided the files are of no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical, or other reference purpose. Accordingly, an auxiliary office file wherein the subject(s) is still in a fugitive status has continuing value and should not be automatically destroyed merely because it is six months old. It therefore appears that suggested procedure is adequately covered by existing regulations which permits the retention of files at the discretion of the Supervisory Special Agent and/or the case Agent. The Records Systems and Training Unit is of the opinion that suggestion does not warrant favorable consideration for adoption.

RECOMMEDNATION:

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

WLB/RBS

Suggestion #T58-76

INSPECTION DIVISION ADDENDUM R. P. KEEHAN:jmh 8/12/76

Suggester believes that a check should be made of NCIC on any fugitive cases in an auxiliary office scheduled for destruction under the six-month rule to determine if the file should be retained. Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, pages 13a and 13b, provides that investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices should be scheduled for six-month destruction "provided files are of no continuing value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical, or other reference purposes." The manual continues in a later paragraph, "If there is any doubt . . . . by an auxiliary office, that office should consult the office of origin."

There may be many reasons why an auxiliary office should retain files in fugitive cases longer than six months, and the suggester's observations are well taken; however, the current rules give each office latitude for destruction and there appears to be no need for a specific rule to be applied to all fugitive cases.

Inspection Division is not aware of the results of a study by OPE or Records Management Division regarding destruction policy and, in the absence of this information, Inspection Division recommends that the suggestion not be adopted.

Suggestion #T58-76

ADDENDUM OF OFFICE OF PLANNING AND EVALUATION, GNC:crt 8-16-76

Current guidelines allow for the destruction of auxiliary office files six months after the date of RUC. This recommendation was set forth in memorandum Bailey to McDermott dated 7-30-75 captioned, "California Project, Destruction of Files When They are Referred Upon Completion." The recommendations contained in this memorandum were a result of an extensive study performed by the Records Management Division which established, among other things that 80% of auxiliary office files, if reopened, are reopened within 13 weeks. The recommendations also included the proviso that the case agent could retain the files beyond the six-month period if required for historical, intelligence or other good reason. This proviso seems adequate and there would be no need to adopt a separate procedure as set forth in this suggestion. Therefore, it is recommended that this suggestion not be adopted.

SUGGESTION In connection with the destruction of field files and records in those instances where an auxiliary office determines one of the subjects was a fugitive at the time the case was RUC'd, an NCIC check be made to determine if the subject is still in a fugitive status prior to destruction of the file. If NCIC is negative, file could be destroyed. If still a fugitive, a copy of the printout should be placed in the file and it be retained intact for six more months. On each occasion thereafter prior to destruction the same NCIC check would be made.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) BUairtel to Albany and all offices, 4/27/76 captioned "Destruction of Field Files and REcords".

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) By maintaining file intact in the event further investigation is necessary, the background information concerning the fugitive, including photos, would be in the file. The index cards would also still be in file thereby enabling the auxiliary office to determine by an indices search that the subject was still a fugitive. This procedure would be followed in every classification where prior to destruction under the six-months rule the file showed at the time case was RUC'd that at least one subject was a fugitive. Maintaining the file would save an inestimable amount in communications cost, not having to furnish complete background to auxiliary offices by OO. In addition to fact that in those cases where index cards had been destroyed, auxiliary office would not even be aware of fact subject was a fugitive with an indices search.

Disadvantages of suggestion

None noted.
